1000 University Information

Georgia State University is one of the nation's largest universities, with more than 32,000 students on its Atlanta campus and another 21,000 on its five suburban campuses. An enterprising public research university, it is a national leader in graduating students from diverse backgrounds. Its Atlanta campus in the heart of the city provides its students and faculty with unsurpassed connections to the city's business, government, nonprofit and cultural communities as well as opportunities in an environment of varied ideas, cultures, ages, lifestyles and experiences. Atlanta, home to more than a dozen headquarters of Fortune 500 companies, provides Georgia State's faculty and students with an urban laboratory, enabling them to draw creative inspiration and address critical societal issues locally and in cities around the world.

Through its consolidation with Georgia Perimeter College in early 2016 Georgia State offers at its Perimeter College campuses two-year and online programs that provide access to higher education for students from all walks of life and streamlines their pursuit of a four-year degree at Georgia State.

Georgia State has a university-wide commitment to student advising and attention to student progress to graduation. The university is nationally recognized as a leader in creating innovative approaches that foster the success of students from all academic, socio-economic, racial and ethnic backgrounds. Georgia State is one of a handful of large institutions nationwide using technology to track students from the moment they arrive on campus until they graduate to ensure progress. With the university's early warning tracking system, struggling students get the intervention they need to get back on track, improve or change their academic path. Georgia State is among the most diverse universities in the nation.

The university's 10-year strategic plan, introduced in 2011, aims to enhance research and discovery, in part by implementing a faculty hiring initiative to build scholarly strength around interdisciplinary research themes. It also focuses on efforts to make the university a leader in undergraduate student success and puts renewed emphasis on improving graduate education. The plan emphasizes the university's commitment to addressing issues and problems confronting cities around the globe and establishes as a priority the institution's initiatives to extend its global involvement and influence.

Georgia State, founded in 1913, is central to the revitalization of downtown Atlanta, expanding its campus and building a more growing student residential community. More than 4,000 students now live in residence halls on a campus that once served commuting students exclusively. Its efforts to enhance student life and campus involvement included the introduction of a Division 1 football program in 2010 and membership in the Sun Belt athletic conference of the NCAA's Football Bowl Subdivision in 2013.

On its Atlanta campus, the university offers 55 undergraduate and graduate degree programs in more than 250 fields of study in its eight academic colleges and schools, the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies, the Byrdine F. Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions, the College of Arts and Sciences, the College of Education and Human Development, the College of Law and the J. Mack Robinson College of Business. Its recently established Honors College attracts students with outstanding academic credentials. Perimeter College offers 33 associate degree programs at its campuses in Alpharetta, Clarkston, Decatur, Dunwoody and Newton, and it has a robust online academic program.

- 2. All policies in the student code of conduct
- 3. Hardship withdrawal policy
- 4. Discriminatory and sexual harassment policies
- 5. Disability policies
- 6. College of Law Honor Code
- 7. Student parking policy

The procedures set forth below are applicable to undergraduate and graduate students of the University.

All appeals under these procedures will be made based only on the written record. A student's appeal under these procedures will be granted only if the student can prove by preponderance of evidence that a decision was arbitrary, discriminatory, or inequitable.

II. STUDENT COMPLAINTS ON ACADEMIC MATTERS

A. College-Level Academic Complaints

1. Final Course Grade Appeals

- Students are encouraged to discuss concerns and disputes over final course grades with the instructor prior to filing a formal grade appeal, in an effort to gain understanding about the basis of his/her grade. Instructors are encouraged to be available to students for such discussion regarding grades so that grade disputes, to the extent possible, are resolved informally. The Office of the Ombudsperson can provide assistance to students, instructors and administrators with resolving disputes informally through voluntary facilitated discussions, in an effort to bring resolution to the matter prior to the initiation of a formal complaint.

- In situations where such informal resolution does not occur or is not successful, the student may appeal the final course grade to the Department Chair. The appeal must be in writing and describe the precise reason for the appeal. Any pertinent information must be submitted with the appeal in order to be considered in this or subsequent appeals. The appeal must be submitted within 10 business days of the beginning of the academic term (fall, spring, and summer) that follows the term in which the final grade was submitted by the instructor. For example, if a student took an incomplete in a fall term course and completed the course works in the following spring semester, then an appeal of that grade must be submitted within 10 business days of the beginning of the summer term. The Department Chair will provide a decision in writing to the student, normally within 10 business days of the receipt of the complaint in the Department.
- The student may appeal the decision of the Department Chair, as described in section 2-c through 2-e below.

2. Other College-Level Academic Complaints

- Judgments on the suitability of academic decisions made within a college are most appropriately made by individuals with expertise in the particular academic discipline involved. For this reason, resolution of student complaints about college level academic decisions, actions, or practices is the responsibility of the department and college involved. Normally, such complaints can be resolved quickly and informally through discussion with the faculty member directly involved. The Office of the Ombudsperson can provide assistance to students, instructors and administrators with resolving disputes informally through voluntary facilitated discussions, in an effort to bring resolution to the matter prior to the initiation of a formal complaint.
- In situations where such informal resolution does not occur or is not successful, the student may submit a formal complaint to the Chair of the appropriate academic department. The student's complaint must be submitted in writing and be accompanied by pertinent documentation describing (a) the specific action, practice, or decision that is problematic; (b) the impact of that decision; (c) what resolution is being sought; (d) and why it should be granted. To promote prompt resolution, complaints must include current contact information and be submitted at the earliest possible time. Consideration will not be given to any complaint submitted later than the end of the term immediately following the term in which the matter in question arose. The Department Chair will provide a decision in writing to the student, normally within 10 business days of the receipt of the complaint in the Department.
- The student may appeal the Department Chair's decision within 10 business days of being notified of the Chair's decision. Such appeal will be made, in writing, to the Dean of the College in which the Department is located. At the discretion of the Dean, an advisory panel may be appointed to review the written documentation and make a recommendation to the Dean. The Dean will issue a decision to the student in writing, normally within 10 business days of the receipt of the appeal.
- The student may appeal the Dean's decision to the Provost, in writing, within 10 business days of being notified of the Dean's decision. The Provost will issue a decision to the student, in writing within 20 business days of receiving the appeal.
- The student may appeal the Provost's decision to the President, in writing, within 10 business days of being notified of the Provost's decision. The President will issue a decision to the student in writing within 20 business days of receiving the appeal.

- The student may appeal the President's decision to the Board of Regents, in writing, within 20 business days of being notified of the President's decision. Decisions regarding grades may not be appealed to the Board of Regents (BOR Policy 407.01).

B. University-Level Academic Complaints

1. Judgments on the suitability of academic decisions made at the University level are most appropriately made by individuals with expertise in the particular area. Normally, such complaints can be resolved quickly through discussion with the Academic Administrator directly involved. (See the University Organizational Chart at <http://www.gsu.edu/about/governance-and-strategy/administrative/>.) Students can contact the Office of the Ombudsperson for assistance in preparing for discussion with academic administrators. The Office of the Ombudsperson can also provide assistance to students and academic administrators with resolving disputes informally through voluntary, facilitated discussions, in an effort to bring resolution to the matter prior to the initiation of a formal complaint.
2. In situations where such informal resolution does not occur or is not successful, the student may submit a formal complaint to the Associate Provost for Academic Programs. The student's complaint must be submitted in writing, and be accompanied by pertinent documentation describing (a) the specific action, practice, or decision that is problematic; (b) the impact of that decision; (c) what resolution is being sought; and (d) why it should be granted. To promote prompt resolution, complaints must include current contact information and be submitted as early as possible, but no later than the end of the term immediately following the term in which the matter arose. The Vice Provost for Academic Programs will normally issue a decision to the student in writing, within 10 business days of receiving the complaint.
3. The student may appeal the Vice Provost's decision to the Provost within 10 business days of being notified of the decision. The Provost will respond in writing to the appeal within 20 business days of receiving the appeal.
4. The student may appeal the Provost's decision to the President in writing within 10 business days of being notified of the Provost's decision. The President will respond in writing to the appeal within 20 business days of receiving the appeal.
5. The student may appeal the President's decision to the Board of Regents in writing within 20 business days of being notified of the President's decision. Decisions regarding residency and the Guaranteed Tuition Plan may not be appealed to the Board of Regents (BOR Policy 407.01).

III. NON-ACADEMIC COMPLAINTS

1. Judgments on the suitability of non-academic decisions are most appropriately made by individuals with expertise in the particular area. Normally, such complaints can be resolved quickly through discussion with the Administrator in charge of the department making the decision. (See the University Organizational Chart at <http://www.gsu.edu/about/governance-and-strategy/administrative/>.) Students can contact the Office of the Ombudsperson for assistance in preparing for discussion with non-academic administrators. The Office of the Ombudsperson can also provide assistance to students and non-academic administrators with resolving disputes informally through voluntary, facilitated discussions, in an effort to bring resolution to the matter prior to the initiation of a formal complaint.

2. In situations where such informal resolution does not occur or is not successful, the student may submit a formal complaint to the Vice President or Vice Provost who oversees the area. The student's complaint must be submitted in writing, and be accompanied by pertinent documentation describing (a) the specific action, practice, or decision that is problematic; (b) the impact of that decision; (c) what resolution is being sought; and (d) why it should be granted. To promote prompt resolution, complaints must include current contact information and be submitted as early as possible, but no later than the end of the term immediately following the term in which the matter arose. The Vice President or Vice Provost will provide a decision to the student in writing, normally within 10 business days of the receipt of the complaint.
3. The student may appeal the Vice President's or Vice Provost's decision to the Provost in writing within 10 business days of being notified of the decision. The Provost will respond in writing to the appeal within 20 business days of receiving the appeal.
4. The student may appeal the Provost's decision to the President in writing within 10 business days of being notified of the Provost's decision. The President will respond in writing to the appeal within 20 business days of receiving the appeal.
5. The student may appeal the President's decision to the Board of Regents in writing within 20 business days of being notified of the President's decision. Decisions regarding traffic citations may not be appealed to the Board of Regents (BOR Policy 407.01).

IV. STUDENT PETITIONS FOR ACADEMIC POLICY WAIVER or VARIANCE

A. College-Level Policy Waiver or Variance Petitions

1. Students may petition for a waiver or variance of a department-level or college-level policy. The appropriate College Office of Academic Assistance can provide the student with college policies and petition procedures.
2. The student must submit a petition, in writing, to the Office of Academic Assistance of the College which has made the policy in question. The petition must include the following: (a) the policy from which the student is seeking a waiver or variance, (b) the deviation being sought; and (c) the reason(s) why the exception should be granted. The Office of Academic Assistance representative will determine whether the petition needs to be addressed at the departmental or college level, and will forward the petition to the appropriate administrator who will notify the student of his or her decision.
3. The student may appeal the decision, in writing, following the procedures stated in Section II.A.2.c through f above, the College-Level Academic Complaint Policy and Procedures. If the original decision was rendered by a Department Chair, the appeal should be initiated at the level of the Dean; if the original decision was rendered by the Dean (or his or her designate), the appeal should be initiated at the level of the Provost.

B. University-Level Policy Waiver or Variance Petitions

V. DEADLINES

- A. The University strives to resolve complaints and petitions by the deadlines established in this Policy. However, each situation is unique and may prevent the meeting of a deadline. Every effort will be made by the parties involved to minimize the delay and proceed through the processes outlined in this Procedure as close to the deadlines as possible.
- B. All deadlines established in this Policy are stated in terms of business days. If a deadline falls on a weekend or scheduled holiday, the deadline will be the next scheduled workday of Georgia State University.
- C. Students lose their right to continue to the next step of the procedures if they miss a stated or agreed-upon deadline.

VI. MEDIATION

Students who have filed formal complaints or petitions or those who have had formal complaints filed against them under Sections II A or B of this Policy (except for grade appeals) may request that the matter be submitted to mediation in an effort to achieve resolution. Mediation is a voluntary, confidential process whereby a neutral person facilitates discussion between the parties in a mutual attempt to reach resolution on the issues raised by the parties.

In the event mediation is agreed upon by both parties, the timelines under this policy shall be suspended until which time the mediation is completed. In the event that mediation results in agreement, the student's complaint will be considered resolved. In the event that mediation does not result in resolution of the matter, the student may appeal to the next level of review under this policy.

Information derived from mediation discussion may not be used as the basis for higher levels of appeal, nor can the mediator be asked to provide information or make any decision at any level of the formal appeals process. Persons interested in mediation should contact the Office of the Ombudsperson.

1055 Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA)

I. Introduction

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. FERPA rights are provided only to University applicants upon actual acceptance to and subsequent enrollment for classes at the University. Under FERPA, students attending an institution of postsecondary education may:

- Consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that such disclosures are authorized without consent as more fully described below in Paragraph IX (A);
- Choose to suppress (i.e., keep from being disclosed) their directory information per the process identified below in Paragraph IX (B);
- Inspect and review their education records;
- Seek amendment of those education records believed to be inaccurate, misleading or otherwise in violation of their privacy rights; and
- File complaints with the Department of Education about alleged failures by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

II. Definitions

- Student: : any person who attends or has attended the University. For purposes of FERPA, Georgia State University considers an admitted student to be "in attendance" upon enrollment/registration for classes. Note: The definition of "student" set forth above is only for use in connection with this guidance. For the official University definition of "student", please refer to the Georgia State University Student Code of Conduct.
- Education Records: any records (in handwriting, print, tapes, film, computer or other medium) maintained by the University or an agent of the University which are directly related to a student except:
 - A personal record kept by a faculty or staff member if it is kept in the sole possession of the maker of the record, is not accessible or revealed to any other person except a temporary substitute for the maker of the record and is not used for purposes other than a memory or reference tool.
 - Records created and maintained by the Georgia State University Police Department for law enforcement purposes.
 - An employment record of an individual whose employment is not contingent on the fact that he or she is a student.
 - Records made or maintained by a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist or other recognized professional or paraprofessional if the records are used only for treatment of a student and made available only to those persons providing the treatment.
 - Alumni records which contain information about a student after he or she is no longer in attendance at the University and which do not relate to the person as a student.

- C. Directory Information: information contained in an education record of a student
- D. that would not generally be considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. Georgia State University has designated the following types of information to be directory information: student name, mailing addresses, telephone number, date and place of birth, major field of study, full or part-time status, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, degrees and awards applied for and/or received, dates of attendance, previous educational institutions attended by the student, photographs and other recorded images, and, with respect to members of athletic teams, height, weight, age, hometown, hobbies, and general items of interest.

III. Federal Student Records Law

Annually, Georgia State University informs students of the protections afforded by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974. (20 U.S.C. 1232g and 34 C.F.R., 99.1-99.67) This Act, with which the institution endeavors to fully comply, was designed to protect the privacy of educational records, and to establish the right of students to inspect and review their non-privileged educational records. The act also provides guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings. Students have the right to file complaints with the U.S. Department of Education Family Policy Compliance Office concerning alleged failures by the University to comply with the Act. An informal complaint may be filed within the University by contacting the Registrar. This guidance explains in detail the procedures to be used by the University for compliance with the provisions of the Act. Questions concerning the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act may be referred to the Office of the Registrar or the Office of Legal Affairs.

IV. University-Maintained Student Records

The student records maintained by the University are classified as follows:

- A. Official academic records are maintained in the Office of the Registrar. They include admission applications and associated documentation; the registration records for each semester in residence; the records of grades and credits received in courses at this University or accepted here from another institution; and other documents directly relating to academic progress and status. The dean of each college is the custodian of records for all college and departmental records regarding students not of the type maintained by the Registrar's Office.
- B. Disciplinary records are maintained by the Office of the Dean of Students. They include information about the investigation, adjudication and imposition of sanctions by the University against an individual student for breach of the University's Code of Conduct or other written policies.
- C. Financial records: Fee payment records are maintained by the Office of Student Accounts. Financial aid application records, including tax forms, are maintained by the Financial Aid Office.
- D. Employment records of students receiving financial aid consist of work-study authorizations and are maintained by the Financial Aid Office. Non-work study employment records of students are maintained by the Office of Human Resources. Graduate student teaching and research appointment records are maintained by the involved College or department. Some employment records of students with graduate teaching and research appointments may also be maintained by the Office of Human Resources.
- E. Medical, psychological and counseling records are maintained by the University department providing the involved health care (i.e., Health Clinic, University Counseling & Testing Center). They include records of examinations and treatments.

F. Career and job search records are maintained by University Career Services.

G. Housing records are maintained by University Housing. They include housing applications/agreements and related information.

H. PantherCard and parking records are maintained by Auxiliary and Support Services.

Student educational records maintained on Banner are covered by this guidance and should only be accessed by University employees with a legitimate educational interest or whose access is otherwise undertaken to comply with FERPA. Unauthorized access is a violation of federal law and University policy.

No record shall be kept of the political views of students or of student membership in any organization except for academic, honorary, professional and social organizations directly related to University life. Records maintained by student organizations are not considered University records. Student organizations are, however, expected to take reasonable steps to protect student information they maintain from unwarranted invasions of privacy and to permit students to access their records.

V. Student Access to Records

Access to a student's official academic record, disciplinary record and financial aid record is guaranteed to him or her subject only to reasonable regulation as to time, place and supervision with the exceptions of those types of documents identified below:

- Any and all documents written or solicited prior to Jan. 1, 1975, on the presumption that they were intended to remain confidential and privileged.
 - Any and all documents to which access has been waived by the student.
 - Any and all records which are excluded from the FERPA definition of educational records.
 - Any and all financial data and income tax forms submitted in confidence by a student's parent(s) in connection with an application for or receipt of financial aid.
 - Any and all records connected with an application to attend Georgia State University or a component unit of Georgia State University if that application was denied or, in the alternative, if the application was accepted but the applicant never enrolled (FERPA rights extend only to applicants upon actual acceptance and subsequent enrollment).
 - Those records which contain information on more than one student to the extent that a requesting student has the right to view only those portions of the record which pertain to his or her own educational records.
 - Confidential recommendations and evaluations (Placement records maintained by the University Career Services may be inspected by the subject of the file with the exception of recommendations or evaluations to which the student has waived his or her access. Confidential recommendations and evaluations are only included in a student's placement file if the student has voluntarily submitted a written waiver of access to the recommendations and evaluations. If a student has not waived access, then recommendations and evaluations submitted on condition of confidentiality are returned to the sender).
- A. Inspection of records is granted only upon written request, presented in person with appropriate identification, and must be made in the presence of designated personnel of the office maintaining the records. All requests shall be granted as soon as practicable, but in no event later than 45 days after the date of request. No documents or files may be altered or removed once a request has been filed. When an original record is shown to the student, examination will be permitted only in the presence of a University employee and any other conditions deemed necessary to prevent the alteration, mutilation, or loss of such original records. Upon reasonable request by the student, verbal explanations and interpretations of education records will be promptly provided except where a verbal response is not practical or appropriate. Requests for written explanations/interpretations of education records must be made in writing. If an education record is not in a form readily reviewable by the student (e.g., records stored in microfilm or electronically), a true and correct copy of the record will be provided for the student's inspection.

B. Copies of Records

1. Copies to students will be provided to students in good standing upon written request and payment of fees for copies (see the Request for Access to Student Record Form in the Academic Records area of the Registrar's site), with the exception of transcripts received from other educational institutions and any documents the student has waived his or her right to see. Copies of education records may be withheld by the University when the student is not in good standing as a result of such conditions as unmet financial obligations and violations of institutional regulations. Such records to be withheld may include, but are not limited to, grade reports, transcripts, and certifications of student achievement and performance. A transcript of a student's official academic record contains information about his or her academic attainment and status exclusively. Only the Registrar is authorized to issue transcripts or to certify in any way the official academic record of a student. An official transcript is issued only when requested by the student in writing.
2. Copies to third parties will be provided upon receipt of the student's written and signed consent for disclosure of the records. Such a written consent must:
 1. identify the records to be disclosed,
 2. identify the person or class of persons to whom the disclosure may be made,
 3. specify the time period during which consent is applicable, and*
 4. be signed and dated.

* A Consent to Release Information to Third Parties form is available online in the Academic Records area of the Registrar's website.

VI. Requests for Amendment and Challenge Hearings

If, upon inspection and review of his or her record, a student believes that the record is inaccurate, misleading or otherwise in violation of his or her privacy rights, he or she may request that the record be corrected. A request for correction must be submitted in writing and must specify the information being questioned, the revision requested, and the reasons the student has for disagreeing with the entry in question. Any supporting documentation should be attached to the request. Where possible, disagreements should be resolved informally. This provision does not apply to grade appeals, and students wishing to appeal the assignment of a grade should refer to the Policy and Procedures for Student Complaints, Petitions for Policy Waivers and Variances, and Appeals.

Only the Registrar, upon consultation with the respective dean, may authorize a correction in a record within the academic file of a student. Similar authority is held by the Vice President for Student Affairs, the Director of Admissions, the Director of Financial Aid, the respective College Dean and the Director of Personnel for the records which are maintained under the authority of these various University officials.

The University representative to whom a request for correction of a non-academic file is properly addressed will notify the student of his or her decision within 21 days after receipt of the written request. If the University decides that the information in a student's education record is inaccurate, misleading or in violation of the student's right of privacy, it will amend the record and notify the student, in writing, that the record has been amended. If the University decides that the challenged information is not inaccurate, misleading or in violation of the student's right of privacy, it will notify the student of the right to place in the record a statement commenting on the challenged information and a statement setting forth reasons for disagreeing with the decision. Such a statement shall become a part of the information contained in the education record and will be disclosed with it.

Should the University decide the challenged information is not inaccurate, misleading or in violation of the student's right of privacy, then the student will also be advised of the right to appeal the University's decision and challenge the information believed to be inaccurate, misleading or in violation of the student's privacy rights. The appeal may extend only to the material in the respective University file. While it may extend to the correct recording of a grade, it may not include a challenge to the assignment by the instructor of the grade. The student has 20 days to appeal the decision in writing to the Provost and ask for a hearing. On behalf of the President of the University, the Provost shall refer the appeal to an existing committee or designate a hearing committee comprised of University officials who do not have a direct interest in the outcome of the hearing. Georgia State University will notify the student, reasonably in advance, of the date, place and time of the hearing. The student shall be afforded a full and fair opportunity to present evidence relevant to the issues raised in the original request to amend the student's education records. The student may bring one individual to act as an advisor but the individual may not address the committee. The committee will prepare a written recommendation based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing and submit it to the Provost who will make a determination on the matter. The recommendation will include a brief summary of the evidence presented and the reasons for the decision. The decision of the Provost may be appealed in writing to the President within 20 days of the date of the decision. The appeal to the President shall be made on the record.

VII. University Career Services

The file of a student maintained in the University Career Services is assembled at the initiative of the student. The extent of disclosure to prospective employers, graduate schools, organizations awarding fellowships and the like shall be made clear to the student when he or she requests that the file be assembled and shall be agreed to by him or her on a form specifically provided for that purpose.

The student may make a specific waiver of access to evaluations solicited and/or received under condition of confidentiality, but the waiver must be made by the student without pressure or coercion. Any evaluation received under such condition of confidentiality without the student's waiver of access or without the student's knowledge shall not be incorporated in the file but shall be returned to the sender.

VIII. Addition to Records

No entry may be made on a student's official records and no document or entry may be placed in such records without written notice to the student by the administrative officials responsible for the specific category of information, as identified in Paragraph IV. For purposes of this guidance, notification of grades, written communication to a student of school or departmental evaluation and announcement of honors shall constitute adequate notice. A document or entry supplied by or at the request of the student may be placed in the student's record without additional notice to him or her. In the case of student records maintained in deans' offices and departmental offices, additions other than those mentioned in the preceding paragraph require the permission of the Registrar, who in turn is responsible for notification of the student.

IX. Release of Student Information

- A. Georgia State University will disclose information from a student's education records only with the written consent of the student, except that the records may be disclosed without consent when the disclosure is:
1. To school officials who have a legitimate educational interest in the records.
 - A school official is:
 - A person employed by the University (which, for purposes of this guidance includes persons employed by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia) in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position, including health or medical staff.
 - A person or entity employed by or under contract to the University to perform a special task, such as a University affiliated organization, attorney, auditor, or outside vendor.
 - A person who is employed by the Georgia State University law enforcement unit.
 - A student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or who is assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks.
 - A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official is:
 - Performing a task that is specified in his or her position description or contract agreement.
 - Performing a task on behalf of the University/Board of Regents in connection with his or her job responsibilities.
 - Performing a task related to a student's education.
 - Performing a task related to the discipline of a student.
 - Providing a service or benefit relating to the student or student's family, such as health care, counseling, job placement or financial aid.
 - Maintaining the safety and security of the campus.

The determination as to whether or not a legitimate educational interest exists will be made by the custodian of the records on a case-by-case basis. When the custodian has any question regarding the request, the custodian should withhold disclosure unless the custodian obtains consent from the student, or the concurrence of a supervisor or other appropriate official that the record may be released.
 2. Upon request of officials of another school at which a student seeks or intends to enroll, the University will attempt to notify the student of the disclosure unless the student initiated the disclosure.
 3. Information the University has designated as "directory information," unless the student has made a written request to suppress (i.e., to refuse to allow disclosure of) their directory information as more fully described below in Paragraph IX (B).
 4. To school officials or lending institutions, in connection with financial aid for which the student has applied or which the student has received, if the information is necessary for such purposes as to:
 - Determine eligibility for the aid;

- Determine the amount of the aid;
 - Determine the conditions for the aid; or
 - Enforce the terms and conditions of the aid.
5. To parents of a dependent student, as defined in Section 152 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The parents must provide a copy of their most recent federal income tax return establishing the student's dependency. Full rights under the act shall be given to either parent, unless the institution has been provided with evidence that there is a court order, state statute or legally binding document relating to such matters as divorce, separation or custody that specifically revokes those rights. Georgia State University does not have an obligation to disclose any financial information about one parent to another. If a parent claims a student as a dependent and does not want his or her financial information disclosed to his or her spouse or former spouse, the parent may make that request to the institution.
 6. In connection with an emergency, to appropriate persons if the knowledge of such information is believed necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or others.
 7. To comply with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena, provided the University makes a reasonable effort to notify the student of the order or subpoena in advance of compliance. Notification may be prohibited if the University receives a federal grand jury subpoena or any other subpoena which states that the student should not be notified. The University will comply with such process only upon the advice of counsel. All subpoenas received by the University should be immediately forwarded in person or by facsimile (404-413-0518) to the Office of Legal Affairs to evaluate the validity of the subpoena. In the case of a subpoena which can be disclosed to a student, the Office of Legal Affairs will inform the student of the subpoena and give the student an opportunity to file an objection to the subpoena before responding on behalf of the University.
 8. To an alleged victim of any crime of violence, as that term is defined in Section 16 of Title 18, United States Code, or a non-forcible sex offense, the final results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the University against the alleged perpetrator of that crime or offense with respect to that crime or offense. For the purpose of disclosure under this paragraph, the final results of any disciplinary proceeding shall include only the name of the student, the violation committed and any sanction imposed by the institution on that student and may include the name of any other student, such as a victim or witness, only with the written consent of that other student. The Office of Legal Affairs shall be consulted prior to release of the record.
 9. Subject to the conditions set forth in 34 CFR 99.35 authorized representatives of the Comptroller General of the United States, the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education, authorized representatives of the Attorney General for law enforcement purposes (investigation or enforcement of federal legal requirements of federally supported education programs), or state and local educational authorities.
 10. To state and local officials or authorities to which such information is specifically required to be reported or disclosed pursuant to the state statute adopted prior to Nov. 19, 1974, if the allowed reporting or disclosure concerns the juvenile justice system and the system's ability to effectively serve the student whose records are released; or information that is allowed to be reported pursuant to a state statute adopted after 1974, which concerns the juvenile justice system and the system's ability to effectively serve, prior to adjudication, the student whose records are released. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the state from further limiting the number or type of state or local officials who will continue to have access thereunder.
 11. To organizations conducting studies for, or on behalf of, educational agencies or institutions for the purpose of developing, validating or administering predictive tests, administering student aid programs and improving instruction, if such studies are conducted in such a manner as will not permit the personal identification of students and their parents by persons other than representatives of such organizations and such information will be destroyed when no longer needed for the purpose for which it is conducted.

12. To accrediting organizations in order to carry out their accrediting functions.
 13. To Department of Veterans Affairs Officials pursuant to 38 USC 3690©.
 14. To the court those records that are necessary to defend the institution when a student initiates legal action against the institution.
- B. Choosing to Suppress Directory Information – Directory Information is treated as public information. Students may choose to keep their directory information from being disclosed (“suppressed”) by submitting a written request to the University’s Registrar at any time. However, to keep the directory information from being included in various printed University publications, such requests should be made before the end of the drop/add period for Fall Semester. Information cannot be deleted after printed publications have gone to press and information previously-released in printed publications cannot be recalled. Information contained in electronic publications may generally be changed upon 48 hours notice. Students having opted to suppress their directory information may change their position at a later date by notifying the Office of the Registrar in writing. Please note: refusing to permit the release of directory information means that a student’s history at Georgia State will be suppressed in full, preventing the verification by future employers and others of degrees earned and dates of enrollment. Exception to Directory Suppression: Due to system constraints, final graduation lists and official programs will include all students who are graduating, regardless of Directory Suppression, unless otherwise stated on the Graduation Application.
- C. Records of Deceased Students will be made available to the parents of the deceased student and other authorized parties upon written request. The request must include the need for the records and must identify the requestor’s relationship to the deceased student. An official copy of the death certificate must accompany the request, if the University does not have prior notice of the student’s death.
- D. The University has the discretion to disclose to any parent or legal guardian of a student under the age of 21 information about a violation of any federal, state or local law, or any rule or policy of the institution governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance if the institution determines that the student has committed a disciplinary violation with respect to such use or possession.

X. Recordkeeping Requirements

Georgia State University will maintain a record of requests for and/or disclosures of information from a student’s education records which record may be reviewed by the student. The record will indicate the name of the party making the request and what records, if any, were received, as well as the interest in the records. Such recordkeeping is not required if the request was from, or the disclosure was to:

1. The student;
2. A school official determined to have a legitimate educational interest;
3. A party with written consent from the student;
4. A party seeking directory information; or
5. A federal grand jury or law enforcement agency pursuant to a subpoena that by its terms requires nondisclosure.

Recognition is given to The Catholic University of America upon whose FERPA Policy Georgia State University's FERPA Policy was modeled.

1060 Access to Student Records

To file a request for suppression of directory information, a student should fill out a Suppress Directory Information Form, available on the Academic Records webpage at http://registrar.gsu.edu/files/2013/02/Request_for_Student_Information_Suppression_Form.pdf, and turn it in to the Enrollment Services Center, 227 Sparks Hall.

Inquiries about students or former students should be directed to the Office of the Registrar. Georgia State's written policy on "Access to Student Records" complies with the provisions of the Act. Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 600 Independence Avenue, Washington, D.C. 20202-4605, regarding alleged violations of the Act.

1115 General Admission Policy

Georgia State University welcomes applications from all qualified individuals regardless of race, color, sex, religion, creed, age, sexual orientation, gender, disability or national origin. Admission is based on a number of factors, depending upon level of entry and previous educational experience. Admission and placement decisions are made by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions using criteria approved by the University Senate and developed in accordance with policies of the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. Admission decisions are based on factors such as, but not limited to, an applicant's academic record, test scores, essay, letter of recommendation, circumstances, good conduct and character. Applications are reviewed and considered in the context of the overall applicant pool for the respective term. Admission is a competitive, selective process and meeting minimum requirements does not guarantee acceptance.

Applications received after the deadline for the term of application or received without a designated term will be processed for the next available term. The application fee is non-refundable. Completed applications submitted to the university are valid for 3 terms (the next available term plus the 2 consecutive terms that follow). To be considered during the second or third consecutive term after submitting an application, applicants need only submit a reactivation form, together with any required credentials, by the application deadline date for that particular term. An offer of admission by the university is valid only for the term specified by the university at the time of acceptance and does not constitute approval for any term not so specified.

Applicants with a criminal and/or disciplinary history who are determined to be otherwise admissible for a respective term based on their academic record and other credentials are required to complete a disciplinary/criminal review process before an admission decision is made by the university.* Instructions for completing that review process are communicated to the applicant after the university has determined that the applicant is otherwise admissible for that term.

Absent extenuating circumstances, good disciplinary standing at previously attended colleges and universities is a condition of admission for all applicants. For purposes of admission, good disciplinary standing means that the applicant has no pending disciplinary charges, outstanding disciplinary sanctions or disciplinary issues that would prevent the applicant from re-enrolling at the previously attended institution.

Omissions or misrepresentations on an application for admission are grounds for automatically invalidating consideration by, acceptance to and continuation at Georgia State. Applicants have a duty to update their application with Georgia State when information changes after application submission.

All materials submitted as part of an application for admission become and remain the property of the university and will not be returned to the applicant, duplicated, or transferred to another institution.

Admission to Georgia State University or re-entry approval does not imply admission to a specific major or professional program.

*Applicants are required to answer the following background questions on the Georgia State University admissions application:

1. Are you ineligible to enroll at any previously attended institution?
2. Are you currently on or have you even been placed on academic probation, suspension, exclusion or any other type of academic warning at any previously attended institution?
3. Are you currently charged with, or have been found guilty of, any violation of academic honesty, honor code, or conduct regulations of a previously attended institution?
4. Have you left a previous institution while there were pending charges of any violation of academic honest, honor code, or conduct regulation?
5. Have you been found guilty of any violation of a federal, state, or municipal law, regulation or ordinance (other than for minor traffic violations, or convictions subsequently discharged, expunged, or otherwise ordered by the court to be removed from the applicant's criminal record, including offenses for which any type of first offender status was offered but subsequently revoked for failure to successfully complete program requirements)?
6. Have you ever entered a plea of guilty, no contest, nolo contendere, an Alford plea, or otherwise accepted responsibility for the commission of a crime?
7. Have you received any type of discharge from military service other than an honorable discharge?

Any changes in a student's record prior to enrollment will necessitate a new review of the application. Any omissions or misrepresentations on a student's application for admission will automatically invalidate consideration by, acceptance to and continuation at Georgia State.

All credentials submitted with the application for admission become and remain the property of the university and will not be returned to the student, duplicated, or transferred to another institution.

Admission to Georgia State University or re-entry approval does not imply admission to a specific major or professional program.

- Students who wish to take 3000 or 4000 level teacher education courses (designated by a "TE" in the course description) or who wish to enter one of the teacher education programs must be approved by the College of Education or the College of Arts and Sciences, depending on the student's teaching field major (see Section 1605).
- Prospective applicants who are interested in the Byrdine F. Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions and have completed preparation to enter the professional or clinical program of their major should contact that school for information on additional departmental application procedures, requirements, and deadlines.

- Students who wish to apply for admission to the School of Music should contact the School of Music office to request separate application materials and to make an appointment for an audition.
- Students who declare a major or pre-major, but fail to meet program requirements of the major (including GPA, minimum course grades or admittance through an application process) and who have no opportunity to progress in that academic program, will have their major administratively changed to exploratory. Students must declare another major after one semester in an exploratory major.

1115.05 Lawful Presence

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia requires all students applying to Georgia State University to provide verification of their lawful presence in the United States before their admission to the university can be finalized.

This requirement is detailed in the following Board of Regents policies:

- Policy 4.1.6 Admission of Persons Not Lawfully Present in the United States
- Policy 4.3.4 Verification of Lawful Presence

1. Verification through the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)
If you are either a U.S. citizen, permanent resident or eligible non-citizen (does not apply to international students on a visa) that has completed and submitted a FAFSA, the U.S. Department of Education will verify your lawful presence. If you are not able to be confirmed as lawfully present the Office of Financial Aid will follow up with you for additional documentation.
2. Submission of one of the following documents:
U.S. Certificate of Naturalization*
U.S. Certificate of Citizenship*
U.S. Certificate of Birth Abroad*
Current U.S. Passport*
Current Georgia Driver's License issued by the State of Georgia after January 1, 2008*
Current Georgia ID Card issued by the State of Georgia after January 1, 2008*
Permanent Resident Card*
Certified U.S. Birth certificate (must be submitted in person)
Military ID (must be verified in person)
Copies of these documents are acceptable. Submit documents directly to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions in person or via email – lawfulpresenceua@gsu.edu.*
3. Verification through SEVIS (Student and Exchange Information System)
If you have or are applying for an F or J visa we will verify your lawful presence through SEVIS. As this is already part of the immigration process there are no additional steps required to have your Citizenship Verification Hold removed. Simply comply with the requirements outlined by our Office of International Student and Scholar Services as you prepare to arrive at Georgia State University.
4. Verification through SAVE (Systematic Alien Verification for Entitlements)
All nonresident alien students on some sort of visa will need to submit immigration documents verifying their lawful status to the office of International Student & Scholar Services (ISSS). Such documents may include an I-94 card, U.S. Citizenship & Immigration Services (USCIS) approval notice or receipt notice, or other documentation that the student is in lawful visa status.

This requirement applies to students who have been previously enrolled at Georgia State but are either returning (re-entry) to a degree program or applying for a new degree program. Transient students must also be verified; however cross-registration students do not.

Admission will be withdrawn for any student who is unable to provide proof of lawful presence by at least one of the methods outlined above.

1115.10 Special Talent Admission Policy

Students with special talents who do not meet the university admission standards are considered through a special admissions review process. Applications for students in this category are reviewed by a subcommittee of the University Senate on Admissions and Standards which makes a recommendation to the Provost. In their determinations, the committee will review grade point average, test scores, grades and other relevant factors.

The committee members will recommend to the Provost those students whom they determine have a reasonable chance of academic success at Georgia State University. Recommendations include the committee's rationale for each student.

Special Talent Admission Appeals

Decisions to deny admission to special talent applicants by the Office of Admissions may be appealed by the chair of an academic department or the Athletic Director to the Provost for Academic Affairs.

1120 Freshman Applicants

Definition

Those applicants who have never enrolled in a regionally-accredited college or university (unless jointly enrolled while completing high school) are freshman applicants.

Freshman Deadlines

An application for admission and the nonrefundable application fee must be submitted or postmarked by the established deadlines. Applicants are encouraged to apply online at <http://admissions.gsu.edu/how-do-i-apply/>. Complete credentials must be received before a decision can be made. All required credentials should be submitted to the Office of Admissions no later than fifteen business days following the submission date of the application for admission.

Fall Semester Applicants Only

The Office of Undergraduate Admissions offers three deadlines for Fall application to the University: Early Action, Scholarship Consideration and Regular Decision. Application submission deadlines are as follows:

Early Action Deadline	November 15
Scholarship Deadline	January 3
Regular Decision Deadline	March 1

First-time freshmen applying for fall semester entry will be considered for admission beginning in November and decisions will continue to be made throughout the academic year until enrollment goals have been met. It is recommended that applicants apply as early as possible to be considered for admission, university housing, scholarship funding and need-based financial aid .

Early Action Deadline

Qualified freshmen applicants for whom Georgia State University is a top choice are encouraged to apply for admission on or before November 15 of their senior year to receive an admission decision no later than January 31. Only those applicants with completed admission files, including test scores, essay, letter of recommendation, high school transcript(s), fee, and any requested additional documentation will be notified by this date. All others will be deferred to the Regular Decision process. Primary consideration under the Early Action plan will be focused on demonstrated academic achievement, including the Required High School Curriculum grades through the junior year, rigor of curriculum, and performance on the SAT and/or ACT with writing assessment. The Early Action plan is non-binding and provides applicants an early decision with no obligation to enroll; this option is only open to freshmen who apply for the summer or fall entry term to Georgia State. An Early Action applicant must submit the required application, fee and transcripts along with official SAT/ACT scores sent online from the appropriate testing agency no later than December 1. Early Action applicants will receive notification of their admission decision in January, and may be offered admission, deferred to the Regular Decision process for further consideration, or denied admission to Georgia State University. Applicants who are offered admission under Georgia State's Early Action plan are not bound to accept the offer of admission and are given until May 1 to submit their confirmation intent to enroll and attend Georgia State. If an applicant wishes for November or December test scores or mid-year senior grades to be considered in the admissions decision, he or she would be better advised to apply under the Regular Decision plan and deadline.

Early Action applicants deferred to the Regular Decision plan will be strongly encouraged to submit mid-year senior grades and improved SAT and/or ACT scores that show improvement. All deferred Early Action candidates with complete applications will be notified of a final admission decision no later than May 1.

Scholarship Consideration Deadline

If you wish to be considered for a Georgia State University scholarship based on competitive test scores and academic achievement, be sure to submit your completed application and required admission documents no later than January 3. Only applicants with completed admission files, including submission of all required admission documents and fee will be considered for possible scholarships. If you are considered for specific scholarships, you may be contacted by the Honors College for additional information.

Regular Decision Deadline

Freshmen applicants choosing this plan must submit their application no later than March 1 of their senior year. Those applicants with completed admission files, including test scores, essay, letter of recommendation, transcript(s), fee, and any requested additional documentation will be notified no later than April 1. Primary consideration under the Regular Decision plan will also be focused on demonstrated academic achievement (grades in Required High School Curriculum courses, rigor of curriculum, and performance on the SAT or ACT with writing assessment), with secondary consideration given to a combination of the following factors: intellectual pursuits, creative endeavors, and intercultural experiences; public service, co-curricular activities, community involvement, leadership, and family commitments; and integrity and personal maturity. Both Regular Decision and Deferred Early Action candidates will be notified of acceptance, waitlisted or denied admission to Georgia State University no later than May 1.

Spring and Summer Deadlines

An application for admission and the nonrefundable application fee must be submitted or postmarked by the established deadlines. Complete credentials must be received before a decision can be made. All required credentials should be submitted to the Office of Admissions no later than fifteen business days following the submission date of the application for admission. Applications are processed in the order in which they are complete and ready for a decision.

Semester	Early Deadline	Regular Deadline
Spring	October 1	December 1
Summer	February 1	March 1

Note: All deadlines are subject to change.

Minimum Freshman Admission Requirements

Admission to Georgia State University is a selective process and meeting minimum admission requirements does not guarantee acceptance. All of the following minimum requirements must be met in order for an applicant to receive consideration as a freshman:

- Be a graduate of and have completed the Required High School Curriculum requirements for the University System of Georgia from a high school accredited by a regional accrediting association (such as the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools), a high school accredited by the Georgia Accrediting Commission, or a public high school regulated by a school system and state Department of Education. A Certificate of Attendance does not qualify an applicant for admission consideration.
- Have completed the University System of Georgia Board of Regents' Required High School Curriculum. Seventeen curriculum course units required as follows:
 1. English (4 units): emphasis in grammar and usage; literature (American, English, and World); and advanced composition skills.
 2. Mathematics (4 units): algebra I, algebra II, geometry, and one additional mathematics course with these units as prerequisites.
 3. Science (4 units): at least one laboratory course from the life sciences and one laboratory course from the physical sciences. (Applicants graduating in 2012 or later must have 4 units.)

4. Social Science (3 units): at least one course focusing on United States studies and one course focusing on world studies.
 5. Foreign language (2 units in the same language): emphasis in speaking, listening, reading, and writing.
- Have a minimum 2.80 high school grade point average calculated on the 17 courses listed above.
 - Submit electronic SAT scores (including the writing section) with a minimum combined score of 900 (verbal/critical reading + mathematics) with at least 430 verbal/critical reading and 400 mathematics or electronic ACT scores (including the Writing Test) with a minimum composite score of 19 with at least 17 English and 17 mathematics.
 - Permanent residents, educated in the United States, whose native language is not English are encouraged to take the TOEFL. If the TOEFL is not taken, applicants from local areas will be required to take the Georgia State Test of English Proficiency (GSTEP) to determine appropriate admission.
 - Have a freshman index (FI) of 2500 or higher. The FI is based on a combination of SAT/ACT scores and high school grade point average (HSGPA) in college preparatory courses only. The FI formula using SAT scores is: $SAT\ FI = (500 \times HSGPA) + SAT\ V + SAT\ M$. The FI formula using ACT scores is: $ACT\ FI = (500 \times HSGPA) + (ACT\ composite \times 42) + 88$. In calculating the HSGPA for FI purposes, the applicant's transcript is calculated upon only 17 of the required high school curriculum taken such as English, mathematics, science, social studies, and foreign language.

High-Ability RHSC-Deficient Freshman

Certain high-ability applicants are eligible for admission to Georgia State even if they have not fully completed the Required High School Curriculum (RHSC). Applicants who have graduated from high school and have:

- completed the RHSC English requirement
- completed the RHSC Math requirement
- three units of Science
- two units of Social Science

Applicants admitted with RHSC deficiencies must complete the RHSC requirements by taking the Georgia State courses in the sciences, social sciences or foreign languages (depending on the area of their RHSC deficiencies). These courses will be selected by the University Advisement Center. Credits earned in courses taken to meet RHSC deficiencies do count towards graduation requirements. Students must earn a grade of C or better in those courses they take to meet RHSC deficiencies. Students must complete all RHSC-required courses either prior to enrollment or before they earn 30 hours at the University. Otherwise, they may not register for any courses except RHSC courses until all RHSC requirements are complete.

Home-Schooled Students

Applicants for freshman admission who have been home-schooled or graduated from non-accredited high schools may be considered for admission by meeting one of the following two criteria:

Option One: Portfolio Admission

Applicants who wish to apply for admission under the portfolio review option must:

1. Demonstrate a combined SAT test score (or an ACT equivalent) that is at or exceeds the average SAT for those enrolled as first time freshmen for the previous fall term. The current score is 1090 (SAT) or 24 (ACT).
2. Submit electronic SAT scores (including the writing section) of at least 430 verbal/critical reading and 400 mathematics or electronic ACT scores (including the Writing Test) of at least 17 English and 17 mathematics.
3. Submit a portfolio that demonstrates satisfactory completion of the 16 Required High School Curriculum (RHSC) required for admission to a University System of Georgia research institution. This portfolio must include information about the course of study leading to satisfactory completion of each RHSC unit, including a list of all educational resources (books and other materials), course outline and appropriate outcomes assessment. Georgia State University reserves the right to request any further information that it feels necessary to evaluate the completion of the RHSC requirements.

Option Two: SAT Subject Test Admission

Applicants who wish to apply for admission under the SAT Subject Test option must:

1. Submit electronic SAT scores (including the writing section) with a minimum combined score of 900 with at least 430 verbal/critical reading and 400 mathematics or electronic ACT scores (including the Writing Test) with a minimum composite score of 19 with at least 17 English and 17 mathematics.
2. Submit acceptable scores on six SAT Subject Tests and demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language at the level of two years of high school study. Minimum acceptable scores on the prescribed SAT Subject Tests are:
 - o 520 on the English Writing test (now a required part of the SAT or ACT)
 - o 530 on the Literature test
 - o 500 on the Mathematics Level 1 test or a score of 570 on the Mathematics Level 2 test
 - o 520 on the Biology test
 - o 540 on the Chemistry test or 590 on the Physics test
 - o 560 on the U.S. History test, and
 - o 540 on the World History test

The appropriate level of competency in a foreign language will be evaluated by the Georgia State University Department of World Languages and Cultures, using methods including both oral and written components.

1125 Transfer Applicants

Definition

Those applicants who have previously attended a regionally-accredited college or university (except for students jointly enrolled while completing high school) are transfer applicants.

Transfer Deadlines

An application for admission and the nonrefundable application fee must be submitted or postmarked by the established deadlines. Applicants are encouraged to apply online at <http://admissions.gsu.edu/how-do-i-apply/transfer-students/>. Complete credentials must be received before a decision can be made. All required credentials should be submitted to the Office of Admissions no later than fifteen business days following the submission date of the application for admission. Applications are processed in the order in which they are complete and ready for a decision. Students wishing to be considered for a subsequent term must submit a reactivation form at the following website (<http://admissions.gsu.edu/how-do-i-apply/other-enrollment-types/reactivation/>), and any additional credentials that may be necessary by the appropriate deadline. Applicants interested in early registration dates and orientation, university housing, and/or financial aid are urged to apply and complete their applications by the Deadline Dates listed below.

Semester	Early Deadline	Regular Deadline
Fall	February 1	July 1
Spring	October 1	December 1
Summer	February 1	April 1

Note: All deadlines are subject to change.

For international student application deadline dates, please see Section 1165.

The professional and clinical programs in the Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions may have earlier deadlines. Please contact the Office of Academic Assistance, Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions, 404-413-1000, for information on procedures and deadline dates.

Admission Requirements

All of the following minimum requirements must be met in order for an applicant to receive consideration as a transfer, but meeting them does not guarantee admission. An applicant must:

- have a minimum cumulative 2.5 grade point average in college-level courses (excluding developmental/remedial courses) from all accredited institutions attended.
- be eligible to re-enroll at the last institution attended.
- have completed all college preparatory curriculum and learning support coursework required by any unit of the University System of Georgia (USG).
- in addition, those students who have completed fewer than 30 semester hours or 45 quarter hours of college-level academic coursework attempted at one or more regionally accredited institutions must meet all freshman admission requirements (see Section 1120).
- arrange for all transcripts to be received directly by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions or provide them in sealed envelopes directly from the institution. Student copies of transcripts, official transcripts opened by the student, and fax copies are not acceptable.
- must have satisfied Learning Support requirements at their previous institutions.
- must have satisfied Required High School Curriculum requirements

Transfer students should be aware of the Board of Regents' requirements in reading, writing, history, and constitution (see sections 1420 and 1425).

Transfer Credit Policy

When an applicant is accepted for undergraduate transfer admission, courses that parallel the curriculum of Georgia State University will be accepted for transfer credit. Credit must have been earned at institutions of higher education with full accreditation by one of the following accreditors:

- Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools
- New England Association of Schools and Colleges
- North Central Association of Colleges and Schools
- Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities
- Western Association of Schools and Colleges
- Southern Association of Colleges and Schools

Courses completed at a two-year college will be granted lower-division credit.

The total number of hours that may be earned toward a degree by extension or correspondence courses may not exceed 30 semester hours.

In general, transfer credit will not be awarded for a course that a student has previously attempted at Georgia State (including attempts which resulted in a withdrawal). However, individual departments may waive this rule for their courses.

Because the university has a minimum academic residence requirement, the amount of transfer credit applicable to a degree program may be limited (See Section 1440). In addition, Colleges and Departments have their own transfer credit policies and this may also limit the amount of transfer credit applicable to a degree program. All such policies are stated in this Catalog in the following sections:

- 2000 Andrew Young School of Policy Studies
- 3020 College of Arts and Sciences
- 4050 College of Education and Human Development
- 5020.10 Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions
- 7020.10 Robinson College of Business

Georgia State maintains a web site, <http://advisement.gsu.edu/transfer-students/equivalency-charts/>, which indicates courses at other institutions that will be accepted as transfer credit (subject to the restrictions noted in this section). If a course at other institution is not on this list, students should consult the University Advisement Center at <http://advisement.gsu.edu>.

Georgia State University will allow no more than 12 semester hours of D grades to apply toward degree requirements of a baccalaureate program of study. This 12 semester hours includes both credit completed at Georgia State (resident credit) and transfer credit. Certain degree programs may designate a lesser number of D grades as acceptable. Consult your college's chapter of this catalog for stricter requirements.

A student who takes a course at another institution will not receive transfer credit for that course until the end of the semester following the semester in which the course was taken. Therefore, students may not take courses for degree credit at another institution during the semester they graduate from Georgia State.

Transfer Credit for Core Courses

1. Students will be granted credit for all of Areas A-E of the core if they hold one of the following:
 - a. a baccalaureate degree from U.S. institution of higher education accredited by one of the six accreditors listed above
 - b. for those who have graduated from a non-U.S. institution, the equivalent of a baccalaureate degree from a U.S. institution of higher education accredited by one of the six accreditors listed above as certified by Georgia State or a Georgia State-approved agency.
 - c. an associate's degree designed to transfer to a baccalaureate program from a University System of Georgia (USG) institution
2. However, there are two exceptions to the policy stated in 1 above.
 - a. Students seeking a baccalaureate degree in biology, chemistry, computer science, geology, mathematics, physics, science education, or math education who do not hold a baccalaureate degree in one of these fields will only be granted credit for all of Areas B, C, and E. They will be granted credit in Areas A and D on a course-by-course basis.
 - b. Students seeking a baccalaureate degree in nursing, nutrition or respiratory therapy will only be granted credit for all of Areas A, B, C, and E. They will be granted credit in Area D on a course-by-course basis.
3. Students who hold any other associate's degree, such as an associate's degree from a non-USG institution or an associate's degree not designed to transfer to a baccalaureate program, will be granted transfer credit for core courses on a course-by-course basis.

1127 Transition Students

A transition student is a student who wishes to move to the Atlanta campus for bachelor study after beginning on an associate's degree track at one of our Perimeter College campuses.

Requirements

Students who transition from Georgia State's Perimeter College to the Atlanta campus must achieve a minimum of 2.0 GPA in at least 30 credit hours of study. Proof of lawful presence must be provided to receive complete admission to the Atlanta campus. Students who have completed fewer than 30 credit hours of study must meet all freshmen admission requirements.

Students who wish to transition can fill out a transition form to have their records transferred from the associate degree to the bachelor degree track.

All learning support and required high school curriculum courses must be completed to matriculate at Georgia State University's Atlanta Campus. Students should complete Area A of the Board of Regents' core curriculum prior to transition.

1130 Postbaccalaureate Applicants

Definition

Those applicants who have received a bachelor's degree and who wish to take undergraduate courses without being admitted to a second undergraduate degree program are postbaccalaureate applicants. An applicant wishing to seek a second baccalaureate degree should refer to Section 1125. Georgia State University graduates should refer to Section 1170.

Deadlines

Note: All deadlines are subject to change.

For international student application deadline dates, please see Section 1165.

After the Regular Deadline Dates, only postbaccalaureate applications that are complete at the time of submission (application, nonrefundable application fee, and all required documents) will be processed and only if space is available and time permits.

An applicant wishing to seek a second bachelor's degree in a professional or clinical program in the Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions should apply to the university as a transfer student. Once a student has been admitted to the university, there is a second application process for those interested in majors in the Byrdine F. Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions. Please contact the Office of Academic Assistance, Byrdine F. Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions, for information on procedures and deadline dates.

Admission Requirements

Postbaccalaureate applicants must hold a baccalaureate degree or the equivalent from an institution of postsecondary education with full accreditation by a regional association of colleges and schools and, where appropriate, the Commission on Colleges.

The postbaccalaureate status is not available for applicants seeking teacher certification in any area other than music education and art education (see Section 1605).

In order to be considered for admission as a postbaccalaureate student, an applicant must complete an application for undergraduate admission (including the nonrefundable fee) and submit an official transcript from the degree-granting institution by the appropriate deadline. If a student wishes to change to a degree-seeking status after enrolling at Georgia State University as a postbaccalaureate student, conditions for acceptance as a transfer student must be met. An application for admission, the nonrefundable application fee and required transcripts must be filed with the Office of Undergraduate Admissions located in 200 Sparks Hall by the established application deadline for the intended semester of entry.

All scholastic discipline policies and all course prerequisite policies are applicable to Postbaccalaureate students. Postbaccalaureates may not attend another institution as transient students from Georgia State. Transient status is only for degree-seeking students. Postbaccalaureate students wishing to attend another institution must apply directly to the other school.

1135 Transient Applicants

Definition

Students who are currently enrolled in a transferable degree program at another accredited college or university in the United States who wish to register at Georgia State University for the purpose of completing work to transfer back to the home institution are transient applicants. Transient students may attend for only one fall or one spring semester. However, attendance as a transient student in summer semesters is unlimited.

Deadlines

Semester	Deadline
Fall	July 1
Spring	December 1
Summer	April 1

Note: All deadlines are subject to change.

For international student application deadline dates, please see Section 1165.

After the Regular Deadline Dates, only transient applications that are complete at the time of submission (application, nonrefundable application fee, and all required documents) will be processed and only if space is available and time permits.

Admission Requirements

In order to be eligible for admission as a transient, a student must submit an application for undergraduate admission (including the nonrefundable fee) and request an official statement granting permission to enroll as a transient student from the home institution. The appropriate academic official at the home institution must send this statement directly to Georgia State University. The application will be valid for 3 terms (the initial term plus 2 additional terms). Students who do not enroll the semester for which they were accepted and wish to register later must either reactivate their application or submit a new application by the application deadline and arrange for a current official statement updated for the new semester to be sent.

International students who are attending school on another institution's immigration document (F-1/I-20, J-1/IAP-66) will not be issued any additional documents, but must also submit a statement of permission from the International/Foreign Student Advisor at the home institution.

The following regulations are applicable to transient students:

- They should seek academic advisement at their home institution to determine if courses taken at Georgia State are acceptable to their degree program.
- All scholastic discipline policies and all course prerequisite policies are applicable to transient students.
- Transcripts for courses completed at Georgia State as a visiting student must be requested from the Office of the Registrar at <http://registrar.gsu.edu/academic-records/transcripts/> to be sent to the home institution.
- Transient students are admitted to and register through the college or school selected on their application. If the applicant does not indicate a college, and if a transient approval letter has been received, placement will be determined from the courses indicated in the letter.
- To continue for an additional summer semester as a transient, a student must file a re-entry application and arrange for all necessary supporting documentation to be received in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions by the established deadlines (see Section 1170). With the exception of summer semesters, registration as a transient student is limited to one semester. Students seeking exception to this policy must contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. If a student wishes to become a transfer student, the student must file a new application for undergraduate admission (including the nonrefundable application fee) and arrange for all transcripts to be received by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions by the appropriate deadline. Student copies of transcripts or official transcripts opened by the student are not acceptable (see Section 1125).

1145 Non-traditional Applicants

Definition

Non-traditional applicants are defined as individuals who meet all of the following criteria:

- Have been out of high school at least five years or whose high school class graduated at least five years ago.
- Hold a high school diploma from an accredited high school as specified under Section 1120 or have satisfactorily completed the GED.
- Have earned fewer than 30 transferable semester hours or 45 transferable quarter credit hours.

Deadlines

A non-traditional applicant must follow the freshman deadlines (see Section 1120) for submitting an application, nonrefundable application fee and transcripts. Applicants are encouraged to apply online at admissions.gsu.edu.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must take the COMPASS assessment to be admitted to the university. The Office of Undergraduate Admissions notifies applicants of test date, time, and location. Applicants must earn the following scores on the COMPASS to be eligible for admission: reading = 74, writing = 60, and mathematics (COMPASS algebra test) = 37. If the file is not completed in time for testing to be scheduled prior to registration, it may become necessary to update the application to a future semester. If an applicant does not earn a required score(s) on the first attempt, that part(s) of the COMPASS may be retaken but the second attempt must be at least ninety (90) days after the first attempt. Applicants who do not earn all three of the required scores after two attempts may not reapply to Georgia State as nontraditional applicants for five years.

1150 Move On When Ready (Dual Enrollment)

At Georgia State, we have three programs that give academically outstanding high school students an opportunity to enroll in undergraduate courses. Students have a choice to enroll in Move On When Ready (MOWR) to earn both high school and college credits. We also offer Joint Enrollment, but in this program, students only earn college credit.

Move On When Ready

Definition

Move on When Ready (MOWR) is an opportunity for academically outstanding high school students to enroll as special non-degree seeking undergraduate students at Georgia State before graduation from high school. Students must be enrolled full-time (12-17 semester hours) and will earn both high school and college credits. Participation is only permitted during the normal fall and spring semesters of the high school and college year.

Student Eligibility

To be eligible for Move On When Ready, a student must:

- Be entering 11th or 12th grade and have spent the prior year in attendance at a public high school in Georgia
- Be on track to graduate
- Be a legal resident of Georgia for 12 consecutive months before the first day of classes and meet U.S. citizenship requirements
- Obtain approval of the high school guidance counselor and parent(s)/legal guardian(s)
- Achieve a grade of C- or higher in their Georgia State courses to remain eligible for the program

Admission Requirements

Because of the demanding nature of college-level course work at a research institution, MOWR students must demonstrate a high degree of academic potential and maturity. To be considered for admission, a student must meet all three requirements for admission:

1. GPA Requirement: Sophomores applying to be a MOWR student as a junior must have a GPA of 3.5 or higher; Juniors applying to be a MOWR student as a senior must have a GPA of 3.3 or higher. Both applicant types must have a minimum GPA of 3.3 in the Required High School Curriculum (RHSC) course units.
2. Test scores: Students may take either the ACT or SAT. The following minimum scores are required:
ACT Requirement: 23 English and 23 Math

SAT Requirement: 530 Verbal (Critical Reading) and 530 Math

3. Freshman Index (FI): 2700 or higher for seniors and 2800 for juniors.

The FI is based on a combination of SAT/ACT scores and high school grade point average (HSGPA) in college preparatory classes only.

The FI formula using SAT scores is $SAT FI = (500 \times HSGPA) + SAT Verbal + SAT Math$.

The FI formula using ACT scores is $ACT FI = (500 \times HSGPA) + (ACT composite \times 42) + 88$. In calculating HSGPA for FI purposes, the applicant's transcript is calculated upon only the academic (college preparatory) courses taken – English, Math, Science, Social Science and Foreign Language.

Deadlines

Applicants must submit the application, nonrefundable application fee and required documents by the appropriate deadline.

Semester	Deadline
Fall	May 1
Spring	November 1
Summer	April 1

Coursework

Talk to your high school guidance counselor about the classes you want to take. All schedules are subject to the approval of the appropriate high school official and Georgia State University. Students will take all coursework at Georgia State University's main campus. Move on When Ready courses must be selected from the approved MOWR course list. Coursework taken through MOWR does not count against HOPE Scholarship or HOPE Grant hours.

Cost

The cost for full-time coursework up to 17 semester hours from the approved course listing will be funded by the high school Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) program. Eligible participating institutions will accept the determined Move On When Ready amount as full payment for the student's tuition and mandatory fees. Other cost of attendance expenses including lab fees, books, meals, transportation and personal expenses are the responsibility of the parent/guardian. Any additional credit hours and/or courses not covered under the approved course list must be paid for out of pocket. Students must be aware that grades of C- or better apply to all classes, whether covered out of pocket or through FTE funding.

Policies & Regulations

MOWR students must follow the following academic regulations in addition to all the other academic regulations of Georgia State University.

- Georgia State University MOWR students are not permitted to live on campus in University Housing and must have a form of transportation to campus.
- Admission to Georgia State under MOWR does not imply admission to any other status. MOWR students who later wish to enroll at Georgia State outside the MOWR program must reapply.

- Students may not attend classes during the summer semester
- Students may attend for a maximum of two years (four semesters)
- Students must take courses that meet their high school graduation requirements.
- Students must pass any placement exams required for the courses they wish to take.
- Students may not take any courses at any high school or at any other institution of higher education while enrolled in the program.
- Students may participate in student clubs and other student life activities
- Students who earn a C- or lower in any class will not be allowed to continue in the MOWR program at Georgia State.
- College credits earned while in the MOWR program are transferable to other institutions based on post-secondary agreements between institutions. Students are advised to consider the post-secondary institutional agreements when planning MOWR coursework.
- Beginning fall 2015, the Georgia State University Bookstore will loan required textbooks to each student enrolled in the Move On When Ready program each semester, with the agreement that the textbooks will be returned to Georgia State University at the end of each semester.

MOWR students should be aware that they must meet all state high school graduation testing requirements, including End of Course Tests and the Georgia High School Graduation Tests. Georgia State courses are not designed to prepare students for these tests.

Joint Enrollment

Definition

High school students may supplement and enhance their high school curriculum by enrolling in college courses as a joint enrollment student. Courses taken through joint enrollment result in college credit, not high school credit, and students are responsible for their tuition and fees. Students wishing to attend as a joint enrollment student must meet the Accel Program admission requirements of Georgia State University.

Student Eligibility

To be eligible for Joint Enrollment, a student must:

- Be a high school student seeking a high school diploma from a public or private school, including home study, or home school programs
- Be on track to graduate
- Be a legal resident of Georgia and meet U.S. Citizenship Requirements
- Obtain approval of the high school guidance counselor and parent(s)/legal guardian(s)

Admission Requirements

Students must demonstrate a high degree of academic potential and maturity to be considered for Joint Enrollment (Program for Excellence/PFE). Joint enrollment is open to high school juniors and seniors meeting our application requirements. To be considered for admission, a student must meet all three requirements for admission:

1. GPA Requirement: 3.0 in the Required High School Curriculum (RHSC) course units
2. Test scores: Students may take either the ACT or SAT. The following minimum scores are required:
 ACT Requirement: 23 English and 23 Math
 SAT Requirement: 530 Verbal (Critical Reading) and 530 Math

 The FI formula using SAT scores is $SAT FI = (500 \times HSGPA) + SAT Verbal + SAT Math$.
 The FI formula using ACT scores is $ACT FI = (500 \times HSGPA) + (ACT composite \times 42) + 88$. In calculating HSGPA for FI purposes, the applicant's transcript is calculated upon only the academic (college preparatory) courses taken – English, Math, Science, Social Science and Foreign Language.

Deadlines

Applicants must submit the application, nonrefundable application fee and required documents by the appropriate deadline.

Semester	Deadline
Fall	May 1
Spring	December 1
Summer	May 1

Note: All deadlines are subject to change.

Coursework

Students will take all coursework at Georgia State University's main campus

Cost

Participation in Joint Enrollment is funded entirely by the student. To view current tuition costs for Georgia State University, please visit Student Financial Services at <http://sfs.gsu.edu>.

Policies & Regulations

- Georgia State University Joint Enrollment students are not permitted to live on campus in University Housing and must have a form of transportation to campus.

- A student enrolled simultaneously at the university and the high school is also subject to any rules and regulations imposed by that high school.
- All students are required to earn a high school college preparatory diploma on or before their original graduation date using the college-level coursework, as appropriate.

1154 Early College

Definition

Early College is a program that allows students from selected high schools to enroll at Georgia State. Early College students enrolled in a participating high school may earn a high school diploma with the potential to earn an Associate's degree or two years of college credit towards a Bachelor's degree. Unlike Accel, Move on When Ready (MOWR) and Joint Enrollment (JE), Early College enrollment is open only to students enrolled at an Early College high school that has partnered with Georgia State University.

Deadlines

Applicants must submit the application and required documents by the appropriate deadline. Early College deadlines are set by joint agreement of the Georgia State University Office of Admissions and the Early College high school. Students should consult their Early College liaison for applicable deadlines. Early College students do not pay an application fee.

Admission Requirements

Because of the demanding nature of college-level course work at a research institution, Early College students must have a high degree of academic potential and maturity. To be considered for admission, a student must meet the following minimum requirements:

- Have spent the entire year prior to enrollment at an Early College high school in Georgia.
- Be currently enrolled at an Early College high school that has partnered with Georgia State University.
- Be high school sophomore (to apply to be an Early College student as a second semester sophomore or as a junior) or a high school junior (to apply to be an Early College student as a senior).
- Obtain the recommendation of the student's high school guidance counselor.
- Obtain the approval of the student's parents or legal guardians.
- Be on track to complete all Required High School Curriculum (RHSC) requirements.
- Achieve a minimum high school GPA of 2.75 in college prep (RHSC) courses.

In addition, the admission decision will also consider:

- A personal essay to be reviewed by the high school guidance counselor making the recommendation.
- The student's attendance record in high school. Normally, a minimum attendance rate of 90% is required to be permitted to take classes at Georgia State.

Students must also provide a copy of their most recent high school transcript showing all grades completed to date.

Admission to Georgia State under Early College does not imply admission to any other status. Early College students who later wish to enroll at Georgia State outside the Early College program must reapply.

Academic Regulations

Early College students must follow the following academic regulations in addition to all the other academic regulations of Georgia State University.

- They may not attend classes during the summer semester except by special permission of the Georgia State University Advisement Center.
- They may attend for a maximum of five semesters. (However, students should be aware that the Accel program will only pay for four semesters.)
- The courses in which they are enrolled must be part of Georgia State’s core curriculum and must count towards their high school graduation requirements.
- They must pass any placement exams required for the courses they wish to take.
- They may not take any courses at any other institution of higher education while enrolled in the program.
- They may not live on campus but may participate in some student clubs and other student life activities with the advance permission of the Office of the Dean of Education.
- Early College students may only enroll in Georgia State courses approved by their high school guidance counselor and Georgia State University Advisement Center.
- If they earn a Georgia State cumulative GPA below 2.0, in next semester students must either attend a USG 2-year institution (that is a Georgia State Early College partner) or attend only high school. They may return to Georgia State only after taking at least six hours at the 2-year institution and earning a GPA of 3.0 (or better) or earning a high school semester GPA of 3.25 (or better).
- Students must participate in the Early Alert program. Faculty who have Early College students in their courses must participate in the Early Alert program.
- College credits earned while in the Early College program are transferable to other USG institutions.

Early College students should be aware that they must meet all state high school graduation testing requirements, including End of Course Tests and the Georgia High School Graduation Tests. Georgia State courses are not designed to prepare students for these tests.

1155 GSU-62 Program

Definition

Note: All deadlines are subject to change.

International Applicants

In addition to meeting all other applicable requirements for admission, international applicants who will need a student visa status (F or J) must demonstrate the ability to meet the estimated financial obligations of tuition, fees and living expenses by submitting the Foreign Student Financial Statement and the required documentation of financial support.

Applicants with Non-U.S. Credentials

In addition to meeting all other applicable requirements for admission, freshman applicants and transfer applicants with less than 30 semester hours of transferable credit must demonstrate academic preparation equivalent to graduation with a U.S. secondary Required High School Curriculum (RHSC) and have a GPA of 3.0 based on only academic courses. Applicants who have completed non-U.S. university level coursework must have earned satisfactory grades on all such work attempted and be in good academic standing. The applicant does not need to meet the Freshman Index or minimum RHSC requirements of those graduating from a U.S. high school.

Applicants must present official secondary (high school) or postsecondary (college or university) credentials, certificates or diplomas. Official documents must bear authoritative signatures, seals and/or stamps. These should be sent by the institution responsible for issuing such documents. In cases where it is impossible for these credentials to be sent from the institution, or only one set of originals is available to students, applicants should forward an attested copy of the original. A proper institution official or the Ministry of Education in the home country must do the attestation. A certified original translation must accompany all documents not printed in English.

Georgia State University requires that all international academic documents (transcripts, mark sheets, certificates, leaving examination results, etc.) be formally evaluated by either the Office of Undergraduate Admissions or an independent evaluation service such as Josef Silny and Associates, Inc. (www.jsilny.com), Educational Credential Evaluators (www.ece.org), or World Education Services (www.wes.org).

Visit <http://admissions.gsu.edu/how-do-i-apply/international-students/official-transcript-evaluations/> for more about the evaluation process and an approved list of countries that are evaluated by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

Applicants who have completed university-level studies overseas should submit catalogs or official course descriptions from the schools attended to Georgia State University in order to have credit considered for application to a degree program. All information must be translated into English and verified by the proper authorities.

Applicants Who are Non-Native Speakers of English

In addition to meeting all other applicable requirements for admission, non-native speakers of English must demonstrate sufficient English language proficiency. This can be demonstrated by submitting any one of the following: an SAT verbal/critical reading score of at least 430, an ACT English subtest score of at least 17, a TOEFL score of 550 (paper test) or 79(internet-based test), a GSTEP score of 6, an International English Language Testing System (IELTS) score of 6.5, or by successfully completing Georgia State University's Intensive English Program.

TOEFL bulletins (including registration forms) can be obtained at United States embassies and consulates, bi-national centers, or by writing to: Test of English as a Foreign Language, P.O. Box 6154, Princeton, N.J. 08541-6154, U.S.A. (www.toefl.org).

Information concerning IELTS test dates and test sites may be obtained at www.ielts.org.

To register for the GSTEP, please contact the Department of Applied Linguistics and English as a Second Language at 404-413-5200 (<http://www2.gsu.edu/~wwwtep/>).

F-1 Visa applicants who are non-native speakers of English and who meet all admission requirements except the English language proficiency requirement may be granted conditional admission. To be eligible for conditional admission, applicants must have a TOEFL score of 480 (paper test) or 54(internet-based test) or an IELTS score of 5.5. Students granted conditional admission will be required to take certain courses in the Intensive English Program (IEP) before taking other courses. A student may remain on conditional admission status for no more than three semesters. For more information about the IEP, see <http://iep.gsu.edu/>.

1170 Re-entry Applicants

Definition

An undergraduate re-entry applicant is a student who previously enrolled at Georgia State University and who wishes to re-enroll at Georgia State in one of the following ways:

- Previously enrolled as an undergraduate degree-seeking student wishing to return as an undergraduate degree-seeking student after an absence of three or more semesters.
- Previously enrolled as an undergraduate degree-seeking student wishing to return as an undergraduate postbaccalaureate student after an absence of three or more semesters.

Students seeking exception to this policy must contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

The re-entry application cannot be used in the following situations:

- Transient and postbaccalaureate students cannot apply for re-entry to update to degree-seeking (transfer) status. Students should refer to Section 1125 for deadlines, admission requirements and other policies related to transfer admission.
- Students that have only attended Georgia State University at the graduate level cannot apply for re-entry to enroll at the undergraduate level. Graduate students wishing to enroll at the undergraduate level should complete a new application for undergraduate admission, submit the appropriate application fee and all transcripts to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions. Students should refer to the appropriate area of Section 1100 for deadlines, admission requirements and other policies related to transfer, transient, and postbaccalaureate admission.
- Students who have only attended Georgia State University as dual enrollment cannot apply for re-entry at the undergraduate level. 1175 Academic Regulations that Apply to Various Admission Categories

1175.10 Transient Students

Transient students may attend for only one fall or one spring semester. However, attendance as a transient student in summer semesters is unlimited. In order to continue for an additional summer semester(s) as a transient, a student must file a re-entry form and arrange for all necessary supporting documentation to be received in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions by the established deadlines. To continue attending, transient students must be in good academic standing at Georgia State University. Transient students who wish to become transfer students must apply to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions to be admitted as a transfer student. All scholastic discipline policies and all course prerequisites are applicable to a transient student. Transcripts for courses completed at Georgia State as a transient must be requested from the Office of the Registrar to be sent to the home institution. Transient students are admitted to and register through the college or school selected on their application. If the applicant does not indicate a college, and if a transient approval has been received, placement will be determined from the courses indicated in the letter. Transient students who seek re-entry must complete a new re-entry form for the semester that they wish to attend.

1175.20 Postbaccalaureate Students

1200 Financial Information

The offices of Student Accounts and Financial Aid provide services to students to help them meet their financial obligations to Georgia State University so that they can progress academically. Visit our website at sfs.gsu.edu for details about services provided. It is the responsibility of the student to be informed of, and to observe, all regulations and procedures regarding tuition, fees, payments, refunds and financial aid. In no case will a regulation be waived or an exception granted because a student pleads ignorance of the regulation or asserts that he or she was not informed of it by an advisor or other authority. Verbal misinformation is not grounds for a waiver of a regulation.

1210 Tuition and Fees

Tuition and fees charged by Georgia State University are set and approved by the Board of the Regents of the University System of Georgia. Tuition and fees are subject to change without notice. For information about resident status, see Section 1220. The Office of Student Accounts, 100 Sparks Hall, is responsible for assessing tuition and mandatory student fees. Current tuition and fee rates are available at sfs.gsu.edu/tuition-fees/. The specific amount of a student's tuition and mandatory fees for a semester depends on a number of things, the most important of which are:

- The number of courses taken
- The nature of the courses
- The number of credit hours assigned to the course
- The residency status of the student

Actual tuition and mandatory fee charges are determined when a student registers for classes each semester and can be viewed online via PAWS at paws.gsu.edu. Registration is not complete until all tuition and fees have been paid in full.

1210.10 Waivers of Tuition and Fees

All requests for waivers of tuition and fees are due no later than two weeks before the end of regular registration. Requests made after that date will be considered for the subsequent semester.

Waivers of All Tuition

All tuition is waived for students who fall into one of the following categories:

- GSU-62 students who register during late registration. See section 1155.
- Employee tuition remission students who take no more than 8 hours and register during late registration.

Waivers of the Difference between Resident and Nonresident Tuition

The Board of Regents specifies that certain non-residents are granted waivers of the difference between resident and nonresident tuition. (See section 1220 for residency status rules.) These waivers are restricted to small classes of students. For more information, see www.usg.edu/regents/policymanual/700.phtml.

In addition to the Board of Regents authorized waivers, non-resident students who are enrolled only in courses which meet more than 50 miles from Georgia State and are part of an official Georgia State off-campus study program pay in-state tuition plus $250.

To apply for a waiver of the difference between resident and nonresident tuition, go to sfs.gsu.edu/tuition-fees/tuition-classification/.

Waivers of All Fees

All fees are waived for students who fall into one of the following categories:

- GSU-62 students (see section 1155)
- Employee tuition remission students who take no more than 8 hours and register during late registration
- Joint Enrolled/Early College/ACCEL students
- US Military Reserve and Georgia National Guard Combat Veterans
- Move On When Ready students

Waivers of All but Technology Fee

Enrollment fees are reduced to only the technology fee for students who fall into the categories below.

- Students enrolled only in courses offered under a tuition agreement between Georgia State University and a corporation, organization, educational institution or other legal entity if the tuition agreement specifies that fees will be waived.
- Students enrolled only in courses which meet more than 50 miles from Georgia State University if taking those courses at that location is required by their program of study. Such courses may include: practicum, student teaching, internship, directed reading, independent study, thesis research, or dissertation research. If the program of study allows (but does not require) that the courses be taken more than 50 miles from campus, then the students will not be granted a fee waiver.
- Students enrolled only in courses that meet more than 50 miles from Georgia State University if those courses are part of an official Georgia State University off-campus study program. Such programs may include field study programs and study abroad programs.
- Students enrolled in a faculty-led study abroad program will have all fees waived, except for the Board of Regents Institution Fee and Technology Fee. For more information see the Study Abroad website: <http://mystudyabroad.gsu.edu/>.

All mandatory fees except the technology fee and USG Institution fee may be waived in certain cases, based on Board of Regents policy. For more information on Tuition & Fee Waivers, visit <http://sfs.gsu.edu/tuition-fees/tuition-fee-waivers/>.

1210.20 Payment of Tuition and Fees

Georgia State University reserves the right at any time during the semester to drop or withdraw any student from classes for failure to pay tuition and fees. Students who cease to attend but do not formally drop their classes using PAWS at paws.gsu.edu will suffer financial and academic consequences. A student who attends a class without being formally registered or continues to attend a class after being dropped due to nonpayment will be held liable for the tuition and/or fees due plus any service fees assessed, applicable collection costs, court costs, and legal fees. A hold will be placed on the records of any student who has a financial obligation to the university. Until all financial obligations are met, a student is not permitted to register for further course work, receive grades for current course work, or access transcripts. If a student's account is sent to a collection agency, the student is responsible for the amount owed to the university as well as any collection costs and legal fees.

Payment Deadline

All tuition and fees must be paid by the dates published each semester in the online Academic/Registration calendar at registrar.gsu.edu/registration/semester-calendars-exam-schedules/. Failure to meet payment deadlines will have financial and academic consequences.

Payment by Credit Card

Georgia State University accepts Visa, MasterCard, Discover and American Express for payment of tuition and fees. Students choosing this option may register and pay fees by going to the Georgia State University PAWS student registration website at paws.gsu.edu. A service fee of 2.75% (or $3 minimum) is assessed by the payment processor for each credit card transaction. Credit card payments must be made on PAWS and are not accepted via telephone or in person at the cashier windows.

Payment by Check

Georgia State University offers the option of paying online from a bank checking or savings account. Students choosing this option may register and pay fees by going to the Georgia State University PAWS student registration website at paws.gsu.edu. No service fee is assessed when paying online via check. Checks must be payable in United States currency and drawn on a financial institution located in the United States of America. The university reserves the right to determine the acceptability of all checks.

Checks are also accepted at the cashier windows located at the downtown and perimeter campuses. Directions and other information about in-person payments is available on the Student Account website at sfs.gsu.edu/tuition-fees/payments/. Students may also mail a check or money order to: Georgia State University, Cashier's Office, P.O. Box 4029, Atlanta, GA 30302-4029. Checks must be made payable to Georgia State University and have an encoded checking account number on the face of the check. All checks not drawn in this manner will be returned. To ensure proper credit, the student's Panther ID should be included on all checks. To avoid cancellation of classes, payment by check must be received, not post marked, by the fee payment deadline.

If a check given in payment of a student's fees is not paid upon presentation to the banking institution, a hold is placed on the student's records. All returned checks are assessed a returned check fee of $35.00. Georgia State University reserves the right to place a student on "cash only" status for issuing a check that is not honored upon presentation to the bank.

Payment in Cash

Cash payments may be made at the Cashier's Office located at the downtown and perimeter campuses. Directions and other information about in-person payments is available on the Student Account website at sfs.gsu.edu/tuition-fees/payments/. It is unadvisable to send cash payments through the mail or to place them in the cashier's drop box.

1210.30 Refund of Tuition and Fees

Students who formally withdraw or who are formally withdrawn from all classes (see Section 1332.10) will be subject to the refund policy for tuition and other fees. This policy decreases the amount of refund available at regular intervals during the term. Students must withdraw from all classes to be eligible for a refund. After a time during the term, no refund will be available. Complete information about the refund policy throughout the term is available in each term's online Registration Guide at <http://registrar.gsu.edu/registration/registration-guide/>.

Placing a stop payment on a check with the banking institution from which the check is drawn does not constitute a formal withdrawal from courses. Students must withdraw using the procedures outlined in the Registration Guide.

A student is not entitled to any refund of tuition or fees paid if the student leaves the university when disciplinary action is pending, suspended for disciplinary reasons, or does not formally withdraw from the class or classes in which he or she is enrolled, or if other restrictions apply. See the online Registration Guide.

Student Account refunds are paid by electronic transfer to the student's bank account via direct deposit, electronic transfer to the student's Money Network enabled PantherCard, or by check mailed to the student using the mailing address on file with Georgia State. The refund for a student who received financial aid will be audited to determine the amounts to be returned to financial aid programs, and the student will receive any remaining balance. Students who sign up for direct deposit or the PantherCard refund program receive their refunds faster and in a more secure manner than students whose refunds are mailed. Mailing addresses must be kept current by going to the Georgia State University PAWS student website at paws.gsu.edu to ensure proper mailing of refund checks.

1210.40 Housing Fees

Housing fees for each semester are due when tuition and other fees are due. The housing fees include utilities, cable television service, internet connection, and laundry rooms. University Housing offers a variety of choices from which you may select. On-Campus Housing is located in the following facilities:

- The University Loft are apartment style with kitchens and living area.

For more information, contact University Housing at 250 Student Center, 404-413-1800, housing@gsu.edu.

1220 Georgia Resident Status

Residents of Georgia pay lower tuition rates than those who are not residents of Georgia. Establishing residency for tuition purposes as defined by the Board of Regents is different than residency for purposes such as voting, obtaining a Georgia driver's license/tag, etc., and requires more than establishing eligibility to vote, securing a driver's license, and/or paying taxes. Georgia residency status is also distinct from the academic residency requirement for graduation. (See Section 1440.)

A person may be a Georgia resident for tuition purposes if, and only if, either one of the following two criteria are met.

Criterion 1

A person may be a Georgia resident for tuition purposes if that person, that person's parents, or (if the person is a minor) that person's court-appointed guardian meets all of the following conditions:

- The person has always resided in Georgia or can demonstrate that they currently reside in Georgia and residency in any other state or country has been abandoned. Maintenance of ties with another state or country will contribute to a non-resident decision including: financial support from a person who is a resident of another state or country, payment of income taxes to another state, and payment of property taxes. Registering a vehicle or securing a driver's license in that state or country may be considered.
- The person has lived in Georgia for the 12 consecutive months immediately preceding the start date for the term and their 12-month durational requirement has not included time attending any educational institution in Georgia.
- The person can demonstrate that they moved to Georgia for purposes other than attending any educational institution in the State of Georgia.
- The person can demonstrate economic self-sufficiency and has contributed to the state by paying meaningful taxes.
- The person is a U.S. citizen, Resident Alien or is in a visa status permitting indefinite or permanent residence in the United States.

Criterion 2

A person may be a Georgia resident for tuition purposes if that person meets all of the following conditions:

- The person is a U.S. citizen, Resident Alien or is in a visa status permitting indefinite permanent residence in the United States and

- The person can demonstrate that she or he previously held residency status in Georgia but moved from the state and returned within the last 12 months.

If a parent or legal guardian of a student is a Georgia resident and then changes his or her legal residence to another state, the student may retain his or her classification as a resident student as long as he or she remains continuously enrolled at an institution in the University System of Georgia.

Please note that these regulations are subject to change by the Board of Regents. The most current regulations can be found on the Board of Regents' website at www.usg.edu/regents/policymanual/400.phtml.

1220.10 Petitioning for Georgia Residency for Fee Payment Purposes

Prospective students and accepted applicants who have questions regarding their residence status should contact the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

Students classified as out-of-state shall retain that status until officially reclassified as in-state. A student classified as out-of-state who can subsequently provide clear and convincing evidence that he/she meets the requirements for in-state classification can be reclassified as in-state. The burden to support the contention that he/she qualifies for in-state tuition classification under University System of Georgia policy and applicable laws always rests with the student. The petition form for Georgia tuition classification is located at <http://sfs.gsu.edu/tuition-fees/tuition-classification/petition-for-georgia-tuition-classification/>.

Deadlines for Petitions

To ensure timely processing, petitions and all required documents must be submitted to the Registration and Compliance department within the Office of the Registrar, 225 Sparks Hall, no later than the deadlines listed below. Final determination of Georgia tuition classification prior to the deadline date for fee payment cannot be guaranteed for petitions received after the priority date. Petitions filed after the final deadline will be considered for the subsequent semester.

Term	Priority	Final
Fall	June 1	Aug 1
Spring	Nov 1	Dec 1
Summer	Mar 1	May 30

If a petition is approved, classification will not be retroactive to prior semesters. A student wishing to appeal the decision resulting from his or her Petition for Georgia Tuition Classification may request a review of that decision by the University Committee on Residency and must submit such request in writing to the Office of the Registrar within 5 days of the decision.

1230 Financial Aid

Financial aid is any scholarship, grant, loan, or part-time employment offered for the purpose of helping a student meet their educational expenses. Aid is usually provided by federal, state, institutional or private agencies. In order to apply, a student must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the Renewal Application. Students are encouraged to apply online at www.fafsa.ed.gov.

Recipients are selected on the basis of demonstrated financial need and/or academic achievement. Information concerning application for financial assistance is available from the Office of Student Financial Aid. Application packets for the next school year are available after January 1. Students are urged to apply early for optimum financial aid benefits at www.fafsa.ed.gov. April 1 is the priority date for submission of completed financial aid applications to the Office of Student Financial Aid. The Office of Student Financial Aid cannot guarantee that applications made after April 1 will be processed before the beginning of the fall semester.

In order for a Georgia State University student to continue to receive financial aid from federal or state financial assistance programs, the student must exhibit satisfactory academic progress. Copies of Georgia State University's policy for determining satisfactory academic progress are available in the Office of Student Financial Aid and also on the Financial Aid website at <http://sfs.gsu.edu/the-financial-aid-process/policies/satisfactory-academic-progress-sap/>.

Some programs offering financial assistance to students are administered by offices or organizations other than the Office of Student Financial Aid. Contact information concerning a particular program or group of programs appears with each listing.

Audited, orientation, and certificate courses are not covered by financial aid. Students are not eligible to receive financial aid for a course attempted more than three times.

For more information on financial aid see <http://sfs.gsu.edu/the-financial-aid-process/>.

1230.10 Scholarships

A scholarship is financial assistance which does not have to be repaid and is awarded to students based on academic excellence, civic achievements, course of study, or other specific criteria developed by the sponsor. For further details about scholarships available at Georgia State University, see the website for the student's college. Additionally, students may check the reference section in the Georgia State University Library for more sources of private scholarships.

HOPE Scholarship/Zell Miller Scholarship

Students who are considered Georgia residents and are enrolled in an undergraduate degree program may be eligible for the HOPE /Zell Scholarship. The Hope award covers a percentage of tuition to be determined annually. The Zell Miller Scholarship covers 100% of tuition. There is a seven year limit from high school graduation. There is a maximum attempted hour limit of 127 total hours.

HOPE Scholarship recipients must have at least a cumulative 3.0 GPA at the end of each spring semester in order to continue their eligibility. In addition to these requirements traditional and nontraditional students must have at least a 3.0 cumulative HOPE GPA after the 30th, 60th, and 90th attempted hour. If the student does not meet the HOPE GPA requirements at 90 hours, he/she cannot regain his/her eligibility.

1230.15 Grants

Eligibility for federal student aid grants are based on high financial need. Award amounts for these grants vary but do not have to be repaid. All recipients must be in a degree-seeking program working toward a first baccalaureate degree; be a US citizen or an eligible non-citizen; be making satisfactory academic progress; cannot be in default or owe a repayment on a previous financial aid award; and must register with Selective Service if required to do so.

Pell Grant

Available almost exclusively to undergraduates; in some cases, however, you might receive a Pell Grant if you're enrolled in a post baccalaureate teacher certificate program; all eligible students will receive the Federal Pell Grant amount they qualify for.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG)

Teach Grant

The TEACH Grant Program provides grants to full-time students who plan to teach full-time in high-need subject areas at schools serving students from low income families. Students attending less than full-time will have the grant reduced.

For more on the Pell Grant, FSEOG and Teach Grant, visit <http://sfs.gsu.edu/scholarships-grants/grants/>.

1230.20 Student Loans

A loan is a form of financial assistance which must be repaid. While Georgia State University does not encourage borrowing, loans are frequently necessary to meet educational costs not covered by the student's income, the family's contribution, or grant and scholarship awards. When student loans are necessary, Georgia State University advises borrowing conservatively.

Undergraduate students with demonstrated financial need may borrow through the Federal Direct Subsidized Student Loan program. Independent undergraduate students may borrow additional funds through the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Student Loan program, and parents of dependent undergraduates may borrow through the Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students Loan program. The Office of Student Financial Aid will determine loan eligibility by year in school, prior indebtedness, and academic standing.

All recipients must be enrolled at least half-time in a degree seeking program, be a United States citizen or an eligible non-citizen; be making satisfactory academic progress; cannot be in default or owe a repayment on a previous financial aid award; and must register with the Selective Service if required to do so. Upon acceptance of a loan, a first-time borrower must complete entrance loan counseling at StudentLoans.gov. The student must also complete a Master Promissory Note (MPN) at StudentLoans.gov, the student is required to use the FSA ID to complete the MPN. If a student does not have an FSA ID, the FSA ID can be created at <https://fsaid.ed.gov/npas/index.htm>.

Federal Direct Loan borrowers who are leaving school, dropping below half-time enrollment, or graduating must complete exit counseling at StudentLoans.gov. Exit counseling provides you with information about repayment and your rights and responsibilities.

Perkins Loan

Federal funds are provided to the university for the purpose of making low interest, long-term loans available to students who have a need for assistance. As of September 30, 2015, the Perkins Loan program expired. Due to the expiration of the program, new rules have been established by the Department of Education regarding the future administration of the program. New borrowers that did not receive a Perkins Loan award by September 30, 2015 cannot be awarded the Perkins Loan for the remaining time they are in college. The grandfathering provision for the Perkins Loan will apply to a certain group of students who received loans for the award year that ended prior to October 1, 2015. The academic year 2014-2015 which ended June 30, 2015 is the award year that ended prior to October 1, 2015.

Private Loans

Private loans, also known as alternative or commercial loans, help bridge the gap between the actual cost of education and the limited amount the government allows a student to borrow from its programs. Private loans are offered by many lending institutions. Terms and conditions can vary significantly from one institution to another.

1230.30 Student Employment Programs

Working part time while attending school is another way students may help pay for college expenses such as tuition, books, transportation, and meals. It can also provide valuable experience for resumes.

Federal Work-Study and Panther Work Program

The purpose of the Federal Work-Study and the Panther Work Program is to provide jobs for students who need financial aid. Applicants must demonstrate need. Eligible students will be placed in offices on campus. Eligible students with complete applications for student financial aid will be considered.

Students may apply for part-time or full-time employment on campus while pursuing their academic programs. Temporary and regular classified staff positions are posted on the bulletin board in the Employment Office of Human Resources. A listing of employment opportunities is also available at jobs.gsu.edu. For further information, contact the Office Employment, 340 One Park Place, 404-413-3270 or jobs@gsu.edu. Students may also use Panther Career Net (career.gsu.edu) to search on-campus student employee positions.

Off-campus Employment

University Career Services offers career services to students from freshman year through one year after graduation. Students may also use Panther Career Net (career.gsu.edu) to search off-campus student employee positions. For additional information, see section 1536.

1230.40 Other Sources of Financial Assistance

Veterans Benefits

The Office of the Registrar offers services to certify and assist students who are eligible for veterans educational benefits. Any veteran who wishes to attend Georgia State University under any of the veterans educational benefit programs provided by public law must apply to the Georgia State University Office of Admissions in the normal manner. It is advisable for a veteran who has not previously used any educational benefits to apply to the Department of Veterans Affairs for those benefits. For a veteran who will be transferring to Georgia State University from another institution where educational benefits were received, a veteran must submit a Request for Change of Program or Place of Training form (VA Form 22-1995 for veterans and VA Form 22-5495 for family members) with the Department of Veterans Affairs concurrently with his or her application to Georgia State. As soon as the Georgia State University Office of Undergraduate Admissions notifies the applicant of his or her acceptance, the applicant should contact the Office of the Registrar at veterans.gsu.edu.

Continuing students who wish to receive benefits must complete the Online Veterans' Enrollment Verification Form, located at veterans.gsu.edu, each academic term. Students are certified on a term-by-term basis. Students whose attendance was interrupted must renew their certifications at the beginning of the next academic term of attendance in which they wish to receive benefits. Those students who are certified on a term by term basis will routinely experience a break in benefit payments between academic terms and should contact the Veterans Administration Regional Office to determine the amount and schedule of their benefit payments at www.gibill.va.gov.

Yellow Ribbon Program

In support of our nation's Veterans Georgia State University participates in the Yellow Ribbon Program, providing additional assistance to cover out-of-state tuition and mandatory fees that are currently not covered by the Post-911 GI Bill.

Program Details

- Georgia State University contributes 50 percent toward out-of-state tuition charges for those eligible and the Department of Veteran Affairs matches Georgia State's scholarship contribution. The program funding is only applied toward tuition and mandatory fees. It does not cover books, housing, and other student expenditures.
- Scholarships are awarded to 30 students on a first come, first serve basis. This means that after the initial application is approved, as long as the student remains continuously enrolled in a program of study at Georgia State and the University remains a participating institution, the student will be guaranteed to receive this scholarship. If continuous enrollment is not maintained, the student is required to re-apply for the program. If all scholarships have been awarded, a waiting list will be maintained. As scholarships become available, students placed on a waiting list will be honored first.

Eligibility Requirements

1300 University Academic Regulations

This chapter describes academic regulations that apply to students admitted to bachelor level study. See subsections within this chapter for specific policies and procedures.

1302 General Information

1302.10 University Academic Policies

All students at Georgia State University are responsible for learning and observing all regulations and procedures required by the University and by the college and program or status in which they are enrolled. In no case will a regulation be waived or an exception granted because a student pleads ignorance of the regulation or asserts that he or she was not informed of a specific requirement by an advisor or other university authority. This chapter contains the academic regulations of the University. See the other parts of this catalog for information on the academic regulations of the various colleges and departments.

All students must become especially familiar with (1) this chapter, (2) the following chapter on university degree requirements and graduation, (3) their college's chapter of this catalog, (4) the offerings and requirements of their major, and (5) the enrollment process found by accessing PAWS (Panther Access to Web Services) at paws.gsu.edu and found on the University's web site www.gsu.edu, particularly under the Registrar and Student Financial Services pages, which contain more detailed information on the enrollment process.

While the provisions of this catalog will ordinarily be applied as stated, Georgia State reserves the right to change any provision listed in this catalog, including, but not limited to, academic requirements for graduation, without actual notice to individual students. The University will make every effort to keep students advised of any such changes. Students must note their responsibility to keep apprised of current graduation requirements for their particular degree programs.

1302.20 Student Computer Access Requirement

Each student enrolled at Georgia State University must have access to a computer, and any course offered at the University may require computer-based work. Further, the student's computer must provide access to e-mail accounts, the World Wide Web using a current browser, and spreadsheet and word processing software. Departments and other units may establish minimum machine capability and software requirements, including the requirement that a student in a certain degree program must own a computer. It is the responsibility of each student to ensure his or her access to a computer. Computers are available in the open-access computer laboratories on campus that provide the basic level of computer capabilities, but these laboratories are heavily used and cannot guarantee a student access to a computer at a particular time.

1302.25 Georgia State University Email

Every student is assigned an official Georgia State University email address at the time of acceptance. It is essential that students regularly check this email account. Academic departments and student service units across campus use the University assigned email as a means of communicating with students about official university business, and students are held responsible for this information. Email from Georgia State will be sent to the student's official Georgia State e-mail address. It will not be sent to any other address (such as a Gmail or Yahoo account). However, students may configure their Georgia State account to forward to another address.

1302.30 Academic Calendar

Georgia State University is on a semester system, and academic credit is awarded in semester hours. The fall and spring semesters are approximately 14 weeks each with final exams normally held during the 15th week. Summer semester is composed of three-week classes in May as well as six-week and seven-week classes beginning in June. Enrollment in the three-week classes, six-week classes, or seven-week classes counts as having been enrolled in summer semester.

1310 Academic Advisement and Development

Georgia State University is committed to providing individual advice and assistance to students at every step of their degree program. The University offers services and programs to support the academic development of every student by helping them transition to college, succeed while enrolled and graduate in a timely manner.

All new freshmen (by admission category) are required to come to campus and complete the new student orientation program, Incept. Freshmen students at Perimeter College must complete a pre-online orientation as well. Freshmen who do not attend orientation must enroll in a GSU 1010 class during their first semester of attendance at Georgia State. Transfer students are encouraged to attend a Transfer Incept program designed to address the questions and circumstances of students who are new to Georgia State University but have attended college elsewhere before. All students who attend an in-person Incept program will receive academic advisement during the orientation. All transfer, transient, transition, and post-baccalaureate students are required to complete the appropriate online pre-orientation prior to registering for classes. Students who complete an on-line orientation program who have earned less than 90 credit hours should make an appointment with an advisor in the University Advisement Center to review their academic record. Post baccalaureate students and those who have earned more than 90 credit hours should contact the Office of Academic Assistance for their college for advisement.

1310.10 Incept: New Student Orientation

Incept: New Student Orientation
Student Center, Suite 330
<http://incept.gsu.edu/>

Incept: New Student Orientation is the official Georgia State University new undergraduate student orientation program. Incept is required for new freshman and strongly encouraged for new transfer students. Our programs are designed to introduce you to the unique world of Georgia State and prepare you to make the most of both your academic and co-curricular experiences.

Students will receive a tour of Georgia State's unique urban campus in downtown Atlanta, learn about important campus resources such as campus safety, review financial aid, and more. Additional benefits of attending Incept are the connections made with fellow classmates as well as seasoned student leaders who will be assisting students throughout the Incept experience. At the end of the Incept day, students will receive academic advisement and register for classes.

We offer several Incept options which can meet your specific needs at a time that's convenient to your schedule. We offer one-day and two-day orientation programs for new freshman students and one-day and ½ day orientation programs for new transfer students. There is also a special parent and guest orientation program which runs concurrently with all student programs.

1310.20 Placement Testing

Math

A math placement test is recommended for all students who do not have credit for an Area A math course and is required for students who wish to take (or are required to take) Math 1111, College Algebra, or higher. Students may not register for a math course higher than that indicated by their placement test score. See Section 1410.15 for information about math course requirements for different majors.

Depending upon your status, new student, currently enrolled student, or returning student, see the following information that applies:

New Student (first semester at Georgia State)

All new students who wish to take (or are required to take) Math 1111 or higher should sign up for this exam on an available date and time as shown on their PAWS accounts. This is usually done prior to or in conjunction with Incept.

Current student (enrolled student that is presently taking classes at Georgia State)

Students who have enrolled at Georgia State during previous semesters will find test information at the Testing Center website (<http://counselingcenter.gsu.edu/testing/tests/>) where testing is available for first-time as well as for re-test ($50 fee applies) purposes on a walk-in basis.

Returning student (returning to Georgia State after a semester or more absence)

Testing for returning students is conducted during scheduled times in the University's Testing Center. See <http://counselingcenter.gsu.edu/testing/tests/> and click on Tests, then Math Placement for these dates and times.

Chemistry

A diagnostic chemistry test is required in order to register for Chemistry 1211, which is the prerequisite for BIOL 2107 and CHEM 1212. The test is administered by the Chemistry Department on campus at selected times through the University Testing Center. Students with AP Chemistry scores of 2 or better, SAT subject scores of 600 or better, or those who have completed college level chemistry courses may be exempt from taking the test.

See <http://chemistry.gsu.edu/undergraduate/resources/chem-1211-preregistration-placement-test/> for additional information.

Foreign Languages

Placement exams in French, German, and Spanish are available to help students determine the course most appropriate for their abilities in French, German, or Spanish. All students with any prior experience in these languages are strongly encouraged to take the placement exam before registering for any language classes. Prerequisites in these courses are enforced. (See Section 9000, Course Descriptions, for the prerequisites of French, German, and Spanish courses.) Students may satisfy a prerequisite either by taking the indicated prerequisite course or by taking the French, German or Spanish placement exam and earning a satisfactory score. Students may take the WebCAPE exam from any computer with internet access and a browser. (Go to <http://mcl.gsu.edu/home/language-resources/placement-exams/webcape/> and click the link at the bottom for the WebCAPE placement exam. The user name is “gsu user” and the password is “panthers1”.) The WebCAPE takes approximately 20 minutes to complete, and students are given their score and class level at which they have been placed. As placement is strictly enforced, it is paramount that students take this test without any outside help or study aids. It is recommended that students print a copy of the email regarding their scores to keep for their records and academic advisement. Students who score between 200 and 399 points will be cleared automatically within 1 business day; email notifications will be sent to those with scores of 400 or higher. Only the first WebCAPE score within a 365-day period counts toward placement. Note: This exam is not part of Incept: New Student Orientation, so new students should take the exam prior to attending orientation or attempting to register for a French, German or Spanish course. Also, the WebCAPE exam does not grant credit and is for placement purposes only; if a student scores above 400 they may consider taking the CLEP Exam (see Section 1320.40) to obtain up to 6 credit hours for language classes at the 2001 and 2002 level. For placement in languages other than German, Spanish and French and for further information, students should contact the Department of World Languages and Cultures at <http://mcl.gsu.edu/> or email at mclinfo@gsu.edu. For assessment and/or placement in any other languages taught by the Department of World Languages and Cultures, students are asked to contact the department directly.

1310.30 University Advisement Center

Every student at Georgia State University is assigned to an advisor who will provide them with the information necessary to complete the requirement necessary to complete their degree. All Perimeter College students will receive advisement through the University Advisement Center located at each Perimeter College location. At the Atlanta campus, any student who has earned less than 90 hours and has freshmen, sophomore or junior status, will be advised by the University Advisement Center. Any student who has earned 90 hours or more should seek advisement through the Office of Academic Assistance in the college of their major.

Advisors in the Center can assist students in the following ways:

- Evaluate transfer work and apply it to Georgia State University degree programs
- Explain catalog regulations
- Provide academic counseling
- Utilize predictive analytics to help students understand their academic risk and remain on path to degree
- Explain academic standing policies
- Discuss goals
- Assist with degree and major choices for undecided students
- Help students who are experiencing academic difficulties
- Provide direction to campus resources for further assistance

1310.40 Office of Student Success

At Georgia State University, the institutional commitment is to be a “national model of undergraduate education demonstrating that students from all backgrounds can achieve academic and career success at high rates.” The Office of Student Success is comprised of the University Advisement Center and the Office of Undergraduate Studies. These offices exist to help students meet their academic goals and are focused on ways to increase the retention, progression and graduation of undergraduates at Georgia State University. Using data and analytics to better understand what puts students at academic risk, the Office of Student Success designs and administers programs that help students complete college in a timely manner. Their purpose is to lower barriers to educational opportunities, increase academic support and outreach, assist students in the transition from high school to college, and once students are in college, to help them successfully progress through their program of study.

The following are programs and services offered by the Office of Student Success:

Educational Opportunity Programs: the Scholarship Resource Center, Panther Retention Grant Program, Early College programs offered through Perimeter College, Move On When Ready and TRIO funded programs including Upward Bound, Veterans' Upward Bound, Educational Talent Search, and the Educational Opportunity Center

Academic Support and Outreach Programs: the University Advisement Center, Supplemental Instruction, Early Alert, Learning and Tutoring Centers at Perimeter College, Keep Hope Alive, Student Success Workshops, Academic Coaching and TRIO funded Student Support Services and Student Support Services (STEM) Programs

Transition and Progression Programs: Freshmen Learning Communities, GSU 1010 Freshmen Orientation Course, GPCO 1020 Perimeter College Orientation course, GSU 1050 Survival Skills in College, Success Academy, the Panther Excellence Programs, Transition and Transfer Advisement, Latino Services and Outreach Office, Peer Mentors, 1st-year book program, Atlanta-Based Learning and other initiatives.

University level Perspectives courses are administered through the Office of Undergraduate Studies in the Office of Student Success. These courses include:

PERS 2001 – Perspectives on Comparative Culture (2)

This category is composed of a group of interdisciplinary courses that provide a better understanding of the contemporary world through the study of different cultures. Sections will feature comparative culture study across societies or multi-cultural study within societies. Although courses may take a historical perspective, the goal is to foster a fuller understanding of the contemporary world.

PERS 2002 – Scientific Perspectives on Global Problems (2)

This category is composed of a group of interdisciplinary courses that deal with scientific approaches to important issues on the environment, public health, or technology.

PERS 2003 – Perspectives on Human Expression (2)

This category is a group of interdisciplinary courses that focus on the human condition, how people have expressed themselves through the arts and humanities, and how such representations have had broad historical and/or contemporary impact.

1310.50 Learning Support Program

The Learning Support Program (LSP) is for undergraduate students admitted on an exceptions basis who need remedial assistance in the areas of math, reading, and/or writing in order to be ready to take courses in the Core Curriculum.

Entering LSP

Students are placed into the Learning Support Program (LSP) if they meet any of the following conditions:

- An SAT-Verbal score below 430 or an ACT-Verbal score below 17.
- An SAT-Mathematics below 400 or an ACT-Mathematics below 17.
- Below required scores on the COMPASS placement tests if SAT or ACT scores are not provided.
- Failure to meet the College Preparatory Curriculum requirements in English or mathematics.
- The current minimum COMPASS scores for direct placement into collegiate level courses are:
 - Reading 74
 - English 60
 - Math 37 (a score of 47 is required for the Math 1111 pathway)*

* Per Board of Regents recommendation

LSP placement and courses

It is required that LSP students meet each term with an academic advisor for advice regarding course selection. For this reason, an advisement hold is placed on each LSP student's record each term. The hold is lifted after the student has seen an advisor and their schedule is approved. Here are the LSP foundation and co-requisite courses offered:

However, students who have exited an area of Learning Support at any institution in the University System of Georgia are not required to re-enter that area upon transfer to Georgia State.

- English – ENGL 0898 (Foundations for ENGL Composition)
- English – ENGL 0999 (Support for ENGL Composition) taken with ENGL 1101
- Non-STEM Majors- MATH 0987 (Foundations for Quantitative Reasoning)
- Non-STEM Majors – MATH 0997 (Support for Quantitative Reasoning) taken with Math 1001
- Non-STEM Majors- MATH 0998 (Support for Math Modeling) taken with MATH 1101
- STEM Majors- MATH 0989 (Foundations of College Algebra)
- STEM Majors – MATH 0999 (Support for College Algebra) taken with MATH 1111

LSP courses do not count towards degree requirements or a student's GPA at Georgia State University.

They are, however, used to calculate a GPA for HOPE, Pell and other financial aid awards, and the courses and grades earned appear on a university transcript. LSP courses are graded using the same system as other Georgia State courses.

Students taking Foundations level courses have two attempts to complete the Foundations level courses with a C or better. Students who do not complete Foundations level courses within two attempts will be placed on Learning Support suspension for one year.

Students who have accumulated 30 semester hours of college-level credit at Georgia State and have not successfully completed required Learning Support courses may enroll only in Learning Support courses and the corresponding collegiate courses until all LSP requirements are successfully completed.

Exiting LSP

There is no limit on attempts for co-requisite remediation.

Students exit an LSP area when they successfully complete the collegiate course in their area(s) of remediation regardless of their grades in the co-requisite course.

Students with LSP requirements who are enrolled in both LSP courses and other courses will be allowed to drop or withdraw only when they also drop or withdraw from all other courses. Any student experiencing difficulty and/or considering dropping or withdrawing from an LSP course must first meet with an advisor. The advisor will inform the student of the program's drop and withdrawal policies, including the right to apply for an emergency withdrawal if an emergency situation exists.

Students who have not completed their LSP requirements in writing may not take courses in Area C1.

Students who have not completed their LSP requirements in mathematics may only take Astronomy, Biology, Geography, Geology, Computer Science and Psychology courses in area D.

Students who have not completed their LSP requirements in reading may not take courses in Area C1, and Area E. In Area D, students may only take Math and Computer Science courses.

Students must register for required LSP foundations and/or co-requisite courses before registering for other courses. Until LSP requirements have been satisfied, students may not take credit courses which require the content or the skills of the LSP courses.

Requests for waivers to any of the above regulations should be submitted to the Director of the University Advisement Center.

Placement criteria for each of the above courses can be found at the following link ___ and can be found on the admissions website @ _____

1310.55 Required High School Curriculum (RHSC)

The Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia requires all students to have completed sufficient English, math, science, social science and language courses in high school as preparation for college-level coursework. Students admitted to Georgia State with a deficiency in one or more of these areas must make up the deficiency by taking Georgia State core classes (science, social science, or language) or passing the COMPASS proficiency test (English or math). The University Advisement Center will advise students about which courses they can choose from to complete a RHSC requirement. Credits earned in courses taken to meet RHSC requirements do count toward graduation requirements. A grade of C or higher is required, and grades earned in these courses are counted in the student's GPA. Students must complete all RHSC-required courses before they earn 30 hours and in their first three semesters of enrollment. Otherwise they may not register for any courses except RHSC courses until all requirements are complete.

Some transfer students are admitted with RHSC requirements that were satisfied at a previous college or university. In this case, transfer courses used to satisfy RHSC requirements may not be used toward graduation requirements at Georgia State.

1310.70 University Career Services

career.gsu.edu

The central office for University Career Services (UCS) houses the comprehensive career center for the campus with programs, services, information, and counseling to assist students with career decisions, as well as preparation for and implementation of successful job and graduate /professional school searches. The central UCS office works with undergraduate and graduate students from the first year on campus through the one year anniversary of their graduation. Alumni beyond a year of graduation may enroll in Alumni Career Services, a program also housed within the office (Note: an Alumni Career Services fee is associated with some services). Students from all majors and areas of study, from all class levels, and from all colleges, are served..

Career Development services are available by appointment. Individual and group sessions are offered, always with the goal of helping students and alumni connect their passion and purpose with career opportunities. The career counselors also provide career assessments, which aid students in exploring career possibilities based on values, interests, and personality.

Workshops, information and career counselors are available to help students and alumni with their career exploration and assess their individual talents, skills, and interests, and to set career goals. Programs and materials, employer panels, employer information sessions, and career fairs provide up-to-date information for use in exploring careers and researching employers.

Through the Employer Relations team, University Career Services has programs and services that connect students, alumni, and employers for internship and career opportunities, as well as employment to meet expenses while attending school. Regular workshops, employer events such as mock interviews and résumé critique days, and online information help students prepare résumés, and develop interviewing and other job search skills.

The Graduate and Professional School Planning program assists students exploring advanced degree opportunities, either here at Georgia State University or at another campus within the United States or abroad. This program has materials to assist students in researching programs as well as support in making application. This program also sponsors the fall Graduate and Professional School Fair, which brings graduate school recruiters from across the country to meet interested Georgia State students.

The Career Resource Center (CRC) is the central point of contact for students and contains workstations with access to online career guidance, job postings, graduate/professional school information, and employer research databases. The CRC also houses career-oriented books and multimedia materials for researching career and advanced degree opportunities.

Résumania is the walk-in résumé and c.v. review service, available Monday through Friday, 9am to 3pm. No appointment is needed. Résumania takes place in the CRC, Room 260 Student Center West.

All Georgia State University students have an account on Panther Career Net, a web-based career management system utilized by students, employers and the career services staff. Panther Career Net is free to all enrolled students. Activation of the account (completing a profile and uploading a résumé if seeking employment) provides 24/7 on and off-campus access to many of the Career Resource Center's online resources, as well as easy application to jobs, and information about career events and employers. Activation requires use of one's campus ID and password and can be done remotely.

University Career Services at Georgia State University is a consortium of student-focused departments within the Division of Student Affairs, offering to all Georgia State students, graduate and undergraduate, a wide range of highly supportive personal and professional development opportunities and services. University Career Services is comprised of the Office of Civic Engagement, Leadership Development, Employer Relations, Graduate and Professional School Planning, Career Development, and the Georgia Career Information Center.

For more information on career counseling, career assessment, career exploration, graduate and professional school planning, internship and career opportunities, and job search support, visit the central office of University Career Services in 260 Student Center West or call 404-413-1820 or visit the website at career.gsu.edu.

1310.80 International Student and Scholar Services

252 Sparks Hall
iss.gsu.edu

International Student & Scholar Services (ISSS) provides support for Georgia State University's non-immigrant international student, faculty, and researcher population, their dependents, and any foreign-born citizens and permanent residents of the United States who may need services. Services include orientations, immigration advisement, international student and scholar insurance support, student advocacy, and other personal assistance in adjusting to and joining the university community. The office staff serves as a liaison with all academic departments, the diplomatic corps, and a variety of international agencies and publishes a newsletter focusing on issues of interest to international students. International Services also offers assistance to academic departments wishing to invite foreign scholars or hire foreign faculty. Information concerning programs and services is available in 252 Sparks Hall, by calling 404-413-2070 or online at iss.gsu.edu.

International Student Orientation – Prior to the beginning of each semester, an orientation program is offered to provide assistance to new students on nonimmigrant status. Students receive information and advice concerning federal immigration, the academic system in the United States, academic advisement and registration, the Atlanta community, and the mandatory health and accident insurance.

International Student Associations – Georgia State University has approximately twenty international student organizations that focus on celebrating the many countries and cultures represented on campus. They provide assistance for new and continuing international students, present cultural activities and events, and seek ways to share their culture with the campus. Information about the various associations and their umbrella group, the International Student Association Council, is available in the International Services office, and online at iss.gsu.edu.

International Student Health Insurance – Health insurance is mandatory for all international students and scholars in F and J status enrolled at Georgia State, and is optional for other nonimmigrant status students. A special international student health and accident insurance policy is made available each academic year, and payment of the insurance premiums is collected along with tuition during the process of registration. Individuals who may already be covered by a policy are required to request a waiver with the insurance company the semester before enrollment. More information is available online at www.studentcenter.uhcsr.com/gsu or through Student Accounts.

1316 Changes in Personal Data

As correct personal data is vital to the student's record, students are urged to have their records updated when these changes occur. PAWS (Panther Access to Web Services) at paws.gsu.edu allows students to update some of their student records (address, phone number, etc.) using a terminal or personal computer. Students who wish to change their names, marital status or social security number and other changes not permitted online must complete forms and provide the legal documents in person at one of the Enrollment Services Centers. Locations for each campus center are listed on the registrar's page at gsu.edu.

1320 Course Credit

This section describes the various ways students may earn credit for Georgia State University courses without actually taking those courses at Georgia State.

1320.10 Transfer Credit Policy

When an applicant is accepted for undergraduate transfer admission, courses that parallel the curriculum of Georgia State University will be accepted for transfer credit. Credit must have been earned at institutions of higher education with full accreditation by one of the following accreditors:

- Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools
- New England Association of Schools and Colleges
- North Central Association of Colleges and Schools
- Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities
- Western Association of Schools and Colleges
- Southern Association of Colleges and Schools

Courses completed at a two-year college will be granted lower-division credit.

The total number of hours that may be earned toward a degree by extension or correspondence courses may not exceed 30 semester hours.

Joint Services Transcript (JST) credits earned while serving in the Armed Services may also be evaluated for transfer credit on a case by case basis by the student's academic advisor in conjunction with the academic department offering the course.

In general, transfer credit will not be awarded for a course that a student has previously attempted at Georgia State (including attempts which resulted in a withdrawal). However, individual departments may waive this rule for their courses.

Because the university has a minimum academic residence requirement, the amount of transfer credit applicable to a degree program may be limited. (See Section 1440.) In addition, Colleges and Departments have their own transfer credit policies and this may also limit the amount of transfer credit applicable to a degree program. All such policies are stated in this Catalog in the following sections:

- 2000 Andrew Young School of Policy Studies
- 3020 College of Arts and Sciences
- 4050 College of Education
- 5020.10 Byrdine F. Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions
- 7020.10 Robinson College of Business

Georgia State maintains a web site, <http://advisement.gsu.edu/transfer-students/equivalency-charts/>, which indicates courses at other institutions that will be accepted as transfer credit (subject to the restrictions noted in this section). If a course at another institution is not on this list, students should consult with the University Advisement Center.

The D Credit Grade Restriction applies to both resident and transfer credit. (See Section 1450.)

A student who takes a course at another institution will not receive transfer credit for that course until the end of the semester following the semester in which the course was taken. Therefore, students may not take courses for degree credit at another institution during the semester they plan to graduate from Georgia State.

Transfer Credit for Core Courses

1. Students will be granted credit for all of Areas A-E of the core and the Regents' Test if they hold one of the following:

- a. a baccalaureate degree from U.S. institution of higher education accredited by one of the six accreditors listed above
 - b. for those who have graduated from a non-U.S. institution, the equivalent of a baccalaureate degree from a U.S. institution of higher education accredited by one of the six accreditors listed above as certified by Georgia State or a Georgia State-approved agency.
 - c. an associate's degree designed to transfer to a baccalaureate program from a University System of Georgia (USG) institution
2. However, there are two exceptions to the policy stated in 1 above.
 - a. Students seeking a baccalaureate degree in biology, chemistry, computer science, geology, mathematics, physics, science education, or math education who do not hold a baccalaureate degree in one of these fields will only be granted credit for all of Areas B, C, and E. They will be granted credit in Areas A and D on a course-by-course basis.
 - b. Students seeking a baccalaureate degree in nursing, nutrition or respiratory therapy will only be granted credit for all of Areas A, B, C, and E. They will be granted credit in Area D on a course-by-course basis.
 3. Students who hold any other associate's degree, such as an associate's degree from a non-USG institution or an associate's degree not designed to transfer to a baccalaureate program, will be granted transfer credit for core courses on a course-by-course basis.

1320.20 Credit Transfer for Transient Students

Transient students are Georgia State University degree-seeking undergraduates who enroll temporarily at another institution with the intention of returning to Georgia State. Georgia State remains the student's home institution. Terms other than transient (such as visiting student, unclassified student, or special student) may be used at other institutions.

These regulations do not apply to credit earned through cross registration, which is not considered resident credit.

It is vital that students considering transient status review the rules regarding transfer credit (Section 1320.10), the rules regarding academic residency (Section 1440), the rules regarding credit for grades of D (Section 1450), and individual college policies on the number of course attempts. The rules in these sections specify limits on the credits taken as a transient that will transfer to Georgia State as well as limits on the credits that will count towards the Georgia State degree requirements. Students are encouraged to check with their advisor and the transfer equivalency charts for more information about transfer credit prior to enrolling in the course. See <http://advisement.gsu.edu/transfer-students/equivalency-charts/>.

A degree seeking undergraduate student who wishes to take academic courses elsewhere as a transient student and apply those credits toward the Georgia State degree is encouraged to certify the eligibility of the transient course for transfer credit with the University Advisement Center or the College Office of Academic Assistance. This should be done the semester before the student takes the transient class. Failure to certify that a transient course is eligible for transfer in a student's degree program may result in a student taking a transient class that is not eligible for transfer credit or that does not count toward the fulfillment of degree requirements at Georgia State University.

It is the student's responsibility to comply with application procedures and any other requirements that the other institution may have regarding establishing status as a transient student there.

After completing the course, it is the student's responsibility to promptly request that an official transcript be sent from the other institution to: Georgia State University, Office of Undergraduate Admissions, P.O. Box 4009, Atlanta, GA 30302-4009. Once the official transcript is received, credit will be considered pending for the student's degree program until finalized by an academic advisor. Questions about transfer credit for courses taken as a transient should be addressed to the student's advisor in the University Advisement Center or the college Office of Academic Assistance.

1320.30 Credit for Correspondence or Extension Programs

Students may apply no more than 30 semester hours of work earned through correspondence or extension programs of other institutions toward the requirements for an undergraduate degree. Students are cautioned to consult with their academic advisor for additional college regulations on correspondence or extension work. Students must obtain the permission of the dean of their college, or the designated college representative, prior to taking correspondence courses to be applied toward the completion of the degree program.

1320.40 Credit by Examination

Georgia State University recognizes that learning can take place in various modes and places other than the traditional college classroom. Knowledge gained through experiential learning and other means is evaluated for possible college credit through examination. The Advanced Placement Program (AP), the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), and the International Baccalaureate Program (IB) are the most commonly used tests for this purpose. These are standardized examinations administered nationally each year. For information on CLEP, contact the University Testing Office, <http://counselingcenter.gsu.edu/testing/>. For information on AP and IB programs contact your high school guidance counselor.

Other standardized exams or special departmental examinations may be approved for credit. For further information, contact the appropriate college.

Georgia State University serves as a DANTES (DSST) test center; however GSU does not accept DSST credit.

For information on approved examinations, course equivalents, and credit award policies and requirements, please review the section below.

1320.50 College Board Advanced Placement (AP) Examination

Official test scores should be mailed directly from the College Board to the Georgia State University Office of Undergraduate Admissions for review. Questions regarding credit awards should be directed to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions at admissions.gsu.edu. High school counselors can provide information concerning the time and place for testing. Credit will be awarded for approved AP examinations as follows:

1320.80 Credit for End of High School Examinations from Countries Other than the United States

Georgia State will consider awarding college credit for subject examinations taken at the end of the high school in countries other than the US. To be eligible for consideration, the examinations must be given nationally and must report scores by subject (not merely a total score). Students who wish for the University to consider awarding college for subject examinations taken at the end of the high school in countries should contact the Office of Admissions for more information.

1320.90 Credit for Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs)

At Georgia State University, the granting of credit for MOOCs taken at other institutions is governed by the rules for transfer credit and credit by examination. If a MOOC was taken and transcribed at an accredited institution of higher education, decisions about credit for the MOOC are made according to the rules for transfer credit. (See Section 1320.10.) In some cases, credit for MOOCs may be earned according to the rules for credit by examination. (See Section 1320.40.)

1322 Transcript Requests

A student who has no unmet financial obligations to Georgia State University is entitled to receive, upon request, a copy of his or her transcript. Official transcripts of academic work completed at Georgia State University may be ordered via PAWS at paws.gsu.edu. A student is entitled to five free lifetime official transcripts. Once a student has requested the five free, official transcripts, Georgia State will charge a $10.00 processing fee for each transcript processed thereafter. Students can print unofficial transcripts at no charge on PAWS. Processing an official transcript may take up to five to ten business days depending on when the request is made. Picture identification is required to pick up transcripts.

Transcript requests will not be processed until complete payment is received. Credit card payment is required for web requests.

Copies of official transcripts received from other institutions will not be made. Such requests must be directed to the institution holding the student's original records.

Routine copies of other information in the student's education records, with the exception of transcripts from other institutions and other items excluded from copying by practice or regulation will be provided upon written request. A fee may be charged to cover the cost of copying. Special certifications based on educational records will be provided upon written request when permissible.

Additional information on transcripts can be found on PAWS and on the University web site at <http://registrar.gsu.edu/academic-records/transcripts>.

1324 Enrollment and Degree Information

Enrollment Verification

Enrollment verification is obtained via the web at no cost to students and takes approximately 7 business days to process. Official enrollment verifications can be requested after the second week of the term.

To obtain proof of enrollment, students should access PAWS at paws.gsu.edu. At this site, students can do the following:

- Print a Certificate of Enrollment that can be forwarded to a health insurer, housing provider, employer, credit issuer, or other student services provider;
- View the electronic notification and deferment forms that have been sent to a lender; and
- View a list of lenders and real-time student loan information detail, such as outstanding principal balance and next due date that some lenders provide.

Once a student drops a course, those hours cannot be used for verification of enrollment purposes. A student's enrollment status may change if he/she drops or withdraws from a course or withdraws from the university. If a student is co-enrolled at another collegiate institution during the same semester he or she is enrolled at Georgia State University, only the enrolled hours at Georgia State can be used for enrollment verification purposes.

Degree Verification

To obtain proof that a degree has been awarded, students should go to <http://registrar.gsu.edu/graduation/degree-conferral-and-diploma-information>.

At this site students can provide proof of degree to such agencies as third-party verifiers, credit card companies, and credit approval agencies. This is a website of the National Student Clearinghouse. The Clearinghouse provides degree verification services to Georgia State students.

Additional information on enrollment and degree verification can be found on the Office of the Registrar web site at <http://registrar.gsu.edu>.

1330 Registering for Classes

1330.05 Office of the Registrar

Enrollment Services Centers

Located on each campus. See the Registrar's website for specific locations.
<http://registrar.gsu.edu/assistance/>

1330.10 Registration Procedures

Students may not attend a course unless they have registered and paid for that course. Each semester students should go online for detailed information concerning the enrollment and registration process. Registration information can be found on registrar.gsu.edu and by accessing PAWS (Panther Access to Web Services) at paws.gsu.edu.

Students are urged to become knowledgeable about the entire enrollment process, which includes ensuring financial aid eligibility for the term and ensuring paying of tuition and fees by the payment deadline for that particular term. Information on payment deadlines can be found on the Student Financial Services website at sfs.gsu.edu.

Where Registration Takes Place

Registration for courses takes place through PAWS (Panther Access to Web Services) where a list of courses offered for the semester can be found, as well as time ticket information, the registration agreement, and student holds that need to be addressed to permit registration for the term.

Preparing and Registering for Classes – Enrollment Process

Registering students should prepare a registration worksheet and ensure they meet all course prerequisites. Unless approved by the department chair, a student may only register for one section of a given course in a given session/term. All transactions can be completed on PAWS.

Step 1: Run a Program Evaluation to Review Remaining Course Requirements and Schedule Advisor Appointments as Necessary

Step 2: Register for Classes

Step 3: Check Financial Aid Requirements for Eligibility and Accept Aid

Step 4: View and Pay Charges on Panther Pay

Step 5: Print your Course Schedule

Step 6: Print the Semester Academic Calendar on the Registrar's page

Any deviation from the prescribed procedure may result in unnecessary delays in registration or errors in the resulting schedule. The Office of the Registrar cannot be held responsible for errors resulting from the student's failure to follow the prescribed registration, schedule adjustment and payment procedures. Any problems experienced with registration should be reported an Enrollment Services Center in person within 24 hours of the occurrence.

1330.12 Registration Notifications When Returning to Georgia State

All students must notify the Office of Undergraduate Admissions prior to registering if the student has attended another school since last attending Georgia State. The student must have an official transcript of credits sent from the school he or she attended. The student must be eligible to reenroll at the last school attended before he or she returns to Georgia State. Failure to submit this transcript by the midpoint of the first term after returning to Georgia State could result in the placing of a registration hold on the student's record.

1330.15 Registration Time-Ticket Assignments

Students who are eligible to register will be given a registration time-ticket assignment approximately two weeks before registration begins. Students can find their registration time-ticket assignments by accessing PAWS at paws.gsu.edu.

Students will also receive an email referring them to PAWS where they can view their registration time-ticket assignments.

A student's time-ticket assignment is valid beginning at the student's assigned time and continues through the last day of registration. Time-tickets are assigned with priority to students scheduled to graduate during the upcoming term, students in the Honors College, and approved student groups with documented limitations on their ability to register. Other continuing students are assigned tickets according to the total credit hours earned. Once a student is allowed access, the student can adjust his or her schedule on a first-come, first-served basis during the remaining registration period. Many classes fill up quickly. It is to the student's advantage to attempt to register as soon as he or she is allowed access to the registration system.

1330.18 Late Registration

Registrations are considered late once the semester has begun. During late registration, access is on a first-come, first-served basis. It is important that students register prior to the semester beginning in order to have the best opportunity to enroll in courses needed for degree completion. If a student's first attempt to register is during late registration, a $50 non-refundable late fee will be charged. This $50 fee will also be charged if a student is dropped for nonpayment of fees and attempts to re-register during late registration.

If a student appeal to add a class after late registration has ended, after the 1st Friday of the term, is approved, the student will be charged a $37.50 manual schedule adjustment fee. This fee is charged for each appeal approved. Appeals should be directed to the department that teaches the course the student wishes to add. If a student decides not to attend the course once the appeal has been approved and added to the student's schedule, the student must officially withdraw from the course on PAWS, prior to the semester midpoint.

1330.20 Immunizations

Immunization Office
141 Piedmont Avenue, Suite D
health.gsu.edu

All new students attending regularly scheduled classes on campus or receiving resident credit are required to submit a certificate of immunization prior to registering for and attending such classes.

The immunizations required are Measles, Mumps & Rubella (MMR), Tetanus/Diphtheria/Pertussis (Tdap), Varicella (chicken pox), and Hepatitis B. In addition, the Meningitis Law requires students residing in university housing to have the Meningococcal vaccine. For more information, see the Georgia State Clinic website updates at health.gsu.edu.

Every student attending classes on campus must complete the immunization requirements of the University System of Georgia. The requirement varies according to the age of the student as follows:

- Students 18 years or younger at the beginning of the term must show proof of immunity to Hepatitis B, MMR, Tdap, and Varicella (chickenpox).
- Students 19 years and older at the beginning of the term are strongly recommended to be immunized for Hepatitis B, but they are not required to show proof of immunity to Hepatitis B. They are required to show proof of immunity to MMR, Tdap and Varicella.
- Students born outside the United States on or before 12/31/1956 must show proof of immunity to Tdap and Varicella only.
- Students born in the United States on or before 12/31/1956 are required to show proof of Tdap only.
- Students born in the United States on or before 12/31/1980 are exempt from showing proof of the Varicella vaccine. They are required to submit proof of immunity for MMR, Tdap.
- Students born 12/31/1980 or later must submit proof of MMR, Varicella and Tdap.
- Students born outside the United States 01/01/1957 or later must provide proof of MMR, Tdap, and Varicella.

The Immunization Office must receive these records two weeks before the last day of late registration. It will take two to three business days to enter the data into the system. Immunization holds will be placed on student accounts to prevent registration and drop/add until the requirement is satisfied.

Students seeking exemption for religious reasons must submit a completed Georgia State University Certificate of Immunization form to the Immunization Office indicating their religious exemption request. Students with medical reasons for exemption must submit a doctor's letter indicating if this is a permanent or temporary exemption, and, if temporary, the date of expiration. When the temporary exemption expires, the student must complete all immunization requirements. In the event of an epidemic or a threatened epidemic of any disease preventable by immunization, and when an emergency has been declared by appropriate health authorities, additional steps will be undertaken to protect the health of the University community. In the event of a declared public health emergency, persons who do not have proof of immunization on file will not be allowed to participate in classes or other activities on campus.

Students seeking military exemptions must show their DD214 form or Military ID proving active within the last 2 years.

Additional information and copies of the immunization certification form may be obtained by contacting the Immunization Office located in 141 Piedmont Avenue, Ste. D, or by telephone at 404-413-1940, or online at health.gsu.edu.

Meningitis: Georgia law requires that students residing in campus housing be provided information on meningococcal disease and vaccination. After reviewing information about the risks for the disease and the benefits of prevention by the meningitis vaccine, students 18 years and older are required to sign a form kept on file in the Housing Office. Students less than 18 years of age must show their parent or guardian's signature on the form. This "Meningococcal Disease Notification" form documents that the information was reviewed and the option of the vaccine was provided, and/or date the vaccination was elicited. Compliance with the state law is a requirement for residing in campus housing and is part of the housing contract. Forms and further information are available from the Housing Office at 404-413-1800 or by email at housing@gsu.edu.

1330.25 Audit Status

Enrolled students who wish to audit a course must get approval from the course instructor. Registration for an audit should be submitted to a campus Enrollment Services Center. (locations can be found on the Office of the Registrar web site at <http://registrar.gsu.edu>) Students should not pre-register for courses they wish to audit. Any fees for auditing a class are assessed just as they are for courses taken for credit. Any requirements for prerequisites must be satisfied before registering to audit a course. No academic credit is earned in this status. Audit status is not covered by financial aid, and audit hours do not apply toward full-time enrollment. Students may not transfer from audit to credit status or vice-versa after the last day to register for courses.

1330.30 Course Load

Full-time Course Load: To be certified as full-time students, students must carry a minimum of 12 semester hours. However, a course load of 30 semester hours per year is required in order to complete an undergraduate degree program in four years.

A student who is enrolled in less than a full-time course of study at Georgia State may be in jeopardy of the following:

- Losing insurance coverage under his or her parent/guardian's insurance policy;
- Being placed on a loan repayment schedule by a lender or guarantor if the student is the recipient of federal financial aid; and/or
- Losing a scholarship if the guidelines for receiving the scholarship require full-time enrollment.

Half-time Course Load: Half-time enrollment is 6 to 11 semester hours for students.

Increased Course Load: A student may schedule as many as 18 semester hours without special permission. Requests for exceptions to the maximum course load of 18 semester hours will be considered by the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance of a student's college if the student has completed a course load of 15 semester hours in some previous semester at Georgia State University with a grade point average of at least 3.00 for the semester and if either of the following conditions is met:

- The student attained the President's List designation during his or her most recent enrollment at Georgia State and, if a reentering student, has achieved a grade of A for all credit hours earned elsewhere since the most recent enrollment at Georgia State; or
- The student has earned 60 semester hours of credit and has a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.00 for the preceding two semesters of residence.

International Students: International students in the student visa status of F and J are required to carry a full-time course load as defined by the Department of Homeland Security (currently 12 credit hours per semester for undergraduate students). An international student who is enrolled on a student visa may be in jeopardy of being out of compliance with the Department of Homeland Security if enrolled in less than a full-time course of study. Additionally, those F and J international students enrolling for the first time in summer school must carry six credit hours to be considered full-time for immigration purposes.

1330.33 Registration Restrictions

Registration in some courses in some majors is restricted. See the following sections of this Catalog for more information.

All majors in the Robinson College of Business	Section 7000
Criminal Justice	Section 2105
Exercise Science	Section 4120
Film and Video	Section 3270
Journalism	Section 3380
Nursing	Section 5030
Teacher Education	Section 1605

1330.35 Taking a Course More Than Once

Colleges may limit the number of times a student can take a course for a grade. Colleges may place this limit on some courses but not others, and different courses may have different limits. All limits are stated in the catalog. For purposes of this policy, a student takes a course for a grade when they receive a grade notation included in the grade point average calculation. For example, a student who earns an A or a WF has taken the course for a grade, but a student who earns an S or W has not. If a student takes a course multiple times at another institution or at Georgia State, the grade earned in the final attempt will determine the applicability of the course to the degree requirements. A student who wishes to take a course more times than authorized by the college must enroll as an auditor.

1330.40 Cross Registration

Georgia State University students may enroll in courses offered by member institutions of the Atlanta Regional Consortium for Higher Education (ARCHE) under a cross registration agreement. Students who wish to cross register must meet all eligibility requirements under the ARCHE agreement and the University. Courses taken through cross registration are considered resident credit. Students may learn more about cross registration or obtain an ARCHE Cross Registration Application at <http://registrar.gsu.edu/registration/cross-registration/>.

Cross Registration Application Deadlines

- Fall Semester: July 26
- Spring Semester: December 1

- Summer Semester: May 1

Eligibility Criteria

- Students must be in good standing and have a minimum Georgia State University cumulative GPA of 2.0 and the required GPA to enroll in the Georgia State course which is most similar to the course the student wishes cross register
- Students must be concurrently enrolled in at least one Georgia State course.
- Students must meet prerequisites for requested course(s) as defined by Georgia State University and the host institution.
- Students must meet the host institution's immunization and health requirements.
- First-semester freshmen may not cross register (unless cross registering in courses for purposes of ROTC training or marching band).

Course Restrictions

Students may not cross register for a course if

- The course is offered at Georgia State that semester.
- The course has been previously attempted at Georgia State (including attempts which resulted in a withdrawal or an unsatisfactory grade).
- The course or an appropriate substitute is routinely available at Georgia State (that is, offered each semester or on a specified regular basis, such as every fall). Determination of whether the course is routinely available is made by the advisement office in consultation with the chair or director of the academic unit that offers the course.
- The College and/or degree program has restrictions or departmental requirements for the specific course.
- The student expects to graduate from Georgia State during the semester the student wishes to cross register a course.

Students are limited to two cross-registered courses per semester, and the combined course load at Georgia State University and the host institution may not exceed 18 credit hours.

The student's transfer credit, cross registration credit, and credit by examination applicable to their degree program may not exceed 75 percent of their degree requirements.

Procedures

Students who wish to cross register must complete and submit an ARCHE Cross Registration Application to the Office of the Registrar, room 225, Sparks Hall. Cross Registration Applications are available online: <http://registrar.gsu.edu/registration/cross-registration/>.

Students who wish to take academic courses at an ARCHE institution must obtain written approval in advance from the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance in the student's college. Course outlines (syllabi) and catalog information may be required so content can be evaluated before approval is granted by the Office of Academic Assistance.

Students are not allowed to pre-register in courses they wish to cross register. Once all approvals have been obtained, the host institution's Cross Registration Coordinator will register students for the approved course(s) on a space-available basis after the host institution's regularly enrolled or continuing students have had first priority for registration. The host institution's Cross Registration Coordinator will inform the student of approval and registration status.

Georgia State University's students will pay Georgia State University's tuition and fee rates via PAWS. However, special fees (lab fees, parking and equipment lease) and security deposits must be paid to the host institution.

Students must abide by all host institutions' policies and schedules regarding immunization requirements, grades, exam dates, absences, and add/drop/withdrawal deadlines. To withdraw from a course, both Georgia State University and the host institution's withdrawal procedures must be followed. Changes in registration must be approved by Georgia State University and the host institution's Cross Registration Coordinators.

Upon completion of the course, the host institution's Cross Registration Coordinator will send a final transcript to Georgia State University. Students who receive a grade of Incomplete at a host institution should recognize that the time limit for removal of a grade of Incomplete must not exceed Georgia State University's deadline for removal of a grade of incomplete (see section 1350.30 Changes in Grade). It is the student's responsibility to request an official transcript from the host institution once the grade of Incomplete has been satisfied and a final grade has been assigned.

Students must complete a new ARCHE Cross Registration Application for any subsequent term.

Cross registration is available in the summer on a limited basis. Consult the Office of the Registrar for more information. The participating ARCHE member institutions are: Agnes Scott College, Atlanta College of Art, Brenau University, Clark Atlanta University, Clayton State University, Columbia Theological Seminary, Emory University, Georgia Gwinnett College, Georgia Institute of Technology, Interdenominational Theological Center, Kennesaw State University, Mercer University Atlanta Campus, Morehouse College, Morehouse School of Medicine, Oglethorpe University, Savannah College of Art and Design – Atlanta, Southern Polytechnic State University, Spelman College, State University of West Georgia, and University of Georgia.

Cross registration credits count as resident credit and all grade requirements apply. (See Sections 1440, 1450, 1460, and 1480.)

1330.55 Off-Campus Courses

Many courses are offered to Georgia State University students at non-campus locations. Students taking these courses must meet the same academic requirements and deadlines as students attending classes at the downtown campus. Each semester a list of courses offered at non-campus locations can be found by accessing the online registration system in PAWS at paws.gsu.edu.

1332 Revision of Class Schedules (Add/Drop/Withdraw)

Students who wish to revise their class schedules must follow the procedure appropriate for the period of time in the semester (see section 1332.10 below). During the published registration periods for each semester, students may revise their schedules by accessing PAWS. Schedule revisions are defined as any changes to a student's schedule and include dropping and/or adding classes.

To remove a course from a class schedule during the published registration period is referred to by the University community as "dropping" a course. Dropped courses do not appear on the student's official record and do not incur charges. After the last day to add/drop a course, students may "withdraw" from a course when they decide to stop attending. Withdrawn courses appear on the student's official record and incur charges. Withdrawing from a course prior to the midpoint of the term makes the student eligible for a grade of W if the withdrawal limit has not been exceeded. This grade is reflected on the student's official record. After midpoint, the student will receive the grade the instructor assigns.

All schedule adjustments must be completed by the official last day to register for courses as published in the online Semester Calendars at paws.gsu.edu. Printable calendars can also be found on registrar.gsu.edu under the Registrar's page. If an institutional error has occurred, and a student wishes to be allowed to register for a course after the deadline, the student should contact the department offering the course.

1332.10 Dropping Classes and Voluntary Withdrawal (Student Initiated)

Students are responsible for formally dropping or withdrawing from courses using the online registration system, PAWS at paws.gsu.edu. Students should not simply stop attending. Students should be aware of the financial and academic consequences of dropping and withdrawing from courses by consulting with an academic advisor and referring to information concerning the tuition refund schedule found on the Student Financial Services' web page, which is located on the www.gsu.edu website.

Georgia State University reserves the right, at any time during the semester, to drop any student from classes for failure to pay tuition and fees. However, students should not assume that Georgia State will drop them from classes for failure to pay tuition and fees.

Adding and Dropping Courses

- Up through the first week of the semester.
- Dropped courses will not appear on the transcript and will not incur charges
 - (See academic calendar on paws.gsu.edu for specific dates and for other mini-mester courses.)

Withdrawing from Courses

- Up to the mid term.
- Will appear on the transcript and will incur charges

See below for specifics

A. Registration Time Periods

1. Adding/Dropping Time Period: When registration opens for the term up until 5 p.m. the first Friday of the term, students may:
 - Add courses on PAWS
 - Drop courses on PAWS to no longer appear on the student's official transcript. Note: Students will no longer be charged tuition for courses that are dropped at this time unless an equal credit hour course is added as well. (Refer to the tuition refund schedule on the Student Account web page at gsu.edu. Note: dropping courses and lowering your credit hours for the term may have consequences academically and for financial aid eligibility)
 - After this time, students will not be able to add or drop courses on their own.
2. Schedule Adjustment – After the first week of classes up until the Midterm
 - Students may withdraw from a class or classes on PAWS.
 - Students will receive a grade of W or WF for any class withdrawn during this period depending on whether or not they have exceeded their limit of withdrawals with a grade of W.
 - Specifically, students will automatically be awarded a W if they have not exceeded their limit and a WF if they have. Grades of W and WF appear on the student's transcript. (Note: A grade of WF is treated as an F for GPA calculation purposes.)
 - Note: The last day for a student to add a class in PAWS is the first Friday of the term at 5 p.m.
 - As of the second week of classes, faculty have the discretion to request to add or drop students from classes if an administrative academic error has occurred. Factors such as space availability and health and safety regulations may apply to such requests. During the second week of classes, faculty have until Friday at 5 p.m. to submit a request to add or drop students from classes.
 - Instructors are not responsible for dropping students.
 - Instructors are not responsible for withdrawing students (except in violation of class policy (see section 1332.30))
3. After the midpoint of the term: During this period, voluntary withdrawals are not allowed via PAWS.
 - Students can no longer initiate a withdrawal from classes
 - Grades will be posted based on those assigned by instructors.
 - Students are responsible for consulting the course syllabus for specific instructor policies regarding such matters as penalties for missing the first class, an exam, an assignment or a project. These may include, among the other things, being dropped or withdrawn from a course.

B. Limits on Withdrawals with a Grade of W

1. Students are allowed to withdraw with a grade of W a maximum of six times in their undergraduate bachelor level careers at Georgia State.
2. The limit on withdrawals does not apply if a student withdraws from all classes during a term before the midpoint. However, students are only allowed to withdraw from all classes prior to the midpoint twice without having their withdrawals count against the limit. Students who withdraw from all classes a third or subsequent time will automatically receive a grade of WF in their classes if they have reached their limit of Ws.

3. It is possible that a student will withdraw from more than one class in a particular semester and not have enough Ws left to use a W in all those classes. In that case, classes will be awarded a W based on the date and time the student initiated the withdrawal from that class. For example, if a student had taken five Ws in their career at Georgia State and then withdrew from three of the four classes in which the student is enrolled, the student's sixth W allowed would be assigned to the class from which the student withdrew first. The student would receive a WF in the other two classes. In these cases, students may make an appeal to the University Advisement Center or the student's Office of Academic Advisement to shift the W from one class to another. Such requests must be made no later than the end of the subsequent semester in which the student withdrew from the classes. (Whether a student is enrolled in the semester after the semester in which the student withdrew from the classes does not change this time limit.) Students may not shift Ws between semesters.
4. The following types of withdrawals do not count against the limit on withdrawals with a grade of W.
 - Emergency withdrawals (see Section 1332.40).
 - Grades of WF (withdrawal failing).
 - Grade of WM (withdrawal military).
 - Grade notation of – before the grade of W indicating non attendance documented by the professor.
 - Withdrawals for nonpayment.
 - Withdrawals from courses numbered below 1000.
 - Withdrawals taken in semesters before Fall Semester 2006.
 - Withdrawals taken at other institutions.
5. This policy applies to all degree-seeking undergraduate bachelor level students. It does not apply to non-degree students (such as post baccalaureate and transient students).

Students formally withdrawing from all classes may be entitled to a partial refund of their fees (see Section 1240).

In an emergency situation that precludes personal action to withdraw from classes, a student may communicate with the Office of the Dean of Students, <http://deanofstudents.gsu.edu/>.

1332.20 Withdrawals and Drops from Off-Campus Courses and Cancelled Courses

In general, if a student voluntarily withdraws from an non-campus based course, then the normal withdrawal policy applies (see section 1332.10). If the course's schedule does not match a Georgia State University term, then the mid-point of the course will be the mid-point of the period from the first meeting of the course to the last meeting of the course.

If a course is cancelled by Georgia State after the first week of classes, then the student may choose between the following options:

- They may have the course dropped from their schedule (even if the course is cancelled after the end of Late Registration), or
- They may take a W in the course, or
- In coordination with the course instructor and the department chair, the student may develop an academically appropriate plan to complete the course. These plans must be approved by the instructor and the department chair.

1332.30 Involuntary Withdrawal (Faculty Initiated)

Students are expected to observe all policies governing the class. Faculty must clearly state these policies in the course syllabus. When a faculty member determines that a student is in violation of one of the class policies (for example, has missed a required assignment or has excessive absences), that faculty member may withdraw the student from the course. Students involuntarily withdrawn prior to the midpoint of the course will be assigned a grade of W unless they have exceeded their maximum number of withdrawals allowed (see Section 1332.10). Students involuntarily withdrawn after the midpoint of the course will be assigned a grade of WF. Note that a WF is treated as an F for GPA calculation purposes. Using the official Georgia State University email system, the instructor will notify a student who is involuntarily withdrawn, and within ten days of this notification, the student may petition to the department chair for reinstatement in the course.

1332.40 Emergency Withdrawal

Students may request an emergency withdrawal when a non-academic emergency situation occurs that prevents them from completing their course work (e.g., severe medical problems, traumatic events) and when the timing or nature of the emergency prevents them from voluntarily withdrawing from their classes. (See Section 1332.10.) Emergency withdrawals are subject to the following restrictions:

- Students must initiate an application for an emergency withdrawal no later than two academic years after the semester in which the courses were taken.
- Students may request emergency withdrawals in a maximum of two semesters of their enrollment at Georgia State.
- Students may not request an emergency withdrawal after degree conferral.

Emergency withdrawals normally apply to all the courses a student took in a semester. In exceptional cases, emergency withdrawals may be granted for some of a student's courses. Students requesting an emergency withdrawal in some but not all of their courses must provide documentation to justify a partial withdrawal.

If a student is granted an emergency withdrawal, W grades will automatically be awarded. W grades awarded as a result of the emergency withdrawal process do not count against the student's voluntary withdrawal limits. (See Section 1332.10.)

For further information on emergency withdrawals, contact the Office of the Dean of Students at deanofstudents.gsu.edu.

1332.45 Military Withdrawal

Withdrawal for Military Service: Refunds and Grades

Full refunds of tuition and mandatory fees and pro rata refunds of elective fees may be considered for students who are:

1. Military reservists (including members of the National Guard) who, after having enrolled in courses and paid tuition and fees, receive orders without prior notice to active duty, reassigned for temporary duty, or mandatory training and the orders prevent completion of the term;
2. Commissioned officers of the United States Public Health Service Commissioned Corps (PHSCC) who receive deployment orders in response to a public health crisis or national emergency after having enrolled in courses and paid tuition and fees and the orders prevent completion of the term;
3. Active duty military personnel who, after having enrolled in courses and paid tuition and fees, receive reassignment, a temporary duty assignment, or a training assignment without prior notice and the orders prevent completion of the term; or,
4. Otherwise unusually and detrimentally affected by the activation of members of the reserve components or the deployment of active duty personnel of the Armed Forces of the United States who demonstrate a need for exceptional equitable relief.

This policy does not apply to a student enlisting in the Armed Forces prior to or during a semester, unless the student presents documentation showing his/her date to report to initial training was changed without the student's prior knowledge and the new reporting date prevents completion of the term.

Students must officially withdraw and submit official orders to the Office of the Registrar, Military Outreach Center prior to leaving for the assignment. The student is not eligible for a military withdrawal in any course in which the student has completed the course requirements (for example, taking the final exam or submitting the final paper) and/or a grade has been assigned. Elective fees are to be prorated according to the date on which the student officially withdraws. Students who withdraw and receive a full tuition refund will receive a grade of "WM" (military withdrawal) for all courses from which the student has withdrawn.

Appeals Committee

Per the BOR's policy on Military Service Refunds, 7.3.5.3, requests for exceptional relief are made directly to the president of the institution and the president will make a determination on each request expeditiously.

Requests for course withdrawals due to military service will first be considered by the certifying officials in the Office of the Registrar, Military Outreach Center. If a student's request is denied and the student feels his/her case requires exceptional relief due to an unusual or detrimental activation, then the request will be considered by the Military Outreach Committee.

The Military Outreach Committee consists of academic advisors, VA benefit certifying officials, ROTC representatives, associate deans and university representatives from the Counseling Center and Affirmative Action. This committee will make recommendations to approve or deny students' requests to the Vice President for Enrollment and Provost/VP for Academic Affairs.

Appeals of the decision of the Vice President for Enrollment and Provost/VP for Academic Affairs may be initiated by the student within 5 business days of notification of the Vice President for Enrollment's decision and will be considered by the Provost.

Appeals of the decision of the Provost may be initiated by the student within 5 business days of notification of the Provost's decision and will be considered by the President.

1332.50 Non-Academic Withdrawal

1334 Class Attendance

The resources of the University are provided for the intellectual growth and development of its students. The University expects each student to take full responsibility for his or her academic work and academic progress. Students are expected to attend classes in order to gain command of the concepts and materials of their courses of study. As such, the University does not mandate the number or percentage of absences that are acceptable but suggests a guideline of 15 percent for determining an excessive level of absence. The specific class attendance policies for each class are at the discretion of the instructor, in accordance with the policies of the department and college.

All matters related to student absences, including making up work missed, are to be arranged between the student and the instructor before the semester begins or on the first week of classes. All instructors will, at the beginning of each semester, make a clear statement in the course syllabus for each of their classes, describing their policies for handling absences. Students are obligated to adhere to the requirements of each course and of each instructor. Instructors are encouraged to provide avenues for students to make up examinations and other work missed due to an excused absence.

Excused absences are recognized in the following cases:

1. University-Sponsored Events. Absences due to activities approved by the Office of the Provost, in which a student is an official representative of the University will be recognized as excused when the student informs the instructor in writing during the first week of the semester of his or her participation in an activity that may generate excused absences and the dates of planned absences for the semester. If requested, the appropriate university official will provide a memo stating the official nature of the university business in advance of the activity. Absences due to similar events, which could not have been anticipated earlier in the semester, will be recognized as excused absences upon advance notification of the instructor by an appropriate faculty advisor or administrator.
2. Legal Obligations. Absences due to legal obligations (for example, jury duty, military orders) will be recognized as excused absences. The student must provide the instructor with written documentation of such absences at the earliest possible date.
3. Religious Observances. Students wishing to have an excused absence due to the observation of a religious holiday of special importance must provide advance written request to each instructor by the end of the first week of classes.

Class Attendance by Veterans

The Department of Veterans Affairs requires that institutions of higher learning immediately report to them when a student discontinues attendance for any reason. Instructors must report to the Registrar's Office the absence of a veteran student as soon as it is known that the veteran student will not be returning to class. Generally, this should be reported after one week of absences and no later than two weeks of nonattendance by a veteran student.

In addition, it is suggested that the faculty give due consideration to absences relating to the following events: death or major illness in student's immediate family, illness of a dependent family member, illness that is too severe or contagious for students to attend class.

1336 Final Examinations

A student shall not be required to take more than two examinations within one 24-hour period during the published final examination period. More than two examinations within 24 hours are referred to as clustered examinations. A student who discovers an exam scheduling conflict should notify his or her professor at least 14 days prior to the final exam period beginning.

A student is considered to have an inappropriate clustering of final examinations when more than two examinations fall within 24 hours (for example, examinations at 8:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m., and 6:00 p.m. on the same day, or examinations at 6 p.m. on one day, and at 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on the following day); the student is not considered to have an inappropriate clustering of examinations if the third examination in sequence begins at the same time on the subsequent day as the first examination (for example, 6:00 p.m. on one day, and 2:30 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. on the following day).

Students who have three or more clustered examinations may request of one professor that the examination be rescheduled according to the following procedure:

- If a final examination was rescheduled and thereby created a "cluster," the instructor of the rescheduled examination will provide a special administration for the adversely affected student.
- If one or more of the clustered examinations is a "common examination" with an established conflict resolution time, the student may request to resolve the conflict by taking one of the common examinations in the conflict resolution time. If two or more of the examinations are "common examinations," the student may choose which "common examination(s)" is to be rescheduled.
- If one of the clustered examinations is not a common examination or the result of rescheduling, the instructor of the middle examination(s) will provide a special administration for the adversely affected student.

Students must inform the instructor, in writing and at least 14 days before the beginning of the final exam period, that a clustered examination situation exists with respect to that instructor's course and that the student will need to take the final examination as a special administration. If a student fails to inform the instructor, in writing and at least 14 days before the beginning of the final exam period, the instructor is not required to provide a special administration of the final examination.

Once a student has taken an examination, he or she cannot request a reexamination on the basis of this policy.

1340 Classification of Students and Courses

1340.10 Class Standing

Students are classified on the basis of total earned hours of academic credit as follows:

Student Status	Semester Hours
Freshman	0-29
Sophomore	30-59
Junior	60-89
Senior	90 or more

The classification under which a student registers at the beginning of any semester will continue through that semester.

1340.20 Change of Catalog Edition

Students must normally satisfy the degree requirements of the catalog in effect at the time they enter Georgia State University. However, in some circumstances, revisions may be required to provide more effective programs. The term “degree requirements” refers to the courses and grades required to earn the degree. Changes in academic regulations affect all students, regardless of the catalog edition; examples include the scholastic discipline policy, procedures for removing incomplete grades, and appeals procedures.

There are several instances when a student will be required to change catalog editions and satisfy the curricular degree requirements of the catalog in effect at the time he or she:

- Officially changes colleges within the university;
- Officially changes their degree;
- Officially changes majors within a college;
- Officially changes from post baccalaureate status to any degree-seeking status;
- Reenters the university after an absence of three or more semesters
- Reenrolls at Georgia State after attending another institution as a transient student with the intention of transferring credits earned at the other institution to Georgia State without having followed protocol as outlined on the Registrar’s Transient Request Form. This regulation applies to any length of absence from the university. In such cases, students are considered to be transfer students;
- Reenrolls at Georgia State after attending another institution as a transfer student. This regulation applies to any length of absence from the university; and
- Has not graduated by the time his or her catalog edition is ten years old.

Students may choose to satisfy the degree requirements of a later catalog, but, if they choose to do this, they must meet all the requirements of the later catalog. Degree requirements of more than one catalog edition cannot be combined. Students who choose to satisfy requirements of a later catalog must notify the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance of their college.

Any requests for exceptions to the “change of catalog edition” policy must be submitted as an appeal of academic regulations and graduation requirements and processed as a University level petition.

1340.30 Declaration of Major

All applicants other than freshman must declare a degree and major at application. All freshmen must declare a degree and major one calendar year after their first enrollment at Georgia State. Students are encouraged to declare a major as early as possible. This is especially true for students following a track in natural sciences, health sciences, or mathematics. Colleges and departments may require students to declare a degree and major earlier than indicated above. The Director of the University Advisement Center is authorized to grant exemptions to this policy.

1340.35 Change of Degree Major and College

Students may request to change majors within one college at Georgia State University or change to another college. If the request is approved, students will transfer their academic standings (good, warning, supervision, or probation). Some programs have special requirements for admission, so students should contact the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance of the desired college to determine if special criteria apply.

To request a change of degree, major, or college, students should contact the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance of the college in which they are currently enrolled. Students who change degree, majors or colleges will be required to satisfy the degree requirements in effect at the time the change is officially recorded. Students who have applied to graduate must declare their degree, major, and minor/concentration (if applicable) with their advisement office prior to their final semester to avoid a possible delay in graduating.

1340.40 Double Major

A double major consists of two separate majors in the same baccalaureate degree (for example, B.S. with majors in Criminal Justice and Psychology), regardless of the college or colleges in which that degree is awarded. A double major is earned when the student completes all requirements for each of the majors and all requirements for the degree. The minimum residence requirement of 39 semester hours at Georgia State University in courses numbered 3000 or above must be met for the first major. If the second major is completed concurrently with the first major, or within five calendar years of the first major, this requirement shall be deemed to have been satisfied for both majors.

After five years from the date of the awarding of the first major, credit that was used to satisfy the university’s academic residence requirement cannot be applied toward the university’s residence requirement for the second major. Regardless of when the second major is completed.

At least one-half of the courses comprising both majors must be taken at Georgia State.

Whether in one degree or two, a student may not graduate with more than two majors. (For example, a student may not earn a B.S. with a double major in Economics and Psychology and also a B.A. in English. This would constitute three majors and would not be permissible.)

Students who wish to earn double majors should consult with the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance of their current college and, if the second major is offered by another college in the university, with the Office of Academic Assistance of the relevant college for information on procedures to follow.

The Dean of the Honors College may, in exceptional circumstances, allow a student in the Honors College to complete three majors in one or two degrees.

1340.45 Dual Degrees

Dual degrees are earned when a student satisfies all requirements for two different baccalaureate degrees (for example, B.A. and B.S.) within one or more colleges of Georgia State University. The minimum residence requirement of 39 semester hours at Georgia State University in courses numbered 3000 or above must be met for the first degree. If the second degree is completed concurrently with the first degree, or within five calendar years of the first degree, this requirement shall be deemed to have been satisfied for both degrees. After five years from the date of the award of the first degree, credit that has been used to satisfy the university's academic residence requirement for this degree cannot be applied toward the university's minimum academic residence requirement for the second degree. Regardless of when the second degree is completed, both degrees require that at least one-half of the courses comprising the major must be taken at Georgia State. If a department offers more than one degree, it may prohibit a student from earning more than one degree in that department. This restriction will appear in the Program Degree Requirements section of the description of the major.

Students who wish to earn dual degrees should consult with the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance of their current college and, if the second degree is offered by another college of this university, with the Office of Academic Assistance of the relevant college for information on procedures to follow.

1340.50 Dual Undergraduate/Graduate Degree Programs

Georgia State offers a number of dual undergraduate/graduate degree programs where select, high caliber students can complete both the bachelor's degree and one of several prestigious graduate degrees in up to a year's less time than it would take to pursue the two degrees consecutively. A list of the specific dual degree programs offered and information regarding admission qualifications can be found at <http://enrollment.gsu.edu/catalogs/dual-undergraduate-graduate-degree-programs/>.

1340.60 Classification of Courses

Student Status	Number Range
Prefreshman	0001-0099
Junior	3000-3999
Senior	4000-4999
Graduate	5000 or higher

1350 The Grading System

1350.10 Grades

A: Excellent

B: Good

C: Average

D: Poor

A grade of D, while earning credit hours, will not apply toward the degree in courses requiring a grade of C or higher. Georgia State University will allow no more than 12 semester hours of D grades to apply toward degree requirements. Certain programs limit this further. See Section 1450 for more details.

F: Failure

This grade indicates failure. No credit toward graduation is given for a course in which a grade of F was received.

WF: Withdrawal while Failing

This grade indicates failure. No credit toward graduation is given for a course in which a grade of WF was received. A WF and F are treated the same for GPA calculation purposes.

The grades listed below are approved for use in the cases indicated but will not be included in the determination of a student's cumulative grade point average:

W: Withdrawal

This symbol indicates that a student was permitted to withdraw from the course without penalty. (See "WF: Withdrawal While Failing" above, and Section 1332)

WM: Military Withdrawal

This symbol indicates that active duty military personnel and military reservists (including members of the National Guard) received emergency orders to active duty or reassignment during the term (see Military Withdrawal, Section 1332.45).

I: Incomplete

The notation of I may be given to a student who, for nonacademic reasons beyond his or her control, is unable to meet the full requirements of a course. In order to qualify for an “I”, a student must:

- Have completed most of the major assignments of the course (generally all but one); and
- Be earning a passing grade in the course (aside from the assignments not completed) in the judgment of the instructor.

When a student has a nonacademic reason for not completing one or more of the assignments for a course, including examinations, and wishes to receive an incomplete for the course, it is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor in person or in writing of the reason. A grade of incomplete is awarded at the discretion of the instructor and is not the prerogative of the student. Conditions to be met for removing a grade of incomplete are established by the instructor. Registering in a subsequent semester for a course in which a grade of incomplete has been received will not remove the grade of incomplete. (See Section 1350.30, paragraph 2.) No student may graduate with an “I” on his or her record for that degree program. If the requirements to remove a grade of incomplete are not met prior to the deadline, the grade of I will convert to a grade of F.

IP: In Progress

This symbol indicates that credit has not been given in courses that require a continuation of work beyond the term for which the student registered for the course. The use of this symbol is approved for dissertation, thesis, study abroad and project courses (such as student teaching, clinical practice and internships). The IP notation may be replaced with an appropriate grade by the instructor. This symbol cannot be substituted for an “I.” This grade is used in the Learning Support Program (LSP) to indicate that a student has demonstrated academic growth in the course; however, the level of achievement is not sufficient to meet all of the course requirements. In LSP, the grade of IP is a permanent grade and does not meet the minimum exit criteria for any course in the program.

S: Satisfactory

This symbol indicates that credit has been given for completion of degree requirements other than academic course work. The use of this symbol is approved for dissertation and thesis hours, student teaching, clinical practicum, internship, and proficiency requirements in graduate programs. This symbol is also used in a Regents’ Test Preparation Course when the Regents’ Test was passed.

U: Unsatisfactory

This symbol indicates unsatisfactory performance in an attempt to complete degree requirements other than academic course work. No credit will be given. The use of this symbol is approved for dissertation and thesis hours, student teaching, clinical practicum, internship, and proficiency requirements in graduate programs. This symbol is also used in a Regents’ Test Preparation Course when the Regents’ Test was not passed.

V: Audit

This notation is used when a student has audited a course. Students do not earn academic credit for such courses. See Section 1330.25.

K: Credit-by-examination

This symbol indicates that a student was given credit for a course based on successful performance on an examination approved for this purpose.

NR: Not Reported

This symbol indicates that a student’s grade was not reported to the Registrar’s Office by the deadline for reporting grades for the term as published in the on-line Registration Guide. The grade will be updated as soon as the instructor reports the grade.

GP: Grade Pending

This symbol indicates a grade will be assigned pending the outcome of an academic honesty case. See Section 1380.

1350.20 Cumulative Grade Point Average (GPA)

Georgia State University has three cumulative grade point averages that are used to determine academic progress and appear on student's permanent records.

Institutional GPA – Based on courses taken at Georgia State University

This cumulative grade point average is calculated by dividing all hours attempted at Georgia State University into total quality points earned. Quality points are calculated by multiplying hours earned for each course by the numerical value of the grade earned. (See the following table for numerical equivalents of letter grades.) Credits earned in other institutions, credit by examination, credits which carry S/U grades, CLEP credit, IB credit, AP credit, remedial courses and courses specifically excluded by University policy are not used in computing the grade point average.

The institutional grade point average is used in determining your academic standing, and determines your eligibility for graduation. (A 2.00 is required for undergraduate students for graduation.)

Overall Grade Point Average: – Based on courses taken at Georgia State University and transfer grades.

The overall grade point average is calculated by dividing all hours attempted at Georgia State University and those transferred into total quality points earned. Quality points are calculated by multiplying hours earned for each course by the numerical value of the grade earned. (See the following table for numerical equivalents of letter grades.) Credit by examination, credits which carry S/U grades, CLEP credit, IB credit, AP credit, remedial courses, and courses specifically excluded by University policy are not used in computing the grade point average.

This GPA is used by some departments that require admission to a major. See specific admission requirements within the program descriptions.

HOPE Grade Point Average: The HOPE grade point average is calculated by dividing all hours attempted since high school graduation. This will include credits attempted for remedial courses. The calculation of this GPA does not include plus or minus attributes. For example, both a B+ and B- will be treated as the equivalent of a B. All grades from previous institutions attended are calculated in this grade point average.

This GPA is used to determine eligibility for the HOPE scholarship.

All grade point averages are rounded to the hundredth place. For example, 2.676 is rounded to 2.68.

All attempts at all academic courses taken are included in these calculations, based on the definitions listed above, of total number of grade points earned and the total number of semester hours attempted.

The numerical value (grade point) for academic letter grades are as follows:

A+	4.30
A	4.00
A-	3.70
B+	3.30
B	3.00
B-	2.70
C+	2.30
C	2.00
C-	1.70
D	1.00
F	0.00
WF	0.00
IP	0.00

The symbols I (Incomplete), IP (In Progress), W (Withdrawal), S (Satisfactory), U (Unsatisfactory), V (Audit), K (Credit-by-examination), and NR (Not Reported) do not have numerical equivalents and are not used in calculating grade point averages. The Department of Veterans Affairs defines the U and V as non-punitive grades; however, veteran students should notify the veterans' counselor immediately upon receiving a grade of U or V.

1350.25 Repeat to Replace Policy

Under the conditions outlined below, bachelor-level students who have retaken courses and earned a higher grade may request to have the first grade excluded from their bachelor-level institutional GPA. If the request is approved, the Office of the Registrar will make appropriate notations next to the original course and the retaken course on the student's official transcript. Grades for all attempts at the course will appear on the student's official transcript regardless of whether or not the grade has been excluded from the student's GPA. This policy has no effect on any GPA requirements set by state or federal laws/regulations (such as the GPA requirements set by the HOPE scholarship program). A copy of the request and approval will become part of the student's permanent record file. The attempt to repeat must be made in Fall 2011 or thereafter. Students who have repeated courses prior to this date will not be allowed to delete earlier attempts from their GPA calculation. Units may prohibit students from repeating certain courses.

An undergraduate student may request to have a grade excluded from GPA computation under the following conditions:

- Except as noted below, before requesting to apply the repeat-to-replace policy, a student must have retaken the same undergraduate course (or the renumbered substitute for that course) in the same department at Georgia State and earned a higher grade in the course retaken.
- Requests must be submitted before the end of the second week of classes in the intended semester of graduation.

- A student may request repeat-to-replace for a course repeated during the intended semester of graduation within the first two weeks of the semester. Such requests will only be honored if the student needs a passing grade in the course to graduate.
- Once a request has been approved the request cannot be revoked or reversed.
- This policy applies only to the first recorded grade in a course that a student has repeated. For example, suppose that a student took a course three times. The student may use the second or third grade to replace the first grade. The student may not use the third grade to replace the second grade.
- Only grades that are part of a student's institutional GPA may be replaced. For example, Ws, Ss, and Us cannot be replaced.
- This policy does not apply if the original grade was assigned as a result of a violation of the Academic Honesty policy. (The University maintains internal records of violations of the Academic Honesty policy. In addition, in some cases, violations of the Academic Honesty policy are noted on the transcript. Whether the violation is recorded internally or on the transcript, a student may not replace a grade that was awarded as a result of a violation of the Academic Honesty policy.)
- The Repeat-to-Replace applies only to degree-seeking students pursuing their first bachelor-level degree at Georgia State.
- Students may not use this policy to replace grades awarded prior to semester conversion (for example, quarter courses).

1350.30 Changes in Grade

A course grade that has been reported by the instructor to the Office of the Registrar and recorded on the student's academic record cannot be changed except in the following circumstances:

- Error in grade. If a student believes that there is an error in a grade, the student should discuss the situation with the instructor. A request for a change of grade assigned by an instructor who has left the University should be addressed to the chair of the department.
- Removal of an Incomplete. A student receiving a grade of I (incomplete) is expected to consult with the instructor within the prescribed time limit and to complete all necessary work. The period of time given to a student to remove a grade of I is established by the instructor, subject only to the maximum time limit set by the University. The University requires that a grade of I be removed no later than the end of the second academic term after the grade of I was assigned (whether or not the student was enrolled during these two terms). The Office of the Registrar will assign a grade of F at the end of the second academic term unless the Office of the Registrar receives an approved grade change request from the instructor. (If the student enrolled for S/U grading, a U will be assigned.). Using the grade change request process, instructors may or may not change this F/U to an authorized academic grade (i.e., A, B, C, D, S or WF) but may not change it back to an I. Instructors may not change an I to a W unless an Emergency Withdrawal is awarded. In exceptional cases, departments may authorize students to have an I grade for more than two semesters. Such authorizations must be approved by the department chair. The authorization to extend the I beyond two semesters must be renewed each semester. Registering in a subsequent semester for a course in which a grade of incomplete has been received will not remove the grade of incomplete. (See Section 1350.30, paragraph 2.) No student may graduate with an "I" on his or her record for that degree program. If the requirements to remove a grade of incomplete are not met prior to the deadline, the grade of I will convert to a grade of F.

1350.40 Posthumous Grades

When a student passes away before completing all assignments in a course, that student will be awarded a grade of W in the course. However, if the student has completed more than half the work required for the course and earned a grade of A or B in that work, the instructor may award the student an A or a B.

See section 1490.40 concerning requests for a posthumous degree.

1352 Academic Recognitions

President's List: Degree-seeking students with a minimum Georgia State University cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 who complete at least nine semester hours of academic credit in fall or spring term (or six semester hours in summer term) with no Incompletes for the semester and who earn a 4.00 GPA will be placed on the President's List for the semester.

Dean's List: Degree-seeking students with a minimum Georgia State cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.00 who complete at least nine semester hours of academic credit in fall or spring term (or six semester hours in summer term) with no Incompletes for the semester and who earn a GPA of at least 3.50 shall be placed on the appropriate Dean's List for the semester.

President's and Dean's Lists are posted on the university website three to four weeks in the subsequent semester.

1352.20 Signature Experiences

A signature experience is an experience in which learning comes alive and students are encouraged to be active in their own education. Specifically, in a signature experience students:

- (1) Apply what they are learning in the classroom to the experience
- (2) Engage in an experience over a sustained period of time
- (3) Learn through experiences that are not typically encountered in the standard classroom and
- (4) Produce a final product that is evaluated by a faculty member.

The central learning outcome of a signature experience is the ability to apply knowledge/skills outside of a standard classroom context. Final products include (but are not limited to) research papers, conference presentations, presentation of works of art, case studies, and reflection papers. Signature experiences are offered as part of courses that earn course credit. Courses that have multiple sections can be either stand-alone signature experiences, where all students in every section participate in the signature experience component, or the course may have only specific sections with a signature experience dimension." Every major offers at least one signature experience. Common types of signature experiences offered by departments include Study Abroad, Practicums, Internships, Field Studies, and Research opportunities as well as the preparation of an Honor's Thesis.

There are six categories of signature experiences:

- Students have an Arts Signature Experience when they participate in the production or presentation of creative works.
- Students have a City Signature Experience when they participate in activities that are related to the unique challenges of urban environments.
- Students have a Global Signature Experience when they participate in activities that offer them the opportunity to learn and engage as global citizens.
- Students have a Professional Signature Experience when they participate in work-related experiences.
- Students have a Research Signature Experience when they work on a research project.
- Students have a Service Signature Experience when they integrate service and learning activities to address a community need.

Units may place appropriate prerequisites on admission to their signature experience courses. They may also limit the number of students who may enter a signature experience program and set up appropriate admissions processes to determine who is accepted into a signature experience.

1352.30 Global Scholars

At graduation, students who who earn a B or better in five 3000-4000 courses with a global perspectives designation will be recognized as Global Scholars.

To be eligible to be a Global Scholar, students must have an overall GPA of 3.0 when they become juniors. (Students who are juniors when they first enroll at Georgia State must have a transfer GPA of 3.0.) In addition, Global Scholar must have an overall GPA of 3.0 at graduation.

At least two of these five courses must be outside the discipline of the student's major. However, in cases, where a major gives credit for 3000-4000 courses outside its discipline, those courses count as being outside the discipline of the student's major. For example, the pre-education concentration of the major in African-American Studies (AAS) allows students to meet some of the requirements of the AAS major with courses other than those with the AAS prefix. Courses with HIST, POLS, GEOG, ECON, and EDUC prefixes count towards the AAS major. For the purposes the Global Scholars program, the courses with HIST, POLS, GEOG, ECON, and EDUC prefixes are outside the discipline of the student's major.

Global competence is defined as "the skills, knowledge, and awareness that enhance the ability to function in a global environment." Each of these aspects of global competence can be further subdivided as follows:

Skills

- Foreign language skills: the ability to communicate in a language other than English
- Communication skills: the ability to communicate with diverse audiences and with people from different backgrounds and learning styles

- Analytical skills: the ability to analyze and synthesize comparative and cross-cultural information with sound judgment

Knowledge

- Comparative grasp of political systems, histories, religions, cultures, literatures, economies, etc.
- Recognition of global interconnectedness and conflict
- Ability to think critically about the U.S. and see it in a global context

Awareness

- Openness to different thoughts, ideas, and perspectives; curiosity; adaptability; flexibility in ambiguous or unfamiliar situations as well as in international or intercultural environments
- Willingness to stay abreast of international current events and seek out new intercultural opportunities at home or abroad
- Appreciation of and respect for difference and diversity and a highly developed sense of empathy, awareness, and concern

1352.40 City Scholars

At graduation, students who earn a B or better in five 3000-4000 courses with a cities perspectives designation will be recognized as City Scholars.

To be eligible to be a City Scholar, students must have an overall GPA of 3.0 when they become juniors. (Students who are juniors when they first enroll at Georgia State must have a transfer GPA of 3.0.) In addition, City Scholars must have an overall GPA of 3.0 at graduation.

At least two of these five courses must be outside the discipline of the student's major. However, in cases, where a major gives credit for 3000-4000 courses outside its discipline, those courses count as being outside the discipline of the student's major. For example, the pre-law concentration of the major in philosophy (PHIL) allows students to meet some of the requirements of the PHIL major with courses other than those with the PHIL prefix. For example some courses with HIST or POLS prefixes count towards the PHIL major. For the purposes the City Scholars program, the courses with HIST and POLS prefixes are outside the discipline of the student's major.

Courses are designed to help students develop competence in urban issues and thus help them to become leaders in understanding the complex challenges of cities and in developing effective solutions to those challenges.

City courses at Georgia State are ones that meet one or more of the following criteria:

1. Have as a substantial focus the historical, geographical, social, cultural, economic, environmental, political, policy & planning, and/or design dimensions of city life.
2. Provide students with hands-on experience in addressing or investigating problems or opportunities inherent in city life.

Competence in urban issues is defined as “the skills, knowledge, and awareness that enhance the ability to understand and address the problems and possibilities of cities.”

Skills

- Analytical skills: the ability to analyze and synthesize comparative and diverse information about cities with sound judgment
- Communication skills: the ability to communicate with diverse audiences and with people from different backgrounds and learning styles
- Organizational skills: the ability to recognize diverse contributing partners and find ways to integrate other disciplines toward a constructive end

Knowledge

- Recognition of the complex interconnectedness of cities in urban systems
- Ability to think critically about the complex challenges posed by the city as a creative force in society

Awareness

- Interest in new and different thoughts, ideas, and perspectives; curiosity; adaptability; flexibility in ambiguous or unique situations
- Appreciation of and respect for differences and diversity, coupled with a developed sense of openness, empathy, and concern
- Advocacy for effective solutions that contribute to livable communities and sustainable cities

1360 Academic Support

1360.10 Scholastic Discipline

There are four levels of scholastic discipline for all students regardless of status or program: warning, supervision, probation, and exclusion. A student who is eligible to enroll in courses is in good standing.

Students are placed on:

- Warning when their cumulative Georgia State University GPA is below 2.0 and they were not on supervision or probation the previous semester in attendance.
- Supervision when their cumulative Georgia State GPA is below 2.0 and they were on warning the previous semester in attendance. However, students on warning who attempt 6 or more semester hours in the subsequent semester and earn a Georgia State term GPA of 2.3 or better will remain on warning.
- Probation when their cumulative Georgia State GPA is below 2.0 and they were on supervision the previous semester in attendance. However, students on supervision who attempt 6 or more semester hours and earn a Georgia State term GPA of 2.3 or better will remain on supervision.
- Exclusion when their cumulative Georgia State GPA is below 2.0 and they were on probation the previous semester in attendance. However, students on probation who attempt 6 or more semester hours and earn a Georgia State term GPA of 2.3 or better will remain on probation.

Students on warning, supervision or probation may be allowed to enroll with specific restrictions (see Section 1360.20). Students on exclusion are not eligible to enroll in any undergraduate program or under any status at Georgia State. No transfer credit will be accepted for courses taken at other institutions while on exclusion.

Students on warning, supervision, or probation should refer to Section 1360.20 and consult with an advisor in the University Advisement Center for additional information about scholastic discipline.

1360.20 Academic Improvement Program (AIP)

The Academic Improvement Program (AIP) is intended to assist students in extricating themselves from scholastic discipline and to meet the graduation requirement of an institutional Georgia State University GPA of 2.0 or higher. The elements of AIP are registration approvals by an advisor, course load limits, and survival skills instruction. For further information about AIP, please contact the University Advisement Center at advisement.gsu.edu.

Students on warning or supervision are required to participate in AIP as follows: (a) have their registration approved by an academic advisor; (b) register for no more than 13 semester hours; (c) and take any other steps required by the academic advisor (for example, seeing their major advisor, participating in an assessment by the Counseling Center, etc.). Students on warning or supervision must continue to participate in AIP until their institutional Georgia State GPA is 2.0 or higher.

A college may, at its option, require students on probation not to enroll at Georgia State for one semester. If students on probation are allowed to enroll, they are required to participate in AIP as follows: (a) have their registration approved by an academic advisor; (b) register for no more than 13 semester hours; and (c) take any other steps required by the academic advisor (for example, seeing their major advisor, participating in an assessment by the Counseling Center, etc.). Students enrolling while on probation must continue to participate in AIP until their institutional Georgia State GPA is 2.0 or higher.

Students participating in AIP may be assigned to GSU 1050, Survival Skills for College. GSU 1050 may be taken only once and does not count toward credit hour requirements for graduation. Credit hours enrolled in GSU 1050 count toward the 13 semester hour course load limit for students participating in AIP. Grades received for GSU 1050 are used to calculate the institutional GPA and the term GPA.

Students on exclusion are not eligible to enroll in any undergraduate program or under any status at Georgia State and may not participate in AIP.

Appeals for exemption from some or all of the requirements of AIP should be submitted to the director of the University Advisement Center. Appeals of decisions by the director of the University Advisement Center may be filed in accordance with the procedure for petition of university regulations. Information about AIP and appeals of AIP requirements is available from the University Advisement Center.

1360.30 Academic Renewal

Under certain conditions, Georgia State University allows its former undergraduate students to apply for academic renewal. This provision is intended to allow Georgia State degree-seeking students who have experienced academic difficulty to make a fresh start and to give them a final opportunity to earn a bachelor's degree. It can apply to individuals on scholastic exclusion. These are the provisions of academic renewal:

Eligibility for Academic Renewal

- A minimum of five calendar years must have passed since last enrollment at Georgia State University.
- Former Department of Academic Foundations (formerly Division of Learning Support Programs and Developmental Studies) students may apply for academic renewal only if they completed all learning support programs requirements prior to the five-year absence.
- A student can be granted academic renewal only one time.
- A student who was excluded from Georgia State and has attended another college or university during the absence from Georgia State is not eligible for academic renewal.
- A student who was not excluded from Georgia State but attended another college or university during an absence of five or more years may choose one of these options, but not both:
 1. Return to Georgia State, having attended another accredited institution, subject to all relevant transfer and reentry policies. The student will not be eligible for academic renewal but transfer credit will be granted for applicable courses taken during the absence and previously earned Georgia State credit is retained.
 2. Apply for academic renewal. If academic renewal is approved, no transfer credit will be granted for coursework completed during the absence.

Effects of Academic Renewal

- A cumulative GPA that reflects all attempts at all courses taken at Georgia State continues to be recorded on the student's official transcript. A new renewal institutional GPA is begun when the student has been approved for academic renewal and is also recorded on the student's official transcript. The renewal institutional GPA will be used for determining academic standing and eligibility for graduation.
- Academic credit for previously completed course work including transfer course work will be retained only for courses in which an A, B, or C grade has been earned.
- The grades for Georgia State academic credit that are retained are not calculated in the renewal institutional GPA. The courses are applied toward degree requirements are applicable. This credit, therefore, is placed in the same category as transfer credit, credit by examination, and courses with grades of S (not part of the calculated institutional GPA).
- Courses for which academic credit is not retained (those with grades of D or lower) must be repeated at Georgia State if they are required in the student's degree program. All remaining degree requirements must be completed at Georgia State. No transient or transfer credit will be accepted.
- Whether the retained academic credit is still applicable for degree credit will depend on the degree requirements currently in effect at the time the student returns to Georgia State and on specific program regulations.
- All courses taken at Georgia State remain on the student's official Georgia State transcript. At the time academic renewal is approved, this approval is noted on the student's transcript. Any Georgia

State course work for which credit can be retained is listed below the academic renewal notation.

- Reentry into a program that has specific admission requirements is not automatic. Academic renewal students who wish admission to such a program must apply directly to the program.
- Students must meet the academic residence requirement (see section 1440) using only course credit earned after academic renewal.
- To be eligible for honors at graduation, students must earn at least 60 hours of credit after academic renewal.

Applying for Academic Renewal

To apply for academic renewal, the student must obtain approval both from the Office of Undergraduate Admissions and from the University Advisement Center.

1. File an application for reentry to the university with the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, 200 Sparks Hall, <http://admissions.gsu.edu/how-do-i-apply/other-enrollment-types/re-entry-students/>.
2. File an application for academic renewal with the University Advisement Center. The deadlines for applying for academic renewal in order to enroll for a semester are:

To return in	Deadline
Fall	July 1
Summer	May 1

Application for Academic Renewal before the prescribed deadlines will aid in the timely return of a decision. Those students whose return to Georgia State University is dependent on approval for academic renewal should be especially diligent in their timely submission of their application.

If a student does not apply for academic renewal at the time of enrollment, it can be requested after reenrollment if the application is filed within one calendar year.

- A student whose application for academic renewal is not approved will be notified by letter from the University Advisement Center. Unless specific information to the contrary is given in the letter, the student may reapply for academic renewal after one year has passed.
- Evaluation of a student's application for academic renewal will be based on the student's:
 1. Previous academic record;
 2. Previous student discipline record; and
 3. Current commitment to academic work.

1380 Academic Honesty

1. Introduction

As members of the academic community, students are expected to recognize and uphold standards of intellectual and academic integrity. The University assumes as a basic and minimum standard of conduct in academic matters that students be honest and that they submit for credit only the products of their own efforts. Both the ideals of scholarship and the need for fairness require that all dishonest work be rejected as a basis for academic credit. They also require that students refrain from any and all forms of dishonorable or unethical conduct related to their academic work.

The University's policy on academic honesty is published in the Faculty Handbook (<http://www2.gsu.edu/~wwwfhh/fhb.html>) and the Student Handbook, On Campus, which is available to all members of the University community (<http://studenthandbook.gsu.edu/>). Academic honesty is a core value of the University and all members of the University community are responsible for abiding by the tenets of the policy. Georgia State students, faculty, and staff, are expected to report all instances of academic dishonesty to the appropriate authorities. The procedures for such reporting are outlined below and on file in the offices of the deans of each college, the Office of the Dean of Students, and the Office of the Provost.

Lack of knowledge of this policy is not an acceptable defense to any charge of academic dishonesty. In an effort to foster an environment of academic integrity and to prevent academic dishonesty, students are expected to discuss with faculty the expectations regarding course assignments and standards of conduct. Students are encouraged to discuss freely with faculty, academic advisors, and other members of the University community any questions pertaining to the provisions of this policy. In addition, students are encouraged to avail themselves of programs in establishing personal standards and ethics offered by the university.

No instructor or department may impose academic or disciplinary penalties for academic dishonesty outside the parameters of this policy. This policy applies to all incidents of academic dishonesty, including those that occur before a student graduates but are not discovered until after the degree is conferred. In such cases, it is possible that the application of this policy will lead to a failure to meet degree completion requirements and therefore a revocation of a student's degree.

Many colleges and/or departments provide statements of what constitutes academic dishonesty within the context of their discipline, and recommend penalties for specific types of academic dishonesty. As noted in the Faculty Handbook, all syllabi are required to make reference to the Academic Honesty Policy; syllabi should also include a link to departmental standards where they exist.

2. Definitions and Examples

The examples and definitions given below are intended to clarify the standards by which academic honesty and academically honorable conduct are to be judged. The list is merely illustrative of the kinds of infractions that may occur, and it is not intended to be exhaustive. Moreover, the definitions and examples suggest conditions under which unacceptable behavior of the indicated types normally occurs; however, there may be unusual cases that fall outside these conditions which also will be judged unacceptable by the academic community.

Plagiarism. Plagiarism is presenting another person's work as one's own. Plagiarism includes any paraphrasing or summarizing of the works of another person without acknowledgment, including the submitting of another student's work as one's own. Plagiarism frequently involves a failure to acknowledge in the text, notes, or footnotes the quotation of the paragraphs, sentences, or even a few phrases written or spoken by someone else. The submission of research or completed papers or projects by someone else is plagiarism, as is the unacknowledged use of research sources gathered by someone else when that use is specifically forbidden by the faculty member. Failure to indicate the extent and nature of one's reliance on other sources is also a form of plagiarism. Failure to indicate the extent and nature of one's reliance on other sources is also a form of plagiarism. Any work, in whole or part, taken from the internet without properly referencing the corresponding URL (along with the author's name and title of the work, if available) may be considered plagiarism. Finally, there may be forms of plagiarism that are unique to an individual discipline or course, examples of which should be provided in advance by the faculty member. The student is responsible for understanding the legitimate use of sources, the appropriate ways of acknowledging academic, scholarly or creative indebtedness, and the consequences of violating this responsibility.

Cheating on Examinations. Cheating on examinations involves giving or receiving unauthorized help before, during, or after an examination. Examples of unauthorized help include the use of notes, texts, or “crib sheets” during an examination (unless specifically approved by the faculty member), or sharing information with another student during an examination (unless specifically approved by the faculty member). Other examples include intentionally allowing another student to view one’s own examination and collaboration before or after an examination if such collaboration is specifically forbidden by the faculty member.

Unauthorized Collaboration. Unauthorized collaboration means working with someone or getting assistance from someone (a classmate, friend, etc.) without specific permission from the instructor on any assignment (e.g., exam, paper, homework) that is turned in for a grade. It is also a violation of academic honesty to knowingly provide such assistance to another student. Collaborative work specifically authorized by a faculty member is allowed.

Falsification. It is a violation of academic honesty to misrepresent material or fabricate information in an academic exercise, assignment or proceeding (e.g., false or misleading citation of sources, the falsification of the results of experiments or of computer data, false or misleading information in an academic context in order to gain an unfair advantage).

Multiple Submissions. It is a violation of academic honesty to submit substantial portions of the same work for credit more than once without the explicit consent of the faculty member(s) to whom the material is submitted for additional credit. In cases in which there is a natural development of research or knowledge in a sequence of courses, use of prior work may be desirable, even required; however, the student is responsible for indicating in writing, as a part of such use, that the current work submitted for credit is cumulative in nature.

3. Information and Burden of Proof

In determining whether or not academic dishonesty has occurred, the standard which should be used is that guilt must be proven by a preponderance of the information. This means that if the information which indicates that academic dishonesty occurred produces a stronger impression and is more convincing as to its truth when weighed against opposing information, then academic dishonesty has been proved. In other words, the information does not have to be enough to free the mind from a reasonable doubt but must be sufficient to incline a reasonable and impartial mind to one side of the issue rather than to the other. Information as used in this statement can be any observation, admission, statement, or document which would either directly or circumstantially indicate that academic dishonesty has occurred.

4. Procedures for Resolving Matters of Academic Honesty

The following procedure is the only approved means for resolving matters of academic dishonesty, except for matters arising in the College of Law, which has its own Honor Code for handling such matters. It is available to all members of the academic community who wish to pursue an action against a student for academic dishonesty. A brief summary of the procedures is presented here; details of these procedures are found in the following sections.

1. The faculty member should discuss the incident with the student before filing a charge of academic dishonesty. The faculty member, in consultation with the department chair, prepares the Notice of Academic Dishonesty. The chair forwards the notice to the college dean, who sends the notification to the student by university email or by certified mail.
2. The student must appeal in writing to the College Dean within 10 business days of the date the email was sent or the certified mail was received if the student wishes to deny the finding of academic dishonesty.
3. If the student does not appeal within 10 business days, the College Dean forwards the notice of academic dishonesty to the Dean of Students.
4. If the student appeals the charges, a College Hearing Committee conducts a hearing and reports its findings to the College Dean regarding guilt or innocence. If the student is found not guilty, the faculty member is notified to assign an appropriate grade. If the student is found guilty, the dean forwards the notice of academic dishonesty to the dean of students.
5. Any recommendation for a disciplinary penalty and a challenge of that disciplinary penalty submitted by the student, if any, is reviewed by the University Senate Committee on Student Discipline. Based on the committee's recommendation, the provost makes a decision and takes action regarding any disciplinary sanction.
6. The dean of students maintains the disciplinary records on all findings of academic dishonesty and is responsible for forwarding notice of multiple findings to the Senate Committee on Student Discipline for review. Multiple findings may result in a disciplinary penalty even if one was not recommended by the faculty member.

5. Initiation of Action

If a member of the academic community believes that a student has engaged in academic dishonesty in a course, on a test, or as a part of an academic program, that individual is responsible for initiating action against the student or bringing the matter to the attention of an individual who may initiate action against the student (i.e., complete and submit a notification of academic honesty). In allegations of academic dishonesty involving course requirements, the course faculty member is required to initiate the action. If the alleged violation involves a departmental program requirement (e.g., comprehensive examination or language competency examination) or an institutionally-required test (e.g., test of Georgia/United States history or Georgia/United States constitutions), or if the individual who discovers the incident is not a faculty member, the individual should bring the matter to the attention of the faculty member and administrator who has responsibility of overseeing the activity (e.g., departmental chair, director of the Testing Office). If that administrator decides to bring charges of academic dishonesty against the student, then that administrator becomes the initiator. (Test proctors, laboratory assistants, and other individuals who are not course faculty members should bring any instances of alleged academic dishonesty to the attention of the course faculty member or their administrative superior. That individual, after weighing the information, may become the initiator by formally charging the student with academic dishonesty.) The channel of review, recommendation, and decision-making follows the administrative lines associated with the course or program requirement involved. In any instance, however, when the alleged incident does not occur within the context of a course, and when it is unclear which college should have jurisdiction in review and decision-making, any unit may initiate the case.

For the sake of brevity the following processing procedures are written from an academic unit/college perspective. Nonacademic units (i.e., Testing Center) would substitute appropriate supervisory personnel at the respective levels. Herein the initiator will be referred to as faculty member and the administrative unit head will be referred to as chair, designating the departmental chair. Dean will refer to appropriate administrative supervisory personnel at the overall college or division level.

When an allegation of academic dishonesty is made, the relevant dean will inform the Office of the Registrar to place a grade of GP (grade pending) for the student in the course involved. Withdrawal from a course does not preclude the imposition of penalties for academic dishonesty. While the matter of academic dishonesty is pending, the student will be allowed to continue in the course and register for upcoming semesters.

A. Penalties to be Imposed

Penalties to be imposed in incidents of academic dishonesty are classified as academic or disciplinary. Academic penalties include assignment of a failing grade for a particular course requirement, or for the course itself, or for other tests or program assignments. They are set by the faculty member, in consultation with the department chair.

Disciplinary penalties can be sought in addition to those considered academic and could include, but are not limited to, the following: suspension, expulsion, transcript annotations (temporary for a period of five years or permanent, as designated). Course credit earned at other institutions while on suspension may not be transferred to GSU. Disciplinary penalties can be requested by the faculty member, in consultation with the chair; they must be reviewed by the University Senate Committee on Student Discipline and they are set by the provost.

B. Action at Administrative Unit (Department and College Level)

As soon as possible after the alleged incident, the faculty member should discuss the matter with the student. This discussion should be conducted in a manner which protects the rights and confidentiality of students. If the faculty member believes that academic dishonesty has occurred, the faculty member, in consultation with the department chair, will determine the appropriate academic penalty. The faculty member and the chair will complete a notice of academic dishonesty form describing the incident and indicating the academic penalty imposed and any recommended disciplinary penalty. The chair will forward the notice of academic dishonesty, which includes a statement of the right to appeal, to the dean of the college, who delivers it either through the student's official university email address or by certified mail.

C. Student Action

The student will have 10 business days after receipt of the notice of charges of academic dishonesty (i.e., the date that the email was sent or that the certified mail was received) to submit a written appeal denying the charges and providing any rationale for the appeal. The appeal should be addressed to the college dean of the initiator. In the event the student is found guilty of academic dishonesty, the student does not have the right to appeal the academic penalty assessed by the faculty member, unless the student can prove that such penalty was arbitrarily imposed or applied in a discriminatory manner.

If the student wishes to challenge a disciplinary penalty, the student must submit a written rationale for challenging the disciplinary penalty within 10 business days of receipt of the notice of charges of academic dishonesty. The statement of challenge should be addressed to the college dean. The college dean will forward the challenge to the dean of students for inclusion in the review of the disciplinary penalty by the University Senate Committee on Student Discipline. All disciplinary penalties are automatically reviewed by the University Senate Committee on Student Discipline, regardless of student appeal.

If the student has also filed an appeal denying the charges of academic dishonesty, any review of disciplinary penalty recommended will be delayed pending review of the charges of academic dishonesty by the college hearing committee.

D. College Action

1. No Appeal by the Student. If the student does not submit a written appeal to the college dean or challenge the disciplinary penalty within 10 business days, the college dean will notify the chair/faculty member to post any pending grade(s) immediately. The college dean will then forward the notice of academic dishonesty to the dean of students for inclusion in the student's disciplinary file. Any recommendation of a disciplinary penalty will also be forwarded to the dean of students for appropriate review by the Senate Committee on Student Discipline.

2. Appeal by the Student.

a. If the student submits a written appeal of the charges of academic honesty, the college dean will forward the charges to the chair of a college hearing committee and will notify the faculty member to set forth in writing a comprehensive response describing the incident of academic dishonesty. This statement will be presented to the committee and to the student at least five (5) business days prior to the hearing.

b. If the student wishes to challenge the disciplinary penalty without appealing the charges of academic honesty, a college hearing committee will not be convened; instead, the college dean will forward the challenge to the dean of students for inclusion in the review of the disciplinary penalty by the University Senate Committee on Student Discipline.

3. Student Hearing Committee Process. Guidelines that Govern the Hearing of the Appeal by the College Student Hearing Committee

a. Within ten (10) business days after the committee receives the charges of academic dishonesty, a hearing date will be determined. The committee will notify the faculty member and the student of the time, date, and the place of the hearing. Copies of all charges of academic dishonesty and related materials for the hearing will be provided to the student at least five (5) business days in advance of the hearing.

b. The faculty member and the student will be allowed to make oral presentations, call witnesses, and present any documentary information regarding the incident in question. The hearing will be recorded on audio tape. The hearing will not be open to observers.

c. At the conclusion of the hearing, the committee will meet in closed session and will make its recommendation as to the guilt or innocence of the student based on a preponderance of information with respect to the charge of academic dishonesty. The committee chair will forward to the college dean its findings and recommendations in a written report within five (5) business days of the hearing.

4. College Decision on Appeals. Within five (5) business days of receiving the committee's written report, the college dean will make the final decision regarding guilt or innocence. The college dean will notify all appropriate parties of the decision.

If the college dean finds the student not guilty, the matter will be terminated and no notice of charges will be filed with the dean of students. The college dean will notify the chair to post the pending course grade promptly and will notify the registrar to remove the GP (grade pending) on the student's transcript.

If the college dean finds the student guilty, the notice of charges of academic dishonesty will be forwarded to the dean of students for inclusion in the student's disciplinary file. The academic penalty stipulated by the faculty member will be imposed. The college dean will notify the chair to insure that any pending grade is posted promptly. The college dean will notify the registrar to remove the GP (grade pending) on the student's transcript if only an academic penalty was involved.

If a disciplinary penalty has been recommended, the college dean will notify the registrar to continue the GP (grade pending) annotation until the disciplinary penalty can be reviewed by the University Senate Committee on Student Discipline.

5. Appeal of the Decision of the Dean. If the student or initiator wishes to appeal the decision of the college dean regarding guilt or innocence of the charges of academic dishonesty, the student or initiator may appeal to the provost. The subsequent appeal route would be to the president and then the Board of Regents. The student or initiator must submit a written statement of appeal to the provost within 10 business days of notification of the dean's decision. The basis of the appeal must be on the grounds that the decision was arbitrary, capricious, or discriminatory.

E. UNIVERSITY SENATE COMMITTEE ON STUDENT DISCIPLINE ACTION

In cases where a disciplinary penalty has been recommended, the Senate Committee on Student Discipline will conduct a hearing to review the disciplinary penalty. The committee will review the faculty member's notice of academic dishonesty and the student's statement of challenge of the disciplinary penalty, if any. The faculty member and the student will be allowed to appear at the hearing to discuss the imposition of disciplinary penalties. Only the recommendation concerning the disciplinary penalty to be imposed will be considered by this committee. Issues of guilt or innocence are determined at the college level (see II.4 C and D above).

The Senate Committee will conduct the hearing in accordance with its regular hearing procedures. Copies of these procedures may be obtained from the Provost's Office.

The Senate Committee on Student Discipline will provide its recommendation within five (5) business days of its hearing to the provost regarding appropriateness of the disciplinary penalty recommended by the college and/or whether other disciplinary penalties are to be imposed in addition to or in lieu of those already recommended by the college.

F. PROVOST ACTION

1. Decision of the Provost. The role of the provost in handling student appeals regarding the charge of academic honesty has been explained (see II.E.5 above). Based on the recommendation, the Provost will render a decision within ten (10) business days of receipt of the recommendation of the Senate Committee. The provost will notify the student, the referring dean, the department chair and the faculty member of the Senate Committee's recommendations and of the provost's decision. At that time the provost will also notify the registrar to annotate the student's transcript, if necessary.

2. Appeal of the Decision of the Provost. If the student wishes to appeal the decision of the provost regarding the imposition of a disciplinary penalty, the student may appeal to the president, and then to the Board of Regents. The student must submit a written statement of appeal to the president within ten (10) business days of notification of the provost's decision. The basis for such an appeal must be on the grounds that the decision was arbitrary, capricious, or discriminatory.

G. STUDENTS INVOLVED IN TWO OR MORE INCIDENTS OF ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

A student is subject to disciplinary action in addition to any already undertaken once it is determined that the student has been found guilty in a previous incident of academic dishonesty. In such cases, the dean of students will forward a report to the University Senate Committee on Student Discipline regarding the incidents of academic dishonesty which have been reported. The dean of students is responsible for initiating this report within ten (10) business days of notification of the proceedings of any subsequent finding of academic dishonesty.

The University Senate Committee on Student Discipline will review the report of the dean of students. The student may submit supplemental written documents for the committee's review and may request to appear before the committee in its deliberations. After reviewing the matter, the committee will send a report to the provost with the recommendation for disciplinary penalty to be imposed. The provost will proceed as in G above.

H. GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES FOR ACADEMIC MATTERS

1. Each of the undergraduate colleges has stated policies for settling grievances of students for academic matters. Refer to the office of the dean of each college for policies.
2. Obligation to Report Suspected Violations. Members of the academic community, students, faculty and staff are expected to report all instances of academic dishonesty to the appropriate authorities. The procedures for such reporting are on file in the offices of the deans of each college.
3. Penalties. The University takes the matter of academic honesty most seriously. Penalties for violations vary, but include both suspension and permanent expulsion from the institution.

1382 Student Complaints, Petitions for Policy Waivers and Variances, and Appeals

The appeals procedure for students will follow different courses depending on the nature of the student's appeal. Please refer to University Information Section 1050.80 under Policies and Disclosures in this catalog or visit <http://enrollment.gsu.edu/assistance/> online for details.

1400 University Degree Requirements and Graduation

A degree will be awarded only to a student who meets both the university requirements and the standards of performance, academic requirements, and residence requirements of their college and of their degree program. See below for a complete explanation of university requirements. Consult your college's chapter of this catalog for your degree program's requirements. Once a degree has been conferred that academic record is considered closed.

1405 Learning Outcomes

Learning outcomes are the goals students achieve in their programs of study. They represent the knowledge, skills and attitudes that students should gain to successfully complete the requirements of a course, major, and degree. A special set of general learning outcomes cover the goals for all students at the university. Students begin mastery of the university's learning outcomes in the core (first two years of study) and continue to develop these skills throughout their major. The learning outcomes for all students are:

Area A1. Written Communication

Students produce well-organized written communications that exhibit logical thinking and organization, use appropriate style for audience, and meet conventional standards of usage.

Area A2. Mathematics

Students demonstrate the ability to interpret and analyze quantitative information; to apply mathematical principles and techniques; and to use mathematical models to solve applied problems.

Area B. Institutional Foundations

Students demonstrate effective critical thinking skills through interpreting, presenting or evaluating ideas.

Area C. Humanities/Fine Arts

Students can effectively evaluate the role of the humanities, fine arts, and languages in the human experience.

Area D. Natural and Computational Sciences

Students apply scientific and computational reasoning and methods of inquiry to explain natural phenomena and/or analyze quantitative information and solve applied problems.

Area E. Social Sciences

Students effectively analyze the complexity of human behavior, and how historical, economic, political, social, and/or spatial relationships develop, persist, and/or change.

1410 Core Curriculum Requirements

Georgia State University requires all students seeking an associate's or bachelor's degree to satisfactorily complete a basic core of general education subjects. Georgia State's core curriculum provides students with a broad background in general education and reflects the special mission of this university as an urban research institution with an international, multi-ethnic, and multi-cultural focus. Because of ongoing evaluation of the effectiveness of the core curriculum, changes may occur periodically in its configuration. Every attempt will be made to notify students when such changes occur.

Areas A through E of the core curriculum are designed to provide students with a wide array of courses as a means of gaining a basic education in the liberal arts and assisting students in their choice of a major. Students should normally choose among the courses in areas A to E and select a major before taking courses in Area F. Students who have chosen a major before the completion of Areas A through E should review the departmental sections of the catalog to see specific recommendations for course selection. Some programs, such as art, music, and nursing, require students to begin major-related coursework in their freshman year to meet course sequencing requirements.

There are restricted choices for some majors in Areas A and D. Students must follow the degree-specific requirements listed in Areas A and D for the programs they are pursuing.

Students who are planning to transfer to Georgia State from other institutions in the University System of Georgia should note that this is Georgia State's core curriculum and is to be followed by students who choose to complete the core curriculum at this university. The core curriculum at a student's current University System of Georgia (USG) institution may contain different courses. However, Georgia State will grant credit for any approved core curriculum course taken at a student's current University System of Georgia home institution even if it is different from the course offered at Georgia State.

The core curriculum completed at one USG institution is fully transferable to another system institution for the same major. However, specific situations may result in minor exceptions to this general rule. Students seeking credit for USG core curriculum courses that were not accepted during Georgia State's admissions process or who believe that the system rules of transferability of the core curriculum are not being honored can make an appeal. Appeals should be initiated by filling out a form available in the University Advisement Center, 25 Park Place, Suite 1300 and 1400.

- MATH 2212 Calculus of One Variable II (4)
- MATH 2215 Multivariate Calculus (4)
- MATH 2420 Discrete Mathematics (3)

If a 4 hour course is selected, the additional hour will be counted in Area F or Area G (for bachelor's students).

Students should select mathematics courses that are appropriate for their preferred degree program. Students are strongly advised to consult with an academic advisor before selecting a mathematics course. Specific recommendations may also be listed in the catalog section for the degree program.

Majors in sciences and mathematics programs (i.e., biology, computer science, chemistry, geology A.S., geoscience B.S., mathematics, medical technology, neuroscience, physics, radiologic sciences, and sciences/math education) are required to take Math 1112, 1113, or 2211 in Area A2. MATH 1112 is recommended for majors in computer science, mathematics, neuroscience, and physics. MATH 1113 is recommended for majors in biology, chemistry, geology A.S., geoscience B.S., medical technology, radiologic sciences, and sciences/math education. Engineering students are required to take MATH 2211 in Area A2.

Students who have earned 30 hours but have not completed Area A2 must enroll in the next course necessary to make progress toward completing this Area in every semester in which they take classes. For students with Learning Support requirements in mathematics, taking the required Learning Support course counts as making progress toward completing Area A2.

Note: A math placement test is recommended for all students who do not have credit for an Area A math course and is required for students who wish to take MATH 1111, College Algebra, or higher. See counselingcenter.gsu.edu/testing/ for more information.

1410.60 Area F: Lower Division Major Requirements (18)

Courses in Area F, which constitute the remaining 18 semester hours in the core curriculum, may be found in the college sections on degree requirements. These listings should also be consulted to see if there are any courses recommended from among the offerings in areas A to E. Students seeking a B.S. in mathematics and secondary school teaching will be required to take an additional nine semester hours of introductory education courses above the general requirement of 18 semester hours.

1415 Area G & Beyond

Courses beyond the core curriculum that are required by the college and/or major department constitute the remaining course degree requirements and are comprised of courses related to a major, major requirements, courses in a minor or concentration, and electives. Consult the college chapters in this catalog for a full explanation of these requirements.

1420 Regents Reading and Writing Requirements

Effective March 9, 2010, Georgia State students were granted an exemption by the University System of Georgia and are no longer required to take the Regents' Test. This exemption does not necessarily apply should a student transfer out of GSU to another institution in the University System of Georgia. Students should contact their new institution about its Regents' Test policy. More information can be found at the University System of Georgia website.

1425 Federal and State Constitution and History Requirements

As required by Georgia law, all students must demonstrate knowledge of the history and constitutions of the United States and of Georgia. To demonstrate this knowledge, students must pass HIST 2110 and POLS 1101 at Georgia State, have previously completed these courses at a University System of Georgia institution, or pass the proficiency examination in these legislative requirements available for students at the Testing Center. See the Testing Center for additional information counselingcenter.gsu.edu/testing/tests/historyconstitution/.

Students who transfer in American Government or Constitution courses from a non system school will be required to take the Georgia History and Constitution exams or retake the courses at Georgia State.

Transfer students who have fulfilled any or all parts of this requirement will be advised of that fact at the time of admission and evaluation of transfer credit.

Note: If a student meets this requirement with all four examinations, the student must select additional course(s) from Section 3, Social Science Foundations in Core Area E.

1430 Critical Thinking Through Writing (CTW) Requirement

All students seeking baccalaureate degrees are required to complete a critical thinking through writing (CTW) requirement which includes a CTW course in their major. Students should consult the section of this Catalog that describes their major for its CTW requirements. CTW classes are unique to Georgia State University and therefore students cannot transfer equivalent credit from other universities.

1435 Critical Thinking, United States, and Global Issues Requirements

Critical Thinking (CT): Students are required to demonstrate competence in critical thinking. Students satisfy these requirements by earning a passing grade in PHIL 1010, [Spch 1000], PERS 2001, PERS 2002, or PERS 2003. (See Section 1410.20)

United States (US): Students are required to demonstrate basic knowledge of the United States. Students satisfy these requirements by earning a passing grade in HIST 2110 or POLS 1101. (See Section 1410.50)

Global Issues (GL): Students are required to demonstrate basic knowledge of the global issues. Students satisfy these requirements by earning a passing grade in ECON 2100, HIST 1111, HIST 1112 or POLS 2401. (See Section 1410.50)

1437 Major Requirement and Minors Policy

In order to graduate, students must complete at least one major. Students may take a minor but they may have no more than two minors per degree. Double majors may have no more than two minors. Dual degree students may have no more than two minors for each degree (for a total of four).

Certain majors require a specific minor. This requirement is listed in the section of this Catalog that lists the requirements of that major.

1440 Academic Residence Requirement

Academic residence is defined as being enrolled in one or more courses at Georgia State University; this is not to be confused with status as a legal resident of the State of Georgia for fee determination purposes. The minimum academic residence requirement for each baccalaureate degree is as follows:

- The candidate must earn 39 semester hours at Georgia State in courses numbered 3000 or above with an average grade of at least a C (2.00 GPA); and
- At least one-half of the hours comprising the major must be taken at Georgia State.

Up to 9 hours of 3000/4000 credit earned at another institution as part of an official Georgia State University joint degree, dual degree, or exchange program may be counted toward the academic residency requirement.

Transfer credit, credit by examination, credit by validation, CLEP credit, AP credit, IB credit, and courses specifically excluded by university policy cannot be used to meet the academic residence requirement.

1450 D Grade Credit Restriction

Georgia State University will allow no more than 12 semester hours of D grades to apply toward degree requirements of a baccalaureate program of study. This 12 semester hours includes both credit completed at Georgia State (resident credit) and transfer credit. Certain degree programs may designate a lesser number of D grades as acceptable. Consult your college's chapter of this catalog for stricter requirements.

1460 GPA Requirement

In order to earn any Georgia State University baccalaureate degree a student must have at least a 2.00 institutional grade point average. If a student takes a course multiple times at another institution or at Georgia State, the grade earned in the final attempt will determine the applicability of the course to the degree requirements. (For example, some programs require a grade of C or better in a particular course). For details on taking a course more than once, see Section 1330.35.

1470 No I Requirement

No student may graduate with a grade of "I" (Incomplete) on his or her record for that degree program. All permanent grades for incomplete grades and grade changes for previous semesters should be received in the Office of the Registrar, Academic Records, in writing at least one week prior to the end of classes for the term. It is the student's responsibility to see to it that incomplete grades are properly recorded in the appropriate offices by this deadline.

1480 Semester Hours Requirement

The curriculum for a baccalaureate degree at Georgia State University requires a minimum of 120 semester hours. Some programs require a higher number of semester hours. Students should consult the description of their program in this catalog to determine the number of semester hours required. Students must earn 25 percent or more of the credit hours required for the degree through Georgia State direct instruction.

The semester hours for graduation are calculated as follows:

Semester hours included:

- Academic credit (transfer and Georgia State) in which grades A, B, C, D, S, or P are earned (except as excluded below) and
- Credit earned through the College-Level Examination Program (CLEP), Advanced Placement (AP), International Baccalaureate (IB), and any other approved credit-by-examination

Semester hours excluded:

- All hours earned in courses that are repeated except the final attempt
- Hours earned in courses with course numbers below 1000
- Courses (transfer and Georgia State) that are required to meet College Preparatory Curriculum deficiencies
- GSU 1010, GSU 1050, and GSU 1060
- Physical education “skills” courses KH 1010, KH 1020, KH 1030 (previous course prefixes: HPRD, HPRS, PE)

Questions may be directed to the Graduation Office, Citizen’s Trust Building, 75 Piedmont Avenue, registrar.gsu.edu/graduation/.

1490.10 Application for Graduation

All candidates for a degree must file a formal application for graduation with the Graduation Office. Students apply online and pay the graduation fee by logging into PAWS. To access the Graduation Application, select the Enrollment tab. The Application for Graduation link is located under the Updates/Requests Student Record section of the page. Once the link is selected, step-by-step instructions will be provided regarding the application process.

Students should apply two semesters prior to their anticipated term of completion. For undergraduates this is normally when a student has earned 90 credit hours. Baccalaureate candidates must apply by the following deadlines before their expected term of graduation:

Term of Expected Graduation	Deadline
Fall Semester	June 15
Spring Semester	September 15
Summer Semester	January 15

This allows the university to audit the student’s records while there is time for the student to be notified and any issues to be addressed.

The Graduation Office will inform the student’s college when the application is filed. The Office of Academic Assistance of the student’s college will conduct an audit and inform the student of any remaining requirements. The Graduation Office conducts an independent audit the expected semester of graduation to ensure that all degree requirements will be satisfied.

Once a student applies for graduation by the deadline, the student can change their graduation date to a future date by completing the Change of Graduation form, located on the graduation web site. Official transcripts of prior term course grades from institutions other than Georgia State University must be in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions by the last day of registration of the semester of graduation. Any other documentation pertaining to non-Georgia State courses which is needed to determine if transfer credit can be granted (such as catalog descriptions or course outlines) must be received by the student's Office of Academic Assistance by the last day of registration of the semester of graduation.

Students who wish to be transient students or who wish to participate in cross-registration for their remaining course work will graduate one semester after the term in which the last course to be transferred to Georgia State University has been taken. Such students must obtain advance permission to complete their degree elsewhere from their college's Office of Academic Assistance.

1490.20 Graduation with Honors

Scholastic recognition at graduation will be given to each baccalaureate student who maintained a high grade point average. The specific award is based on the cumulative grade point average that the student has during their last term at Georgia State University.

Cum Laude	3.50-3.69
Magna Cum Laude	3.70-3.89
Summa Cum Laude	3.90-4.00 or higher

Honors noted on diplomas or transcripts are based on the cumulative grade point average at Georgia State University after the last term grade point averages are calculated.

1490.25 Graduation Ceremonies

University Commencement Ceremonies are held at the end of the fall and spring academic terms. Individual academic areas may hold convocations at the end of both the fall and spring terms. You should consult with your academic college. In order to participate in the University Commencement ceremony, a student must have completed all degree requirements in accordance with rules and regulations found in this catalog. Students who have registered for all remaining degree requires in the summer and have applied for summer degree conferral may elect to participate in the spring ceremony. However, degree conferral will not occur until successful completion of the summer term. While the University holds only two Commencement ceremonies, degrees are conferred at the end of each term; fall, spring and summer, and diplomas are mailed approximately four weeks following degree conferral. Diplomas are mailed to the student's mailing address of record. Students should keep their mailing addresses updated through PAWS at paws.gsu.edu. Allow four weeks following the official date of degree conferral for delivery of the diploma.

Students who indicated on the graduation application that they are attending the commencement ceremony are to purchase their regalia from the Georgia State University Bookstore. The bookstore can be reached at 404-413-9700, by email at bookstore@gsu.edu, or online at <http://services.gsu.edu/service/university-bookstore/>. Commencement photography is also available. Complete information will be sent to degree candidates by the midpoint of their scheduled semester of graduation. If a student later decides not to attend the ceremony, he or she must notify the Graduation Office at 404-413-2248 or email at graduation@gsu.edu.

1490.30 Exit Examinations

The university and the student's college may require the completion of additional competency tests appropriate to a student's program of study prior to graduation. Information relative to these tests is available in the student's college.

Any student failing to demonstrate required proficiency on any competency test may be required to complete such additional courses as are necessary to correct the deficiency. Courses required and completed under this provision may be with or without academic credit and may be required without regard to prior course credits in these disciplines.

1490.40 Posthumous Undergraduate Degrees

A posthumous undergraduate degree shall be awarded at the request of or with concurrence of the family or friends of the deceased if, at the time of death, the student was 15 or fewer semester hours short of the semester hours required to complete the degree the student was seeking and the student had a minimum Georgia State University cumulative GPA of 2.00. Additionally, a posthumous degree may be awarded through the normal process of petition for a waiver of the university's graduation requirements. A request for a posthumous degree should be made to the Office of the Dean of Students.

1500 Student Life and Services

Georgia State University is committed to the idea that total education involves more than academic pursuit. While students are maturing intellectually, they also are developing physically, psychologically, socially, aesthetically, sexually and spiritually. The philosophy of student development is embodied in the areas of responsibility of the office of the Vice President for Student Affairs and the Division of Student Affairs.

The Division of Student Affairs provides a network of support and encouragement for students through counseling, advocacy, advisement, recreation, health, leadership training and opportunities for personal growth. Further, the division seeks to provide an enriching environment that allows for and encourages cross-cultural interaction, an appreciation of diversity and ethical decision making.

At the end of the term, students simply bring or ship the textbook back to the University Bookstore. Renting instead of buying can save you more than 50% on average up front, as opposed to having to wait until buyback cash at the end of the term. The University Bookstore also buys used textbooks in some cases paying as much as 50% of the purchase price. The University Bookstore offers a variety of name brand computer products including Acer and Samsung computers built to university specifications, educational discounted computer software, supplies, and related class needs. Officially licensed Georgia State apparel and gifts are also sold in the University Bookstore. Purchases can also be made online at www.gsubookstore.com. There, screening assesses the basic communication skills adults are expected to exhibit during communication in professional settings: hearing, articulation, fluency, appropriate grammar, comprehension of spoken language, and the ability to use appropriate voice quality. Completion of referral, evaluation, and the remedial process is necessary for continuation in the program.

- Students must have demonstrated competence in mathematics and science by successfully completing Area D (Science, Mathematics, and Technology) of the undergraduate core curriculum.

Students interested in teacher education are encouraged to take the GACE Program Admission Assessment as soon as they complete Area A of the undergraduate core curriculum.

Additional criteria, including departmental requirements, may be added. Students are assigned an advisor to plan an appropriate course of study within the guidelines provided by this catalog. Entry into teacher education is a prerequisite for courses designated “(TE)” in the course description section.

1610 Educational Field Experiences and Student Teaching

Classroom Observations

Prior to acceptance into a teacher education program, students enrolled in courses which require observation experiences in a school setting will complete the online application for observation placements.

Prior to completing the online application, students must complete a criminal background check through the university-approved vendor. Instructions for the background check are provided at <http://education.gsu.edu/student-services/office-of-field-placements/criminal-background-checks/>.

Students can access the online application at <http://education.gsu.edu/student-services/office-of-field-placements/classroom-observations/>.

If the course requires the student to complete an observation in a community setting as designated by the course instructors, students do not need to submit an observation application to the Office of Field Placements and may manage their own placement request.

Policy Regarding Tort Liability

Teacher education and counseling students are required to purchase tort liability prior to placements in field experience courses, practica, or student teaching. Students will be expected to show proof of coverage to program coordinators/supervisors prior to field placements.

Educational Field Experiences and Student Teaching

Educational field experiences and student teaching are clinical in nature. They are designed to complement the humanistic, behavioral, and pedagogical studies in teacher education and to offer experiences in a variety of settings.

At the baccalaureate level, a sequence of clinical and field experiences is planned to complement the professional education courses included in the students programs of study.

The Opening School Experience provides practical experience in the school and classroom setting during the week of preplanning and the first week of school. Students learn effective procedures necessary for setting up a classroom at the beginning of the year. This takes place at the beginning of the students' senior year prior to the student teaching experience. Students in early childhood education and health and physical education must apply for this experience in advance and must register for the course during early registration of the fall term of the year in which the experience takes place. Students should check with their departments for the deadlines to apply for their Open School Experience.

Student teaching is the culmination of the clinical field experiences. Student teaching involves full participation by the students for at least one full academic term. Because student teaching constitutes a full load of academic credit, it is recommended that the students attempt neither regular employment nor other courses during the term of student teaching.

To be eligible for enrollment in student teaching, students must be admitted to teacher education and have:

- successfully completed the specific required courses of the program;
- earned an overall grade-point average no less than 2.50 (2.75 for early childhood education majors) the term prior to the student teaching experience;
- earned a minimum grade-point average of 2.50 (2.75 for early childhood education majors) in the major teaching area courses and in professional education courses. (Students who earn a grade of "C-," "D," or "F" in a major teaching field or professional education course must repeat that course and earn a grade of "C" or higher. The grade of "C," "D," or "F" will still be included in the overall grade-point average.) Early Childhood Education and Middle Level Education majors must earn a grade of "B" or higher in majors courses specified in the program of study.
- must complete the requirements to obtain a Pre-Service Certificate through the Georgia Professional Standards Commission which includes a criminal background check and the ethics module.
- will not be able to begin their field placement(s) until they receive their Pre-Service certificate number from the GaPSC and provide proof to the Office of Field Placements.

The Professional Education Faculty believes that all students who are in field experiences must be personally and psychologically equipped as well as academically prepared. Students may be denied entry to field experiences based on departmental prerequisites or the professional judgment of faculty based on observed performance and behavior. This policy is based on the premise that educators should be part of the evaluation of the students' ability to function adequately and safely in classrooms and that educators have a right and responsibility to make such judgments prior to placing students in schools.

The practicum or student teaching supervisor has the authority to withdraw students from their classroom experience if their performance constitutes a detriment to the children in the class. If such removal is necessary, students will be given an F in each corresponding course.

Applications and deadlines for student teaching are posted at <http://education.gsu.edu/student-services/office-of-field-placements/>.

Failure to submit applications on or before prescribed deadline dates will result in a delay of one or more terms in student teaching or practicum placement. Further information regarding educational field experiences, practicum, and student teaching experiences for each major is available from the appropriate department in the College of Arts and Science or the College of Education and Human Development.

An additional lab fee of $125 will be charged at the time students register for the student teaching experience. Failure to comply with the notice requirement described herein may result in sanctions up to and including immediate withdrawal from the University. Failure to comply with the criminal background check and release of information requirement described herein will result in immediate removal from all current field placements and courses and denial of future requests for field placement.

1615 Teacher Certification

Teachers and other educational personnel must be certified by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission to be employed in the state's elementary, middle, and secondary public schools. Private elementary and secondary schools may also require state certification for employment.

Completion of Teacher Education Requirements: A requirement for initial certification in Georgia is completion of teacher education requirements. This may be accomplished in one of the following ways at Georgia State University. (Options vary by program.) In all cases, “Entry into Teacher Education” criteria apply.

- Students may complete an approved educator preparation degree program as described in the College of Arts and Sciences or the College of Education and Human Development chapter of this catalog.
- Students may complete or present a non-educator preparation bachelor’s degree and all additional components of an approved educator preparation degree program.

The College of Education and Human Development offers nine (9) Master of Arts in Teaching (M.A.T.) programs which prepare students for initial certification in the following fields: Early Childhood Education, English Education, English to Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL) Education, Health and Physical Education, Mathematics Education, Middle Level Education, Science Education, Social Studies Education, and Special Education. The College of Education and Human Development’s Office of Academic Assistance and Graduate Admissions can issue the recommendation to the prospective teacher shortly after Commencement following the term of completion of requirements. Instructions for applying for certification can be found here: <http://education.gsu.edu/student-services/office-of-academic-assistance/applying-for-certification/certification-requirements/>.

1625 Application for Teacher Certification

Prospective teachers must apply for teacher certification. It is the students’ responsibility to complete the certification application submission process with the College of Education and Human Development. The Office of Academic Assistance and Graduate Admissions will work with the student to issue the recommendation to the Georgia PSC shortly after Commencement following the term of completion of requirements. 1630 Georgia Assessments for the Certification of Educators (GACE)

This information is for candidates seeking admission to or enrolled in a teacher preparation program. The state of Georgia requires such candidates to take various GACE and Educator Ethics assessments as part of the educator certification process. These computer-delivered assessments have been developed by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (GaPSC) and are delivered by the Education Testing Service (ETS). You will take these tests at different times.

Program Admission and Content Assessments:

Program Admission Assessment [Combined Test I, II, and III (700)] is an admission requirement (unless candidate meets qualifications for exemption – scroll down to “Options to Satisfy the Program Admission Assessment Requirement”). When registering for the assessment, program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Content Assessment (different content assessments for each program) tests your content knowledge and is taken after enrollment and prior to program completion. You will receive specific information regarding this test as you near completion of your program (required for certification).

Georgia Educator Ethics Assessment:

Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (350) Assessment is an admission requirement. Completion of this assessment is required for admission, though there is no “Pass/Fail” grade assigned. Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Exit (360) Assessment is taken after enrollment and prior to program completion. You will receive specific information regarding this test as you near completion of your program (required for certification).

How to Register:

Educational Testing Service (ETS) is the test supplier for the GACE and for the Georgia Educator Ethics Assessment.

Important Step: you must first establish a MyPSC account at the MyPSC website. As you create your account, you will indicate a different “Reason for Testing” specific to the test and your student status:

-Program Admission — select Reason for Testing #1 . Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

-Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (or Program Exit) — select Reason for Testing #7 (Be sure to review the 4-step registration process on the link provided here: Register for the Georgia Educator Ethics Assessment). Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment. NOTE: Step #3 of registration — check your email SPAM folder for the email from ETS. Step #4 of registration is tricky — you are now in the ETS portal (not MyPSC) and you must create a new account under “Registration”...choose the option: Test Takers.

– Content Assessments – Undergraduate students (or graduate students in Educational Leadership, School Psychology, or Counseling): select Reason for Testing #2

– Content Assessments – Graduate students (except in Educational Leadership, School Psychology, or Counseling): select Reason for Testing #3 (students in Educational Leadership, School Psychology, or Counseling select Reason for Testing #2)

1631 edTPA

Teacher preparation candidates will be required to pass an externally scored portfolio assessment (edTPA) to be eligible for certification. This portfolio assessment requires candidates to submit evidence of ability to teach in a subject-specific classroom. Candidates must develop and teach a unit of instruction and then submit materials based on three to five lessons from this unit. The portfolio includes video clips of student-teacher interactions, lesson plans, learner work samples, and candidates' reflective analysis. The cost of the edTPA portfolio submission is $300.00, which will be associated with student teaching courses.

In the event a candidate has passed their student teaching/practica course included in their teacher preparation program but fails to pass edTPA, candidates may be eligible to graduate but not be eligible for certification. Students in this situation may enroll in EDUC 4750 Clinical Experience for one credit hour to participate in a practicum experience to create and implement a unit of instruction and complete a new edTPA portfolio.

1635 Teacher Education Core

The teacher education core is common to all educator preparation programs in the College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Education and Human Development. The core is comprised of the following three courses:

Honors sections of a number of regular courses, many of which meet core curriculum requirements (Areas A – E), are offered throughout the academic year. In addition, students in the Honors College can enroll in upper division courses, special interdisciplinary courses, and research and write an honors thesis. Students in the college may earn honors recognitions that are noted on their diplomas and transcripts, and pursue additional opportunities such as internships and study abroad experiences to enrich the quality of their education. Honors students may also take advantage of dedicated facilities, a dedicated librarian, priority registration, merit scholarships, graduate and professional school advising, national fellowship and scholarship advising, special travel and study abroad opportunities, and specialized housing in the Honors Living Learning Community in the University Commons.

Admission

Admission to the Honors College is competitive and limited to the top 5-8% of the bachelor degree-seeking fall freshmen class. Entering freshmen should have an outstanding high school grade-point average combined with excellent SAT or ACT scores and a record of meaningful community service, leadership, and extra-curricular activity. The school's commitment to community partnerships grew out of collaborative efforts with community stake holders from a variety of social service agencies in the greater Atlanta area. Together, they developed a program based on the following principles:

- "Partnership is critical for human service delivery and building communities;
- Challenges facing individuals and communities are interrelated and that solutions must be as well;
- Students should commit themselves to addressing social and economic justice issues that test the spirit of individuals and communities;
- Students should be educated for leadership roles to facilitate partnerships; and
- The program must continue to be relevant to the professional lives of students and practitioners and to the needs of diverse communities." (Wertheimer et al. 2004)

2020 Academic Regulations

2020.05 Grades of C in Major/Minor/Concentration

With the exception of Criminal Justice, grades in all majors, concentrations, minors and policy/business area requirements, where applicable, require a grade of C or higher. The Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology accepts grades of C- to count toward its major and minor coursework.

2020.10 Transient Status at Other Institutions

Students enrolled in the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies who wish to take course work in transient status at another institution, whether as a full-time or part-time student, must have prior written approval from the Office of Academic Assistance if they wish to apply the credit to a degree program. A transient petition form should be submitted prior to registration.

2020.20 Directed Readings

Directed Readings courses in the various undergraduate programs are intended to allow students of proven performance to do independent study in a specific subject area. Enrollment in a directed readings course requires prior consent of the instructor. A maximum of one directed readings course may count toward fulfillment of degree requirements, and the course may not be substituted for a core course requirement. The subject of the independent study will be determined in consultation with the faculty member responsible for supervising the independent work. A faculty member may seek the assessment of a second faculty reader on any directed readings paper. Letter grades, rather than grades of S or U (satisfactory or unsatisfactory), will be assigned for all directed readings courses.

2020.30 Modification of Degree Requirements

Students may petition for modifications of the degree requirements of the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies. Degree modification petitions are granted only in the case of extenuating circumstances and only when an educationally acceptable substitution is proposed. Petition forms and information are available online at the following link: aysps.gsu.edu/oaas/student-forms.

Under certain conditions, an undergraduate or postbaccalaureate student may be admitted into a graduate course. To be eligible, an undergraduate student must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or higher and be within 18 semester hours of graduation; a postbaccalaureate student must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.5 or higher in his or her undergraduate work as well as any graduate work taken at this or any other institution. Information is available at the following link: aysps.gsu.edu/oaas/student-forms

Eligibility does not guarantee admission into a course. The interested student must apply through the Office of Academic Assistance for special graduate student status. Approval of that status requires the concurrence of the student's academic advisor and the director of the Office of Academic Assistance. Once the status has been approved, the student is permitted to enroll in a graduate course only with the permission of the instructor and the chair of the department in which the course is taught.

2070 Academic Departments and Faculty

The Andrew Young School of Policy Studies is composed of four academic departments: Criminal Justice and Criminology, Economics, Public Management and Policy, and the School of Social Work.

Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology

1201 Urban Life Building
404/413-1020
criminaljustice.gsu.edu

Richard T. Wright, Chair
Mark D. Reed, Undergraduate Program Coordinator

Prefix: CRJU

The Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree in criminal justice provides a broad range of study into the criminal justice and legal fields. In particular, the program offers two separate curriculum tracks: 1) the crime and justice track and 2) the legal track. Course offerings in each track, along with the completion of their internship experience, prepare students for their professional career in criminal justice or law. The Master of Science (M.S.) degree in criminal justice represents a broad range of study designed to meet the academic needs of students seeking further graduate education, pre-professional students, and those already employed in the wide range of agencies that make up the criminal justice and juvenile justice systems. The Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degree program in criminal justice and criminology provides additional in-depth training in criminological theory, as well as advanced statistics and research methodology. The Ph.D. program prepares students for careers in research, teaching, management, and community service.

In each degree program, the focus of study includes the justice system as well as the nature, causes, and control of criminal behavior. The requirements of degree programs in this department stress an integrated view of the criminal justice system. In this view, all components of the system interrelate with all other components to provide coordinated justice administration. The curriculum is designed to give students an understanding of the developing theoretical knowledge base in this area of study, while simultaneously providing an understanding of how each of the component parts relates in forming the justice system, and how offenders and victims fit within it.

In addition, students learn how the justice system influences, and is influenced by other institutions in society. An adequately functioning criminal justice system participates in appropriate structuring of legislation, providing information and education within the system and to the public, crime prevention, psychological counseling, and prisoner rehabilitation. Also included among its many roles is work with juveniles, quantitative and qualitative scholarly research, guidance to probationers and parolees, assistance to citizen groups and crime victims, and many other tasks.

Students' learning in the classroom is enhanced as members of the faculty bring forth a myriad of expertise in criminal justice and criminology. Currently, faculty research topics include but are not limited to sex differences in criminality and criminal justice processing; specialty courts; community policing; public defense systems; domestic violence; elder abuse; sexual harassment; comparative criminal justice; drugs and crime; homicide co-victimization; legal issues in policing; evaluation research; community differences in the nature of crime; place-based criminology; private security; electronic monitoring; informal social control; domestic terrorism; homeland security; healthcare fraud; mental health; organizational misconduct; juvenile delinquency and youth violence; criminological theory; active offender decision-making; drug markets and urban violence; crime victimization; and community corrections. Faculty members conduct research drawing on their expertise in a variety of quantitative and qualitative research methods, thus allowing them to bring not only their topical expertise, but also their methodological experience into the learning environment.

Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology
1201 Urban Life Building, 404/413-1020
criminaljustice.gsu.edu

Dr. Richard T. Wright, Chair
Dr. Mark D. Reed, Undergraduate Program Coordinator

The Bachelor of Science Degree in Criminal Justice focuses on the study of the criminal justice system and its component parts, as well as the causes and consequences of crime. The degree program stresses an integrated view of the criminal justice system, highlighting relationships between system components in service provision and how the justice system influences/is influenced by other societal institutions. The curriculum is designed to provide students with a developing theoretical knowledge base in studies of crime and criminal justice, focusing on examining the system and its parts, as well as the roles of victims and offenders. The curriculum also is designed to provide students with a liberal arts education that focuses on basic skills, such as the abilities to read critically, write clearly, speak effectively, and think analytically. The curriculum is broadly structured to meet the academic needs of pre-professional students, those already employed in the wide range of agencies that compose the criminal and juvenile justice systems, and those pursuing graduate education.

Students' classroom experiences are enhanced through the research expertise of the criminal justice faculty. Currently, faculty research topics highlight sex differences in criminality and criminal justice processing; specialty courts; public defense systems; community policing; problem-oriented policing; domestic violence; violence by and against people with mental illness; elder abuse; sexual harassment; comparative criminal justice; drugs, crime and public policy; homicide investigation; homicide co-victimization; sexual victimization; legal issues in policing; the collateral consequences of mass incarceration; evaluation research; community differences in the nature of crime; informal social control; juvenile delinquency and youth violence; active offender decision-making; and suburban crime and urban violence. Faculty members use a variety of quantitative and qualitative research methods, bringing not only topical knowledge but also methodological expertise into the learning environment.

Degree programs offered through the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology include a Bachelor of Science in criminal justice, a Master of Science in criminal justice, and a doctorate in criminology and criminal justice. The bachelor's degree program complies with the core curriculum requirements of the University System of Georgia.

Mission

The Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology emphasizes issues of crime and justice occurring in urban environments from a multicultural, interdisciplinary perspective to inform science, policy, and practice. The mission of the Department is to produce students who are critical and ethical thinkers, knowledgeable about the issues of crime and justice, and prepared for leadership positions in public and private criminal justice.

Program Admission

There are no admission requirements specific to the Bachelor of Science degree program in Criminal Justice beyond the admission requirements to the University.

Program Financial Information

No special fees are associated with the Bachelor of Science degree program in Criminal Justice. Students must pay all tuition and fees required by the University.

Program Academic Regulations

1. The Department has two academic track options: Crime and Justice Track or Legal Track. The Crime and Justice Track provides a traditional curriculum for criminal justice majors, while the Legal Track is designed for criminal justice majors desiring more intensive exposure to law often in preparation for law school. Students are automatically placed in the Crime and Justice Track unless they opt into the Legal Track.

2. Students must earn a grade of C or higher in CRJU 1100 (or equivalent transfer course and CRJU 2200) and C- or higher in all Area F – J, 2000 – 4000-level criminal justice courses to be eligible for a degree in Criminal Justice. Students must have an institutional grade point average of 2.0 at Georgia State (GSU) in order to graduate from the University.
3. Students must complete a minimum of 39 semester hours in 2000-4000-level criminal justice courses at Georgia State University. CRJU 1100/ CRJU 3100 is not included in this GSU CRJU residency requirement.
4. Students may transfer in a maximum of three (3) courses (e.g., 9 credits) in Areas F-I. Students must still meet the GSU CRJU residency requirement.
5. A student who has received a grade of D, F, or WF in an Area (G) (Foundations of Analyses) course may repeat the course up to two times. This allows the student a maximum of three attempts to successfully complete the course. Emergency Withdrawals will not count against course attempts; documentation that a hardship withdrawal was granted must be provided in the situation where a fourth attempt is requested.
6. Students should complete a majority of lower-division courses (Areas A – E) prior to taking 4000 level criminal justice courses.
7. Students should take or complete all Area F (Criminal Justice Core) courses before taking 4000 level criminal justice courses.
8. Students should be enrolled in or have taken all Area G (Foundations of Analyses) courses before enrolling in 4000 level criminal justice courses
9. All criminal justice majors must complete an internship/capstone experience (CRJU 4930 and CRJU 4935) during their final semester in the program. These combined courses count for a total of nine (9) hours: CRJU 4930 at 3 hours and CRJU 4935 at 6 hours. Students will complete 180 hours at an internship agency as part of the requirements in CRJU 4935. Placement with an agency that deals with sensitive information may require a background investigation, which can include checks for prior arrests and convictions, abuse of illegal drugs, and DUI convictions. If students have a criminal record either before they declare their major or acquire a criminal record after declaring their major, they might be prohibited from participating in the internship. Since the internship is a requirement, students might be excluded from the degree program by the internship coordinator or department chair. A thorough description of the internship program is found at criminaljustice.gsu.edu/student-resources/internship-program/.
10. The Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology believes that all students in the internship program (criminal justice seminar and field placement) must be personally and psychologically equipped as well as academically prepared. A student may be denied entry into an intern field experience based on departmental prerequisites or the professional judgment of faculty based on observed performance, behavior, or documentation that indicates erratic, unpredictable, or unsuitable conduct. This policy is based on the premise that criminal justice faculty should be part of the evaluation of a student's ability to function adequately and safely in a criminal justice setting and that the faculty has a right and responsibility to make such judgments prior to placing a student in an internship.
11. The internship coordinator or department chair may remove a student from an internship site if circumstances arise at the site that pose an unforeseen danger to the student's welfare or an unforeseen risk of liability to the student, faculty, or Department. If the reason for the move is not the fault of the student, the internship coordinator shall make reasonable efforts to assist the student with finding a new placement agency. If it is not possible to secure placement with a new agency the student will receive a grade of incomplete and be required to re-enroll in the field placement course the following academic semester. The internship coordinator and department chair also have authority to withdraw a student from a classroom and/or field experience (i.e., CRJU 4930, CRJU 4935) if the student's performance constitutes a detriment to other students in the class and/or to personnel at the field internship site, or if the student is arrested, convicted, and/or violates the agency's workplace rules, policies, or procedures. If a student is withdrawn due to academic misconduct, the student will be given an F in both the course(s) and may be subjected to discipline through the University's academic discipline process. Students terminated from their internships by their host agency, or removed by the Department for inappropriate behavior, will receive a failing grade for both CRJU 4930 and CRJU 4935. In this event they may not administratively withdraw from the courses and will receive a grade of "WF" rather than "W" for both courses should they attempt to withdraw from the courses prior to the term's midpoint.

12. All applications for the internship program must be completed online at criminaljustice.gsu.edu/student-resources/internship-program and submitted to the AYS Office of Academic Assistance (OAA). OAA shall determine each student's eligibility to intern and shall forward a list of approved students to the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology internship coordinator. Without exception, all applications must be submitted by the following dates in order for students to be considered for placement in the specified semester: February 15 for Fall semester; May 15 for Spring semester; September 15 for Summer semester.

For information about the B.B.A. degree with a major in business economics offered by the J. Mack Robinson College of Business, please refer to that college's chapter in this catalog.

Economics provides a way of thinking about everyday decision-making in a world of limited options. It explains the economy as a whole; how it is best organized to provide goods, services, jobs, stable prices, and other economic goals. Economists study the ways a society distributes scarce resources such as land, labor, raw materials, and machinery to produce goods and services choices that must be made because time, income, wealth, workers, and natural resources are limited. Principles of economics are useful at all levels of decision-making, and provide an essential framework for analyzing and understanding such major issues as inflation, unemployment, deregulation of banking, tax reform, fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, labor productivity, and foreign debt crises.

Most economists are concerned with practical applications of economic policy in a particular area. They use their understanding of economic relationships to advise businesses and other organizations, including insurance companies, banks, securities firms, computer and data processing companies, management consulting firms, industry and trade associations, labor unions, and government agencies. Some economists work abroad for companies with international operations and for organizations like the World Bank and United Nations.

Economists use mathematical models to develop programs that predict, for example, the nature and length of business cycles, the effects of inflation on the economy, or the effects of tax legislation on unemployment levels. Preparing reports on the results of their research is an important part of the economist's job. Being able to present economic concepts in a meaningful way is particularly important for economists who are involved in making policy for their organizations.

The student with a major or minor in economics may choose from a broad array of topics including foreign trade, environmental and natural resources economics, money and credit, public sector economics, labor economics, economic development, international finance, urban and regional economics, economic history, industrial organization and antitrust policies, and mathematical economics. Majors may pursue careers in many areas, some of which are listed below along with courses applicable to the career choice.

Career Opportunities and Related Courses: A recent study by the U.S. Census Bureau showed that college graduates who majored in economics were among the highest paid employees (economics ranked as the third most lucrative major). An undergraduate degree in economics furnishes a valuable background for a domestic or international career in law, government, business or education. Government service provides many opportunities at the federal, state, and local level that require only an undergraduate degree in economics. What economists do in business is as broad and varied as the full scale of managing a firm's operations; economists are found in staff departments handling marketing, business planning and policy, finance, international operations, government relations, and even purchasing and operating logistics. An economics degree also combines well with training in other disciplines such as finance, real estate, political science, journalism, history, law, and foreign languages.

Students who plan to have a career or pursue graduate work that uses economics should consider the courses linked at economics.gsu.edu/files/2014/12/ECON-Recommended-Economic-Courses.pdf. The listings are suggestions for broad categories and do not exclude other offerings. These suggestions do not replace advisement or override any degree requirements regarding choices of major or elective courses.

A Top Ranked Program: The Department of Economics is ranked 1st in Georgia, and 9th among 33 Southeastern programs, and 50th in the U.S., according to a recent issue of the Southern Economic Journal, with considerably higher national rankings in the subfields that our faculty selected as primary areas of concentration, including: 8th in Urban, Rural and Regional Economics; 11th in Public Economics; 20th in Agricultural and Natural Resource Economics; 23rd in Labor and Demographic Economics. The department also got high marks in general Economics and teaching (14th), methodology and History of Economic Thought (16th).

2130.10 Bachelor of Science Major in Public Policy

Mission: The mission of the Public Policy program is to prepare students for roles as effective citizens and people who work in the public service. We seek talented and motivated students who want to develop the knowledge, skills and values required to become responsible and visionary leaders in a wide range of settings. While many graduates of our program choose to enter a career in the public sector or in nonprofit agencies, others make contributions to their community, state, and nation as active citizens in the civic and public arenas.

The career of the namesake of the School, Ambassador Andrew Young, illustrates how individuals can move from nonprofit organizations to public life and the private sector, while being a part of our increasingly global society. Students in the Bachelor of Science in Public Policy program learn about the institutions of a democracy and the ways in which policy making organizations relate to one another. Students acquire skills in policy writing, critical thinking, and analysis that are in demand by governmental agencies and nonprofit groups, as well as graduate and professional schools. Above all, they learn how to make a difference by becoming engaged in civic and public life.

Career Opportunities: A policy major can work as a city manager, community relations specialist, local or regional planner, policy analyst, environmental resource specialist, human resource manager, journalist, politician or campaign strategist, volunteer coordinator, nonprofit leader, or in many other exciting careers that make a difference.

Many graduates of the Bachelor of Science in Public Policy establish careers in public service. These alumni work in a variety of agencies including federal, state, and local governments as well as a number of public agencies. Others are employed in not-for-profit organizations that address many important needs. Some alumni work in the business world, but use the knowledge and skills from their Public Policy degree to become better, more active citizens in the civic and public arenas. The degree program also provides an excellent preparation for graduate study in law, public policy and administration, and related fields.

A Top Ranked Program: The Andrew Young School of Policy Studies (AYSPS) is nationally recognized as having one of the elite programs in the field of public policy and management. The U.S. News and World Report's "2013 Edition America's Best Graduate Schools" ranked the AYSPS 23rd overall among the 269 public affairs schools in the United States, and in the top 25 programs in the specialty areas of nonprofit management, public policy analysis and public management administration, and in the top 12 programs in public finance and budgeting, city management and urban policy, and information and technology management. A B.S. in Public Policy provides students the resources to be leaders and innovators in the public sphere for years after they have graduated from the program.

Program Admission

The requirements and procedures for admission to Georgia State University are summarized in the university section of this General Catalog. That application process permits a potential student to indicate the college in which the individual wishes to register upon acceptance and to indicate the intended major. Based upon that application, an individual may be accepted by the university and by the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies. Entering students who wish to major in social work begin their affiliation with the School of Social Work in a Pre-Social Work (P.S.W.) status. A later, separate application and decision process is required before a student can be formally accepted into the Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) status. The priority application deadline is May 15 prior to the junior year. However, applications will be accepted after that date until August 1 on a space availability basis. (B.S.W. applications are NOT processed between August – December.)

Pre-Social Work (P.S.W.) Student

All students admitted to the School of Social Work begin as Pre-Social Work (P.S.W.) students and change their status only after the student has made formal application and formal admission has been granted.

P.S.W. status is assigned to students who have not completed all lower-division courses in Areas A-F or have not met GPA eligibility requirements. To complete these areas, P.S.W. students must register only for the lower-division courses specified in their advisement files.

Bachelor of Social Work (B.S.W.) Student

For a student to be considered for B.S.W. status, the student must:

1. Be in good standing at Georgia State University with a minimum institutional GPA of 2.5.
2. File a formal application in the school for B.S.W. status.
3. Have grades of C or higher in English 1101 and 1102.
4. Have successfully completed Areas A through F (except SW 2000).
5. Have a minimum grade point average of 2.5 or better in the lower-division courses counted for completion of Areas A-F and a minimum grade of C or higher in SW 2000, if completed.

B.S.W. status indicates that a student has demonstrated commitment to professional social work and has been recognized by the school as being ready to utilize that commitment in the demanding preparation for practice in this field. A student with B.S.W. status is expected to internalize the values and ethics of social work and to develop and enhance professional practice skills. In this process, the B.S.W. student is expected to abide by the academic regulations related to the program as outlined in this catalog and in the school's Student Handbook. Among those academic regulations is the requirement that a student have a grade of C (2.0) or better in each of the social work major courses that are required in Area G.

Entry into the B.S.W. program is a selective process on a space availability basis. A student who meets only the minimum GPA or other criteria is not necessarily guaranteed acceptance. Qualified students who are denied entry at one point in time will be placed on a competitive waiting list in the order of their denial to await possible access to the program at a subsequent time.

Program Financial Information

A $30 field site application is due by February 1st of the Junior year, no other special fees are associated with the Bachelor of Social Work program. Students must pay all tuition and fees required by the University.

Program Academic Regulations

Students in the School of Social Work are required to participate in academic advisement. Each entering B.S.W. student is assigned to a professional staff member in the University Advisement Center or in the college's Office of Academic Assistance who serves as the student's academic advisor. B.S.W. students should meet with that assigned academic advisor prior to registering for any courses, and those advisement appointments are available during any semester. When the student achieves B.S.W. status, the student will be reassigned to the director of the B.S.W. program for program advisement. The director of the B.S.W. program will be the advisor throughout the program. The student is expected to meet with the assigned academic advisor at least once each academic semester for the purpose of beginning or enhancing acculturation to the field of social work, as well as for sequencing course selections in accordance with school procedures. B.S.W. advisement appointments are scheduled only during the fall and spring semesters, so students are expected to plan accordingly.

Course sequencing in the B.S.W. program begins only in the fall semester, and a student is admitted to B.S.W. status in accordance with that schedule. P.S.W. and B.S.W. students are expected to follow the written course advisement plan developed in the advisement process, both in terms of course selections and in the sequencing of those courses. Deviations from the advisement plan without the written authorization of the assigned academic advisor or the B.S.W. program director may result in the school's blocking future registrations that do not conform to the advisement plan or may result in an extension of their course of study. In addition to the review and possible withdrawal of a student from the program, as described in "Review of Academic and Professional Practice Demands," a student who misses or fails a course but is permitted by the school to continue in the program must work closely with the assigned academic advisor and the B.S.W. program director to determine the most appropriate point at which to continue degree-related course work. If a student in B.S.W. status is inactive for two academic semesters, the student will be returned to P.S.W. status and must file a new, competitive application to reenter the B.S.W. status.

Field Education

Field education is an integral component of the B.S.W. curriculum and involves the placement of social work students in educationally supervised agency settings. The primary purpose of field education is to enable students to integrate social work theory and practice through the direct application of social work knowledge, values, and skills. Field education provides opportunities to test and refine classroom learning in professional social work settings. B.S.W. students must have a minimum of 400 supervised hours of field education over a period of two consecutive semesters. Students are required to attend a classroom-setting field integrative seminar as part of their field education. The purpose of the integrative seminar is to provide field education students a forum for the synthesizing of classroom learning with their field-based internship.

Students may apply for field education only after lower-division and prescribed social work courses and other requirements have been satisfactorily completed, as explained in the school's Student Handbook. Students enroll in field education for the fall-spring semesters. Field education applications must be turned in to the Director of Field Education by February 1st for the following fall semester placement.

Grant – Child Welfare

As funds are available, the School of Social Work, in partnership with the Georgia Department of Human Services, has scholarships available under the Title IV E, Child Welfare Scholars Program. The scholarship includes tuition and fees and a stipend. Recipients must take specific child welfare electives and must complete a field placement in a public child welfare setting. Upon graduation, recipients must commit to work for the Division of Family and Children Services on a year-for-year basis.

School of Social Work Policies and Procedures

Georgia State University is an equal educational opportunity institution. Faculty, staff, and students are admitted, employed, and treated without regard to race, sex, color, age, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, or disability. Georgia State University complies with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Civil Rights Act of 1991, Sections 503/504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the American with Disabilities Act of 1990, the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act, as well as other applicable federal and state laws.

Students should refer to the current Undergraduate Catalog to ensure compliance with university policies and procedures.

Codes of Ethics

All students admitted into the B.S.W. program are expected to read, understand, and follow the National Association of Social Workers (NASW) Code of Ethics. This code provides a set of values, principles, and standards to guide conduct and decision making when interacting with clients and colleagues and for when critical issues arise. A copy of the Code of Ethics can be found at the NASW website (www.naswdc.org)

Review of Academic and Professional Standards – The Policy

Students admitted into the School of Social Work will be held by the academic standards set by the University and the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies. Students will be held to the professional standards set by the school and the National Association of Social Workers. Students should familiarize themselves with these requirements as found in the undergraduate and graduate catalogs for the university and the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies.

A. Academic Competence

Undergraduate students are required to maintain at least a grade of C (2.00) or better in each of the social work major courses in Area G, and be in academic good standing with the University (an institutional GPA of 2.00). In cases where a student has a grade of D or F in an Area G course, the student must meet with the B.S.W. Director and another faculty member of the B.S.W. Committee to determine whether the student is eligible to continue in the program. If the student is allowed to continue in the program, he or she must retake the course and receive a grade of C or higher. Due to course sequencing, graduation date may be postponed in this situation. Undergraduates must also complete a minimum of 400 hours of field placement.

B. Professional Competence

Georgia State University's School of Social Work has the goal of educating competent social work practitioners. If a student fails to meet the standards set by the National Association of Social Workers and/or the School of Social Work, corrective action may be taken. Corrective action is intended to provide students and faculty with the opportunity to openly discuss problems and issues identified, and to seek a solution to correct the situation or problem presented. Dismissal from the program is an option and may supersede any discussion of corrective action. Professional incompetence signifies that a student is not adequately or appropriately performing at his or her program level.

Failure to comply with the policies and procedures of Georgia State University and/or the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies and/or the School of Social Work may result in a student's dismissal from the program.

We focus on invention (coming up with ideas), drafting (expanding ideas and supporting arguments), and arrangement (figuring out the best structure and organization for a text). Readers focus on the rhetorical aspects of the student text, and provide one-on-one, student-centered teaching of works-in-progress. The Writing Studio does not provide editorial or proofreading services. Readers will not write on student papers or in any way "correct" a student text. Students may work on course assignments or application materials

3020 College Academic Regulations

The requirements for entrance into Georgia State University are found in the section of this catalog devoted to undergraduate admissions. A transfer student must comply with all academic regulations of the university. The College of Arts and Sciences reserves the right to validate by examination any credits accepted by transfer. This provision in no way affects the acceptance of courses used to satisfy core curriculum requirements at another unit of the University System of Georgia.

Students holding a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university who wish to complete another undergraduate degree are urged to clear all requirements with an adviser in the Office of Academic Assistance.

Grades of C in Major/Minor

Courses in the major require a grade of C or higher. Courses in the minor chosen within or outside the College, require a grade of C or higher.

Credit by Examination

A maximum of 18 semester hours of degree credit may be granted before or after matriculation to a student who receives satisfactory scores on certain subject examinations of the College Level Examination Program of the College Entrance Examination Board. The student should consult the appropriate department or school or the Office of Academic Assistance for further information.

Arts and Sciences students who wish to take course work at another institution, whether as a full-time or as a part-time student, must have prior written approval from the Office of Academic Assistance if they wish to apply the credit hours to a degree program. Failure to obtain the required prior approval will prevent the acceptance of such credits. Approval will be granted for no more than two terms of work and only if the student is in good academic standing at Georgia State University. No approval of requests to take courses in Atlanta-area colleges will be granted if the course is readily available from Georgia State offerings. During the term in which the student is scheduled to graduate, all courses must be taken at Georgia State unless prior written approval has been obtained from the Office of Academic Assistance. Credit for Veteran’s Service

University students who are veterans of any service, active, reserve, or National Guard, or who have attended a service academy, may receive advanced placement in the Department of Military Science and Leadership (ROTC).

Course 4999 – Directed Readings

Course 4999, Directed Readings, in any department/school/institute that offers a major in the College of Arts and Sciences is designed to assist seniors who are within two terms of graduation and who have curriculum difficulties in fulfilling the requirements necessary for graduation. One to four credit hours may be earned. The supervising professor, the departmental chair/school director, and the dean of the college must approve registration for the course. Forms for Course 4999 must be completed at the time of regular registration for the term in which the credit is to be earned and can be obtained through department/school offices or the college’s Office of Academic Assistance.

Policy on Allowing Undergraduates to Take Graduate Courses

Under one of the following conditions, an undergraduate student may be permitted to take a graduate course:

1. Dual Degree Enrollment: The student has been formally accepted into an official university dual degree program that links an undergraduate degree program with a graduate degree program. Students in dual degree programs are granted permission to enroll in specified graduate courses when they reach a designated program milestone. Students who are accepted into the affiliated graduate program upon completion of the undergraduate degree may count specified course work toward fulfillment of the graduate degree requirements. A current listing of official undergraduate/graduate dual degree programs is available at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.
2. College Approval of Enrollment: The dean’s office of the college will determine a student’s eligibility for admission into a graduate course. To be eligible, an undergraduate student generally must have a cumulative grade-point average of 3.5 or higher and be within 18 semester hours of graduation, and be enrolled in an undergraduate degree program. Eligibility does not guarantee permission to take a course. Once a student’s eligibility is determined, permission must be granted by the instructor for the course, the department’s/school’s director of graduate studies, the chair/director of the department/school offering the course, and the Associate Dean of Graduate Studies in the College of Arts and Sciences. The request form is located at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/. Please note, graduate courses taken by an undergraduate student cannot be applied toward fulfillment of graduate degree requirements unless the student has been formally accepted into an official university dual degree program.

(This approval process does not apply to postbaccalaureate students. Postbaccalaureate students wishing to take graduate courses must be admitted as non-degree seeking students.

See cas.gsu.edu/graduate-studies/admissions/non-degree/ for additional information.)

3030 College Degree Requirements

3030.10 World Language Requirement for B.A./B.I.S. Majors

The College of Arts and Sciences requires the completion of a world language at the 1002 or 1101 level for all students seeking a Bachelor of Arts degree or a Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies degree. This requirement can be met by one of the following options: 1.) taking a course numbered 1002, 1101, or higher, 2.) Taking the CLEP exam in French, German, or Spanish for credit at the 2001 and 2002 level, or 3.) Taking the SAT II exam in Chinese, Japanese, or Korean and receiving at least the equivalent of a grade of “C” (73% of the highest possible exam score). For more information about the exams please contact the Counseling and Testing Center at (404) 413-1740.

The world language requirement for students enrolled in the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies programs is most commonly included in core curriculum Area F (Courses Appropriate to the Major); however, programs may also require students to complete world language courses in Area G, the 60 semester hours beyond the core curriculum. Students transferring to Georgia State with a completed core curriculum Area F, yet without sufficient course work to meet a program’s world language requirement, will be required to fulfill the necessary courses in the second 60 semester hours. Students who take a language course in Area C and subsequently declare a major in a program leading to a Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies will find that the language course no longer counts in Area C but in Area F or Area G. For this reason, the college recommends that students in the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies programs not include a world language course in core curriculum Area C (Fine Arts and Humanities). Students who would like to begin a new world language, or to take a second world language, should consult a program adviser concerning the possibility of earning credit for the first semester of elementary world language (1001) in either core curriculum Area F or in the second 60 hours.

3030.30 Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies

The Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies degree provides educational opportunities not available through the existing, traditional degree programs. The purpose of the program is to offer students an avenue by which they may take advantage of the rich offerings available in the several colleges at the university. An individual student, in consultation with a faculty adviser, may tailor a program of study that meets his or her particular educational needs, desires, and interests.

A student can pursue either a college-planned or a student-planned interdisciplinary program. The established college-planned programs address the needs of many students interested in a multidisciplinary, non-traditional education. Existing areas of concentration include Arts Administration-Speech/Theatre, Asian Studies, Classical Studies, Environmental Science, Game Design and Development, International Studies, Italian Studies, Law and Society, Media Entrepreneurship, Middle East Studies, and Theatre. Information about the B.I.S. program, including program options and the application process, is available from the college’s Office of Academic Assistance, 418 Langdale Hall, 404/413-5000.

Purpose

The Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies degree provides educational opportunities not readily available through traditional departmental degree programs. Students have flexibility in developing a course of study appropriate to their goals by selecting courses from several departments/schools/institutes in the College of Arts and Sciences. Students may also include courses from other colleges of this university in their interdisciplinary program.

It is not the function of the interdisciplinary program to pull together an assortment of course work as a last-minute effort to facilitate a student's graduation. A proposal should be planned by the time a student has earned 42 credit hours and should reflect a logical, consistent course of study that is based on acceptable and germane student objectives.

Program Admission

Applicants to the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies program must satisfy the admission requirements for Georgia State University and, in addition, must have a Georgia State cumulative grade-point average of 2.0. Matriculation into the program can occur only after the B.I.S. Council approves a student's program of study. There is a special application procedure for this degree program and faculty advisement is a mandatory component of this process.

Program Degree Requirements

There are two options in the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies program, the student-planned option and the college-planned option. Descriptions are listed below.

No more than 12 hours of the requirements in an area of concentration (Area G), and no more than 6 hours of the requirements in an allied field (Area H), may be taken from the offerings of any single discipline in the university. Courses in the area of concentration (Area G) and allied field (Area H) must be at the 3000-4000 level. Also, a grade of C or higher is required in all courses in the area of concentration (Area G) and allied field (Area H). Electives are used to build the hours in Areas G-J to 60 hours, have 39 hours at Georgia State University taken at the 3000-4000 level for residency, and complete 120 hours required for graduation. The last 27 semester hours prior to graduation must be completed while formally enrolled in the program.

Option One: Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies Student-Planned Program

Students may choose the option to propose their own program of study for approval by the B.I.S. Council responsible for the oversight of the degree. Students may select their proposed courses from any college in the university, as long as at least 50 percent of the hours in the program are chosen from courses in the College of Arts and Sciences. Students should have their proposed student-planned programs reviewed by the B.I.S. Council by the time they have earned 42 hours.

To gain approval into the program, students must articulate a reasonable and educationally justifiable course of study. Proposed interdisciplinary degree programs cannot resemble current programs offered at the university. Students interested in initiating the application process must first schedule an appointment with an academic adviser in the Office of Academic Assistance (404/413-5000). Students must also select an appropriate faculty adviser to provide guidance in developing the interdisciplinary program.

Course of Study Outline for Student-Planned Programs:

Areas A-E: Core Curriculum (42)

All undergraduate students satisfy a common core curriculum. These requirements are printed in the “Academic Regulations” section of this catalog.

Area F: Courses Appropriate to the Major Field (18)

Courses in this area should be included in the program proposal. The courses selected for this area must be at the lower-division level and judged to be programmatically appropriate to the intent of the proposed program. A world language at the 1002 level must be included in Area F of all student-planned programs, except for those in science.

Area G: Area of Concentration (similar to a traditional major area, except interdisciplinary in content).

Area H: Allied Field (similar to a minor, except interdisciplinary in content).

Area J: Electives

When developing a student-planned program, the student may choose one of the following structures:

Program Plan Structure One: An area of concentration (27-33 semester hours) with an allied field (15-21 semester hours) and electives (6-18 semester hours).

Program Plan Structure Two: An area of concentration (27-33 semester hours) with two allied fields (15-21 semester hours each).

Program Plan Structure Three: Two areas of concentration (27-33 semester hours each).

Option Two: Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies College-Planned Programs

Students may choose a program designed by the College as follows: Arts Administration–Speech/Theatre, Asian Studies, Classical Studies, Environmental Science, International Studies, Italian Studies, Law and Society, Middle East Studies, and Theatre. For information about the college-planned programs, see the alphabetical list of majors later in this chapter of this catalog. Environmental Science has specific core curriculum requirements listed.

3030.40 The Interdisciplinary Minor

The interdisciplinary minor provides educational opportunities not otherwise available and allows students the flexibility to select courses for the minor from several departments/schools/colleges at the university. Students must propose their interdisciplinary minor of 15-18 hours for approval by the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies Advisory Council. A proposal must identify the way in which the minor fits into the context of the student's entire degree program. To gain approval, students must articulate a reasonable and educationally justifiable course of study and must keep in mind that this course of study may not duplicate what is currently available. Students can choose to pursue either a college-planned or a student-planned interdisciplinary minor.

The following requirements apply to the interdisciplinary minor:

1. The student must have a Georgia State University cumulative grade-point average of 2.0;
2. All courses included must be at the 3000 level or above;
3. No more than six hours may be taken in any one department or school and courses cannot be from the major area;
4. A grade of "C" or better is required in all minor courses; and
5. At least 50 percent of the minor must be completed after the semester in which the B.I.S. Advisory Council approves the minor program plan.

Students should contact the Office of Academic Assistance at 404/413-5000 for information on the application procedure. Guidelines for college-planned interdisciplinary minors in Advanced Leadership and Management, Chinese Studies, Entertainment Media Management, Game Design and Development, Gerontology, Jewish Studies, Language Studies, Latin American Studies, and Middle East Studies are also available.

3040 Office of Academic Assistance

418 Langdale Hall
404-413-5000
cas.gsu.edu/undergraduate/student-advising/

Director: Shelly-Ann Williams
Associate Director: Linda P. King
Assistant Director: Rene Mondy

The Office of Academic Assistance supports departments and schools in providing academic advisement for students in the college, primarily those who have earned 90 hours. Students with fewer than 90 hours are advised through the University Advisement Center (see advisement.gsu.edu). This office also works with students on career development and on marketing a liberal arts background in the current job environment. The Office of Academic Assistance prepares evaluations of transfer work done at other institutions as well as academic program reviews for each major offered through the college. It also assists with course selections and schedule revisions and provides information concerning college and university policies. Students are advised by appointment or may walk-in for brief consultations. During the academic year, the office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:15 p.m. Monday through Friday. Students seeking a degree in the College of Arts and Sciences should become familiar with the academic regulations of the university stated elsewhere in this catalog.

Although the College of Arts and Sciences will endeavor to provide timely and accurate advisement, it is the responsibility of the student to know and to satisfy the degree requirements of his or her academic program. The College of Arts and Sciences encourages its majors to build relationships with the undergraduate support personnel in their major departments/schools/institutes. This position reflects the belief that a strong undergraduate program is possible only if there are frequent opportunities for students to discuss their academic work and career goals with one of their major professors. In a large urban institution such as Georgia State University, contact is essential if students are to receive individual attention and enjoy the full benefits of a liberal arts education.

3050 Student Complaints, Petitions for Policy Waivers and Variances, and Appeals

The appeals procedure for students in the College of Arts and Sciences will follow different courses depending on the nature of the student’s appeal. Please refer to University Information Section 1050.80 under Policies and Disclosures in this catalog or visit enrollment.gsu.edu/assistance/ for details.

African-American Studies offers an interdisciplinary approach to the study of African people nationally and globally. The field recognizes that the lived experience of African and African descendant peoples world wide are impacted by a myriad of factors including cultural diversity, emerging technologies, and political economy. As an interdisciplinary field of concentration, it offers, enhances, and critiques knowledge presented in the traditional disciplines and professions, scholarly and artistic accounts of the realities of the lives of African-Americans, and perspectives on social change. The Department of African-American Studies provides students with the intellectual origins, concepts, research, and models of the discipline; the knowledge and skills necessary for the study of group cultures; and a curriculum that contributes to the goals of African-American Studies and a culturally diverse education. Civic engagement, service learning, and a social justice orientation are fundamental aspects to the African-American Studies curriculum. Faculty and courses are drawn from the department itself and from other departments/schools/institutes in the university.

Pre-Education Concentration

The Department of African-American Studies offers a pre-education track with a concentration in history for students who wish to become public school teachers and to be certified to teach by completing the initial teacher preparation for the M.A.T. Program in Social Studies Education in the College of Education and Human Development (or a similar master's level initial preparation program at another university). The pre-education track in African-American studies develops teachers to work effectively in multi-cultural classrooms. The pre-education track in African-American Studies prepares teachers to teach students from diverse ethnic, gender, cultural, and social class groups by offering curricula that examine the histories and experiences of people of African descent and aspects of cultural identity formation in the U.S., Africa, and the Caribbean. This track also prepares educators to develop their students to be citizens of a global community. Students who wish to pursue the pre-education track in African-American Studies must take ten designated upper-division major courses (33 credit hours), take three education courses (9), and complete the coursework in one or more of the following allied fields: political science (9), geography (9), or economics (9).

Anthropology, the study of humans, provides students with a perspective on the nature of humankind over time and in different environments. It is concerned with humans as biological beings (biological anthropology), with prehistory and cultural evolution (archaeology), and with how humans order their worlds socially and culturally (social/cultural anthropology), as well as with the nature of human language (linguistic anthropology). The Department of Anthropology offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Anthropology. Undergraduate majors are encouraged to take a wide range of courses in archaeology, biological anthropology, cultural anthropology, and linguistic anthropology. Anthropologists are frequently teachers and/or researchers in colleges and universities, or, alternatively, they work for public and private agencies. Within these areas, they may be specifically concerned with historic or cultural resource preservation or cross-cultural competencies in such areas as medicine, community development, education, tourism, business, and other specialties.

Program Financial Information

No additional expenses are needed to complete this degree program. Some special courses that travel away from campus, such as ANTH 4550 Field School in Anthropology, will have additional costs. The department offers two endowed scholarships for undergraduate majors: the Robert L. Blakeley Endowed Scholarship in Anthropology and the Jeremy D. Gillen Endowed Memorial Scholarship in Anthropology.

Program Academic Regulations

Students must earn a grade of C or better in any courses required for Areas F and G. A grade of C or higher is also required in all courses counting toward an Anthropology minor.

Program Degree Requirements

Alternatives are available to some core and major requirements. Please see the Director of Undergraduate Studies for specific guidelines.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

- Minor in Applied Linguistics
- ESL Credit-Bearing Courses
- Intensive English Program
- Dual B.A. / M.A. in Applied Linguistics

Department of Applied Linguistics and English as a Second Language 15th Floor, 25 Park Place Building

Diane Belcher, Chair
Kris Acheson-Clair, Director of Undergraduate Studies

Applied linguistics is an interdisciplinary field that integrates many perspectives on the study of human language. Studying linguistics is not a matter of learning many different languages, but rather it is the study of the nature of language in general. Applied Linguistics is the study of language and communication in relation to real-world problems such as language acquisition and teaching, language assessment, language analysis on a large or small scale, improving intercultural communication, and understanding the relationship between language and social organization or behaviors.

The Department of Applied Linguistics and English as a Second Language offers 1) a B.A. degree in Applied Linguistics; 2) a minor in Applied Linguistics; 3) a certificate* in Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL), 4) ESL credit-bearing courses for non-native speakers of English, and 5) Intensive English Program (IEP) courses for non-native speakers of English.

*NOTE: The TEFL certificate overlaps with and may be combined with either the major or the minor.

The major and minor in Applied Linguistics provide the opportunity for students to explore the field of linguistics from an interdisciplinary perspective.

The TEFL certificate program provides students with appropriate skills and a credential that will enable them to teach English as a foreign language abroad. Students majoring in any undergraduate program can earn the TEFL certificate. In addition, the certificate can be earned by any post baccalaureate student. TEFL certificate requirements consist of the following five courses: AL 3021, AL 3041, AL 3051, AL 3101, and AL 4161. AL 3021 is a prerequisite for AL 3041, AL 3051, and AL 4161. AL 2021 Intro to English Linguistics is a prerequisite to these courses, except for post-baccalaureate students, but students may be exempted from this requirement by taking a departmental exam. AL 3021 is the first course in the series, but may be taken in conjunction with AL 3051 and AL 3101. AL 4161 should be the last course taken, and AL 3051 is a prerequisite to this practicum course.

For information on credit-bearing ESL courses for non-native speakers of English and the Intensive English Program, see Sections 3230 (English as a Second Language) and 3330 (Intensive English Program).

Program Academic Regulations

Students must earn a grade of C or better in any courses required for Areas F and G. A grade of C or higher is also required in all courses counting toward an Applied Linguistics minor and/or the TEFL certificate.

Program Degree Requirements

Alternatives are available to some core and major requirements. Please see a degree program adviser for specific guidelines. In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. As a result, students will no longer be required to purchase lab fee cards. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

Within the studio degree, students may choose from these concentrations: drawing and painting or printmaking; graphic design; interior design; photography; textiles; or three-dimensional studies (ceramics or sculpture).

The School of Art and Design offers the Bachelor of Arts degree for students who wish to pursue a liberal arts education. They may select a concentration in studio or in art history. The B.A. program in Studio covers a range of art courses and a studio concentration. Art history is an academic liberal arts program devoted to preparing future scholars and curators.

The School of Art and Design seeks to provide an educational environment that encourages the creation and presentation of the visual arts, the study of visual culture, the creation and enhancement of our interior environments, and the promotion of the visual arts to the larger community. Graduates of the school carry their knowledge forward and contribute to the cultural conscience of the community. A strong corps of the school's graduates is found in prominent art centers and schools. Others hold positions with regional, national, and international design firms. Faculty, student artists, and alumni frequently exhibit in national and international galleries and competitions. Their works are in numerous private and corporate collections.

The School of Art and Design is professionally accredited by the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

Program Admission

Admission to B.F.A

Students who wish to pursue a Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.) degree must apply to seek this degree. Students may pursue the B.F.A. by being accepted either into studio or into art education. The studio program requires a concentration in one of the following areas: drawing, painting, or printmaking; graphic design; interior design; photography; textiles; or three-dimensional studies (ceramics or sculpture). Acceptance to a concentration is determined by application and portfolio review following completion of the art core sequence. Students should consult with the undergraduate adviser or a faculty adviser in their area of interest for details.

Portfolios and applications are reviewed fall and spring semesters on Portfolio Review Day. Students should check with the School of Art and Design office for information about Review Day.

Admission to Art Education

Application to the B.F.A. program in art education should occur upon completion of the 18 semester hours required in Area F and at the end of the semester in which the student is taking the introductory art education course (AE 4200). To apply, students must have:

- passed the portfolio review of artwork;
- received at least “Good” in all dispositional ratings;
- earned a 2.5 overall cumulative GPA,
- earned a 3.0 GPA in all art content courses,
- passed [Combined Test I, II, and III (700)] or been exempted from the GACE Program Admission Assessment. When registering for the assessment, program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.; and
- Completion of the Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (350) Assessment; though there is no “Pass/Fail” grade assigned. Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Guidelines for the Entry-to-the-Major Review will be distributed during AE courses and posted in the AE area. In the event that a student is not accepted into the major, or is accepted with pending status, the student may be advised not to take any further Art Education courses until the issue for admission to the major is resolved. If the issue cannot be resolved within one semester of applying to the major, the student should see the School of Art and Design undergraduate advisor to explore other options.

Admission to Studio

Upon completion of the 18 semester hours required in Area F and prior to completion of 15 additional semester hours, each student who wishes to seek a B.F.A. in Studio must submit an application and pass a portfolio review for acceptance into a major concentration. Applications to concentrate in a discipline are available in the School of Art and Design office and are reviewed fall and spring semesters on Portfolio Review Day scheduled prior to Phase I registration (Graphic Design Portfolio Review is held at the end of Spring Semester only and Interior Design Portfolio Review is held at the end of the Fall semester only). Students should meet with an adviser in the concentration they are considering one semester before they apply for the concentration. In the event that a student is not accepted into the concentration, the student should see the School of Art and Design undergraduate adviser to explore other options.

Program Academic Regulations

Evaluation of transfer credits should be completed during the first semester of attendance at the university.

Program Degree Requirements

Art students should seek regular advisement from the Undergraduate Adviser in the School of Art and Design. Once accepted into a B.F.A. concentration, students should seek advisement from the Area Coordinator for that concentration. Students in the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree program should declare their intention to pursue a B.F.A. degree to the Office of Academic Assistance in the College of Arts and Sciences when they initiate their Area F requirements. Students intending to pursue the B.F.A. should enroll in two Area F courses during their first semester and should continue taking two Area F courses each semester until those courses are completed. Upon completion of the Area F requirements and prior to completion of 15 additional hours in art, students who intend to pursue the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree program must submit an application and portfolio to the concentration faculty for review and approval. In order to facilitate advisement, students in the Bachelor of Arts degree program should declare their major and area of concentration (studio or art history) prior to completion of their Area F courses.

A Grade of C or higher is required for all Studio and Art History courses in Area G. BA Studio Majors must satisfy the world language requirement to the 1002 level with a passing grade of D or higher. For Art Education a grade of B and a GPA of 3.0 or higher is required in all art content courses.

Application for Entry into Teacher Education

Prior to being approved for entry into the program, art education students must meet professional requirements and standards, including but not limited to displaying professional dispositions and attitudes, the ability to speak in public, professional ethics and strong content knowledge, as listed in the “Teacher Preparation” chapter of this catalog. Students are evaluated throughout the art education program, and their progress is noted during the Entry-to-the-Art-Education-Major and Pre-Student-Teaching Reviews. If students fail to pass benchmark reviews, they may not be allowed to progress to the next course until they demonstrate the competencies in question. Students are also required to have a 2.5 overall cumulative GPA and to have passed the GACE Program Admission Assessment and Regents’ exams. See “Admission to Art Education” above for complete admission requirements.

Pre-Student-Teaching Review

One semester prior to student teaching, all student teaching applicants will practice their teaching at a local community school art class before their official student-teaching semester, regardless of whether the applicants have previous teaching experiences or not. Prior to being approved for student teaching, all art education students must have met all criteria for entry to the major, , and have earned a grade of B- or higher in all art education courses, with a 3.0 GPA for all art courses. Art Education faculty members will review applications according to the teacher certification standards. Students must submit a form declaring their “Intent to Student Teach” at least three semesters prior to student teaching/graduation. Failure to submit the “Intent to Student Teach” form may result in a delay in student teaching placement and graduation. For details about the Pre-Student-Teaching Review, students should contact their art education adviser.

Georgia Assessments for the Certification of Educators (GACE)

The state of Georgia requires such candidates to take various GACE and Educator Ethics assessments as part of the educator certification process. These computer-delivered assessments have been developed by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (GaPSC) and are delivered by the Education Testing Service (ETS). You will take these tests at different times.

Program Admission and Content Assessments

Program Admission Assessment [Combined Test I, II, and III (700)] is an admission requirement (unless candidate meets qualifications for exemption – scroll down to “Options to Satisfy the Program Admission Assessment Requirement”). When registering for the assessment, program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Content Assessment (different content assessments for each program) tests your content knowledge and is taken after enrollment and prior to program completion. You will receive specific information regarding this test as you near completion of your program (required for certification).

Georgia Educator Ethics Assessment

Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (350) Assessment is an admission requirement. Completion of this assessment is required for admission, though there is no “Pass/Fail” grade assigned. Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Exit (360) Assessment is taken after enrollment and prior to program completion. You will receive specific information regarding this test as you near completion of your program (required for certification).

Student Teaching

The Art Education program and the Office of Field Placements (housed in the College of Education) will place each student with two placements—elementary and secondary—during the semester of student teaching. Student teaching involves full participation by the students for at least one full academic term. Because student teaching constitutes a full load of academic credit, it is recommended that the students attempt neither regular employment nor other courses during the term of student teaching.

edTPA is a preservice assessment process designed by educators to answer the essential question: “Is a new teacher ready for the job?” edTPA includes a review of a teacher candidate’s authentic teaching materials as the culmination of a teaching and learning process that documents and demonstrates each candidate’s ability to effectively teach his/her subject matter to all students. edTPA is a program completion and teacher certification requirement. Students may graduate from the Art Education program while continuing to complete teacher certification requirements for edTPA.

Graduation with Distinction in Art Education

Departmental distinction is separate from the Honors College. Art Education majors who have maintained an overall GPA of 3.6 or above, and received outstanding ratings (all 4s and 5s) on the summative evaluations of their student teaching coursework are eligible for graduation with distinction. More information about graduation with distinction is available in the department.

Area H: Minor and Additional Courses

Students seeking a B.F.A. may not seek a minor due to the focused nature of the B.F.A. degree.

Senior Portfolio Review and Exhibition

Recommendation for graduation with a B.F.A. degree in a studio concentration requires the presentation of a body of work. This includes work completed as part of portfolio courses. For more details on enrolling for portfolio courses, students should obtain a Senior Portfolio Review form from the School of Art & Design office and consult with an adviser in their area of concentration about forming a Senior Portfolio Review Committee. B.F.A candidates who successfully complete portfolio course 4950 are required to participate in the B.F.A Senior Group Exhibition held at the end of each semester.

Art Education students may participate in the Senior Group Exhibition. Artwork from a student's final portfolio will be recommended by faculty for submission to the exhibition.

Graduation with Distinction in Studio Art

Departmental distinction is separate from the Honors College. Studio Art majors who have produced a senior portfolio of studio work with the potential for recognition in the field and a record of supporting their discipline's program of activities are eligible for graduation with distinction. More information about graduation with distinction is available in the department.

Biology, the science of life and life processes, includes the study of structure, function, growth, development, reproduction, origin, evolution, and distribution of living organisms.

A degree in biology provides students with a variety of career opportunities. Potential careers range from applied or basic laboratory research and field studies in numerous state and federal organizations and industry, to education in public and private school systems. Furthermore, the degree provides the ideal preparation for entry into medical, dental, and veterinary schools and other health-related professions. Finally, a bachelor's degree in biology provides a good foundation for advanced studies at the M.S. or Ph.D. level in biological sciences.

As an alternative to the General Biology Studies program (and in addition to the core degree requirements), courses in one of several areas of concentration, listed below, are available. Interdisciplinary programs with other departments/schools/institutes (such as Behavioral Biology or Environmental Science) are also an option. To plan the major according to the particular needs and goals, students should consult the "Undergraduate Program" area of the Biology Department Website (biology.gsu.edu) for information about the major.

Minor Offerings and Double Major in Biology

Students who wish to minor in biology must take at least 15 hours in courses in biology, including at least nine hours at the 3000 level or above. Students are responsible for meeting all prerequisite requirements (such as CHEM 1211K/CHEM 1212K) for the biology courses they choose to take, and are strongly encouraged to take these prerequisites as early as possible in their academic career. Students taking more than 15 hours in courses in biology may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor. Students should consult with the Undergraduate Director or Undergraduate Coordinator for more information.

Honors Opportunities

The department encourages qualified students to participate in the Honors College (visit honors.gsu.edu). The department sponsors a Biology Club, a Pre-Vet club, a Pre-Dental club and a local chapter of American Medical Student Association (AMSA) in addition to the Eta Psi chapter of Beta Beta Beta, the national honorary biological society. Interested students are encouraged to participate in these organizations.

Internships

Internships with collaborating institutions and programs (including ZooAtlanta, the Georgia Aquarium and the Bio-Bus program) are available on a limited basis. Students interested in receiving course credit for an internship should consult with the Undergraduate Director or Undergraduate Coordinator for more information.

Undergraduate Research Programs

Students are particularly encouraged to participate in the Undergraduate Research Program after completion of core requirements. Participation in an ongoing research activity provides the student with experience in experimental design and interpretation that is typically not available in routine laboratory courses. Students may enroll in BIOL 4905 and/or BIOL 4910 for undergraduate research experience. Each course may be repeated once. Interested students should consult the departmental website for information on faculty research interests and contact one or more faculty members for development of a specific project.

Dual B.S./M.S. Program in Biology

The department offers a dual Bachelor of Science and Master of Science in Biology. The dual degree opportunity enables qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and apply the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by the department and College of Arts and Sciences to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

Graduation with Distinction in the Major

This department offers undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn the designation of graduation with distinction in the major. At least five hours of BIOL 4910 and a grade-point average of 3.5 or higher in the major and minor area are required for graduation with distinction.

Jeremiah Harden, Co-director of Undergraduate Studies
Joan Mutanyatta-Comar, Co-director of Undergraduate Studies

Chemistry deals with the nature of all substances and the changes that occur therein. It ranges from the study of the structure of atoms and molecules to that of the reactions occurring in living organisms. The study of chemistry can provide knowledge that will give students a greater understanding and appreciation of the world in which they live. In addition, knowledge of chemistry is a great asset in areas such as biology, physics, and health-related fields. It is a logical basis for pre-medical training.

Each student is urged to consult with a faculty adviser at the earliest possible time (even before the first semester) to outline a curriculum to meet his or her needs. A typical program of study for chemistry majors is outlined below. Although not required, several minors are possible for chemistry majors.

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

Chemistry Courses for Science Majors

Detailed descriptions of the objectives and prerequisites of each course are available in the Department of Chemistry. The student is urged to consult these descriptions if there is any doubt about requirements or qualifications. Laboratory courses and courses on principles are designed to be mutually reinforcing. The laboratory is the real basis for the science, but the lecture courses are designed to speed the learning process. The two parts are separated only to provide added flexibility in scheduling and to meet individual needs, particularly for transfer students. Great care should be exercised in scheduling one course without the other.

Chemistry Courses for Non-Science Majors

Chemistry 1050, 1101K-1102K and 1151K-1152K are of primary interest to students in liberal arts, health sciences, education, business administration, and policy studies. Students in specific programs should consult with an advisor in their program to verify applicability of the above-named courses to their specific needs. These courses cannot be applied to a science degree program in the College of Arts and Sciences.

- Bachelor of Arts in International Economics and Modern Languages
 - Concentration in Chinese Language and Culture

Department of World Languages and Cultures
841 Langdale Hall
404-413-5980
wlc.gsu.edu

Bill Nichols, Chair
Germán Torres, Associate Chair
Leslie Marsh, Undergraduate Director

The Department of World Languages and Cultures serves a threefold purpose: to encourage an appreciation of humanistic values through the study of foreign languages, literatures, and cultures; to teach foreign languages as a means of communication; and to prepare students for academic careers and the opportunities available in the field of international business. As part of a dynamic urban university in a city of growing international awareness and status, the department is fulfilling its responsibility to meet the increasing foreign language needs of the governmental, business, and professional communities. The department recognizes that an active command of the foreign language and a thorough exploration of the foreign culture form an essential basis for further study in the various areas of its curriculum. To this end, the department sponsors a study-abroad program in Perugia, Italy.

The department maintains a state-of-the-art multimedia Language Acquisition and Resource Center (LARC) with a digital audio laboratory with 50 student computer workstations. The digital lab serves a dual purpose in allowing both independent student access to digitized audio files and interactive software that accompanies the language texts, and also in providing a multimedia environment for teacher-led listening, speaking, and recording activities. In addition to the audio lab, the LARC features a tutoring center and resource library, as well as 17 stand-alone computers for student use. To assist in the development of the student's active language skills and to provide added cultural enrichment, the LARC contains a wide range of audiovisual materials, including an extensive collection of videos, CD Roms and DVDs.

For students who view language study as a preparation for a career in the business world, the department offers a program in conjunction with the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies: the Bachelor of Arts Major in International Economics and Modern Languages (IEMML).

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. As a result, students will no longer be required to purchase lab fee cards. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

Raj Sunderraman, Acting Chair
Anu Bourgeois, Director of Undergraduate Studies

Computer science is the systematic exploration of all aspects of computation. Computer science as a discipline seeks to build a scientific foundation for topics such as computer design, computer programming and software, information processing, algorithmic solutions to problems, and the algorithmic process itself. Computer science provides underpinnings for today's applications in industry, science, government, and business and prepares the foundation for tomorrow's applications in ubiquitous computing, medical cures for diseases, and instant access to information by everyone.

The B.S. degree program in computer science provides preparation in the fundamental principles and processes of computation and training in applying these principles in application areas in industry, science, government, and business. The student completes a basic group of required courses in the early stages and chooses courses from several concentrations in the later stages to provide for appropriate breadth and depth of knowledge in the discipline.

A B.S. degree in computer science provides a good foundation for advanced studies at the M.S. or Ph.D. level as well as for careers in industry, science, government, and business. To plan the major according to particular goals, students are encouraged to consult with an adviser in the department. Majors who are interested in having a paid work experience related to their area of study should contact the university's Office of Cooperative Education, which coordinates the university's cooperative education programs.

The courses are structured, and the department enforces the prerequisites for its courses. Students are urged to check and take the prerequisites for computer science courses and any computer science requirement as listed by their major department/school/institute. Refer any questions to that major department/school/institute or to the Department of Computer Science.

Program Academic Regulations

A minimum grade of C is required in all mathematics, physics, and computer science courses and all 3000-level or above courses that are used to fulfill the undergraduate programs of this department.

Department of English
23rd Floor, 25 Park Place Building

Lynée Lewis Gaillet, Chair
Audrey Goodman, Associate Chair
Stephen B. Dobranski, Director of Undergraduate Studies
Elizabeth Sanders Lopez, Director of Lower Division Studies
Josh Russell, Director of Creative Writing

The Department of English is concerned with the study of language and literature and with the craft of writing considered integral to education since ancient times. Although the department concentrates on texts written in English by authors from Great Britain, Ireland, and the United States, it also examines translations of texts from other languages as well as newly emerging literatures in English from other cultural perspectives. Students may also encounter practices that are not, strictly speaking, “writing” at all, such as oral compositions, hypertexts, and folk art.

In the first year, all students in the university take courses in the fundamentals of college-level writing and in the reasoned analysis of texts. Other English courses that form part of the core curriculum provide students with opportunities to study topics in world literature or surveys of British, American, and World literature.

English majors may concentrate in one of four areas: literature, rhetoric and composition, creative writing, and secondary English (pre-education). Before choosing their concentrations, all English majors have the opportunity at the sophomore level to gain a broad foundation in English and American literature and studies in literature or rhetoric. Then, with the help of their advisers, majors choose upper-division courses, which allow them to pursue their interests in more depth. Finally, students study within their chosen concentrations in seminars designed as capstones for the major.

In addition, the department’s joint studies program with the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, England, offers Georgia State University English and history majors the opportunity to complete their degrees with a concentration in British and American Cultures.

On successfully completing their studies, English majors will have acquired a sensitivity to the written word and an appreciation for the creative process. They will have developed their skills in organization, writing, and interpretation. English courses offer students the opportunity to discover their own insights and to articulate them with precision.

Majors who concentrate in literature take a range of courses that afford them opportunities to read poetry, prose, and drama from a variety of historical periods and cultural groups. These literature courses seek to promote students' verbal acuity and abilities at thoughtful evaluation.

Closely related to the study of literature is the department's creative writing program. Faculty in this program guide students as they practice and refine their work in the genres of poetry and fiction.

Students who concentrate in rhetoric and composition learn about the history, theory, and practice of writing to specific audiences for particular purposes. In this concentration, students may focus on either historical rhetoric and the teaching of composition or writing within business and technical environments. Courses in this area allow students to explore the history and theory of writing as applied to the teaching of composition and to writing practices in the workplace.

English majors who wish to teach English in secondary schools integrate studies of literature, language, and composition with a senior seminar that combines these areas with pedagogy.

The Department of English offers courses in the related field of folklore. Georgia State University is the only institution in the state offering a wide selection of folklore courses.

A number of courses in the Department of English have an interdisciplinary approach, and several are crosslisted with other units within the university, such as the Department of African-American Studies and the Institute for Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.

Because of the dynamic and varied nature of our discipline, many of the courses offered (especially on the 4000 level) focus on specific topics not indicated in detail here. Students should inquire in the department office for further information about courses.

Program Degree Requirements

All English majors planning to take any upper-division literature courses must fulfill the appropriate three prerequisite courses (ENGL 2120, ENGL 2130, and either ENGL 3040 or ENGL 3050) with a grade of C or higher. All English minors who plan to take British Literature courses must have completed ENGL 2120 with a grade of C or higher and all English minors planning to take American literature courses must have completed ENGL 2130 with a grade of C or higher.

The department requires a minimum of 30 semester hours in upper-division English, with no more than 11 being transferred credits. The College of Arts and Sciences requires that students pass all upper-division courses in their majors with a grade of C or higher.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Area H: Minor and Additional Courses

English majors have three options: a minor, a double major, or additional courses in the major. One of these options, combined with electives, will complete their degree requirements. Each student should discuss these options with a department adviser and choose the one that will best serve the student's long-term goals.

- Minor: at least 15 semester hours, 9 hours of which must be taken at the 3000 level or above, either in Folklore or from one department, school, or institute other than the English department. The requirements for a minor must be fulfilled in a department, school, or institute that offers a baccalaureate degree. Students interested in an interdisciplinary minor should consult their advisers. The College of Arts and Sciences requires a grade of C or higher in each course counted toward the minor.
- Double major: course work to satisfy requirements for a second major in addition English; all college and departmental requirements apply to this as to the first major.
- Further course work in the major: three courses (9 hours) beyond the ten courses (30 hours) required for the major. Additional courses from departments, schools, or institutes other than the major must be taken to complete a minimum of 120 hours, exclusive of 1000-2000 level physical education. One of these courses must be Lang 2002 (see "Major Courses" above).

Departmental Student Assessment: Senior Exit Portfolio

In order to graduate, English majors must submit an exit portfolio designed appropriate to their concentration. All portfolios include a statement of self-assessment and four to six substantial pieces of writing that demonstrate their skills appropriate to their concentration. Specific information about the exit portfolio for each concentration is available from the department. Portfolios are due at the mid-point of the semester of graduation.

Graduation with Distinction in the Major

Departmental distinction is separate from the Honors College. Majors who have an average of at least 3.5 in upper-division English courses are eligible to undertake a project that could lead to graduation with distinction.

In the academic term in which the student plans to graduate, she works with a faculty member who directs the substantial revision of a previous work related to any of the English Department's concentrations.

Faculty members may invite students to pursue Graduation with Distinction (based on the student's work in the faculty member's course), or students may nominate themselves to earn Graduation with Distinction. The student must submit the project's title, the name of the faculty director, and a brief description of the proposed project to the Chair of the Events and Awards Committee by the end of the second week of classes in the semester that the student plans to graduate.

The student does not get course credit for undertaking this project—and is not guaranteed that she will earn Graduation with Distinction. That decision is made by an oral examination committee comprising the director and two other members chosen by the Chair of the Events and Awards Committee. The oral examination must occur before the end of classes in the semester that the student plans to graduate. The student must maintain the stipulated GPA requirement at the time of graduation.

Minor in English or Folklore

Students who minor in English or Folklore must complete at least 15-18 hours of course work in English or Folklore, including 12 hours at the 3000 level or above (and any prerequisites required). Students taking more than 15 hours in courses in English may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. See above under Teacher Certification for an English minor in preparation to teach middle school. (A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor.)

Critical Thinking Through Writing Requirement

As of summer 2015, all students are required to complete one Critical Thinking Through Writing (CTW) course as part of the major. The university formerly required two CTW courses. Students following previous catalog requirements who have passed one CTW course in the major should consult with their senior academic advisor to determine which courses may be used as a substitution for the other formerly required CTW course. Information on senior advisement in the Office of Academic Assistance is available at cas.gsu.edu/undergraduate/senior-advisement-90-credit-hours/.

3250 Ethics

Program Offered:

- Minor in Ethics

Department of Philosophy
16th floor, 25 Park Place Bldg.
philosophy.gsu.edu

George Rainbolt, Chair
Eddy Nahmias, Director of Undergraduate Studies

Ethical conduct is a vitally important part of a good life and a good society. There is a growing recognition that ethical behavior cannot be assumed. It often requires an education about how to act ethically and about how to reason about morality. The minor in Ethics does not seek to transform students into ethical people. Instead, it seeks to give them the skills and knowledge needed to confront the ethical dilemmas of life and work in a thoughtful and critical manner. The minor is designed to complement any major. Students with a major in business, education, the natural sciences, the social sciences, or the health and human sciences are particularly encouraged to consider a minor in Ethics.

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

3260 European Union Studies

Program Offered:

- European Union Studies Certificate

Department of Political Science
1005 Langdale Hall
404-413-6159
politicalscience.gsu.edu/

Jeannie Grussendorf (jgrussendorf@gsu.edu), Campus Representative

The certificate in European Union Studies is operated under the supervision of the European Council of the University System of Georgia. The program is open to all institutions and students of the University System as well as to professionals with an undergraduate degree. The program's purpose is to promote knowledge of the European Union (EU) and certify individuals as competent in the subject area of EU studies. Since the EU is the most important economic and political partner of the United States, this certification demonstrates valuable professional expertise to potential employers. For students in the academic track, this interdisciplinary certificate can be earned as a supplement to any conventional undergraduate degree.

Admission to the Program

A certificate in European Union Studies can be earned in one of two ways. Under the academic track, a certificate is taken in tandem with an undergraduate degree program. Students from all academic majors are eligible to participate so long as they possess a minimum 2.75 cumulative grade point average (GPA). Under the professional track, non-degree seeking students — such as business executives — are eligible to enroll in the program upon proof of a valid undergraduate degree from an accredited institution. The minimum GPA requirement is waived.

Under either track, an application to the program cannot be made until successful completion of the following: (1) the introductory course on the European Union (PolS 4242) with a grade of “C” or better, (2) 30 semester hours of academic credit, and (3) a course in world or western civilization (Hist 1111 or 1112).

The European Union Studies Certificate

To earn the EU Studies Certificate, students must complete the certificate curriculum (18 hours) and fulfill the practicum experience requirement. Students must have a 3.0 cumulative GPA in curriculum courses upon completion of the program. An official certificate is awarded upon graduation, and the certificate is noted on a student's permanent transcripts.

The EU Studies Certificate Curriculum (18):

The European Union (POLS 4242) (3)

Multidisciplinary Menu (12)

A student must complete four courses from an approved menu of courses dealing substantially with the EU. These courses must be distributed among at least three different discipline areas: Social Sciences, Humanities and Fine Arts, Business and Economics, and Natural and Health Sciences. The program's campus representative decides which courses qualify for the certificate and maintains an updated list of approved courses in the different discipline areas. No more than one course in this menu can be taken at the 1000-2000 level, with the exception of EU Studies online courses (see below) and study abroad courses. Students may substitute for up to two menu courses by performing an internship and/or composing a thesis.

Capstone Seminar in EU Studies (3)

Taken either as a Directed Study (PolS 4920) or online course, this is ideally the last course in the certificate program. It has three learning objectives: (1) to update students on EU developments and reinforce their general knowledge of the EU, (2) to provide in-depth knowledge of important EU issues, and (3) to allow students to conduct intensive research on EU-related topics.

Practicum Experience

Since it is deemed crucial that students demonstrate more than an academic knowledge of the European Union to be certified as adequately prepared in the subject, a "real-life" practicum experience pertaining to the EU must be performed either in the form of an overseas visit or an internship. The overseas option is broadly defined and can be accommodated by a wide range of activities, including study or research abroad. The same flexibility applies to the internship, which can be served domestically or internationally. A student's specific practicum experience must be approved by the program's campus representative.

Online Courses and Transatlantic Joint Certificate

The EU Studies program has developed a curriculum of online courses in conjunction with European university partners. These are courses in different discipline areas that deal with various aspects of the EU and are taught jointly by University System institutions and European universities at specified times throughout the academic year. The program's campus representative maintains an updated list of these courses and a teaching schedule, as well as information about course registration.

The EU Studies program offers the option of acquiring a certificate that is jointly conferred with a European institution. This option requires students to complete — with a grade of "B" or better — a minimum of two online courses that are co-taught with European partner universities. Students completing this option have the EU Studies certificate awarded by both their home institution and one in Europe, thus giving them an academic credential from a respected European university.

Areas of Distinction

In addition to acknowledging competence in the EU generally, the certificate also highlights special achievements by providing a notation of "distinction" in two areas: (1) foreign language proficiency (six semester hours at or above the 2000 level and (2) composition of a thesis.

The foreign language distinction must be earned in a European language approved by the program's campus representative as appropriate to the certificate's objectives. A student with prior language skills can earn a distinction by successful completion of an examination demonstrating competency equivalent to the 2000 level. The exam is administered at the student's home institution.

The thesis can be written anytime during the final year of study. It is supervised by a committee composed of three faculty members representing at least two different academic disciplines. The program's campus representative maintains a more detailed description of thesis requirements.

3270 Film and Media

Program Offered:

- Bachelor of Arts in Film and Media
- Dual B.A. in Film and Media Studies/ M.A. in Communication, Film and Media Concentration

Department of Communication
8th Floor, 25 Park Place
404-413-5600
communication.gsu.edu

Greg Lisby, Chair
Jaye Atkinson and Greg Smith, Associate Chairs
Douglas Barthlow and Rasha Ramzy, Undergraduate directors

The disciplines of communication are concerned with the processes and effects of human communication in a variety of contexts ranging from interpersonal communication through the mass media. The Department of Communication provides courses of study that develop knowledge and skills in managing face-to-face communication, knowledge about the nature and social functions of the mass media, and the skills necessary for communication careers. Majors are offered in the areas of film and media, journalism, and speech communication.

The Film and Media major is devoted to the interdisciplinary study of film, television, and new media. Courses focus on the histories and theories of cinematic, electronic, and digital media in addition to providing the opportunity for hands-on experience in film/media production. Students work closely with faculty members to devise an optimum program of study integrating creative and collaborative thinking, critical analysis, primary research, and media production.

The curriculum invites students to discover how meanings circulate through the conventions and alternative practices specific to various media and their institutions. Courses in the major also pay close attention to the broader cultural, social, industrial, and aesthetic contexts out of which media representations emerge. This liberal arts approach to film, television, and new media provides the student with the necessary skills and knowledge to adapt to the changing media environment of the 21st century. The major equips students for active and critical participation in contemporary visual culture.

Internships are available in the Atlanta metro area and beyond. A flexible curriculum has been configured to enable students to pursue interests in production, historical and critical studies, industries and contemporary culture, and screenwriting. Students graduating with a Film and Media major are prepared to succeed in film/media production, in media industries, or in graduate study.

Major Eligibility Requirements

To be eligible for the Film and Media major and to enroll in 3000-4000 level Film and Video courses (i.e., FLME courses), students must fulfill the following requirements:

- Complete [FLME 1010] and FLME 2700 with a grade-point average of 2.5 or better.
- Earn a 2.5 grade-point average in all Area F FILM courses. This GPA will be calculated based on the first attempt at these FLME courses at Georgia State University. WFs counts as an attempt. Transfer students who transfer these course(s) into Georgia State, may use the grades in the transferred course(s) to calculate the GPA or they may attempt them once at Georgia State.

Once a student is eligible to take 3000- and 4000-level Film and Media courses, they remain eligible to take them as long as they are eligible to enroll at Georgia State University.

College and University Degree Requirements

In addition to the Major Eligibility Requirements for Film and Media, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Area H: Minor and Additional Courses

1. Students majoring in Film and Media must select a minor consisting of at least 15 hours of courses in an academic department/school/institute that offers a baccalaureate degree. At least nine semester hours of minor courses must be at the 3000 level or above, unless otherwise specified by the minor-granting department/school/institute. A grade of C or higher is required in all minor courses.

Minor in Film and Video

Students who wish to minor in one of the department's three programs must take 15-18 hours in the specific area, including at least nine semester hours at the 3000 level or above. Students taking more than 15 hours in courses in the specific area may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor. Students wishing to take 3000- and 4000-level Film and Media (i.e., FLME) courses as part of a minor must first request departmental registration approval.

Dual B.A. in Film and Media/ M.A. in Communication, Film and Media Concentration

The department offers a dual B.A. in Film and Media / M.A. in Communication with a concentration in Film and Media. The dual degree opportunity enables qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and count the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by the department and College of Arts and Sciences to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

Critical Thinking Through Writing Requirement

As of summer 2015, all students are required to complete one Critical Thinking Through Writing (CTW) course as part of the major. The university formerly required two CTW courses. Students following previous catalog requirements who have passed one CTW course in the major should consult with their senior academic advisor to determine which courses may be used as a substitution for the other formerly required CTW course. Information on senior advisement in the Office of Academic Assistance is available at cas.gsu.edu/undergraduate/senior-advisement-90-credit-hours/.

Graduation with Distinction in the Major

This unit offers undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn the designation of graduation with distinction in the major. Please contact the undergraduate director for the specific criteria for this honor.

Germán Torres, Associate Chair
Leslie Marsh, Undergraduate Director
Peter Swanson, Director of Foreign Language Education and Advisor

The Department of World Languages and Cultures serves a threefold purpose: to encourage an appreciation of humanistic values through the study of world languages, literatures, and cultures; to teach world languages as a means of communication; and to prepare students for academic careers and the opportunities available in the field of international business. As part of a dynamic urban university in a city of growing international awareness and status, the department is fulfilling its responsibility to meet the increasing world language needs of the governmental, business, and professional communities.

The department recognizes that an active command of the world language and a thorough exploration of the related cultures form an essential basis for further study in the various areas of its curriculum. To this end, the department sponsors a study-abroad program in Tours (France).

The department maintains a state-of-the-art multimedia Language Acquisition and Resource Center (LARC) with a digital audio laboratory with 50 student computer workstations. The digital lab serves a dual purpose in allowing both independent student access to digitized audio files and interactive software that accompanies the language texts, and also in providing a multimedia environment for teacher-led listening, speaking, and recording activities. In addition to the audio lab, the LARC features a tutoring center and resource library, as well as 17 stand-alone computers for student use. To assist in the development of the student's active language skills and to provide added cultural enrichment, the LARC contains a wide range of audiovisual materials, including an extensive collection of videos, CD Roms and DVDs.

The department sponsors two Freshman Learning Communities each year. One group is designed for students interested in using their world language in international business. The other, sponsored jointly by the Department of Applied Linguistics/ESL, is in Language Studies.

For students who hope to teach at the K-12 levels, the department offers a concentration that leads to certification in French.

For students who view language study as a preparation for a career in the business world, the department has two special programs: a concentration in the business language of French; and a practicum in an internationally oriented business or service organization in the metro area for qualified and interested students in their senior year. The department also offers the Bachelor of Arts Major in International Economics and Modern Languages (IEMML), in collaboration with the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies.

The department is also a testing center for diplomas certifying proficiency in business language and procedures. These diplomas are granted by chambers of commerce in various countries.

All French majors are encouraged to consult regularly with their departmental adviser in designing and following a program of study that fits their own career objective and the requirements of their particular concentration.

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to courses in the language major, students are advised to choose courses in other areas that complement their language study. Such courses include other languages, history, philosophy, art and music, business, and education. Faculty advisers in the department are eager to discuss students' academic plans as they design their course of study.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. As a result, students will no longer be required to purchase lab fee cards. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

Georgia Assessments for the Certification of Educators (GACE)

The state of Georgia requires such candidates to take various GACE and Educator Ethics assessments as part of the educator certification process. When registering for the assessment, program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Content Assessment (different content assessments for each program) tests your content knowledge and is taken after enrollment and prior to program completion. You will receive specific information regarding this test as you near completion of your program (required for certification).

Georgia Educator Ethics Assessment: Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (350) Assessment is an admission requirement. Completion of this assessment is required for admission, though there is no “Pass/Fail” grade assigned. Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

edTPA is a preservice assessment process designed by educators to answer the essential question: “Is a new teacher ready for the job?” edTPA includes a review of a teacher candidate’s authentic teaching materials as the culmination of a teaching and learning process that documents and demonstrates each candidate’s ability to effectively teach his/her subject matter to all students.

edTPA is a program completion and teacher certification requirement. Students may graduate from the BIS program while continuing to complete teacher certification requirements for edTPA.

Area H: Minor and Additional Courses

1. French majors are not required to take a minor. French majors who choose a minor in other departments/schools/institutes are encouraged to select courses that are appropriate to their area of concentration. Students are also urged to consider combining their major with a second major in another language or another discipline under the Double Major option.
2. Up to six additional hours may be taken in the major.

Critical Thinking Through Writing Requirement

As of summer 2015, all students are required to complete one Critical Thinking Through Writing (CTW) course as part of the major. The university formerly required two CTW courses. Students following previous catalog requirements who have passed one CTW course in the major should consult with their senior academic advisor to determine which courses may be used as a substitution for the other formerly required CTW course. Information on senior advisement in the Office of Academic Assistance is available at cas.gsu.edu/undergraduate/senior-advisement-90-credit-hours/.

Bachelor of Arts in International Economics and Modern Languages

Students majoring in the IEML program with a French concentration should contact the Andrew Young School of Policy studies for advisement. Information for this program is available at www.aysps.gsu.edu/oaa.

Program Admission

There are no admission requirements above the requirements for admission to the University for enrollment in the IEML.

Program Financial Information

There are no additional fees other than the tuition and fees charged by the University for enrollment in this program.

Program Degree Requirements

For degree credit, a minimum grade of C must be attained in ENGL 1101 and ENGL 1102 and all courses in the economics common core curriculum and modern languages core curriculum.

Complete descriptions of requirements for Areas A through E of the Undergraduate Core Curriculum can be found in the “University Degree Requirements and Graduation” chapter of this catalog. The number of semester credit hours required for each section is shown in parentheses.

Students who wish to minor in French must take 15-18 hours in courses in French, including at least nine semester hours at the 3000 level or above. Students taking more than 15 hours of courses in the language may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor.

Dual B.A. / M.A. Program in French

The department offers a dual Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts in French. The dual degree opportunity enables qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and count the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by the department and College of Arts and Sciences to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

Graduation with Distinction in the Major

Department of Geosciences
340 Kell Hall

geosciences.gsu.edu

Daniel Deocampo, Chair
Lawrence Kiage, Undergraduate Director

Geosciences involves the study of the social and physical dimensions of the earth, including its interior, surface, atmosphere, and people. The Department of Geosciences makes available to students instruction, training, and experiences in the fields of Geology and Geography. These two disciplines provide complementary perspectives on a broad range of issues dealing with natural landscapes at all spatial and temporal scales, human-environment interactions, geospatial analysis, including Geographic Information Systems, and the social and physical dynamics of urban life.

The Department of Geosciences offers the B.A. degree in Geosciences with a concentration in either Geography or Urban Studies; and the B.S. degree in Geosciences with a concentration in Geology, Geography, Environmental Geosciences, or Urban Studies.

3290.1 B.A. in Geosciences

Students earning the B.A. degree in Geosciences must choose one of two concentrations: either Geography or Urban Studies.

The Geography concentration develops a broad understanding of social and environmental issues, attains depth in a specialized area within Geography, and provides skills needed to gain employment and carry out lifelong learning. An undergraduate degree Geosciences with a Geography concentration affords many opportunities for employment in both the public and private sectors. Geographers generally find employment as cartographers, city/regional planners, conservationists, environmental managers, environmental regulators, Geographic Information System (GIS) specialists, historic preservationists, location analysts, and as physical scientists working for the government. In addition, with their broad liberal arts training, geographers also qualify for professional management positions as well as teachers.

The Geography concentration also provides a solid intellectual foundation for people getting advanced degrees in either the social or natural sciences. In addition to having substantial flexibility of course selections, students in the Geography concentration are required to take multiple upper-division courses in human geography, physical geography, and geographic information science. Finally, the Geography concentration enables majors interested in geography to find their intellectual niche within geography.

The Urban Studies concentration permits the students to focus on the study of cities including urban development and economics, urban politics and institutions, the urban built environment, social and environmental disparities in cities, and the changing physical and social dynamics of urbanization processes. This interdisciplinary approach enables students to draw from a variety of courses to solve some of the most pressing challenges of the twenty-first century city. The Urban Studies concentration draws from classes in other complementary departments, enabling the student to develop specific interests within the concentration.

In addition to course content focused on different aspects of urban problems and solutions, students will gain a skill set to address such issues, including a holistic approach to understanding urban dynamics, critical thinking and writing skills to express the complexity of urban issues, and a tool kit of data collection and analysis skills, which may include Geographic Information Systems (GIS), quantitative spatial analysis, and/or qualitative analysis. Students graduating with this concentration will be well poised to enter jobs and graduate study in urban planning, urban policy work, non-governmental organization administration, community-based work, and in urban public health, among many others. Students interested in any geography or urban studies course, or in enrolling in these concentrations within the B.A. degree in Geosciences or pursuing a minor in Geosciences, are invited to contact the Geosciences Undergraduate adviser to discuss how this degree program may best help make their college experience positive and productive.

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Program Financial Information

Lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

Area H: Minor and Additional Courses

Students earning a B.A. in Geosciences are not required to take a minor.

3290.2 B.S. in Geosciences.

Students earning the B.S. degree in Geosciences must choose one of four concentrations: Geology, Environmental Geosciences, Geography, or Urban Studies. Many career opportunities allow for practical application of geosciences in industry, consulting firms, and governmental agencies at all levels. Practical and essential applications of geology and geography include development and stewardship of water resources, both surface and subsurface; land-use planning for urban, suburban, and rural development; exploration for and development of mineral and energy resources including petroleum and other fossil fuels; and development of environmentally sound strategies for hazardous waste disposal and treatment. The curriculum leading to the B.S. degree in geosciences is excellent preparation for graduate work in geoscience and environmental science, geography, and urban studies. For students who are interested in geoscience and environmental science but who intend to pursue graduate or advanced study in other fields, for example environmental law or business, the B.S. degree may still be an appropriate choice. The B.S. degree meets certain federal criteria required for science-track career pathways in federal agencies such as the EPA, USGS, and others.

The concentrations in Geography and Geology are the most traditional of the programs, and they are designed to prepare the student for graduate studies or employment in a wide variety of geoscience areas. Students considering employment and state licensure as a Professional Geologist (required for supervisory environmental consultants) should select the traditional Geology concentration. The Environmental Geoscience emphasizes the study of ground water and the delicate environmental balances of the natural world. The Urban Studies Concentration is focused on geoscience topics applicable to the study of urban settings. Specific requirements for the concentrations are shown below.

Majors should be aware that there are prerequisites for many geology courses and that several courses are offered only once a year. As soon as they have selected the geology concentration, these students are advised to consult with department advisers to be informed in these matters and to ensure that programs of study accord with their specific career aspirations and needs. The department participates actively in the university's Cooperative Education Program, whereby the student can work and attend school at the same time or in alternate years. The program enables students to develop long-term career opportunities while in school. Because of the potential complexities of such a program, students are encouraged to seek early advisement in the department. Co-op students also should discuss their academic plans and curriculum options with their employers.

Program Financial Information

Lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. For more information, please feel free to contact the department.

3290.3 Minor in Geosciences

Students who wish to minor in Geosciences must take 15-18 hours in courses in Geosciences, including at least nine hours at the 3000-level or above. Students taking more than 15 hours in courses in Geosciences may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor. Courses that are being applied to the core may not also be applied to the minor.

3290.4 Dual B.A./M.S. and Dual B.S./M.S. Programs in Geosciences

The department offers a dual Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Sciences and Master of Arts in Geosciences. The dual degree opportunity enables qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and count the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by the department and College of Arts and Sciences to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

3290.5 Certificate in Geographic Information Science

Geographic Information Science (GIS) is a rapidly growing discipline, with applications in many fields. A strong demand exists for proficient users of geospatial technology. The undergraduate-level Certificate Program in GIS is designed to facilitate the learning of GIS by students working toward undergraduate degrees in Geosciences and in many other disciplines. The Certificate Program consists of four courses with a total of 15 credit hours. Please contact the Department of Geosciences for more information.

Department of World Languages and Cultures
841 Langdale Hall
404-413-5980
wlc.gsu.edu

William Nichols, Chair
Germán Torres, Associate Chair
Leslie Marsh, Undergraduate Director
Robin Huff, Head of German section and Advisor
Peter Swanson, Director of Foreign Language Education and Advisor

The Department of World Languages and Cultures serves a threefold purpose: to encourage an appreciation of humanistic values through the study of world languages, literatures, and cultures; to teach world languages as a means of communication; and to prepare students for academic careers and the opportunities available in the field of international business. As part of a dynamic urban university in a city of growing international awareness and status, the department is fulfilling its responsibility to meet the increasing world language needs of the governmental, business, and professional communities.

The department recognizes that an active command of a world languages and a thorough exploration of related cultures form an essential basis for further study in the various areas of its curriculum.

The department maintains a state-of-the-art multimedia Language Acquisition and Resource Center (LARC) with a digital audio laboratory with 50 student computer workstations. The digital lab serves a dual purpose in allowing both independent student access to digitized audio files and interactive software that accompanies the language texts, and also in providing a multimedia environment for teacher-led listening, speaking, and recording activities. In addition to the audio lab, the LARC features a tutoring center and resource library, as well as 17 stand-alone computers for student use. To assist in the development of the student's active language skills and to provide added cultural enrichment, the LARC contains a wide range of audiovisual materials, including an extensive collection of videos, CD-ROMs and DVDs.

The department sponsors two Freshman Learning Communities each year. One group is designed for students interested in using their world language in international business. The other, sponsored jointly by the Department of Applied Linguistics/ESL, is in Language Studies.

For students who hope to teach at the K-12 levels, the department offers a concentration that leads to certification in German.

For students who view language study as a preparation for a career in the business world, the department has two special programs: a concentration in the business language of German, and a practicum in an internationally oriented business or service organization in the metro area for qualified and interested students in their senior year. The department also offers the Bachelor of Arts Major in International Economics and Modern Languages (IEMML), in collaboration with the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies.

The department is also a testing center for diplomas certifying proficiency in business language and procedures. These diplomas are granted by chambers of commerce in various countries.

All German majors are encouraged to consult regularly with their academic advisor in designing and following a program of study that fits their own career objective and the requirements of their particular concentration.

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to courses in the language major, students are advised to choose courses in other areas that complement their language study. Such courses include other languages, history, philosophy, art and music, business, and education. Faculty in the department are eager to discuss students' academic plans as they design their course of study.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. As a result, students will no longer be required to purchase lab fee cards. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

The Gerontology program is designed to provide students with an opportunity to gain foundational, contextual, and interactional competencies in Gerontology that will support their future goals of engaging in professional careers in aging that would ultimately enhance an aging society.

The BIS in Gerontology will provide undergraduate students an opportunity to gain knowledge of aging across the life course through a diverse perspective. Gerontology-related courses are designed to draw on a variety of disciplines to expose students to the issues, knowledge, and research about aging processes, older people, and the complex needs of our rapidly aging society. The overarching objective is to offer a major that will provide students with a gerontological knowledge base and skills that will prepare them for career opportunities in the field of aging (e.g., entry-level professional jobs in direct services to older persons in nutrition programs, senior centers, volunteer programs, nursing homes, and residential and assisted living facilities) and/or admission to graduate and professional degree programs (e.g., such as gerontology, medicine, nursing, psychology, public administration, sociology, and social work) in which they plan to pursue a specialization in gerontology. Students interested in pursuing the BIS in Gerontology major can select either the Behavioral and Social Sciences or Health and Health Services Allied Field.

The Undergraduate Certificate in Gerontology gives students throughout the university the option of combining their existing major of study with an emphasis in gerontology. This certificate is designed to support students who have an interest in adding an aging focus to their declared major. The certificate curriculum provides an overview of biological, psychological, and sociological aspects of aging; health care and social service programs for older persons; and contemporary aging policy issues.

Both the BIS in Gerontology and the Undergraduate Certificate in Gerontology include an internship experience that will allow students to gain specialized skills needed to live and work in today's aging society. For more information visit gerontology.gsu.edu

Michelle Brattain, Chair
Robert Baker, Undergraduate Director

Historians study various aspects of humanity's recorded past. Some historians explore the rise and fall of empires, while others describe the everyday lives of men and women. They are interested in every period of the past and all parts of the world. Historians also examine the principles and theories that influence the writing of history. They seek to understand the forces that have structured human life and the ideas that have shaped the way people perceive and experience their worlds. Historians are concerned with change and continuity within societies and interactions among cultures. Historians pay particular attention to the effect of perspectives and values because their discipline involves the interpretation of findings, not just the collection of facts. History can teach us many lessons, not simply about our past but also about the paradoxes and potentials of our present.

The Department of History offers a wide range of courses in African, Asian, European, Latin American, Middle Eastern, and United States history. Arranged in three levels — introductory, intermediate, and advanced — these courses afford students an opportunity not only to become familiar with a body of historical knowledge but also to enhance their skills as readers, discussants, writers, and researchers. Because it emphasizes analytic and critical thinking, history prepares students for further professional training in education, international studies, journalism, law, politics, and public policy, and for all manner of careers. All students can benefit from the insights history provides into the human condition.

Program Degree Requirements

Students should complete the freshman courses in history in the core curriculum and Hist 3000 (Introduction to Historical Studies-CTW) before enrolling in other history courses numbered 3000 and above. In all lower-division history courses the department requires that majors attain a minimum grade of C.

The department requires a total of 30 hours in upper-division history. At least one course must be taken from each of the areas of American, European, and African/Asian/Latin American/Middle Eastern History. All majors must take Hist 4990 (Historical Research-CTW) after completing Hist 3000 and at least four other upper-division courses. No more than 15 hours of upper-division history may be transfer credits.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

The Department of History recommends that all majors complete the world language 1002, 2001, and 2002 sequence. (See “World Language Requirement for B.A. and B.I.S. Majors,” previously described.)

Area G: Major Courses (30)

Unless otherwise specified, Hist 1111, 1112, and 2110 are prerequisites for all advanced course work in history. History majors may complete no more than eight hours of 3000/4000-level history courses before completing History 3000.

A minimum total of 30 hours must be taken from courses at the 3000-4000 level, and must include one course from each of the following:

1. Required Courses to fulfill CTW requirement (8)
 - HIST 3000 Introduction to Historical Studies-CTW (4) (should be taken first among upper-division courses)
 - HIST 4990 Historical Research-CTW (4) (Prerequisite: Hist 3000 and at least four other upper-division courses, including at least two 4000-level classes.)
2. U. S. History (one course)
3. European History (one course)
4. African, Asian, Latin American, or Middle Eastern History (one course)

Pre-Education Concentration

The Department of History offers a pre-education track for those students who plan to teach at the middle school or high school level. Students have the opportunity to take a variety of courses in U.S., European, and world history, which will provide the analytic and writing skills, the global perspective, and the historical content that they will need to teach in the public schools. Along with the B.A. in History, it prepares students to be tested for temporary certification or to enter the M.A.T. Program in Social Studies Education in the College of Education and Human Development at Georgia State or a similar program elsewhere to complete the requirements for state certification.

Students in the pre-education track will take eight history courses at the 3000-4000 level distributed as follows:

1. Required Courses to fulfill CTW requirement (8)
 - o HIST 3000 Introduction to Historical Studies-CTW (4) (should be taken first among upper-division courses)
 - o HIST 4990 Historical Research-CTW (4) (Prerequisite: Hist 3000 and at least four other upper-division courses, including at least two 4000-level classes.)
2. Two courses in U.S. history. The department strongly recommends that one of these be History 4310 (Georgia).
3. One course in European history.
4. One course in African, Asian, Latin American, Middle Eastern, or world history.
5. Two electives in history at the 3000-4000 level.
6. Students in the pre-education track will also complete a minimum of nine hours of 3000-4000-level course work in two or more of the following allied fields:
 - a. Political Science
 - b. Geography
 - c. Economics
 - d. Education (Required: EXC 4020; along with two of the following: LT 3210, EDCI 3200, EDUC 3010, EDUC 4982, EDSS 3400, and EDLA 3200)

A C or better is required in all the courses in the Allied Field of the Pre-Ed track.

History as an allied field consists of three courses at the 3000-4000 level: one in U.S. history, one in European history, and one in African, Asian, Latin American, or Middle Eastern history.

Pre-Law Concentration

Students who wish to major in history and prepare for law school or prestigious J.D.-Ph.D. programs can opt for a pre-law concentration. Please visit www2.gsu.edu/~wwwhis/7456.html or see a college or department adviser for additional information.

Area H: Minor and Additional Courses

1. History majors must select a minor consisting of at least 15 hours in one department other than history, including at least nine hours at the 3000 level or above. The requirements for a minor must be fulfilled in a department that offers a baccalaureate degree and with courses at the 3000-4000 level, unless the courses are otherwise specified by the minor-granting department/school/institute. A grade of C or higher is required in all minor courses.
2. Additional courses from departments other than the major must be taken to complete a minimum of 120 hours, exclusive of KH 1010. The department strongly recommends that majors take the fourth semester of a foreign language: Lang 2002.

Minor in History

Students who wish to minor in history must take 15-18 hours in history courses, including at least three courses at the 3000 level or above. Students taking more than 15 hours in courses in history may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor.

Dual Bachelor's/Master's Degree Programs

The department offers the following dual degree program:

- Dual B.A./M.A. in History
- Dual B.A. in History and Master of Historic Preservation

These dual degree opportunities enable qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and apply the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by the department and College of Arts and Sciences to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

Graduation with Distinction in the Major

This unit offers undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn the designation of graduation with distinction in the major. Please contact the undergraduate director for the specific criteria for this honor.

The Intensive English Program (IEP) is a non-credit program designed to prepare students in the language and study skills necessary for successful academic work in American colleges and universities. The IEP offers academic English courses from basic to advanced levels of proficiency. In some cases, students who have been accepted to a degree program at Georgia State may combine upper-level English as a Second Language (ESL) courses and regular academic work.

Every level in the IEP offers five courses each semester (a total of 18 hours in class each week). Courses include academic writing, structure/composition, academic reading/listening, extensive reading, and oral communication. Tutoring services are available for students.

3315 Global Studies

Program Offered:

- Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies with a Concentration in Global Studies

The Global Studies Program prepares students to be globally aware and competent in their chosen careers. In addition to focusing on global opportunities and pressing challenges, students develop deep regional concentration in a particular area of focus including Europe, Africa, Asia, the Middle East, or Latin America. Internship experiences may be undertaken only after completing at least 21 hours of credit in the concentration area. Please contact the faculty coordinator, Dr. Anthony Lemieux (alemieux@gsu.edu; 404-413-5883).

Program Admission

A 2.0 Georgia State University GPA is required in order to apply to the program. Application materials can be obtained from the Office of Academic Assistance, 418 General Classroom Building, 404-413-5000. Students should apply to the program by the time they have earned 42 credit hours to avoid a delay in graduation.

Program Degree Requirements

Please refer to the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies section 3030.30 of this catalog for academic regulations for this program.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

In selecting courses for this program, students are responsible for completing any required prerequisites.

The course used to fulfill the Critical Thinking Through Writing (CTW) course for the B.I.S. program will not count towards the rules of Area G — no more than three to four 3-4 credit hour courses (12 hours) from a single discipline — nor of Area H — no more than two 3-4 credit hour courses (6-8 hours) can be taken within a single discipline.

Department of World Languages and Cultures

Richard Keatley, Advisor

The Department of World Languages and Cultures serves a threefold purpose: to encourage an appreciation of humanistic values through the study of foreign languages, literatures, and cultures; to teach foreign languages as a means of communication; and to prepare students for academic careers and the opportunities available in the field of international business. As part of a dynamic urban university in a city of growing international awareness and status, the department is fulfilling its responsibility to meet the increasing foreign language needs of the governmental, business, and professional communities. The department recognizes that an active command of the foreign language and a thorough exploration of the foreign culture form an essential basis for further study in the various areas of its curriculum. To this end, the department sponsors a study-abroad program in Perugia, Italy.

The department maintains a state-of-the-art multimedia Language Acquisition and Resource Center (LARC) with a digital audio laboratory with 50 student computer workstations. The digital lab serves a dual purpose in allowing both independent student access to digitized audio files and interactive software that accompanies the language texts, and also in providing a multimedia environment for teacher-led listening, speaking, and recording activities. In addition to the audio lab, the LARC features a tutoring center and resource library, as well as 17 stand-alone computers for student use. To assist in the development of the student's active language skills and to provide added cultural enrichment, the LARC contains a wide range of audiovisual materials, including an extensive collection of videos, CD-ROMs and DVDs.

The department sponsors two Freshman Learning Communities each year. One group is designed for students interested in using their foreign language in international business. The other, sponsored jointly by the Department of Applied Linguistics / ESL, is in Language Studies.

For students who view language study as a preparation for a career in the business world, the department offers a program in conjunction with the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies: the Bachelor of Arts Major in International Economics and Modern Languages (IEMML).

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to courses in the language major, you are advised to choose courses in other areas that complement your language study. Such courses include other languages, history, philosophy, art and music, business, and education. Faculty advisors in the department are eager to discuss your academic plans with you as you design your course of study. In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. As a result, students will no longer be required to purchase lab fee cards. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

3360 Italian Studies

Program Offered:

- Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies with a Concentration in Italian Studies

The Italian Studies program takes into account the vast influence Italian culture has had on the world and Italy's continued role in a global cultural and economic context. While emphasizing the need for students to speak fluent Italian, the B.I.S. is interdisciplinary in approach and allows students to concentrate on specific aspects of Italian culture such as music, art, philosophy, history, cinema and politics.

Students of the B.I.S. are highly encouraged to study abroad through Georgia State University's two programs in Italy – the Summer Study Abroad in Perugia, designed specifically to smooth the transition from intermediate to an advanced level of Italian proficiency, and the Venice Exchange (Ca' Foscari), which allows students to take courses on an Italian campus or at the associated Venice International University and allowing Italian Studies students to gain first-hand understanding of Italian culture and language. For students interested in this program, please contact the faculty coordinator, Dr. Richard Keatley at rekeatley@gsu.edu.

Program Admission

A 2.00 GSU GPA is required in order to apply to the program. Application materials can be obtained from the Office of Academic Assistance (room 418 Langdale Hall; 404-413-5000). Students should apply to the program by the time they have earned 42 credit hours to avoid a delay in graduation.

Program Degree Requirements

Please refer to the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies section 3030.30 of this catalog for academic regulations for this program.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Courses used to fulfill the two Critical Thinking Through Writing (CTW) courses for each B.I.S. program will not count towards the rules of Area G — no more than three to four 3-4 credit hour courses (12 hours) from a single discipline — nor of Area H — no more than two 3-4 credit hour courses (6-8 hours) can be taken within a single discipline.

The Department of Communication offers courses that explore the processes and effects of human communication in a variety of contexts ranging from interpersonal communication to the dissemination of information through the mass media. The Department of Communication offers courses of study that develop knowledge and skills in managing face-to-face communication, the nature and social functions of the mass media, and the tools necessary for communication careers. Majors are offered in the areas of film and media, journalism, and speech communication.

Journalism is the practice of collecting, evaluating, and disseminating current, relevant information and opinion. The journalism major prepares students for a variety of careers as multimedia news producers or public relations practitioners. Journalism courses are also useful electives for students planning to enter other vocations who wish to deepen and expand their media-literacy.

Credit for special projects and internships is available in all majors. Internships provide students who have already completed all other requirements to gain experience in a variety of professional sectors in the metropolitan area and to tailor programs to their specific career goals.

Major Eligibility Requirements

Effective fall semester 2013, to be eligible for the Journalism major and to enroll in 3000-4000 level Journalism courses (i.e., JOUR courses), students must fulfill the following requirements:

- Complete all courses with the JOUR prefix that are in Journalism's Area F (with a minimum grade of "C") and
- Earn a 2.5 grade-point average in all Area F JOUR courses. This GPA will be calculated based on the first attempt at these JOUR courses at Georgia State University. WFs counts as an attempt. Transfer students who transfer these course(s) into Georgia State, may use the grades in the transferred course(s) to calculate the GPA or they may attempt them once at Georgia State.

Once a student is eligible to take 3000-4000 Journalism courses, they remain eligible to take them as long as they are eligible to enroll at Georgia State University.

College and University Degree Requirements

In addition to the Major Eligibility Requirements for Journalism, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

All freshmen entering Georgia State University are required to take either the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or the assessment of the American College Testing Program (ACT). The results of the test, performance in and time of previous mathematical education, and the student's intended major or career goals are all factors to be considered when registering for any mathematics course. In order to register for courses numbered 1111 or higher, students must make an appropriate score on the mathematics placement test (see Section 1410.10) or have other appropriate prerequisite work. Therefore, students are urged to check the prerequisites for mathematics courses, and the mathematics requirement as listed by their major department/school/institute. Refer any questions to that department/school/ institute or to the Department of Mathematics and Statistics.

Mathematics is one of the great unifying themes in our modern culture. It is a language, a science, an art form, and a tool of tremendous power. The Department of Mathematics and Statistics, in its courses for both majors and non-majors, seeks to introduce students to this vast area of knowledge and to show them how mathematics can be used to solve problems.

The B.S. degree program in mathematics prepares a student for positions in business, industry, and government; a career in the teaching of mathematics at the secondary level; or further study in mathematics or statistics leading to graduate degrees.

Five concentrations are offered within the B.S. degree in mathematics. The concentration in actuarial science prepares a student to work as an actuary. The concentration in computer information systems prepares students for work in the field of management information systems. The concentration in computer science provides education in more scientific aspects of computing. The concentration in managerial sciences provides training in management modeling, problem solving, and computer-assisted decision support/expert systems technologies. The concentration in statistics prepares students for work as applied statisticians. Finally, the dual degrees give students a seamless path from a B.S. in mathematics to business graduate degrees in actuarial science, information systems, and mathematical risk management.

Guidelines for minors in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics are given after the program descriptions.

In addition to immediate employment, there are opportunities for good students to pursue further study at the graduate level in mathematics, statistics, and other fields.

In 1978, the department initiated a cooperative education program with International Business Machines, Inc. Over the years, the program has expanded to include many other firms. Hundreds of majors have benefited from a co-op experience. Majors have an opportunity for paid work experience related to their area of study. They may also make important contacts that may lead to full-time employment after graduation. The Office of Cooperative Education has been established to coordinate the university's cooperative education programs.

Majors are asked to consider carefully the career objectives they wish to pursue after graduation. A particular career objective may suggest a special choice for the minor or concentration that would prepare one for that career. It also might suggest that a co-op experience would be useful. Faculty who serve as academic advisers for majors can discuss choices and concentrations that are available to majors.

Program Financial Information

There are no extra fees, scholarships or other expenses outside of regular Georgia State University fees applicable to a B.S. degree in mathematics, other than those associated with teacher preparation (see Sections 1605 and 1610).

Dual Bachelor's/Master's Degree Programs

The department offers the following dual degree programs in partnership with the J. Mack Robinson College of Business:

- B.S. in Mathematics (Actuarial Science concentration) with the Master of Actuarial Science
- B.S. in Mathematics (Computer Information Systems concentration) with the Master of Science in Information Systems
- B.S. in Mathematics (Mathematical Risk Management concentration) with the Master of Science in Risk Management and Insurance (Mathematical Risk Management specialization)

These dual degree opportunities enable qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and apply the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by participating departments and colleges to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

Programs Offered:

- Minor in Middle East Studies
- Minor in Arabic Language and Literature

Department of World Languages and Cultures
841 Langdale Hall

William Nichols, Chair

The Department of World Languages and Cultures offers an interdisciplinary major in Middle East Studies (MES), a minor in Middle East Studies and a minor in Arabic. The major is ideal for students who want a well-rounded understanding of the Middle East along with the opportunity to study languages of the region. Students take courses on the Middle East in a variety of disciplines, including history, political science, religious studies, communication and women's studies. Each student selects the specific courses included in his or her program of study in consultation with a program advisor. The MES major prepares students for graduate school or for careers in government, business, the non-profit sector or the military.

MES faculty offer courses in three Middle Eastern languages: Arabic, Hebrew and Turkish. Summer intensive courses are offered in some languages. The department encourages students to take advantage of study abroad opportunities to deepen their knowledge of the culture and languages of the Middle East.

The department and the Middle East Center sponsor a dynamic set of activities outside the classroom, including a lecture series and cultural activities, focused on achieving greater understanding of the rich and varied cultures of the Middle East. Arabic and Turkish coffee hours are a great way for students to engage with other students and faculty and experience Middle East culture. For more information visit: wlc.gsu.edu.

Program Admission

A 2.0 Georgia State University GPA is required in order to apply to the program. Application materials can be obtained from the Office of Academic Assistance, 418 Langdale Hall, 404-413-5000. Students should apply to the program by the time they have earned 42 credit hours to avoid a delay in graduation.

Program Degree Requirements

Please refer to the Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies section 3030.30 of this catalog for academic regulations for this program.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. As a result, students will no longer be required to purchase lab fee cards. 3430 Military Science and Leadership

Program Offered:

- Minor in Advanced Leadership and Management
 - Concentration in Human Behavior
 - Concentration in Military History
 - Concentration in Management
 - Concentration in National Security Studies

Department of Military Science and Leadership
120 Courtland Building
www.gsu.edu/rotc

The Department of Military Science and Leadership, most often referred to as the Reserve Officer's Training Corps (ROTC), develops leadership and problem solving skills training, through hands-on training and classroom instruction by experienced, active-duty Army officers and non-commissioned officers. Students learn the necessary skills to become successful civilian or military professionals. Students apply leadership, organizational and personnel management skills in a variety of challenging environments. Qualified students may obtain a commission as a Second Lieutenant, with the opportunity to serve as either full time in the active Army, or full or part time in the National Guard or U.S. Army Reserve. Students may also compete for two, three, or four year ROTC scholarships.

The basic courses (MSL 1000 and 2000 series) are normally taken in the freshman and sophomore years. Contracted students in the basic course are paid $300-350 per month while enrolled. Successful completion of the basic course gives students the credentials necessary for enrollment in the advanced course. The advanced course (MSL 3000 and 4000 series) is taken during the final two years of college and includes an advanced summer training between the junior and senior years. Students in the advanced program are paid $450-500 per month while enrolled, and earn a salary for all summer internships.

Army ROTC offers opportunities for scholarships for the full amount of tuition and fees or for room and board up to $10,000. Students may apply for two, three and four year scholarships. Each contracted cadet receives a tax free allowance each month classes are in session. The allowance increases each year: $300 per month during the student's freshman year, $350 per month during the sophomore year, $450 per month during the junior year, and $500 per month during the senior year. Army ROTC scholarships are awarded on the basis of merit. Family income has no bearing on eligibility for an award. For more details, contact the scholarship advisor at the ROTC department at 404/413-6492.

Nursing

GSU Army ROTC also offers a unique scholarship opportunity for School of Nursing students. These scholarships cover full tuition, books and fees, and provide a monthly allowance. Two, three, and four-year scholarships are available for all qualified nursing majors. Contact the scholarship advisor at the ROTC department at 404/413-6492

Veterans

Students with prior military experience can fulfill credit requirements for the ROTC basic course. If credit is granted, and provided the student is not on a three year Army ROTC scholarship, veterans may bypass the freshman and sophomore years of ROTC and enroll directly in the advance course. In addition to any financial assistance from ROTC veterans are still qualified to receive any and all GI Bill, Army College Fund, or VEAP benefits to which they are entitled.

Simultaneous Membership Program

Students may take advantage of the Simultaneous Membership Program (SMP), which allows participation in ROTC and enlistment in the Army National Guard or Reserve at the same time. SMP students serve as officer trainees in a Guard or Reserve unit and perform duties commensurate with the grade of Second Lieutenant. SMPs are paid at the rate of at least a Sergeant E-5 for Guard or Reserve service.

After successful audition, entering students should meet with the Admissions and Enrollment Coordinator of the School of Music to receive initial advisement. The student will then be assigned to a faculty advisor. Students should meet with their faculty advisor every semester. Students seeking to change their concentration should see the Admissions and Enrollment Coordinator of the School of Music.

Explanation of Applied Music Levels

Applied music consists of individual or small-group performance instruction in a student's principal performing medium. All music majors must study applied music as part of their degree programs.

- 1000 level: Introductory. May be used by students who are admitted to the School of Music but who wish to study in a secondary area. With permission, introductory level courses may also be used by music minors or approved non-majors. 1000 level applied music classes are not applicable to degree requirements in a student's principal performing medium. Authorization is required. One credit hour per semester; one half-hour lesson each week;
- 1001/1002 level: Freshman level. One credit hour per semester; one hour lesson per week.
- 2001/2002 level: Sophomore level. One or two credit hours per semester; one hour lesson per week.
- 3001/3002 level: Junior level. One to three credit hours per semester; one hour lesson per week.
- 4001/4002 level: Senior level. One to three credit hours per semester; one hour lesson per week.

Musical Ensembles

Musical ensembles (choral groups, jazz ensembles, orchestra, and wind ensembles) are open to all Georgia State University students by audition. Non-music majors should contact the School of Music or the appropriate ensemble director for information on scheduling a pool audition.

Every student who is registered for applied music is required to enroll concurrently in a conducted ensemble. A music student may be required to perform in more than one ensemble. Factors considered in making assignments will include the specific needs and abilities of the student and the requirements of the various ensembles.

All music majors (with the exception of music education) are required to complete a minimum of eight credit hours of ensemble. Only one credit hour of ensemble per semester may be applied to the total. Assignments to specific ensembles are made each fall semester through "pool" auditions. Students are required to perform in those ensembles to which they are assigned. Students in the jazz studies concentration may count four credit hours of jazz band toward the eight required credit hours of large ensemble.

The Applied Cluster

Music students who register for applied music must also register for both chamber music/performance laboratory and a large ensemble. These activities are collectively known as the Applied Cluster. Students may be required to participate in studio classes, labs, and/or master classes as required by applied instructors.

Concert Attendance (Mus 1101 through Mus 1106)

Music majors must successfully complete six semesters of concert attendance (MUS 1101 through MUS 1106). MUS 1101 through MUS 1106 is a zero credit hour course. Credit may be granted to transfer students for documented concert attendance requirements at prior institutions.

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements and the University Degree Requirements.

Admission to a Concentration

Music students must pass a qualifying examination for entrance to their concentration during their fourth semester of applied study. Information about qualifying examinations is available from the School of Music office.

Music education faculty evaluate each music education student prior to student teaching in order to determine their qualifications.

These qualifications are (1) an overall GPA of 2.5 or above, (2) a GPA of at least 2.5 in all music courses, (3) grades of C or higher in all of the courses in the concentration, and (4) grades of B or higher in all music education methods courses. Music education students must also demonstrate teaching competence as determined by the music education faculty and must demonstrate a record of professional attributes and personal behaviors suitable for placement in a school with children.

Application for Entry to Teacher Education

Music education majors must file a formal application for entry into teacher education using the form available on the College of Education and Human Development's website or supplied by the music education faculty. Students must apply for entry into teacher education concurrent with their applications for practicum/internship (MUS 4260 or 4310). This normally occurs upon completion of 60 hours of course work, including courses required in Areas A through D and EDUC 2110. Students must have passed the GACE I (a test of basic reading, writing, and mathematics skills) and Regents' exams.

To apply, Students must have:

- earned a 2.5 overall cumulative GPA,
- earned a 2.5 GPA in all music courses,
- earned grades of C or higher in all of the courses in the concentration,
- earned grades of B or higher in all music education methods courses,
- passed [Combined Test I, II, and III (700)] or been exempted from the GACE Program Admission Assessment. When registering for the assessment, program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment; and
- completed the Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (350) Assessment; though there is no “Pass/Fail” grade assigned. Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia

State University) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Georgia Assessments for the Certification of Educators (GACE)

The state of Georgia requires such candidates to take various GACE and Educator Ethics assessments as part of the educator certification process. These computer-delivered assessments have been developed by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (GaPSC) and are delivered by the Education Testing Service (ETS). You will take these tests at different times.

Program Admission and Content Assessments: Program Admission Assessment [Combined Test I, II, and III (700)] is an admission requirement (unless candidate meets qualifications for exemption – scroll down to “Options to Satisfy the Program Admission Assessment Requirement”). When registering for the assessment, program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Content Assessment (different content assessments for each program) tests your content knowledge and is taken after enrollment and prior to program completion. You will receive specific information regarding this test as you near completion of your program (required for certification).

Georgia Educator Ethics Assessment: Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (350) Assessment is an admission requirement. Completion of this assessment is required for admission, though there is no “Pass/Fail” grade assigned. Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

edTPA: edTPA is a preservice assessment process designed by educators to answer the essential question: “Is a new teacher ready for the job?” edTPA includes a review of a teacher candidate’s authentic teaching materials as the culmination of a teaching and learning process that documents and demonstrates each candidate’s ability to effectively teach his/her subject matter to all students.

edTPA is a program completion and teacher certification requirement. Students may graduate from the BIS program while continuing to complete teacher certification requirements for edTPA.

Double-Numbered Courses

Students may only receive credit for one level of a double-numbered course, with the exception of courses for which they are required to register in more than one semester.

Minor in Music

The School of Music offers a minor in music with either an emphasis in general music studies or in music management. A background in music is helpful but not necessary. The minor requires 18 semester hours of course work in music, 9 of which must be at the 3000-4000 level. Required courses include music theory, music history, performance, and electives. Certain prerequisites may not count toward the requirements for the minor. Interested students should contact the School of Music at 404/413-5900 for further information. An advising appointment is required before students may accumulate credits toward the minor.

Dual B.Mu./M.Mu. Program

The school offers a dual Bachelor of Music and Master of Music program. The dual degree opportunity enables qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and apply the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by the school and College of Arts and Sciences to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

Graduation with Distinction in the Major

This unit offers undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn the designation of graduation with distinction in the major. Please contact the undergraduate director for the specific criteria for this honor.

Neuroscience asks how the brain and body produce our sensations, our thoughts, our behavior and the behavior of other animals. Neuroscientists address fundamental and health-related questions that affect every aspect of our lives and society. To answer them, neuroscience bridges the biological, chemical, physical, behavioral and computational sciences, as well as philosophy, engineering, and medicine. Neuroscience is among the fastest growing fields of science and medicine. Neuroscience is interdisciplinary, as shown by the Neuroscience Institute's faculty and the neuroscience course offerings. Faculty are drawn from multiple departments, including Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Communication, Education, Law, Mathematics and Statistics, Neuroscience Institute, Nursing, Philosophy, Physics and Astronomy, and Psychology (see neuroscience.gsu.edu/contact-us-2/ni-faculty/ for a full list). They teach courses in cell and molecular neuroscience, computational neuroscience, neuroethology (animal behavior), drugs and the nervous system, cognitive neuroscience, neuroethics, and medical neuroanatomy, among many others. For questions about the major, students should contact the Undergraduate Coordinator who will help connect them with an appropriate faculty member.

Department of Philosophy
16th floor, 25 Park Place Bldg.
404/413-6100

Eddy Nahmias, Director of Undergraduate Studies

Philosophy is the study of what exists, how we know, and how to live. Students of philosophy consider questions about the scientific method, human nature, justice, God, art, and the meaning of life. Philosophy majors develop the intellectual abilities to think critically and to write effectively. They learn to apply these valuable skills in other disciplines, in their career, and in their life. Because philosophy deals with fundamental questions and explores methods for answering them, it is highly interdisciplinary, connecting to every other discipline in the university curriculum. Hence, philosophy is an ideal double major or minor. Philosophy prepares students for careers and graduate programs that value the abilities to solve problems, to communicate clearly, to learn new skills, and to use new knowledge. It is an excellent major for a wide range of careers, including law, government, the sciences, medicine, public service, education, religion, writing, media, and all areas of business.

The Department of Philosophy offers a B.A. in Philosophy and B.A. in Philosophy with a Pre-Law Concentration, as well as minors in Philosophy and in Ethics. The Department maintains an extensive website, philosophy.gsu.edu.

Program Academic Regulations

A 2000 or 3000-level philosophy course is a prerequisite for all 4000-level philosophy courses. Majors are strongly urged to take PHIL 2010 and PHIL 3000 before taking 4000-level courses.

D. Michael Crenshaw, Chair
Brian Thoms, Associate Chair and Undergraduate Director in Physics
Sumith Doluweera, Undergraduate Director in Physics – Lower Division Courses
Ben McGimsey, Undergraduate Director in Astronomy

All degree programs described below are built on a core of 21 semester hours of physics numbered 3300 or above and 4 semester hours of mathematics. The standard program is designed to prepare the student for graduate school or immediate employment upon graduation. Students selecting the standard program must complete 21 semester hours of physics, astronomy and mathematics beyond the core set of physics and mathematics courses listed below. As an alternative to the standard program, courses in one of several specific areas of concentration may be chosen as described below. The available areas of concentration are applied physics, astronomy, pre-medicine, biophysics, geology, computer science, and education.

A central objective of Georgia State University is that all graduates from its programs will be proficient in writing, critical and analytical thinking, and use of information resources. In support of this objective, the Department of Physics and Astronomy explicitly incorporates activities to develop these skills as appropriate in each course.

To schedule an effective program of study, it is very important that all students intending to major in physics consult with the physics faculty adviser as soon as possible. Physics majors are strongly encouraged to complete PHYS 1000 in their first Fall semester. PHYS 1000 is also appropriate for students considering physics and astronomy. Physics majors should pay special attention to the early completion of the mathematical requirements if they are to complete their physics requirements during the usual four-year span. The first calculus course should be taken during the freshman year, and the second and third calculus courses should be completed during the sophomore year. The department recommends that General

Chemistry I and II be taken during the freshman year. The beginning physics sequence (Physics 2211K-2212K) should be completed before the end of the sophomore year. Students who enter the physics major after completing a non-calculus level elementary physics sequence should consult with their departmental adviser on the best method of preparing for more advanced courses in physics.

Requirements for the INTASC standards and the National Educational Technology Standards (NETS) will be embedded in the coursework listed above.

Georgia Assessments for the Certification of Educators (GACE): The state of Georgia requires such candidates to take various GACE and Educator Ethics assessments as part of the educator certification process. These computer-delivered assessments have been developed by the Georgia Professional Standards Commission (GaPSC) and are delivered by the Education Testing Service (ETS). You will take these tests at different times.

Program Admission and Content Assessments: Program Admission Assessment [Combined Test I, II, and III (700)] is an admission requirement (unless candidate meets qualifications for exemption – scroll down to “Options to Satisfy the Program Admission Assessment Requirement”). When registering for the assessment, program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University – school code 5090) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

Content Assessment (different content assessments for each program) tests your content knowledge and is taken after enrollment and prior to program completion. You will receive specific information regarding this test as you near completion of your program (required for certification).

Georgia Educator Ethics Assessment: Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Entry (350) Assessment is an admission requirement. Completion of this assessment is required for admission, though there is no “Pass/Fail” grade assigned. Program entry candidates must add your program provider (Georgia State University) as a score recipient when you register or we will not receive notification that you have completed the assessment.

edTPA: edTPA is a preservice assessment process designed by educators to answer the essential question: “Is a new teacher ready for the job?” edTPA includes a review of a teacher candidate’s authentic teaching materials as the culmination of a teaching and learning process that documents and demonstrates each candidate’s ability to effectively teach his/her subject matter to all students.

edTPA is a program completion and teacher certification requirement. Students may graduate from the BIS program while continuing to complete teacher certification requirements for edTPA.

Area H: Minor and/or Additional Courses

1. Students earning a B.S. through the Department of Physics and Astronomy are not required to take a minor.
2. Additional courses must be taken as electives to complete a minimum of 120 semester hours, exclusive of KH 1010. Although not a requirement, the department recommends that physics majors take these elective courses at the 2000 level or above in mathematics, computer science, chemistry, biology, geology, physics, or astronomy. (Consult with the departmental academic adviser.)

B.S. Physics / M.A.T. Science Education Dual Degree Program

This dual degree program, allowing completion of both degrees and teacher certification requirements in approximately 5 years, is available to undergraduates majoring in physics who have completed at least 30 hours of academic credit (including Math 2211 and Phys 2211K) and who have earned a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.3. Students may apply to the option at any time after completing 30 hours but prior to completing 90 hours of undergraduate coursework. Applicants are applying for early acceptance into the College of Education and Human Development’s MAT program and therefore must submit the following documentation in addition to meeting the GPA requirement:

- Complete the BS/MAT pre-application form. This will be kept on file in the Department of Physics & Astronomy and in the Office of Academic Assistance in the College of Arts & Sciences.
- 2-3 letters of recommendation: (a) one academic or professional letter; (b) one letter from someone who can evaluate the applicant’s personal qualifications, experience, and background in light of potential to work successfully with adolescents; (c) one letter from a current work supervisor, if applicable

- Documentation of previous work experience (résumé or curriculum vitae)
- Personal statement of goals and/or reasons for teaching
- Successful interview with appropriate program faculty in the Department of Physics and Astronomy and in the College of Education and Human Development

Final acceptance into the M.A.T. portion of the program will be contingent upon the following:

- Maintaining a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher;
- Completion of 90 hours towards the B.S. degree in Physics (including Phys 7460 and Phys 7850);
- Submission of acceptable GRE scores;
- Filing an application to the M.A.T. program by the appropriate deadline.

Acceptance into the Teacher Education track is contingent upon acceptance into the M.A.T. portion, completion of 24 hours in physics, and passing or exempting the GACE Basic Skills test.

Students in this program will select one of the B.S. concentrations listed above. The curriculum allows students to satisfy the content requirement of the M.A.T. program by enrolling in the 7000-level counterparts of the core physics courses (Phys 7850 for 3850, Phys 7460 for 3401, Phys 7600 for 4600, and Phys 7700 for 4700). In addition, to meet the M.A.T. and teacher certification requirements, students will enroll in EXC 4020 and 6 hours of graduate-level courses required for the M.A.T. in satisfying 9 hours of elective credits towards the B.S. in Physics.

Normally, students in their 4th year are enrolled in both the B.S. and the M.A.T. programs and will receive the B.S. after the 4th year. In the 5th year, students will take professional education courses (24 hours) and will focus on the student teaching requirements.

For more information on this program's curriculum, please contact the Department of Physics and Astronomy. The M.A.T. requirements for Science Education are described more fully in the College of Education and Human Development section of the Graduate Catalog.

Minor in Physics

Students who wish to minor in physics must take at least 15 semester hours in physics and/or astronomy courses, including at least nine semester hours at the 3000 level or above. Students taking more than 15 semester hours in these courses may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor.

Graduation with distinction

To qualify for Graduation with Distinction in Physics, students need a minimum grade-point average of 3.4 for all their GSU courses, plus a minimum grade-point average of 3.4 for all courses taken for their major, plus a grade of either A or A+ in the course PHYS 4900 (Research Project-CTW).

Department of Political Science

Carrie Manning, Chair
Rashid Naim, Undergraduate Director

Political science is the study of “who gets what, when, and how” in the distribution of goods and values in society and in groups. Specifically, political scientists study the determinants of such distributions, including political parties and voters, public opinion, interest groups, bureaucracies and administrative behavior, public law, international relations, international law and organizations, national security, intergovernmental relations, political behavior, political philosophy, comparative politics, public policy, and conflict.

Students may specialize in any of the five fields of the discipline: American politics and government, comparative politics, international politics, political theory, and public policy and administration. The department also provides specific concentrations for majors and minors in pre-law and in international affairs. The department sponsors intercollegiate academic teams for Mock Trial, Model United Nations, and Model Arab League. The department sponsors student honor societies and clubs in pre-law, international relations, and political science. In addition, the department provides advisement for pre-law students.

The proximity of Georgia State University to the center of government for the Southeast and the State of Georgia and its location in an international city of business, communication, and transportation provide unique opportunities for students to observe and participate in government and politics. For example, many qualified students serve as interns as part of their academic program.

Details are available on the department's website, from the department chair or director of undergraduate studies.

The department also encourages students to seek out relevant internships to enhance their preparation for careers related to Political Science. Our students regularly intern with the state legislature through the Georgia Legislative Internship Program; the World Affairs Council; with local, state, and federal government agencies; the courts, local non-profits; lobbying organizations; and international organizations. We offer both major credit and elective credit, subject to department approval.

Students spend up to one academic year in residence in one of the universities with credit given for classes on a cross-registration basis.

Dual B.A. / M.A. Program in Political Science

The department offers a dual Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts in Political Science. The dual degree opportunity enables qualified students to enroll in graduate courses late in their undergraduate program and apply the coursework toward both the bachelor's and master's programs.

Students must be formally accepted into the dual degree program by the department and College of Arts and Sciences to be able to take graduate courses as an undergraduate. Additionally, acceptance into the dual program does not constitute admission to the master's program. Students must fulfill regular graduate admissions requirements and apply for the master's program following college processes.

Information about the dual program, including application instructions and program requirements, can be found at cas.gsu.edu/dual-degrees/.

Graduation with Distinction in the Major

This department offers undergraduate students with the opportunity to earn the designation of graduation with distinction in the major. Please contact the department undergraduate director for the specific criteria for this honor.

Department of Psychology
11th floor, Urban Life Building
404-413-6200 psychology.gsu.edu

Chris. Henrich, Chair
Erin Tone, Associate Chair
Chris Goode, Director of Undergraduate Studies

Psychology is the science of mind and behavior. It investigates how and why organisms engage in the behaviors and thought-processes they do. The topics of investigation range from the life sciences to the social sciences, and applications occur in clinical, research, industrial, community, and other social contexts.

A career in psychology usually requires a graduate degree. An undergraduate major in psychology can serve as a prerequisite for graduate study in psychology or as background for other careers, e.g., business, law, medical or allied health sciences, and teaching. A major in psychology also can serve the general interest of liberal arts education. The department maintains reference materials, including audio/visual material and an Internet website to assist in career advisement. Students wishing to be psychology majors must first be advised by The Office of Academic Assistance in the College of Arts and Sciences.

B.A. in Psychology and B.S. in Psychology

Major Eligibility Requirements

Effective fall semester 2014, to be eligible for the Psychology major and to enroll in 3000 and 4000 level Psyc courses, students must fulfill the following requirements:

- Complete all courses with the Psyc prefix designated in Psychology's Area F and
- Earn a 2.3 grade-point average in all Psyc courses counting toward the Area F requirements (with a minimum grade of "C" in PSYC 1101). This GPA will be calculated based on the first attempt at Georgia State University at PSYC 1101 and the first two Psyc Area F courses taken. WFs counts as an attempt. Ws do not count as attempts. Transfer students who transfer these course(s) into Georgia State, may use the grades in the transferred course(s) to calculate the GPA or they may attempt them once at Georgia State.

- If a student has a grade of K in PSYC 1101, the GPA will be computed based on the other two courses.

Once students are eligible to take 3000- and 4000-level Psychology courses, they remain eligible to take them as long as they are eligible to enroll at Georgia State University and satisfy other psychology program requirements.

This requirement applies to students entering or re-entering the university in fall 2014 or thereafter, or to students who choose to follow the Psychology program requirements in the undergraduate catalog for 2014-15 or thereafter.

Students in majors other than Psychology, including those minoring in Psychology, may enroll in 3000- and 4000-level courses as long as they meet any pre-requisites for the specific course.

College and University Degree Requirements

In addition to the Major Eligibility Requirements for Psychology, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

B.A. Degree

Students must take a foreign language and six additional hours from courses in Area E. (See “World Language Requirement for B.A. and B.I.S. Majors,” previously described.)

Area G: Major Courses (32)

The Department of Psychology offers a general program in psychology plus concentration in specific areas of psychology. The general program offers the most choice in courses for a degree in psychology. Concentrations have more restrictive curricula than the general program and are intended to prepare students for a specific career path. Most students will be in the general program. Students planning graduate school or other advanced training in an area related to one of the concentrations should consider applying for admission to that concentration.

Program Academic Regulations

Before taking upper-division courses, students must have completed 60 hours or have the permission of the instructor.

All majors must complete the courses in Area G, as specified below. Concentrations have specific requirements (for more details see the concentration requirements that are listed after the area requirements). Majors who meet the requirements in Area G and do not choose to pursue a concentration will graduate in the general program.

General Program in Psychology (32)

1. Required Methodology Courses (8):

These required methodology courses must be completed by the end of the junior year (90 hours). Students with 90 hours who have not completed both methodology courses may not register for any other psychology courses. To insure that this requirement is met, students should take Psyc 3510 (a prerequisite for Psyc 3530) during the second semester of the sophomore year. Failure to complete these courses in a timely manner may delay graduation. Additionally, students who are unable to pass either Psyc 3510 or Psyc 3530 with a grade of C or better in two attempts shall not be permitted to repeat the course or to enroll in any departmental courses for which the course is a prerequisite.

2. Required Courses (8):
 - PSYC 3510 Introduction to Research Design and Data Analysis (4)
 - PSYC 3530 Advanced Research Design and Analysis-CTW (4)
3. Advanced Required Courses (9):

Take one course from each group below.

4. Psychology Electives (15):
 - Select 15 hours in psychology courses at the 3000 level or above.

Concentrations

Psychology majors wishing to graduate in a concentration must meet the requirements for graduation listed below. They also must meet all general program requirements listed above. Students must complete all lower-division requirements prior to beginning a concentration. Students completing a concentration will receive a certificate and will have an appropriate annotation placed on their transcript.

Community Psychology Concentration (32)

Community Psychology is an area of psychology that aims to apply psychology toward improving the well-being of human groups. An ecological perspective, a prevention orientation, and an appreciation of diversity characterize this area. Often community psychology takes the form of “action research” in which knowledge gained from basic research or psychological theory is applied in real-world settings. At other times it takes the form of relatively more basic research on social problems or community functioning. The concentration is most appropriate for students who want to apply psychology theories and methods to solving social and environmental problems, such as drug abuse, homelessness, and violence. The curriculum should prepare graduates either to pursue graduate education in community psychology or to work in community-based organizations.

1. Required Methodology Courses (8):
(See “General Program in Psychology,” described above.)
2. Advanced Required Courses (9):
 - Group 1:
 - PSYC 4510 Community Psychology (3)

Pre-Medicine Concentration

Students interested in attending medical school are advised to consider the pre-medicine concentration. Those wishing to pursue this concentration should be aware that the requirements will differ from those listed in the regular psychology curriculum. The Department of Psychology has a pre-medicine adviser. For more information on the pre-medicine curriculum contact the Office of Academic Assistance, College of Arts and Sciences, Room 418, Langdale Hall, 404/413-5000.

Area H: Minor and Additional Courses

Students majoring in psychology are not required to take a minor.

Minor in Psychology

Students who wish to minor in psychology must take 15 hours in courses in psychology including at least nine semester hours at the 3000 level or above. Students taking more than 15 hours in courses in psychology may count the additional hours toward their electives or may consider completing a double major. (A grade of C or higher is required in all courses counting toward the minor.)

Critical Thinking Through Writing Requirement

As of summer 2015, all students are required to complete one Critical Thinking Through Writing (CTW) course as part of the major. The university formerly required two CTW courses. Students following previous catalog requirements who have passed one CTW course in the major should consult with their senior academic advisor to determine which courses may be used as a substitution for the other formerly required CTW course. Information on senior advisement in the Office of Academic Assistance is available at cas.gsu.edu/undergraduate/senior-advisement-90-credit-hours/.

Honors College and Psi Chi

The department participates in the Honors College and sponsors a chapter of Psi Chi, the national honor society in psychology. Qualified students are encouraged to participate in these programs. The diplomas of students who complete the University Honors College indicate that they graduate with honors in psychology.

Graduation with Distinction in Psychology

Departmental distinction is separate from the Honors College. Faculty members may nominate majors who have an overall average of at least 3.5 and who have demonstrated outstanding research, leadership, or service to the department for graduation with distinction. More information about graduation with distinction is available in the department.

Students should consult the department's website to learn about extracurricular activities that can enhance the psychology major experience.

- Dual B.A./M.A. in Religious Studies

Department of Religious Studies
17th floor, 25 Park Place Bldg.
404/413-6110
religiousstudies.gsu.edu

Kathryn McClymond, Chair
Jonathan Herman, Director of Undergraduate Studies

Offerings in religious studies, all of which are taught from a non-sectarian perspective, include comparative courses on such topics as world religions, religious thought, religious ethics, mysticism, and women and religion, as well as a host of courses on specific religious traditions including Buddhism, Hinduism, Shinto, Taoism, Confucianism, Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. Students majoring in religious studies have the opportunity to take and have counted toward their major select courses in other departments and programs in the College of Arts and Sciences including African-American studies, anthropology, art history, classics, history, music, political science, and sociology. Courses in religious studies contribute to a student's understanding of the beliefs and actions of diverse peoples and cultures. They also contribute to the student's self understanding through uncovering and exploring major tenets of his or her own culture. The major in religious studies is designed to provide a rich training in the liberal arts and is particularly appropriate for those students considering careers in government, health, law, education, international business, social work, the ministry, or media. Students in other fields are encouraged to consider the possibility of a double major with religious studies. Students can find a more detailed description of the Religious Studies Program and its offerings, as well as news about its faculty and upcoming events, on the Web at religiousstudies.gsu.edu.

Program Admission

All undergraduates in good academic standing are eligible for the major and minor in religious studies.

Program Academic Regulations

Only courses in which students earn a C or higher may be applied to the major and minor in religious studies.

Program Degree Requirements

Department of World Languages and Cultures
841 Langdale Hall

wlc.gsu.edu

William Nichols, Chair
Germán Torres, Associate Chair
Leslie Marsh, Undergraduate Director
Victoria Rodrigo, Head of Spanish section and Advisor
Peter Swanson, Director of Foreign Language Education and Advisor

The Department of World Languages and Cultures serves a threefold purpose: to encourage an appreciation of humanistic values through the study of world languages, literatures, and cultures; to teach world languages as a means of communication; and to prepare students for academic careers and the opportunities available in the field of international business. As part of a dynamic urban university in a city of growing international awareness and status, the department is fulfilling its responsibility to meet the increasing world language needs of the governmental, business, and professional communities.

The department recognizes that an active command of the world language and a thorough exploration of related cultures form an essential basis for further study in the various areas of its curriculum. To this end, the department sponsors study-abroad programs in Granada (Spain) and Costa Rica.

The department maintains a state-of-the-art multimedia Language Acquisition and Resource Center (LARC) with a digital audio laboratory with 50 student computer workstations. The digital lab serves a dual purpose in allowing both independent student access to digitized audio files and interactive software that accompanies the language texts, and also in providing a multimedia environment for teacher-led listening, speaking, and recording activities. In addition to the audio lab, the LARC features a tutoring center and resource library, as well as 17 stand-alone computers for student use. To assist in the development of the student's active language skills and to provide added cultural enrichment, the LARC contains a wide range of audiovisual materials, including an extensive collection of videos, CD-ROMs and DVDs.

The department sponsors two Freshman Learning Communities each year. One group is designed for students interested in using their world language in international business. The other, sponsored jointly by the Department of Applied Linguistics/ESL, is in Language Studies.

For students who hope to teach at the K-12 levels, the department offers Spanish with a concentration that leads to certification.

For students who view language study as a preparation for a career in the business world, the department has two special programs: a concentration in the business language of Spanish, and a practicum in an internationally oriented business or service organization in the metro area for qualified and interested students in their senior year. The department also offers the Bachelor of Arts Major in International Economics and Modern Languages (IEMML), in collaboration with the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies.

The department is also a testing center for diplomas certifying proficiency in business language and procedures. These diplomas are granted by chambers of commerce in various countries.

All Spanish majors are encouraged to consult regularly with their departmental advisor in designing and following a program of study that fits their own career objective and the requirements of their particular concentration.

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to courses in the language major, you are advised to choose courses in other areas that complement your language study. Such courses include other languages, history, philosophy, art and music, business, and education. Faculty advisors in the department are eager to discuss your academic plans with you as you design your course of study.

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Program Financial Information

Effective summer 2009, lab fees will be assessed automatically for students who register for certain courses. As a result, students will no longer be required to purchase lab fee cards. For more information, please feel free to contact the department or review the GoSolar or catalog course listings to determine if a course includes a lab fee.

Speech communication explores the construction, diffusion, analysis, and impact of messages as they occur among individuals, groups, organizations, and cultures in the media age. Students begin the major with courses in interpersonal communication, argumentation, and public speaking. The core of the speech major focuses on how people develop communication skills, how we study communication phenomena, how we critically examine particular communication events, and how various persuasive tactics may influence members of diverse and globalized societies. Elective courses examine such areas as protest rhetoric, communication of identities, political campaigns, media and politics, visual communication, communication styles, communication disorders, intercultural communication, and the dark side of interpersonal relationships.

The concepts and skills provided by the major in speech communication form a strong, liberal arts foundation for a wide variety of occupations (e.g., business, law, politics, teaching, the ministry, public relations, marketing, and communication campaigns).

Credit for special projects and internships is available. Internships enable students who already have completed the appropriate course work and have met departmental eligibility criteria to take advantage of expertise in a variety of professional sectors in the metropolitan area and to tailor programs to their specific career goals.

Program Degree Requirements

In addition to the Program Degree Requirements, students must fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements (see section 3030) and the University Degree Requirements (see section 1400).

Amira Jarmakani, Director
Julie Kubala, Director of Undergraduate Studies

Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies (WGSS) at Georgia State University contributes to the University's broader mission of encouraging critical thinking through a focus on feminist interdisciplinary scholarship, teaching, and community participation. WGSS makes explicit the ways in which gender and sexuality, in connection with other categories such as race, class, ability, and age, construct our understandings and experiences of the world. Furthermore, WGSS analyzes the ways public discourse relies on gender and sexuality to conceptualize such issues as war and militarism, policy, the environment, education, healthcare, economics, the media, and popular culture. In order to explore these issues, WGSS emphasizes the following areas of study: sexualities, race and globalization, and social change.

Program Admission

Students wishing to major or minor in WGSS must meet the requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree as described earlier in this catalog. Students should come to the institute office to receive advisement.

Program Academic Regulations

To take WGSS 4920 (Senior Research-CTW), WGSS 4950 (Internship-CTW), or WGSS 4999 (Directed Readings), students must first receive approval from the Institute for Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies Director of Undergraduate Studies. 4010 Students’ Responsibilities

Knowledge of Regulations

Students must assume full responsibility for knowledge of the policies, rules, and regulations of the College of Education and Human Development and the university as well as the departmental requirements concerning their individual programs.

It is the responsibility of the students to become knowledgeable of and to observe all regulations and procedures required by the program being pursued. In no case will a regulation be waived or an exception granted because a student pleads ignorance of the regulation or asserts that an adviser or other university authority did not inform the individual of a specific requirement. Each student should become especially familiar with the chapters of this catalog that present the academic requirements for the degree being sought, the offerings and requirements of the students' major department, and any changes published in the online Schedule of Classes each academic term.

While the provisions set forth in this catalog will ordinarily be applied as stated, Georgia State University and the College of Education and Human Development have the right to change any provision, including but not limited to academic requirements for graduation, without actual notice to individual students. Every effort will be made to keep students advised of any such changes. Information on changes will be available in the Office of the Dean and Office of Academic Assistance and Graduate Admissions when changes are made by the College of Education and Human Development. It is especially important that each student note that it is the individual student's responsibility to keep apprised of current graduation requirements for his or her particular degree program.

Criteria on Academic and Professional Integrity

The College of Education and Human Development is committed to upholding standards of academic and professional integrity. These standards require that students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate programs within the College of Education and Human Development adhere to both the University's Student Code of Conduct as described on-line at <http://codeofconduct.gsu.edu> as well as their individual degree program's Policy on Student Professionalism, Integrity and Retention. Students should contact their department for a copy of their degree program's policy.

4020 College Academic Advisement

Academic advisors in the Office of Academic Assistance and Graduate Admissions advise undergraduate students in the College of Education and Human Development who have completed 90 credit hours or more and are admitted to or are pursuing admission to one of the college's undergraduate degree programs. For students considering a change of major related to career interest, professional assistance in selecting a career area is available through the university's Career Services (270 Student Center West). The services of the center are described in the "Student Life and Services" chapter of this catalog

4030 College Academic Regulations

Pre-Major Status

Students may select the College of Education and Human Development as a pre-major at the point of application to the university or at any point thereafter. However, this selection represents only a pre-education status until the student applies for admission to a degree program through the college's admissions process. Transfer students must comply with all academic regulations of the university and the college.

Entry into teacher education is a separate step and requires meeting specific criteria. Students must complete a separate application, show proof of Tort liability insurance, and pass the GACE program admission assessment (or meet exemption criteria) and the Georgia Educator Ethics entry assessment. Students interested in teacher education programs should refer to the "Teacher Preparation" section 1600 of this catalog or visit the College of Education and Human Development Office of Academic Assistance and Graduate Admissions website, <http://education.gsu.edu/admissions/undergraduate-admissions/>, for more information.

Visiting Students

Students currently enrolled in a degree program at another institution who wish to take coursework from the College of Education and Human Development must follow the admissions requirements shown in the “Undergraduate Admissions” chapter of this catalog. Teacher education courses designated TEA or TCP are not available to visiting students. Students from other institutions may be enrolled as visiting students at Georgia State University for no more than two academic terms.

College of Education and Human Development students must have prior written approval from the college to earn transient credit from another institution if that credit is to be used in a degree program. Contact the Office of Academic Assistance and Graduate Admissions for procedures.

Credit by Examination

Students displaying exceptional ability in certain areas of knowledge may be recommended, with the approval of the dean, to receive credit for a particular course by successfully completing a departmental examination. Credit by examination cannot be used to meet semester hour requirements for the 39-hour residency, nor can it be used to meet the hour requirements for Honors. Students are directed to contact the specific department to determine eligibility for taking an examination.

The following course has been approved for credit by examination:

- KH 3390 Advanced First Aid and Emergency Care

Additional courses with the KH prefix may be approved for credit by examination. Contact the Department of Kinesiology and Health for a complete list of such courses.

Such a course is for junior or senior level students of superior abilities and proven performance who wish to do independent study in a specific area. Applications for directed reading courses are available from the Office of Academic Assistance and Graduate Admissions. These courses require consultation with the instructor of choice to develop the topic of study, approval of the student’s adviser, and approval of the department chair of the instructor’s department. Directed reading courses may not substitute for courses that are part of the regular course offerings of the college.

Student Complaints, Petitions for Policy Waivers and Variances, and Appeals

The appeals procedure for students in the College of Education will follow different courses of action depending on the nature of the student's appeal. Please refer to University Information Section 1050.80 under Policies and Disclosures in this catalog or visit enrollment.gsu.edu/assistance/ for details.

Georgia State University seeks to maintain the highest standards of integrity and fairness in its relationships with students. The Undergraduate Catalog and the Graduate Catalog Student Code of Conduct set forth policies and requirements for Georgia State students. Students are expected to know and comply with these policies. Students may, however, seek relief or resolution when they believe that:

- The application of these policies and procedures will create undue hardship for them or will not recognize their extraordinary or extenuating circumstances; or
- Specific actions, practices, or decisions on academic or non-academic matters have been made or carried out in an arbitrary, discriminatory, or inequitable manner.

To adhere to University policy, the College of Education and Human Development has developed two forms: Petition for Waiver or Variance and Student Petition for Resolution. Students should complete these forms and submit to appropriate department for review.

Petition for Waiver or Variance

Any student in the College of Education and Human Development may petition for a waiver or variance of established policy, procedure, rule, or guideline governed by the college. This form should be used for requests of substitutions of required courses and/or waivers of college policies governing students. The Student Petition for Waiver or Variance must be submitted by the end of the term prior to the term in which the exception is needed. The form can be found at <http://education.gsu.edu/student-services/forms-policies-regulations/>.

Student Petition for Resolution

Students are encouraged to discuss academic or non-academic problems or grade concerns with the instructor prior to filing a formal petition, in an effort to gain understanding about the basis of the treatment or grade. If the issue is not resolved informally, students should complete the Student Petition for Resolution process. The form can be found at <http://education.gsu.edu/student-services/forms-policies-regulations/>.

Program Academic Regulations

Program of Study for teacher certification concentration: students must complete 42 semester hours in Areas A-E of the Undergraduate Core Curriculum. Courses in Area A must be completed with “C” or higher grades. A grade of “C” or higher is required in Area F courses. A grade of “C+” is required for the following courses: KH 3410, KH 3420, KH 4510, KH 4520, KH 4530, KH 4540. Students who do not receive a grade of “C+” or better may repeat the course once. If a student fails to earn a “C+” the second time, then the student is administratively removed from the teacher certification concentration. A grade of “B” in KH 4710 and KH 4720 is required for recommendation for certification. Students who do not receive a grade of “B” or better may repeat the course once. If a student fails to earn a “B” the second time, he or she will not be allowed to enroll in the course again and will not be recommended for certification.

Entry into the program does not guarantee continuation in the program, graduation from the program and/or recommendation for certification even if all requirements have been met. Students may graduate from the program with a “B-“, “C+”, “C”, or “C-” without recommendation for certification even if the certification test has been passed.

Pre-Service Certificate (for teacher certification concentration only): Upon admission to a teacher education program, students will be contacted by the College’s Office of Academic Assistance office with instructions to claim enrollment in their program and submit a GaPSC Pre-Service Certificate Application. The pre-service certificate is required for placement in required field experiences or clinical practice.

Certification (for teacher certification concentration only): Students must post passing scores on the GACE Content Assessment, Georgia Educator Ethics – Program Exit (360) Assessment, and edTPA in order to be recommended by Georgia State University for clear, renewable certification.

Program of Study for CPAHW concentration: students must complete 42 semester hours in Areas A-E of the Undergraduate Core curriculum. Courses in Area A must be completed with a C grade or higher. A grade of C or higher is required in Area F courses. A grade of C+ is required for KH 4680. Students who do not receive a grade of C+ or higher may repeat the course once. If a student fails to earn a C+ or higher the second time, the student will be administratively removed from the program. A grade of B is required in KH 4730 and KH 4740. Students who do not receive a grade of B or better may repeat the courses once. If a student fails to earn a B or better the second time, he or she will not be permitted to enroll in the course again and will be removed from the program.

Tort Liability: All students must show proof of tort liability insurance prior to admission to taking courses in the methods and curriculum section of Area G and then again prior to enrollment in student teaching/internship. Students may obtain the appropriate forms through <http://education.gsu.edu/student-services/office-of-field-placements/>.

Professional Development Plan: Program candidates may be placed on a Professional Development Plan (PDP). The HPE faculty has many options to choose from for determining a PDP for individuals. These options may include but are not limited to retaking courses; taking additional courses; and taking speech or writing workshops. Continuation in the program will depend on demonstrating timely and successful completion of PDP requirements.

As the courses progressively become more field-based, program faculty, cooperating teachers, and school/agency administrators may also recommend that program candidates be placed on a PDP, removed from a course or removed from the program. The HPE program faculty has a personal and professional responsibility to ensure that candidates that enter and graduate from the program exhibit professional behaviors. The HPE faculty is obligated to follow university policy set forth in the following excerpt from the GSU catalog:

The Professional Education Faculty believes that all students who are in field experiences must be personally and psychologically equipped as well as academically prepared. Students may be denied entry to field experiences based on departmental prerequisites or the professional judgment of faculty based on observed performance and behavior. This policy is based on the premise that educators should be part of the evaluation of the students' ability to function adequately and safely in classrooms and those educators have a right and responsibility to make such judgments prior to placing students in schools. The practicum or student teaching supervisor has the authority to withdraw students from their classroom experience if their performance constitutes a detriment to the children in the class. If such removal is necessary, students will be given an F in each corresponding course.

The B.S.E. in Special Education prepares students to teach children and youth with mild to moderate behavior and learning disabilities (e.g., dyslexia and other specific learning disabilities, attention disorders, emotional behavior disorders); mild, moderate, severe, and profound intellectual disabilities; and autism spectrum disorders; and hearing impairments (e.g., deaf or hard of hearing). Students entering the B.S.E. will choose a concentration in adapted curriculum, general curriculum, or deaf education and learn to work with children and youth across the lifespan (e.g., children in preschool through 12th grade; adolescents; and adults) in a variety of settings (e.g., separate specialized schools, typical school settings, restrictive school settings such as alternative, residential, and juvenile justices, cognitive and behavioral specialty agencies, and resource and inclusion settings), and across languages (i.e., American Sign Language and English) and modes (i.e., spoken or signed) as well as in collaborative/co-teaching models. Graduates across concentrations will be prepared to work with children and youth with special needs successfully via a curriculum that focuses on evidence-based practices that prepares them to differentiate instruction for this unique population in a variety of education and therapeutic settings. Graduates are provided coursework and practicum experiences resulting in knowledge of characteristics, curriculum, instructional strategies, and classroom management procedures.

5010.30 Accreditation

The baccalaureate program in the School of Nursing is approved by the Georgia Board of Nursing and is accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education. The Commission on Accreditation of Allied Health Education Programs accredits the baccalaureate program in the Department of Respiratory Therapy in collaboration with the Committee on Accreditation for Respiratory Care Education. The Nutrition Science in the Department of Nutrition is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Dietetics Education of the American Dietetic Association.

5010.40 Degree Programs

The School of Nursing and Health Professions offers a Bachelor of Science degree with majors in nursing, nutrition science, and respiratory therapy. The School also has a Bachelor of Interdisciplinary Studies in Health Informatics.

5010.70 Admission to Professional Programs

Acceptance to Georgia State University into one of the majors in the School of Nursing and Health Professions allows a student to take prerequisite course work leading to the professional program. A separate application process is required for acceptance into the professional programs in nursing, nutrition, respiratory therapy and health informatics.

The professional program in nursing begins in the fall and spring semesters only. The professional programs in nutrition and respiratory therapy begin annually in the fall semester only. The BIS in Health Informatics will have new cohorts in the Fall, with Spring cohorts as deemed appropriate. Admission into these programs is highly competitive, and students are encouraged to inquire about admission criteria, policies, and deadlines as soon as possible. Admission information and requirements for each program are included in the section on the major.

It is highly recommended that a student wishing to enter the programs in nursing, nutrition and respiratory therapy take one year of biology and one year of chemistry in high school.

Applicants for admission to the professional programs must be able to demonstrate prior to admission an ability to meet certain technical standards of performance which are necessary to carry out their activities as health professionals. They must be able to communicate effectively and efficiently in oral and written form. Applicants for admission must demonstrate the functional use of their senses that will allow them to elicit appropriate information, as well as to perceive nonverbal communications from patients or clients whom they are serving. Additionally, each of these applicants should be able physically to provide reasonable care and emergency treatment when necessary.

The School of Nursing and Health Professions reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student at any time in order to preserve and maintain the program's standards of scholarship and conduct.

International applicants to the School of Nursing and Health Professions whose native language is not English, regardless of language of instruction, may be required to submit acceptable results from an English proficiency examination.

Each division may require other, more specific, technical abilities in its consideration of candidates for admission to its program.

5020 Academic Regulations

5020.10 Credit for Transfer Work

The specific credit for work done at other institutions that may apply toward a degree from the School of Nursing and Health Professions is determined by the Undergraduate Admissions Office, the University Advisement Center, the School of Nursing and Health Professions Office of Academic Assistance, and, if appropriate, department the student is applying for. Allowance of transfer credit by the Office of Admissions does not mean necessarily that all such credit will be accepted toward a degree from the School of Nursing and Health Professions.

5020.20 Credit for Transient Work

Students in the School of Nursing and Health Profession who wish to take course work at another college must have prior written approval from the University Advisement Center or the Office of Academic Assistance if they wish to apply that credit to a degree program. The student must be in good academic standing at Georgia State University. A student may not take more than four courses as a transient student. Courses that have been failed at Georgia State may not be retaken at another institution. Please consult the “Academic Regulations” section of this catalog for additional regulations pertaining to transient status.

5020.30 Clinical, Field Experience or Internship

As part of the degree completion requirements in the School of Nursing and Health Professions, the student will be placed in a clinical setting which requires the student to care for and/or be exposed to individuals and patients of all ages and with a variety of diagnoses and symptoms, some of which are communicable and infectious. However, unless otherwise required by law, the School of Nursing and Health Professions does not grant special consideration or waiver of any degree completion requirements, including placement in a clinical setting.

Please note that majors must complete a clinical program during their matriculation. Some students will be placed with a clinical affiliate that gives care to vulnerable populations or deals with sensitive information. As a result, the agency or affiliate may request a criminal background check and/or drug screen as a prerequisite for placement. If students use illegal drugs, have a criminal record before they declare their major, or acquire a criminal record after declaring their major, they might be prohibited from participating in the clinical program.

5020.40 Graduation

Coursework with a grade of D can satisfy no more than 12 semester hours of degree requirements. A minimum grade of C is required in all major courses. Certain programs may require a grade of C or higher in other courses as well. A 2.00 grade point average is required for graduation.

Any deviations from catalog requirements are unauthorized except by approval of the department, or by written petition filed through the Office of Academic Assistance and properly approved by the appropriate committee.

Please note that licensing boards or agencies for program-related occupations may deny, suspend or revoke a license if an applicant has a criminal history or licensee is convicted, pleads guilty or nolo contendere to a felony or other crime. Students should consult the licensing board corresponding to their intended occupations for more details. Successful completion of a program of study in the School of Nursing and Health Professions does not guarantee licensure, certification, or employment in the relevant occupation.

5030 Degree Requirements

The undergraduate programs in the School of Nursing and Health Professions are designed to comply with the University System of Georgia core curriculum requirements. The program requirements for Undergraduate Core Curriculum Areas A through E are listed in the “Core Curriculum” chapter of this catalog. Recommendations of specific courses in the core curriculum for nursing, nutrition and respiratory therapy students are listed below as well as in each program section. Area F requirements for the major and other course requirements are found in the sections of this chapter which describe the specific major.

5030.10 Core Curriculum Recommendation

Area B: Institutional Options:

It is suggested that nursing majors take Phil 1010 as one of the two required courses, as critical thinking skills are an essential piece of the nursing profession.

Area C: Humanities and Fine Arts:

It is suggested that nursing majors take Spanish 1002 as one of the two required courses.

Area D: Science, Mathematics and Technology:

It is strongly recommended that respiratory therapy majors take Chem 1151K and 1152K. For nutrition science majors, BIOL 2107K and 2108K is required. Health Informatics majors can select one two-course science sequence listed in section 1410.40 of the undergraduate catalog.

Area E: Social Sciences:

It is strongly recommended that nursing majors take Psyc 1101 as the social science foundations selection as it is a prerequisite to Psych 3140.

5030.20 Program Admissions

The undergraduate programs in the Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions because of their professional nature, have more stringent admission requirements than those of Georgia State University.

Health Informatics

Admission is by application. All SNHP BIS degree prerequisites must be completed for the Clinical Informatics concentration and all RCB BIS degree prerequisites must be completed for the Health Information Technology Management or Health Administration Management concentrations, with a GPA of 3.0 or better. The prerequisites will be listed in the curriculum section of the BIS. Students generally apply at the end of their second year (sophomore) when pre-requisite courses are complete and will begin this BIS program in the junior year. A new cohort starts each fall semester initially, with cohorts starting in Spring semester as well if the demand is appropriate. As demand for this major grows, the need to limit the number of times a student can apply and additional admission criteria will be re-evaluated. The application deadline for Fall is March 15th. The application deadline for Spring is October 1st.

Nursing

The applicant must meet the general admission requirements of Georgia State University and the School of Nursing. Acceptance to the university allows the student applicant to register for prerequisite course work leading to the professional program in nursing and but does not guarantee automatic admission into the nursing program. Acceptance into the professional program requires a separate application and admissions process. Applicants are admitted on a space-available basis. The University gives some preference to applicants who began their college careers at Georgia State and meet all other criteria. Due to the high demand for this major, the need to limit the number of times a student can apply and additional admission criteria will be re-evaluated on a continuous basis and changes will be made as necessary.

Two program options are available in the undergraduate nursing program: the traditional option and ACE (Achieving the Curriculum Expediently). The traditional option is six semesters and does not require summer classes. The ACE option is four semesters, including summer over a 16-month period. Students in both options have identical degree requirements; however, the ACE option has more stringent application requirements.

The RN-BS is an undergraduate degree option, however it is only open to students who hold a current RN license and have graduate from an NLN-Accredited associate degree or diploma. The RN-BS only admits in the summer.

Traditional Option Prerequisites: The following courses are prerequisites, which must be completed before entering the traditional option in the fall or spring semester.

- BIOL 2110K, BIOL 2120K – Anatomy & Physiology 1 & 2
- BIOL 2300, BIOL 2310 – Microbiology with lab
- CHEM 1151K, CHEM 1152K – Survey of Chemistry 1 & 2 —. PHYS 1111K, PHYS 1112K (Introductory Physics 1 & 2) OR BIOL 1103K, BIOL 1104K (Introductory Biology 1 & 2) are accepted.

It is recommended that Nurs 2010 be taken before beginning the nursing courses, but it is not required.

Traditional Option Requirements:

1. Acceptance to Georgia State University.
2. Completion of 9 hours of the science courses in the prerequisite courses listed above and English 1101.
3. A minimum grade point average of 3.30. Higher grade point averages receive preference for admission. A minimum grade point average of 3.30 in the sciences courses listed in the prerequisite courses. In computing this GPA, only the first two attempts at a course will be considered. Even if a student repeats a course under Georgia State's repeat-to-repeat policy, only the first two attempts will be considered in the Nursing admissions process.
4. Successful completion of the current version of the Test Essential Academic Skills (TEAS).
5. A two-page typed paper discussing the applicant's position on a current social or health-related issue.
6. Two letters of reference. One should be academic (high school or college instructor); one should be professional (employer, volunteer organization, etc.).
7. An Application Cover Sheet form.
8. Answers to a short list of questions that are included with the Application Cover Sheet form.

ACE Option Prerequisites: The ACE option requires the following prerequisites, in addition to those listed for the traditional option, be completed before entering the first semester of the ACE option.

- All Core Curriculum requirements, Areas A-E
- NURS 2010 (Health and Human Development Across the Lifespan)

- SNHP 3000 (Communication and Cultural Diversity)
- PSYC 3140 (Abnormal Psychology)

ACE Option Requirements:

1. Acceptance to Georgia State University.
2. Completion of 9 hours of the science courses in the prerequisites courses listed above and English 1101.
3. A minimum grade point average of 3.30. Higher grade point averages receive preference for admission. A minimum grade point average of 3.30 in the science courses listed in the prerequisite section. In computing this GPA, only the first two attempts at a course will be considered. Even if a student repeats a course under Georgia State's repeat-replace policy, only the first two attempts will be considered in the Nursing admissions process.
4. Successful completion of the current version of the Test Essential Academic Skills (TEAS).
5. A two-page typed paper discussing the applicant's position on a current social or health-related issue.
6. Two letters of reference. One should be academic (high school or college instructor); one should be professional (employer, volunteer organization, etc.).
7. An Application Cover Sheet form.
8. Answers to a short list of questions that are included with the Application Cover Sheet form.
9. Successful completion of the legislative requirements in U.S. and Georgia History, and U.S. and Georgia Constitution, advisement.gsu.edu/self-service/testing/georgia-history-and-constitution-legislative-requirements/.

A person may apply to Nursing only twice. If not accepted on the first application, applicants who have earned fewer than 89 credit hours must meet with an advisor in the University Advisement Center. Applicants who have earned at least 89 credit hours and are not accepted on the first application must meet with an admission advisor in the School of Nursing.

A student who has a cumulative Georgia State GPA below 3.0 at the end of their first semester at Georgia State is permanently ineligible to apply to enter Nursing.

A student who has a cumulative Georgia State GPA below 3.3 at the end of their third semester at Georgia State is permanently ineligible to apply to enter Nursing.

Admission selection for both options is based on GPA, number of and grades earned in required science courses taken, score on the nursing entrance exam, letters of reference, and a social/health issue paper. If the applicant's native language is not English, regardless of language of instruction, he or she may be required to submit acceptable results on the Georgia State Test of English Proficiency (GSTEP) or the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

It is important that applicants are aware of the current level of competition for admission. The program can accommodate only a limited number of students each year.

The application deadline for the fall semester is March 1. The application deadline for the spring semester is October 1. Early applications are advisable. Application requirements and information about the Test Essential Academic Skills (TEAS) Test are available on the Nursing website <http://nursing.gsu.edu/academics/undergraduate/frequently-asked-questions/>. The cost of the exam is the applicant's responsibility.

Upon receipt of an acceptance letter, the student will be required to complete the Program Intake for Nursing School orientation on Brightspaces Desire2Learn and attend an orientation meeting before the first semester of nursing classes begin. The student must complete required forms and health-related requirements prior to the first semester of nursing classes. The accepted student must submit to Nursing a current health record (and must keep this record current). Evidence of in-force liability insurance and current cardiopulmonary resuscitation certification by the American Heart Association is required for enrollment in clinical nursing courses. Students may be required to have a criminal background check and a drug screen based on hospital policy. It will be the student's responsibility to pay for any cost associated with the criminal background check and/or drug screen.

When applying to the Georgia Board of Nursing to take NCLEX upon graduation, students will be required to complete a criminal background check and drug screen according to a Georgia law that went in to effect in July 2008. Students may be required to provide documentation to the Georgia Board of Nursing explaining any such positive findings on the criminal background check. The Georgia Board of Nursing has the exclusive authority to issue a license for the Registered Professional Nurse and could decline to issue a license based on an applicant's prior criminal record. Further information regarding this requirement can be obtained from the Georgia Board of Nursing or any other state licensing board where practice is contemplated.

Nutrition

Admission to the nutrition sciences program requires completion of prerequisite courses and a submission of a information form to the department. Information forms must be submitted to the Office of Academic Assistance by March 1.

Respiratory Therapy

Admission to the Department of Respiratory Therapy is limited. In addition to meeting the general admission requirements of the university, the applicant must meet the specific admission requirements and regulations of the Department of Respiratory Therapy. Acceptance into the program is based competitively on the factors of demonstrated academic ability, consistency of performance, personal qualifications, including motivation and interpersonal abilities.

International applicants whose native language is not English, regardless of language of instruction, must submit acceptable results from the Georgia State Test of English Proficiency (GSTEP). Because of the communication demands in the profession of respiratory therapy, both with patients and staff members, and the critical nature of clinical care, adequate verbal and written comprehension of English is necessary.

Individuals who desire to pursue respiratory therapy as a profession and show academic ability may apply for admission. Enrollment in the Department of Respiratory Therapy is limited and, therefore, early application is advisable. The application deadline is May 1st preceding the fall semester in which admission is desired. The Office of Admissions evaluates the credentials of students transferring from other colleges and universities. Acceptance into the university does not ensure admission into the respiratory therapy program.

Students are admitted into the professional courses in the fall of the junior year. A minimum grade point average of 2.50 is required. Higher GPAs receive preference for admission.

A.S. to B.S. Program

Requirements for Admission

- Admission to Georgia State University in the Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions with a major in respiratory therapy.
- A complete Advanced Standing application for admission to the respiratory care program.
- Notarized copy of RRT certificate.
- AARC Student Membership.
- GPA at least 2.5

Program Highlights

Bridge students must complete University core education requirements (see General Education Courses), as mandated by the University System for a Bachelor's degree. Many students have coursework from other schools that can transfer to satisfy some of the required prerequisite courses. Georgia State University also requires that 39 semester hours in the major area (Respiratory Therapy) be completed in residence (at Georgia State). The suggested courses are listed, which represent the most advanced coursework in the Bachelor program in the Bachelor degree program (See AreaG: Major).

Credit by Validation for 30 semester hours is given based on the RRT credential. This includes all clinical coursework

Students must also demonstrate knowledge of the history and constitutions of the United States and Georgia by either completing an American History and an American Government course, or by taking exams to fulfill these requirements after enrollment at Georgia State. Information is available at <http://advisement.gsu.edu/self-service/testing/georgia-history-and-constitution-legislative-requirements/>.

Students have the option to Test Out of a Course, if they are competent in the course area, with the exception of the final capstone course, RT 4950, Directed Study (Contact course instructor for further information).

An Integrated B.S. to M.S. degree is an option to those who have a bachelor's degree in another field and wish to enter the respiratory therapy profession. See the Graduate Catalog for details.

5120 Nursing

Program Offered:

- B. S. with major in Nursing

900 Urban Life Center, 404/413-1200
Joan Cranford, Interim Director of Nursing
<http://nursing.gsu.edu/>

The Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing and Health Professions offers a curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in nursing. Upon the completion of the baccalaureate program and subject to the rules of the Georgia Board of Nursing, the graduate becomes eligible to write the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) a requirement for becoming a registered professional nurse.

The university catalog in effect at the time a student is admitted to the nursing program will normally apply to a student. However, the nursing curriculum and other requirements are subject to change in order to comply with regulations of accrediting agencies or with institutional or university-system policies. Every effort will be made to notify students of such changes; however, it is the student's responsibility to become aware of all current program and college requirements. Students who withdraw from the nursing sequence and wish to return will enter under the current catalog if space is available in nursing courses. Academic credit for nursing courses for a student who withdraws from the nursing program is valid for a five-year period. Abnormal Psychology (PSYC 3140) and Anatomy and Physiology I and II (BIOL 2110K – BIOL 2120K) must be completed within five years prior to beginning the nursing sequence. Special exceptions may be made to this policy for individuals who can document current utilization of the knowledge gained from these classes. All requests for exception will be reviewed by the Interim Director.

Academic advisers work closely with students to plan programs; however, it is the student's responsibility to see that course prerequisites are met as required. The student is expected to follow the program planned in conjunction with the assigned academic and faculty advisers.

Clinical and didactic learning experiences may be scheduled at any time during the day and/or evening hours and on weekdays and weekends; personal schedules must be flexible to meet program requirements. Students will be expected to provide their own transportation to/from both the classroom and clinical settings.

Nursing has the right to make changes in the program, curriculum and courses with appropriate notification. Students will be expected to accommodate these changes as long as the total hours required for graduation are not increased.

The student is responsible for adhering to policies and procedures specified in the Nursing Undergraduate Student Handbook. Degree requirements must be completed in order to meet the eligibility requirements for writing the NCLEX.

Program Financial Information

Clinical practice will require that the applicant obtain student uniforms that meet Nursing program standards. Additional costs that are the responsibility of the student include 1) the cost of cardiopulmonary resuscitation certification and liability insurance; 2) the cost of lab supplies; 3) the cost of a standardized testing program; and 4) the cost of criminal background checks and drug screens.

Program Academic Regulations

A minimum grade of C (2.0) is required in statistics and all courses designated as nursing. All nursing majors must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.0 to remain in the nursing sequence.

Enrollment in a course may be terminated at any time if, in the judgment of the instructor, the student's behavior jeopardizes patient safety. This termination would result in a course failure and may result in dismissal.

A student may repeat a nursing course in which a grade of D, U, F or WF was received one time only. Failure of the repeated course or a second nursing course results in termination from the program. In the event a student is unsuccessful in NURS 3510, NURS 3610, NURS 3710 or NURS 3810, the student may take one new clinical course (NURS 3510, NURS 3610, NURS 3710, NURS 3810) concurrently with the course that must be repeated.

The Byrdine F Lewis School of Nursing reserves the right to require the withdrawal of any student at any time in order to preserve and maintain the school's standards of scholarship and conduct. Furthermore, if the student has been sanctioned for any violation of university rules, procedures, or policies, an automatic review and determination of that student's progress in the program will occur.

The procedure for reentering students may be found in the previous section entitled "Admission Requirements."

Each teaching team establishes the attendance policies for classroom and clinical experiences. In general, however, all learning experiences are required. Due to the complexity involved in selecting and supervising clinical learning experiences, students are required to complete all assignments promptly.

Selected achievement tests are required throughout the program. An end-of-program exit activity will be required of all nursing students.

Additional information, including information on program, policies and procedures, can be found in the Nursing's Undergraduate Student Handbook. Students are responsible for the information in this handbook as well as that in other university publications.

Inherent to this purpose is the goal to prepare respiratory therapists who are able to demonstrate the attitudes, skills, and knowledge required to meet the changing needs of the community. It will be necessary for the respiratory therapist to cooperate with all members of the health care team in identifying and solving the problems related to respiratory diseases and disorders of the cardiopulmonary system. The respiratory therapist must be able to think critically, communicate effectively, demonstrate good judgment, and provide self-direction. It is a primary objective of the respiratory therapy program to educate well-qualified, competent respiratory therapists who demonstrate leadership ability.

The baccalaureate degree program in respiratory therapy seeks to establish an atmosphere in which the student achieves respect for the dignity and worth of the individual, the capacity for critical thinking, a genuine desire for knowledge, and the realization of his or her own potential. Graduates of the baccalaureate program are qualified to enter the Registry Examination System of the National Board for Respiratory Care (NBRC).

Clinical Course Requirement

Students who must complete a clinical component as part of their program of study must complete the School of Nursing and Health Professions Health Form and provide evidence of current tuberculosis status, immunization for hepatitis B, and review of current CDC guidelines on universal precautions. The health form and review of CDC guidelines on universal precautions must be updated annually. Clinical agencies may require additional evidence of health status. It is the responsibility of the student to consult with the graduate program director in their academic unit prior to beginning a clinical assignment. Liability insurance must be purchased before the clinical course begins.

Criminal Background Check and Drug Screen

Your application for licensure may ask you to respond to questions regarding any violations of federal, state or local law. You may be required to provide documentation to the state licensing board explaining any such occurrence. The individual state licensing agencies have exclusive authority to issue a license and could decline to issue such a license based on an applicant's prior criminal record.

Additionally, many of the clinical sites with which we have a clinical agreement require criminal background checks, finger printing and drug screen prior to allowing the student to be placed in the facility. The clinical facility has the right to deny the student an internship in the facility based on the findings of the criminal background check or drug screen.

A.S. to B.S. Program

The Department of Respiratory Therapy has a comprehensive advanced standing policy. Students who are graduates of CoARC-approved A.S. degree programs and are Registered Respiratory Therapists (RRT) may apply for advanced standing to the B.S. degree program. The department utilizes the following mechanisms to assess the awarding of credit in advanced standing: transfer credit, credit for professional credentials and credit for specialty exams from NBRC and courses offered from the AARC. Notarized proof of completion of specialty exam or course must accompany the application. The department maintains a philosophy of educational flexibility to meet the needs of the profession. The student has the option of testing out of the course, taking the course online or attending the class on campus. Students must complete all general education course requirements before taking respiratory therapy courses. All students must meet the GSU 39 hour upper division residency requirement that requires students to take 39 hours of 3000-4000 level course work at Georgia State University. Students must complete all general education course requirements before taking respiratory therapy courses.

Program Financial Information

During the junior year, students can expect to pay approximately $1400 for uniforms, stethoscopes, student liability insurance, books and background check. In the senior year, expenses are estimated at approximately $1000. This includes books and expenses related clinical training, NBRC self-assessment exams.

Program Academic Regulations

A minimum grade of C is required in all major, major-field-related, and mathematics and natural sciences courses for graduation. If a student's progress is interrupted at any point in the program through withdrawal or unsatisfactory performance, the student will no longer be in the program. If an individual applies to reenter the program, consideration will be given on the same basis as any new applicant. Curriculum changes are made whenever necessary to keep the learning experiences up to date and relevant in this rapidly changing technological field. Students will be expected to subscribe to these changes whenever they are necessary.

Students are expected to provide their own transportation to clinical training sites. Students are expected to comply with the policies and regulations of the division regarding absences, tardiness, standards of performance, conduct, dress code for the clinical areas, and other regulations as specified. A copy of these policies and regulations may be obtained from the division and will be given to all entering students.

Respiratory therapy courses are intended to be taken by students majoring in the Department of Respiratory Therapy. All professional courses involving a component of clinical training are open only to professional program majors.

students for entry-level positions in private, public, and not-for-profit organizations and to stimulate in students a desire for lifelong learning. The program relies on a complement of full-time and part-time faculty using the most effective educational methods and technology to meet this mission.

7010.22 Objectives of the B.B.A. Program

The faculty seeks to fulfill the mission of the B.B.A. program by accomplishing the following objectives:

The program in hospitality administration is accredited by the Accreditation Commission on Programs in Hospitality Administration.

7010.40 Bachelor's Degree Offered

The Robinson College of Business offers the Bachelor of Business Administration with ten majors. The requirements for the B.B.A. degree are shown later in this chapter. A degree is awarded only after admission to and completion of the prescribed program in accordance with the specific degree requirements and academic regulations of the college and the university.

7010.50 Tutorial Facilities

Tutorial facilities are available to students who may need assistance with writing or mathematics and are described in the "College of Arts and Sciences" chapter of this catalog.

7020 Academic Regulations

Students seeking a degree in the Robinson College of Business are encouraged to become familiar with the academic regulations of the university that are given elsewhere in this catalog. The sections concerning transfer requirements and the university degree policies, including the residence requirement, the core curriculum, the constitutions and histories requirement, application for graduation, academic recognitions, withdrawal from classes, incomplete grades, and scholastic discipline, are of particular importance. (Consult the index for the page numbers of these sections.) The college regulations discussed below should also be read carefully.

7020.10 Credit Transferred from Other Institutions

Some majors require that transfer credit for upper-level major courses be no more than five years old at the time the student enrolls in the B.B.A. program. Contact the Office of Undergraduate Academic Assistance for further information.

Course credit transferred from two-year colleges shall apply only toward freshman- or sophomore-level credit.

No more than 27 semester credit hours of course work earned through correspondence or extension will be accepted toward the B.B.A. degree. Courses completed through correspondence or extension may not apply toward junior- or senior-level credit.

Reenrollment after Transferring Elsewhere: Undergraduate students who enroll at another institution as regular students (as opposed to transient- or visiting-student status) will be considered as having transferred to that institution. If such students later reenroll in the B.B.A. program, regardless of the length of the absence, they will be subject to the curricular degree requirements in effect at the time of their return. Such students are encouraged to discuss their transfer to the other institution with their academic advisor in advance if they intend to apply this work toward a degree of the Robinson College of Business. Students may not take courses for degree credit at another institution during the semester they expect to graduate from Georgia State University.

7020.20 Policy on Allowing Undergraduates to Take Graduate Courses

Students with a cumulative grade point average of 3.50 or higher who have at least 18 semester hours of credit at Georgia State University and who are in their senior year may petition to take up to two graduate courses in the Robinson College of Business in lieu of undergraduate courses. Students interested in petitioning should contact the Office of Undergraduate Academic Assistance for a statement of restrictions and procedures pertaining to this policy.

7020.30 Minimum Grade Requirements for B.B.A. Students

A grade of C- or higher is necessary to receive degree credit in the following required courses in the B.B.A. degree program: Acct 2101-2102, Econ 2105-2106, CIS 2010, BusA 2106; all the courses in the junior-year business core; the junior-year communication requirement; all the courses in the major; BusA 4980; the junior/senior RCB electives.

In addition to the minimum grade requirements in these courses, a grade of C- or higher must be earned by actuarial science majors in Math 2215.

7020.40 Minimum GPA Requirement for All Students Enrolled in RCB Courses

Students may not register for any 3000/4000-level course taught by the Robinson College of Business unless they meet eligibility requirements.

7020.41 Initial Eligibility Requirements for Students Admitted to Georgia State University as Freshman (i.e. a native GSU student with no transfer credit)

Students in this category, regardless of degree program or status, may not enroll in upper-level courses (those numbered 3000-4999) offered by the Robinson College of Business unless they meet the following requirements:

- Earned at least 45 semester hours of college-level credit.
- Completed RCB's Area F: Business Foundation with an Area F GPA of 2.8 or better. In attempting to satisfy this requirement each Area F course may be attempted only twice. The Area F GPA will be computed using the last attempt in each course. A WF counts as an attempt.

7020.42 Initial Eligibility Requirements for Students Admitted to Georgia State University as Transfer Students (i.e. has been given transfer credit by Georgia State for course work completed at another academic institution, regardless of class standing)

Students in this category, regardless of degree program or status, may not enroll in upper-level courses (those numbered 3000-4999) offered by the Robinson College of Business unless they meet the following requirements:

- Earned at least 45 semester hours of college-level credit.
- Completed RCB's Area F: Business Foundation with an area F GPA of 2.8 or better. The grades in Area F courses transferred to GSU or taken in residence will be used to compute the Area F GPA. Each Area F course may be attempted only twice at Georgia State regardless of previous attempts at other institutions. The Area F GPA will be computed using the last attempt in each course. A WF counts as an attempt

7020.43 Continuing Eligibility Requirements for Students

Once a student is eligible to take 3000/4000 RCB courses under either section 7020.41 or 7020.42 of this catalog they may remain eligible to take 3000/4000 level RCB courses as long as they maintain a GPA of 2.0 or higher and remain in good standing. If the student's GPA falls below the 2.0 required he or she will remain one semester to raise the GPA to the standard. If unable they will be ineligible to enroll in additional 3000/4000 level RCB courses and will be advised into another degree program.

7020.50 Course Sequencing Requirements

Students are expected to proceed through the B.B.A. program in proper sequence to receive maximum benefit from their studies. Courses that are intended for the freshman through senior years are indicated by the course numbering system (1000 level through 4000 level, respectively). The lower-level courses taken in the freshman and sophomore years provide a foundation of general education on which the junior and senior years are based.

Sequencing requirements for all students and specifically for B.B.A. students follow. Students who violate any of the course sequencing requirements are subject to disenrollment by the college regardless of performance or time lapse and will be allowed a tuition refund in accordance with the university's refund schedule.

7020.60 Sequencing for All Students Enrolled in RCB Courses

Students may not register for any 3000/4000-level course taught by the Robinson College of Business until they have earned at least 45 semester hours of college-level credit.

7020.80 Business Residence Requirement

At least 50 percent of the business credit hours required for the B.B.A. degree must be taken in residence at Georgia State University. This regulation is a requirement of the college's accrediting body. These are the courses in the B.B.A. program that are considered "business credit hours:" ACCT 2101, ACCT 2102, BUSA 2106, CIS 2010, FI 3300, MGS 3100, MGS 3400, MK 3010, BUSA 4980, courses in the major (18-21 semester hours, depending on the major chosen), RCB electives (9-12 hours).

7020.90 Core Curriculum

As stated in the "Core Curriculum" section (1410) of the "University Degree Requirements and Graduation" section of this catalog, the university complies with the requirements of the core curriculum of the University System of Georgia. The 60 semester hours of course work for the freshman and sophomore years of the B.B.A. program are designed to conform to that core.

Transfer students from institutions in the University System of Georgia who followed the core curriculum at their previous institution and earned sufficient grades in courses listed in areas A through E of the core curriculum will be granted transfer credit for those relevant courses. This may mean that credit will be granted for courses that differ from those which would be taken at Georgia State University, as shown in the curriculum listed below.

Transfer credit will be given in Core Area F of the B.B.A. program for students who were following the business transfer program at a two-year college or the business curriculum for a bachelor's degree at a four-year college or university in the University System of Georgia.

If a portion of a core area has been completed, then transfer credit for the corresponding portion at Georgia State will be granted.

7030 B.B.A. Degree Requirements

Areas A through E of the undergraduate core curriculum make up the first 42 semester hours of the freshman and sophomore years of the Bachelor of Business Administration degree program. These requirements are listed in the "University Degree Requirements and Graduation" chapter of this catalog as part of the description of the university's core curriculum. Courses in the core curriculum that are recommended by the Robinson College of Business faculty are given in that description. These suggestions reflect choices that will be particularly helpful in providing B.B.A. students with a strong foundation for Core Area F and the junior and senior years of the program.

The hours and course requirements for Core Area F, Business Foundation, and the junior and senior years are listed in this chapter. Please note the following information:

Refer to the “Business Residence Requirement” section, listed previously in this chapter, for information on the business credit hours that must be completed in residence at Georgia State University.

Students must have completed no fewer than 45 semester hours of college-level course work before taking 3000/4000-level courses in the Robinson College. Refer to the heading “Sequencing for All Students Enrolled in RCB Courses,” listed previously in this chapter.

Consult the course descriptions section for prerequisites and descriptions of courses listed below.

Refer to the online course listing at www.gosolar.gsu.edu/webforstudent.htm to determine the Georgia state college that teaches a course. Do not refer only to the course title. For example, course titles with the words "business," "management," or "administration" in them are not necessarily RCB courses.

A cross-listed course is indicated by the parenthetical statement "Same as . . ." after the title in the course descriptions.

Junior/Senior Electives Outside RCB. These electives must be selected from the 3000/4000-level courses taught by Georgia State colleges other than the Robinson College of Business. These electives enable the B.B.A. program to meet the breath requirement of the college's accrediting body and cannot be taken in the Robinson College. Economics majors may not choose any economics courses for these electives.

Exceptions to the requirement that non-RCB electives be 3000- or 4000-level courses: Math 1070, 1111, 2211, 2212, 2215, and 2420 may be taken to satisfy all or part of the non-RCB elective requirement if the student will still have a minimum of 39 upper-level semester hours to complete at Georgia State. This provision ensures that the student will meet the university's academic residence requirement.

For the following two specific majors, these required 2000-level mathematics courses may be used to satisfy part of the non-RCB elective requirement:

Actuarial Science: Mathematics 2211, Mathematics 2212, and Mathematics 2215 (grade of C- or higher required in Math 2215). These courses carry four semester hours of credit each. If the student's mathematics background permits beginning this calculus sequence in Core Area A or D (in place of college algebra and/or precalculus), three-semester-hour courses that meet the requirements for non-RCB electives will replace Mathematics 2211 and/or Mathematics 2212. Thus, this portion of the curriculum can range from 10 to 12 semester hours.

Business Policy. (Minimum of grade of C- or higher is required in this course.)

BUSA 4980 Strategic Management Policy . Minimum of grade of C- or higher is required in this course. Students must take BUSA 4990 concurrently. Prerequisites for both BUSA 4980 and BUSA 4990 are completion of all of the following with a grade of C- or better: All courses in Core Area F: Business Foundations, the Junior Business Core as listed in this section above, BCOM 3950, and three upper-level major courses.

BUSA 4980 Strategic Management Policy

* Students who transfer from other institutions in the University System of Georgia and have taken other approved courses in the Core Area F for business will take CIS 2010 and/or BUSA 2106, as appropriate, in the Junior/Senior RCB electives section.

 Actuarial Science majors must take RMI 3750 and RMI 4350 as the RCB electives.

 Finance majors must take ACCT 4210 as one of the RCB electives. The finance major requires an additional three semester hours that are either an RCB elective or a 4000-level finance course.

Hospitality majors must take all RCB electives (9 credit hours) in hospitality to support the development of industry specialization(s)

7030.20 Information Technology Access and Skill Requirements

Access Requirements: Because information technology is an integral part of business decision-making, courses in the Robinson College of Business frequently incorporate assignments that require computing skills. Consistent with university policy available at www.gsu.edu/ist/policies.html, the Robinson College requires students to be responsible for providing computer and Internet access for all RCB courses and programs.

Hardware and Software Requirements: Georgia State has standardized on the Microsoft Office Suite in the student computer labs. Students may consult the university's Office of Student Financial Aid for information about possible funding opportunities for computer and Internet access expenses.

Skill Requirements: Although students can expect to enhance their information technology skills as they work toward their degrees, the college expects all students to have certain basic skills before enrolling in any business course. These skills are defined as Basic Microcomputing Skills and are described below in the CSP 1 skills definition.

7080 Business Learning Community

Robinson College of Business

Suite 1100

Dr. Marta Szabo White, Director

The Robinson College of Business offers a special Business Learning Community (BLC) for sophomore students in the fall and spring semesters. The BLC builds on the successful model of the Freshman Learning Community, giving students an integrated business curriculum and providing them with an introduction to the many programs offered in the Robinson College of Business. (See the Freshman Learning Community heading in a later chapter of this catalog.) Enrollment in the BLC is on a first-come/first-serve basis and requires a minimum 3.00 Georgia State GPA.

Students who are not a declared major in the Robinson College may be interested in the BLC program as the basis for a business minor. For students who are undecided about their major but have an interest in business, the BLC is a good way to get exposure to some business disciplines with required courses in the B.B.A. program. One of the major benefits of the BLC program is that its structure allows students to take multiple classes with a group of classmates, providing opportunities to work and learn together. The classes in the learning community are limited to 40 students, providing opportunities for more interaction with professors.

The Business Learning Community consists of the following grouping of courses:

Fall Semester:

- ECON 2106 Principles of Microeconomics
- ACCT 2101 Principles of Accounting I
- CIS 2010 Introduction to Computer Based Information Systems
- Plus two additional three-hour courses of the student's choice.

Spring Semester:

- ECON 2105 Principles of Macroeconomics
- ACCT 2102 Principles of Accounting II
- BUSA 2106 Legal Environment of Business
- Plus two additional three-hour courses of the student's choice.

Programs Offered:

1. B.B.A. in Accounting

5th floor, Robinson College of Business Building, 404/413-7200

accountancy.robinson.gsu.edu

Course prefix: Acct

The undergraduate accounting program is designed to provide the foundation-level technical and analytical accounting knowledge and skills needed to become a professional in the accounting field and to pursue a fifth (graduate) year of accounting study. The primary emphasis of the program is preparation for students who wish to apply for admission to the Master of Professional Accountancy program. In addition, the program is designed to provide appropriate preparation for entry-level positions in business and for graduate study in law or other business fields. The B.B.A. in accounting focuses on broad business and accounting exposure based on a sound foundation of general education.

Accountants today are expected to participate extensively in the general area of business management. The profession of accountancy is becoming increasingly divergent, encompassing such areas as financial and operational auditing, operations research, information systems development and assurance, financial reporting, corporate tax planning, and cost analysis and control.

In recognition of the advisability of acquiring a broadly based education in liberal arts and general business subjects, as well as the necessity of a thorough foundation in the highly specialized and diversified fields of accounting, a person desiring a career in accounting is encouraged to complete the entire professional program of study leading to the Master of Professional Accountancy degree.

7100.10 Program Admission

There are no admission requirements specific to the Accounting program. However, Accounting students are required to meet all University and College admission requirements.

7100.20 Program Financial Information

There are no special fees associated with majoring in Accounting. However, Accounting majors must pay all tuition and fees charged by the University and the College.

7100.30 Program Academic Regulations

Minimum Grade Requirement to Satisfy Prerequisites to any Acct Course:

- A Minimum of Grade of C- is required to satisfy the prerequisites to any accounting course.
- Minimum Grade Requirement to enroll in ACCT 4111, and ACCT 4210: Students need a grade of B or higher in both ACCT 2101 and ACCT 2102, in order to enroll in ACCT 4111, and ACCT 4210.
- Required Major Courses (credit hours): ACCT 4111(3), ACCT 4112(3), ACCT 4113 (3), ACCT 4210(3), ACCT 4310(3), ACCT 4510(3), and ACCT 4610(3), for a total of 21 credit hours.
- Recommended Courses: PSYC 1101 or SOCI 1101 as the Core Area E social science electives; LGLS 4050 as an RCB elective; and PHIL 3730 as a non-RCB elective. Recommended courses for students planning to enter the Master of Professional Accountancy's accounting systems specialization: MATH 2420 as a non-RCB elective; CIS 3260 as an RCB elective.
- Other Requirement: Transfer credit toward the accounting major courses may not be more than five years old at the time the student enrolls. Students who reenroll after an absence of more than two years may retain major credit only for course work that is less than five years old at the time of reenrollment; this includes Georgia State credit and transfer credit.

7100.40 Certified Public Accountant (CPA) Examination

Taking the Uniform Certified Public Accountant (CPA) examination in the state of Georgia: Beginning with the November 2003 administration of the Uniform CPA Examination, candidates may qualify to take the examination based on having earned a baccalaureate degree with a concentration in accounting. A concentration in accounting is defined as completion of 20 semester hours in accounting subjects above the principles level at a 4-year accredited college or university that offers a baccalaureate degree.

Obtaining a license to practice as a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) in the state of Georgia: A candidate must pass the CPA Exam and meet additional educational and work experience requirements, to obtain a license to practice as a CPA. Students must have completed no fewer than 150 semester hours of college credit, of which 30 semester hours have to be in accounting above the principles level and 24 semester hours in general business subjects. An applicant who meets the general, educational, and examination requirements will be issued a license to practice as a CPA upon presenting evidence that such applicant has attained two years, including 4,000 hours, of continuous experience in public accounting, under the supervision of a person licensed to practice public accounting, immediately preceding the date of application for the certificate. Five years, including 10,000 hours, of continuous employment in the accounting field in business or industry, under the supervision of a person licensed to practice public accounting, or in government or college teaching, may be accepted in lieu of the aforementioned experience requirement. Part-time experience is permitted if it is continuous.

Students may take the CPA Exam after obtaining their undergraduate degree in accounting from Georgia State University. However, the School of Accountancy recommends that students meet the licensing requirements of the law by being admitted to either the Master of Professional Accountancy or Master of Taxation degree programs after completing an undergraduate degree. Students who plan to enroll at the master's level should become aware of the admission requirements early in their undergraduate studies; a strong academic record and satisfactory scores on the Graduate Management Admission Test are important factors in master's-level admission.

In today's highly competitive global environment, the effective deployment of information technology has become the key to organizational success. There is a continuing shortage of individuals with the combination of business and technology skills needed to develop and manage information systems that provide competitive advantage in the global marketplace. The mission of the CIS major in the B.B.A. program is to produce graduates able to fill this need. Students will learn how to combine their general business knowledge with the latest software engineering tools and techniques to create information systems needed by today's organizations. Graduates will be prepared for careers in a variety of areas such as consulting, systems development, business process analysis, cyber security, IT project management, database administration, process architecture, and programming.

The Department of Computer Information Systems cooperates with the Department of Health Administration to offer a specialization in Health Informatics of the CIS major. The purpose of this specialization is to produce graduates that know how to effectively deploy information technology to innovate medical services and administrative processes within the healthcare industry. For more information, see Health Informatics below and robinson.gsu.edu/cis/health-informatics.html. The Department of Computer Information Systems cooperates with the Department of Mathematics and Statistics in offering a concentration in computer information systems associated with the degree Bachelor of Science with a major in mathematics. This program is described under the offerings of the Department of Mathematics and Statistics in the “College of Arts and Sciences” chapter of this catalog.

Health Informatics

The healthcare sector plays an increasingly important role in the US society and there is growing pressure to implement innovations that make it possible to deliver health services of higher quality and at lower costs. Healthcare institutions and processes are information-intensive in nature and the use of information technology (IT) to enable innovations has therefore been, and continues to be, in focus. On this background, there is a strong need for graduates that know how to effectively deploy information technology to innovate medical services and administrative processes within the healthcare industry. To graduate with a specialization in Health Informatics, students are required to complement a CIS major with the following RCB electives in Health Administration (9 hours): The Health Care System (HA 3900); Health Policy in the U.S. (HA 3910); Health Information Systems (HA 3970). For more information, see <http://robinson.gsu.edu/cis/health-informatics.html>.

7110.40 Minor in Information Systems

This IS minor is designed for undergraduate students who want to participate in the digital revolution that is transforming organizations and society. Information systems have become increasingly important in most fields including accounting, biology, communications, health, psychology, music, art & design, political science, sociology, and education. Students seeking a minor in Information Systems must complete 15 hours in upper-level CIS-prefixed courses. Non-business majors may substitute CIS 2010 for one CIS upper-level course.

All students pursuing a minor in Information Systems must maintain a 2.5 or higher GPA, and must earn a grade of C- or better in all courses counting toward the major. Please see <http://robinson.gsu.edu/cis/minor.html> for more information.

7120 Department of Economics

Programs Offered:

1. B.B.A. in Business Economics

5th floor, AYSPS Building
404/413-0141

Shiferaw Gurmu, Chair

Course Prefix: Econ

The Department of Economics is part of the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies. For economics faculty listing, see the Department of Economics heading in the “Andrew Young School of Policy Studies” chapter of this catalog.

Economics examines the material prosperity of countries and their citizens in an interdependent world of limited resources and technological change. In doing so, it studies how decisions are made by private businesses, governments, and households in producing, consuming, and distributing goods. In general, economics is concerned with how society can obtain the greatest output from its limited resources. Economics is also concerned with monetary arrangements and their impact upon purchasing power and economic performance.

Economic principles yield basic insights into the workings of the market system and the national and international environment within which business operates. These principles provide analysis that is fundamental to understanding the organization and decisions of the government, business, and financial sectors. Economics also develops criteria for assessing the performance of the market systems and of governments regarding their efficiency and their impact upon the well being of consumers and workers.

Recent graduates with majors in economics have accepted positions as financial analysts for a real-estate financing firm and a major bank and as general manager for a recording studio, as well as having been accepted to prominent graduate programs in law and economics.

The primary goal is to provide a well-integrated curriculum incorporating courses in the arts, sciences, general business theory, and hospitality applications that will prepare our students for management and leadership positions in the hospitality industry.

The Cecil B. Day School of Hospitality Administration was named in honor of the late founder of the Days Inn Hotel chain. Cecil B. Day is remembered as an astute businessman who developed Days Inn to national prominence. He was equally respected because he gave freely of his time and wealth to worthy organizations. His legacy of excellence is the foundation upon which the program bases its philosophy for preparing future generations of hospitality executives.

The Cecil B. Day School of Hospitality Administration prepares its graduates for management careers in numerous hospitality industry segments including: hotels and lodging, resorts, restaurants, private clubs, food service, tourism, event planning, meeting planning, festivals, trade shows and airline and airport management. Graduates are awarded a bachelor of business administration degree with a major in hospitality administration.

Students majoring in hospitality administration will take 21 semester hours of required hospitality courses and 9 semester hours of elective hospitality courses. These core courses will give the student a general knowledge of all segments of the hospitality industry. Specialized elective courses and industry field study allow students to gain additional insight regarding specific industry segments.

The school has the support of local, regional, and national hospitality executives. Georgia State University was the first institution of higher education to offer specialized courses in fair and trade show management. The school was chosen in 1986 by the Club Managers Association of America to develop, produce, and direct their Business Management Institute for certification of club managers across the United States and this program continues today. The School of Hospitality works closely with leading professional associations such as the Georgia Hotel and Lodging Association and the Georgia Restaurant Association. Student organizations are tied to these professional organizations and offer excellent leadership opportunities for students interested in the hospitality field. The School of Hospitality has student chapters of the American Hotel and Lodging Association, the Club Managers Association of America, the International Association of Events and Expositions and the National Society of Minorities in Hospitality.

The program was accredited in 1992 by the Accreditation Commission on Programs in Hospitality Administration, a specialized accrediting body and reaccredited in 2000 and 2007. The program is an institutional member of the International Council on Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Education, the principle academic and professional association for hospitality education programs.

The School of Hospitality has unique state-of-the-art facilities. 7220 Actuarial Science

Eric Ulm, Faculty Adviser

Course Prefix: AS

Actuaries have been called financial architects and social mathematicians because of their unique blend of analytical and business skills in the insurance and financial services industry, as consultants in firms that specialize in employee benefits and pensions, in the government sector, and in a variety of other roles. To be recognized as a qualified actuary, a person should become a member of the Society of Actuaries or the Casualty Actuarial Society. Admission to membership is obtained by passing a series of examinations given by the societies. Completion of the actuarial science program at Georgia State University greatly enhances the possibility of passing the examinations given by the actuarial societies.

The tremendous demand for such highly trained persons makes a career in this area very rewarding financially and in providing the satisfaction that comes from membership in a well-recognized profession.

In order to meet the critical shortage of actuarial personnel in this region, the Southeastern Actuaries Club endorsed the establishment of the actuarial program at Georgia State University as part of the university's comprehensive insurance educational activity. The program continues to have the strong support of the actuarial profession. Inquiries concerning the actuarial profession or the details of the program at Georgia State University should be directed to the department.

7230 Legal Studies

Course Prefix: LGLS

The Legal Studies Courses offered through the Department of Risk Management and Insurance afford a base for scholarship and teaching at the intersection of law and business. Legal Studies courses provide non-professional legal education open to business students in both the J. Mack Robinson College Business and those in the broader university community.

Students can receive a minor in the BBA-RMI program that emphasizes legal transactions and risk. Doing so provides non-major students the opportunity to examine legal approaches to the management of risk exposures in corporate and personal settings. All business majors may find the minor attractive but specific majors that should find the minor especially attractive include accounting and managerial sciences, economics, political science and pre-law students,

The Legal Studies course offerings are among the most popular at the undergraduate level in the college.

The course covers a wide range of Internet-related legal issues including technology and the law, court jurisdiction over Internet-related business activities, intellectual property, e-commerce, taxation of Internet sales, privacy in cyberspace, on-line defamation, information security, cyber-crimes, and government regulation of Internet services.

7240 Risk Management and Insurance

Harold Weston, Adviser

Course Prefix: RMI

The program in risk management and insurance strives to prepare qualified and motivated students for positions of leadership and responsibility in risk management, insurance, and other financial services businesses and in general business and government. The Bachelor of Business Administration in Risk Management and Insurance challenges the student both quantitatively and qualitatively as it emphasizes critical thinking for decision making under uncertainty. Qualified students can find excellent opportunities for creative work, professional recognition, financial reward, and public service within this degree program.

The major has two tracks of study. The first track is for those who desire to work in the insurance industry or in risk management in general. The required courses introduce students to the business of insurance and risk management from a corporate perspective. Elective course can allow the student a degree of specialization in life insurance, property liability insurance, or risk management. Graduates of the risk management and insurance track find employment as brokers/agents providing professional risk management counseling and market placement services for clients, as consultants and personal financial planners, and in the underwriting, marketing, claims adjusting, planning, governmental relations, and financial management activities of insurers.

The second track is for those with an interest in risk analysis. This track is for those who are interested in the understanding how to model risk, how to assess risk, and how to communicate risk in a business or governmental setting. Students will take courses in risk modeling, legal risk analysis, regulation, economics, and policy. Graduates in the risk analysis track find a variety of career opportunities open to them as risk analysts within the risk management and insurance business, in other financial institutions, and in community and government agencies.

Undergraduate programs in the School of Public Health are described in detail in this chapter. See subsections for specific program information as well as policies and procedures.

About the School of Public Health

The School of Public Health (SPH) is a multi-disciplinary, research-based unit, drawing upon partnerships with community members and organizations, dedicated to the mission of advancing health through leadership, scholarship, research and service to better the human condition and promote the common good, especially for urban communities and for global populations. The School of Public Health achieves this mission by applying existing scholarship within Georgia State University to priority public health problems, particularly those that are aimed at reducing health disparities in urban settings. Training and research programs focus on both building the science base that underlies public health practice, as well as applying effective interventions that have been demonstrated to improve the public health. Academic and training efforts emphasize the basic prevention sciences (e.g., emerging infectious diseases, immunology, virology, bioinformatics, genomics, and geographic sciences), as well as applied public health efforts (e.g., chronic disease prevention, health promotion, environmental health, program evaluation, health policy, public health ethics and law, health communications, community-based participatory research, and global health).

In June 2013, CEPH accepted Georgia State University's initial application to transition from an accredited program in public health to an accredited school of public health. The then Institute of Public Health was immediately renamed the School of Public Health and embarked on a three year accreditation process. In July 2015 and on schedule, CEPH accepted the SPH's preliminary accreditation self-study, and the School was deemed eligible for a final accreditation site visit completed in December 2015. A final decision on Georgia State University's transition from accredited program in public health to accredited school on public health could arrive as early as July 2016. CEPH is an independent agency recognized by the U.S. Department of Education to accredit schools of public health and public health programs outside schools of public health.

8000.20 Mission, Philosophy, Values and Goals

The School of Public Health has the mission of advancing health through leadership, scholarship, research, and service to better the human condition and promote the common good, especially for urban communities and for global populations.

The School's mission is strengthened by the objective of the University System of Georgia, through its Strategic Plan for Public Health Education, Research and Service, "to ensure that the System becomes one of the national leaders in public health education, research and service."

Six values were determined in a School-wide review process. All values were developed with input from the administration, faculty, staff and students and are reaffirmed or revised during each subsequent review process. The values are succinct and specific in nature and are reflected in faculty, staff and students' instruction, service and learning activities. The values are:

1. Scholarship and inquiry
2. Human rights and social justice
3. Diversity in multicultural and multiethnic environments
4. Integrity, accountability and transparency
5. Leadership, innovation and transformation
6. Healthy, sustainable social environments

The goals of the School of Public Health are to:

1. Prepare students to use multi-disciplinary skills to address contemporary public health problems.
2. Advance public health sciences and our understanding of the causes and prevention of disease.
3. Promote service activities and initiatives by implementing community-based projects, educating professional and lay audiences, and collaborating with the public health workforce to advance health promotion and disease prevention.

Measurable objectives related to each goal may be found on the SPH website or in student handbooks.

DESCRIPTION

Appendix II Administration and Faculty

This chapter contains information on administration for the University System of Georgia, Board of Regents and Georgia State University. A list of all Georgia State University faculty is provided.

The University System of Georgia

The University System of Georgia includes all state-operated institutions of higher education in Georgia: four research universities, four comprehensive universities, nine state universities, and 12 state colleges. These 29 public institutions are located throughout the state.

A 19-member constitutional Board of Regents governs the University System, which has been in operation since 1931. Appointments of board members, five from the state-at-large and one from each of the state's fourteen congressional districts, are made by the governor and are subject to confirmation by the State Senate. Regular terms of board members are seven years.

The chairperson, vice chairperson, and other officers of the Board of Regents are elected by the members of the board. The chancellor, who is not a member of the board, is the chief executive officer of the board and the chief administrative officer of the University System.

The overall programs and services of the University System are offered through three major components: instruction, public service and continuing education, and research.

Instruction consists of programs of study leading toward degrees, ranging from the associate (two-year) level to the doctoral level, and certificates.

Standards for admission of students to instructional programs at each institution are determined by the institution pursuant to policies of the Board of Regents. The board establishes minimum standards and leaves to each institution the prerogative to establish higher standards. Applications for admission should be addressed to the institutions.

Public service and continuing education consist of non-degree activities, primarily, and special types of college degree credit courses. The non-degree activities include short courses, seminars, conferences, and consultative and advisory services in many areas of interest. Typical college degree credit courses are those offered through extension center programs and teacher education consortiums.

Research encompasses scholarly investigations conducted for discovery and application of knowledge. Most of the research is conducted through the universities; however, some of it is conducted through several of the senior colleges. The research investigations cover matters related to the educational objectives of the institutions and to general social needs.

The policies of the Board of Regents provide a high degree of autonomy for each institution. The executive head of each institution is the president, whose election is recommended by the chancellor and approved by the board.
